

Common Problems in the Management of PEPTIC ULCER

How can acid rebound and alkalosis be avoided in the treatment of peptic ulcer?

'Aludrox' controls free HCl safely. When 'Aludrox' is used neither secondary acid rise nor alkalosis is possible for three reasons:

1. A gastric pH compatible with ulcer healing is maintained.
2. 'Aludrox' is not absorbed.
3. 'Aludrox' itself has a pH of approximately 6.7.

TRANQUILLITY

A calm outlook and freedom from worry and nervous tension are rare in these days of world conflict. The intense application to war work, and consequent mental and physical strain are revealed in widespread headaches and insomnia.

Veganin may well be used to soothe the overwrought nerves, relieve pain and induce sleep. It is a synergistic combination of acetylsalicylic acid, phenacetin and codeine, and is widely known as a dependable and highly effective analgesic, sedative and antipyretic.

RESTRICTED SUPPLIES

Owing to the shortage of certain ingredients and the consequent limitation of output, chemists have been asked to give priority to doctors' prescriptions. Veganin is not advertised to the public.

VITAMINS A and D

OPTIMUM DOSAGE IN SMALL BULK

● 'Adexolin' is a concentrate of vitamins A & D. A few drops of 'Adexolin' Liquid or an 'Adexolin' Capsule repeated if need be during the day will provide the usual requirements for prophylaxis or treatment in small bulk.

Acutely ill patients can be given adequate doses of vitamins A & D without offending the palate. For those on light or modified diets, the fat-soluble vitamin content of which may be well below a desirable level, 'Adexolin' will assure an adequate intake of vitamins A & D without affecting calorific values or taxing the digestion. In this way, hypovitaminosis can be avoided in the treatment of obesity and metabolic, nephritic and gastro-intestinal disorders.

In general, 'Adexolin' Liquid is suitable for infants, very young children and acutely ill patients; older people, including expectant mothers, usually prefer 'Adexolin' Capsules.

B.D.H. COMMON COLD VACCINES

The most effective means of reducing the incidence of the common cold and of mitigating the sequelæ of secondary bacterial infection is still by the use of a suitable catarrhal vaccine.

The usual method is to give a series of four injections (0.25 c.c., 0.5 c.c., 1 c.c. and 1 c.c.) with an interval of seven to ten days between each. For preference, the course should be started in September and the resulting immunity maintained by giving a further 1 c.c. every month throughout the autumn and winter.

Alternatively, the immunity may be maintained, after giving four injections, by giving at least one B.D.H. Common Cold Vaccine Tablet orally each week, increasing the dose to one tablet daily during periods of particular liability to infection and during epidemics.

In many instances it is not practicable to give injections at all, and, in such cases, the initial immunity may be produced by giving one tablet daily for two weeks.

Further information regarding B.D.H. Common Cold Vaccine and B.D.H. Common Cold Vaccine Tablets (for oral use) will be gladly supplied on request.

HANOVIA LTD

The Specialists in Actinotherapy Equipment

SLOUGH.
BUCKS.

London Showrooms:
3 Victoria Street, S.W.1

After a long and distinguished career, certain of Hanovia's liquid electrode mercury quartz burners are compelled to retire from active service. From 1905 onwards these tilt-starting 'K type' quartz burners were the standard ultra-violet radiation sources for thirty years. Outstandingly good as they were, science has surpassed them till they are now blocking the way for the better. After August 31st next we shall be unable to repair or supply any more tilt-starting Hanovia quartz burners of the types listed below.

By way of explanation. For nearly ten years we have been making our whole range of Hanovia ultra-violet ray lamps with self-starting electronic discharge arc tubes, which have fully demonstrated their many technical and therapeutic advantages over the earlier tilt-starting burners. Being in current production, the modern tube can be made and tested in less time than is needed for an occasional one among the nineteen different K-type burners. Moreover, one K-type burner takes as much mercury as may fill ten thousand modern arc tubes.

We have always considered it a prime obligation to maintain service to our users, but now that any further attempt to prolong the life of out-dated equipment would entail prodigal waste both of skilled labour and of an imported metal essential for munitions, we are bound to publish the above notification. The following tilt-starting Hanovia lamps are affected:—

THE SUPER-KROMAYER and all KROMAYER LAMPS except Models V. and VI.

ALL JESIONEK LAMPS.

THE C.S. ALPINE and MODIFIED ALPINE SUN LAMPS.

THE MASSEURS' UNIVERSAL LAMP and PORTABLE H.S. LAMPS.

When such a lamp falls due for burner replacement we ask the user to send us the number of the burner and a detailed description of the lamp, giving the date of its manufacture. We will then advise the simplest way to keep the equipment in operation.

(Special Note: for ALPINE SUN LAMPS of the spherical hood type incorporating tilt-starting 'K' burners, in use for essential medical purposes, we will maintain a Burner Exchange service until further notice.)

Safer Pregnancy and Puerperium

Investigations carried out in London<sup>1</sup>, involving a study of the records of over 5,000 pregnant women, showed that there was a dietary deficiency of Vitamins A, B<sub>1</sub> and C in about 50 per cent. of cases, of calcium in 70 per cent., and of iron in 98 per cent.

After the provision of supplements containing adequate amounts of Vitamins A, B complex, C and D, with calcium, iron, iodine, manganese and copper, the following significant results were noted:—

Among 1,530 primigravidae the toxæmia rate was 27.1 per cent. as compared with the rate of 31.7 per cent. in a control group of 1,512 primigravidae not receiving the supplement. Based on an annual birthrate of 600,000, this represents a possible reduction of 10,000 cases of toxæmia per annum by the use of a pre-natal diet adequate in vitamins and mineral elements. Noteworthy, too, was the effect on the new-born infant as shown by a definite reduction in the number of premature births.

Similar results obtained by investigations at the Toronto General Hospital<sup>2</sup> showed that a good, or supplemented, pre-natal diet resulted in better health for the mother, a lower incidence of toxæmias, miscarriages, premature births, or still births, with a decrease in the morbidity and mortality of the infant during the early months of life.

'ROCHE' News in Brief

Menstrual Delay and Pregnancy Test

Fifty-seven cases of menstrual delay were treated by injection of 1 mg. (2 ampoules) 'Prostigmin' on 3 consecutive days after endocrine disorders had been ruled out. If menstrual flow was not established within 72 hours a tentative diagnosis of pregnancy was made until confirmed by the Friedman test or clinical observation. A normal menstrual flow was produced in all those who were not pregnant, and those whom pregnancy was subsequently confirmed successfully continued their pregnancies. The number of injections required to induce menstruation varied, some needing 3, some 2 and others only 1; occasionally 4 were required.—Journ. Amer. Med. Assoc., May 8, 1943, 122, p. 81.

Removal of X-ray Intoxication Symptoms

The intramuscular injection of an ampoule of 'Benerva' Forte (25 mg.) daily proved very beneficial in combating vomiting and other forms of X-ray intoxication. Of 35 patients with marked X-ray intoxication symptoms 15 responded very well, so that a complete remission was obtained. In 12 cases, 7 of them severe cases, an appreciable improvement was found. In 8 cases no effect could be found, three of these being regarded as failures. Sometimes one to two injections were sufficient to abolish completely the symptoms.—Radiologia Clinica, 1942, 11, p. 349.

Treatment of Epistaxis with Vitamin C

'Redoxon' (vitamin C) has proved of value in 16 cases for the treatment of severe nose-bleeding, which could not be stopped by any of the other methods tried. One gram (2 ampoules of 'Redoxon' forte) was injected intravenously, and if the bleeding did not stop within a few minutes the injection was repeated either with the same dose or, if it was abating, with 0.5 gm.—La Semana Medica, 1942, p. 312.

Encouraging Results of Vitamin E Therapy

Successful results were obtained with the use of vitamin E therapy in 5 patients, 3 of whom were suffering from peripheral neuritis, with the Guillain-Barre syndrome, one from amyotonia congenita, and one from either amyotrophic lateral sclerosis or muscular dystrophy of the Aran-Duchenne type. The dosage used was 10 mg. of 'Ephynal' 3 times a day for varying periods, being increased in one case to 75 mg. a day. In all a striking increase in muscular strength and tone occurred. According to the author "further clinical trial of synthetic vitamin E in neuromuscular affections is warranted."—J. Nerv. & Ment. Dis., 1942, 96, p. 184.

Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis

An advanced case of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis showed marked improvement on treatment with 'Ephynal.' (Dose: 50 mg. 3 times a day for 5 months, after which the dose was reduced to 25 mg. 3 times a day, and treatment was continued with 25 mg. 3 times a day). The patient was able to climb stairs, whereas previously he had been unable to walk at all and had been either confined to bed or to a wheel chair. This improvement was being maintained.—Medical Times, 1942, 70, p. 247.

The HECSON SUPER ELASTIC TRUSS

Where treatment of Hernia by surgical methods is undesirable for any reasons, the HECSON super elastic truss can be confidently recommended. ## THE PERMEABILITY OF NATURAL MEMBRANES

By HUGH DAVSON and

with a Foreword by
E. NEWTON HARVEY

No general books on cell permeability have appeared for over ten years. The present authors have brought together the existing knowledge into one book. Cell physiologists will be grateful indeed for this summing up of a subject destined for rapid development under the stimulus of modern methods of exploring molecular dimensions and molecular arrangements.

WRIGHT'S LIQUOR CARBONIS DETERGENS

By the preparation of Liquor Carbonis Detergens 80 years ago, the powerful antiseptic and antipruritic agents in Coal Tar were isolated for the first time from the residuary content of irritants and non-therapeutic substances. Publicly commended by an impressive succession of notable authorities, Liquor Carbonis Detergens soon provided the basis for a toilet soap that has been a household word for generations. Discouraging germs, Wright's Coal Tar Soap produces a generous lather, specially soothing and very thorough in its cleansing.

This REGISTERED Hospital is situated at Monks Orchard in some 250 acres of park, pleasure and farm grounds. Applications can be considered on behalf of patients of the educated classes in a presumably curable condition.

With a view to early treatment voluntary or uncertified patients are admitted. Patients who can contribute 5 guineas weekly towards the cost of treatment and maintenance may be received as vacancies arise. The Committee will also consider applications for admission at lower rates and in certain cases will be prepared to admit patients free of charge. The comfort of sensitive patients is greatly enhanced by the fact that the majority are given single bedrooms. TREATMENT ON MODERN PRINCIPLES. Every facility for specialized investigation and treatment is provided in the Lord Wakefield of Hythe Science and Treatment Unit, including RADIOLOGICAL and DENTAL DEPARTMENTS, BIO-CHEMICAL, PATHOLOGICAL, and PSYCHOLOGICAL LABORATORIES. The Medical Staff have access to a pane of Consultants in cases which present unusual symptoms requiring specialized investigation and treatment. Under the direction of qualified officers HELIO-THERAPY, HYDRO-THERAPY, and ELECTRO-THERAPY are administered in the Physio-Therapy Department. SPECIALIZED TREATMENT of various forms is given to suitable cases.

OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY in the form of various Arts and Crafts is actively encouraged from the medical aspect, and under the guidance of a competent instructor this department has proved most effective as a therapeutic factor in all stages of mental illness. The promotion of physical fitness is a prominent item of treatment and this is enhanced by arrangements for patients to take part in Outdoor and Indoor Sports and Entertainments. Application should be made to the Physician-Superintendent.
