

FOR SECONDARY SHOCK
AND TOXAEMIA
DUE TO BURNS AND INJURIES

THE amazing biochemical discoveries and researches of the last decade have made it possible to synthesise a pure crystalline substance — desoxycorticosterone acetate — which produces all the known effects of the suprarenal cortical hormone. This substance provides a logical, physiological means of controlling circulatory failure due to shock resulting from wounds, burns and other injuries. It is a specific for Addison's Disease.

Desoxycorticosterone is presented for use in oily solution for intramuscular injection under the name of

Vitamin C Deficiency

In Ribena Blackcurrant Syrup, the physician has a rich natural source of vitamin C to meet the requirements of children and adults—accentuated as the requirements now are by the shortage of so many imported fruits.

The vitamin C content averages 24 mgs. per fluid ounce, approximately twice the amount in fresh orange juice. Ribena is gradually matured before sale, and in consequence the Cane Sugar naturally inverts to the more digestible Glucose and Fructose. Government demands for Blackcurrant syrup and puree for children have inevitably reduced the available quantity of Ribena, but arrangements have been made to continue its supply on medical prescription.

One size only: 13-oz. bottle 2/3.
