THE DIETETIC SALT

Has been prepared at the suggestion of Dr. LANKESTER, and is recommended by him as a substitute for Common Salt at table and other dietetic purposes. Besides Common Salt, it contains other saline constituents necessary for the health and nutrition of the body. See "GOOD FOOD," by Dr. LANKESTER, page 17, (Routledge and Co.), price 6d.

"A dietetical preparation recommended on so good an authority, and prepared upon a principle so scientifically sound, is certainly worth a trial. It seems to be especially applicable in cases of children, debilitated, nourished, in scrofula, tuberculosis, and all that group of cases where the blood is more or less imperfectly furnished with the saline constituents necessary for the nutrition of the tissues."—British Medical Journal.

Prepared by JULIUS SCHWEITZER, 86, King's Road, Brighton;

Sold by all Chemists and Italian Warehousemen, in bottles, price 6d., 9d., and 1s. each.
