Why ANDREWS is the Ideal Tonic Laxative

Andrews is a pleasant tasting, effervescent aperient with tonic properties, and is a valuable aid to Inner Cleanliness.

Andrews is beneficial in most digestive disorders, feverish conditions, the ailments of children, and in pregnancy and lactation. Its use may be discontinued without reaction when the need for it ceases.

Andrews justifies the description of "Ideal Tonic Laxative" because:—

FIRST . . Patients like taking Andrews, because its brisk effervescence is immediately refreshing and stimulating, it sweetens the mouth and helps to clean the tongue.

NEXT . . Andrews allays gastric discomfort, heart-burn and nausea by diminishing the stomach's acidity and relieving flatulence.

THEN . . Andrews increases bile flow, relieves hepatic congestion, and improves digestion. It is partly absorbed from the intestine as alkali, and therefore helps to correct acidity in the blood and to stimulate kidney function.

FINALLY . . Acting by osmosis, Andrews clears the bowels gently and entirely without irritation.

New . . and Overwhelming Evidence that
STAPHYLOCOCCI are COMMON PATHOGENS

When this war began the importance of streptococci as infecting agents in man was both widely established and universally recognised.

But few medical practitioners acknowledged that staphylococci might be of equal importance.

To-day, despite the difficulties of keeping pace with advances in applied bacteriology in war time, there continues to accumulate incontrovertible evidence of the importance of staphylococci in the pathology of a number of conditions met with in medical practice.

NEW FACTS ABOUT STAPHYLOCOCCI JUSTIFY THE INTRODUCTION OF A NEW ANTISEPTIC

Notes on the conditions referred to are given below: and it is suggested that these are a complete justification for the introduction of the new antiseptic, O-SYL. For, in order adequately to deal with these conditions, it is now appreciated that an antiseptic should be available which is capable of equal bactericidal activity against staphylococci as it is against streptococci. The efficiency of O-Syl against staphylococci has been indicated by announcements published in this journal during the past few months. (Reprints of these announcements are available to members of the profession on request.) Further, O-Syl provides a safety factor in use which is not present in antiseptics developed during the period when the only consideration was the killing effect on streptococci.

THE EVIDENCE

1 IMPETIGO CONTAGIOSA. Bigger and Hodgson (1) have shown that 97% of their cultures yielded Staphylococci (mostly Staph. pyogenes) and only 32% streptococci (pyogenes). Moreover whilst staphylococci were present without streptococci in 67% of cultures, in only 2% were streptococci present without staphylococci. In unopened vesicles all cultures yielded only staphylococci (aureus). Sheehan and Ferguson (2) during an independent survey agreed closely with these findings and in addition showed that impetigo was reproduced with similar frequency when human skin was inoculated with staphylococcus aureus as with fluid obtained from the lesions of spontaneous impetigo.

2 BULLOUS IMPETIGO NEONATORUM. Benians and his co-workers (3) describe an epidemic of this condition due to staphylococci and suggest that statistics convey a suggestion that staphylococcal infections have become of greater frequency during the past two years.

3 STAPHYLOCOCCI IN THE NURSERY. Recent work has emphasised the importance of staphylococcus aureus in nursery infections in which they give rise to Breast abscesses in the Mothers and pemphigus in the Babies. There is, moreover, evidence that in some epidemics of conjunctivitis in the babies the condition is also due to the same organisms (4, 5, 6).

Freely Flowing Bile Gathers No Stones

VERACOLATE is composed of the bile salts—sodium taurocholate and glycocholate—with a compound laxative to aid intestinal elimination. It is therefore indicated in all conditions where there is interference with the free flow of bile.

The range of conditions for which Veracolate is useful includes constipation, biliousness, flatulent dyspepsia, and catarrhal inflammation of the gall-bladder and its ducts.

Veracolate increases the production of bile, lowers its viscosity and relieves the symptoms associated with the gall-stone diathesis.

Veracolate keeps the bile flowing.

(VI-MALT-OL)

A Delicious Concentrated Vitamin Food

TO the physician requiring a product which incorporates the important vitamins in a form entirely pleasant and acceptable to every patient, "Vimaltol" presents special advantages.

"Vimaltol" is a concentrated and economical vitamin food with a delicious orange flavour. The vitamins are supplied from specially prepared malt extract and yeast, which is one of the richest natural sources of vitamin B₁, together with Halibut Liver Oil fortified with additional vitamins.

"Vimaltol" is thus an important aid in preventing or remedying the many abnormal conditions resulting from the deficiency of one or more of the essential vitamins in the average everyday dietary. The routine use of "Vimaltol" ensures normal development of the growing organism and the maintenance of correct metabolism, while raising the general resistance against infection.

It is of signal value at certain physiological periods, such as infancy, adolescence, and pregnancy, to prevent deficiency diseases and to restore normal metabolism in the many "border-line" cases arising from insufficient intake or defective assimilation of the essential food factors.

"Vimaltol" has thus a very wide application in general practice for patients of all ages. It can be prescribed with advantage at all seasons.

A liberal supply for clinical trial sent free on request.

Origin of a household word*

WRIGHT'S LIQUOR CARBONIS DETERGENS

By the preparation of Liquor Carbonis Detergens 80 years ago, the powerful antiseptic and antipruritic agents in Coal Tar were isolated for the first time from the residuary content of irritants and non-therapeutic substances. Publicly commended by an impressive succession of notable authorities, Liquor Carbonis Detergens soon provided the basis for a toilet soap that has been a household word for generations. Discouraging germs, Wright's Coal Tar Soap produces a generous lather, specially soothing and very thorough in its cleansing.

Armoured . . .

The Battalions of to-day fight behind defensive armour. The armoured car has replaced the cavalry horse and infantry advance under the protection of massed tank formations.

Medical research, too, has provided defensive armour for the medical profession. The prevention of disease by protective measures against the invisible but numberless and ubiquitous foe—the disease germs—is increasingly lowering the general morbidity and mortality.

Decongestion of the turgid nasal mucosa in acute and chronic rhinitis, hay-fever, and sinusitis is rapidly effected by use of the Karsodrine Inhaler. Maximal shrinkage with corresponding symptomatic relief is obtained within five minutes. The powerful volatile vasoconstrictor in the Inhaler penetrates to the uttermost recesses of the nasal cavity and sinuses, securing optimal drainage and aeration. With only one cap to remove, the Karsodrine Inhaler is pre-eminently simple to use.

FULL ANTIGENIC RESPONSE

NO UNSPECIFIC REACTION

● Glaxo Laboratories have developed a method by which a suspended anti-typhoid-paratyphoid vaccine can be prepared from organisms grown on a special synthetic medium, free from protein and breakdown products of agar, so eliminating these sources of unspecific reaction.

The antigenic responses are of high level and equal in all respects to those of vaccines prepared by ordinary methods while the reactions are few and of quite a minor nature; local pain and stiffness and very slight general reaction.

Prepared from smooth and highly virulent strains, the vaccine retains the full antigenic properties of the organisms, eliminates reactions due to impurities of the media and reduces general reaction to that derived solely from the bacterial substance.

Vitamin Therapy—Safeguarding the Invalid Diet

Present-day nutritional knowledge has emphasised that the provision of an adequate food intake for the invalid does not merely involve the provision of a light, bland, readily assimilable diet. Of signal importance is the fact that the restricted intake of food during acute and debilitating illness, together with the increased tissue wastage often present, quickly lead to a subnormal state of nutrition involving notably a deficiency of the vitamin B complex and other food factors.

In chronic illnesses, too, such as nephritis and tuberculosis the assimilation of vitamins and mineral salts is liable to be reduced by gastro-intestinal disturbances, so that the blood level of these substances is still further lowered. The same end-result is observed in patients who are placed on a restricted diet during the treatment of peptic ulcer or obesity.

Treatment of the patient convalescing from an acute illness, or of the chronically ill, calls therefore for measures aimed at restoring the depleted reserves of vitamins. Otherwise there is a definite risk of manifestations of hypovitaminosis, such as neuritis, anorexia, gastro-intestinal atony, anæmia, and lowered resistance to the incidence of intercurrent infections.

PROVIDING THE DEFICIENT FACTORS

Experience has clearly established that malnutrition is generally of a mixed pattern, and is rarely confined to deficiency of a single food factor.

In restitution of the deficiencies resulting from a restricted diet multiple vitamin therapy is obviously of particular importance, and in this connection the medical practitioner has at his service the following therapeutically sound products.

Complevite.—Tablets containing vitamins A, B₁,

C and D, with calcium, phosphorus, iron and trace minerals in amounts and proportions shown by recent nutritional surveys to be optimal for the maintenance of normal health.

Bemax.—One of the richest available natural sources of the vitamin B complex (vitamin B₁, nicotinic acid, pyridoxine, and riboflavin), together with vitamin E; iron and copper. Being rich in first-class protein it has also a high nutritive value.

Prescription Priority

In order that Ribena, rich source of natural vitamin C, shall be available for those who need it most, the Ministry of Food have ruled that supplies must be reserved for

Medical Prescriptions

Young Children

Expectant & Nursing Mothers

Because Ribena provides vitamin C in natural form, with its inherent accessory factors, and because it is so generally acceptable and well tolerated in all cases of vitamin C deficiency, doctors are recommending it increasingly in cases of internal ulceration, during pregnancy and lactation, and for children whose vitamin C intake is lowered by digestive disturbance or dietary dislikes.

In these and other cases for which a natural vitamin C supplement is indicated, it is helpful to provide a written prescription for Ribena so that the patient has priority with the local chemist, who should be able to supply.

ONE MOMENT PLEASE . . .

Azochloramid is modest. Azochloramid does not claim to be winning the War but whilst others take the spotlight, Azochloramid has been content to go quietly about doing an important job behind the scenes.

Fungous infection of the feet for example, is extremely difficult to control and, as a complaint, hinders the war effort in every phase of civilian and service life.

Ample evidence has been received to show that epidermophytosis is quickly and thoroughly eradicated by Azochloramid in Triacetin 1:500. Now we have to report that due to heavy demands, including service requirements, our stock has been exhausted.

It is hoped that fresh supplies will be available soon. Meanwhile, it is suggested that Azochloramid in Triacetin 1:125 suitably diluted in oil, will give similar therapeutic results.

AUTHORITY IN MEDICINE

Old and New

By Major Greenwood

Professor Greenwood in this Linacre
Lecture discusses the ancient veneration of Galen. This leads him to an unbiased discussion of the true value of experiment and research, and to the question whether research should be left to the satisfaction of the researcher's curiosity or should be planned and directed into technology. 1s. 6d. net.

NOTICE—Applications for vacancies advertised should, except where otherwise specified, state name, address, age, nationality, qualifications with dates, and be accompanied by copies of three recent testimonials with short statement of experience and appointments held. Unless closing date is stated applications should be sent at once.

HIS MAJESTY'S COLONIAL SERVICE. The Colonial Medical Service. Vacancies for Medical Officers.—The maintenance of an efficient Colonial Medical Service constitutes a vital part of the national war effort, and it is most important that the Service should be assured of an adequate supply of doctors. The Secretary of State for the Colonies therefore invites applications from doctors possessing a medical qualification registrable in the United Kingdom who are British subjects and who are under 35 years of age. Medical Officers are appointed in the first instance for general service, but there are ample opportunities for work in special branches of medicine and surgery, in public health, and in medical research. The normal salary scale is from £600 to between £1,000 to £1,120. There are large numbers of super-scale posts, to which promotion is made on merit and which carry higher salaries. Government quarters, in many cases free of rent, and first-class passages to and from the Colonies, are provided, and an adequate pension scheme is in force. Selected candidates are normally required to attend a course of instruction in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene either before proceeding overseas or during their first period of leave. Further particulars, including the regulations governing admission to the Colonial Medical Service, may be obtained from the Director of Recruitment (Colonial Service), 2, Park Street, London, W.1.

INDIAN MEDICAL SERVICE. Recruitment of Women Medical Officers.—The Government of India are prepared to recruit a limited number of women medical officers for service with the Indian Medical Service for the duration of the war. Antedate of seniority may be granted up to a maximum period of 64 years in respect of resident hospital appointments, higher qualifications, and/or professional experience. The antedate will count for pay and promotion, but, in the case of candidates recruited in this country, higher rank will not be assumed until the date of disembarkation in India. On termination of service, a minimum gratuity is guaranteed to those officers who complete one year of service, viz., Rs. 2,000 to officers whose registrable medical qualification is dated before January 1, 1940, and Rs. 1,000 to those who qualified after that date, plus one month's pay for each further completed year of Army service. Further particulars regarding rates of pay, etc., may be obtained from the Medical Adviser, India Office, London, S.W.1, or from the Secretary, Military Department, India Office, to whom all inquiries should be addressed.
