

THE THERAPY OF ASTHMA

The treatment of asthma resolves itself into a consideration of underlying factors and causes. Often in ASTHMA the underlying cause is not discoverable or changes from time to time—now irritant dusts, now bacterial infection, etc. The underlying factor is fortunately always the same—bronchospasm.

Thus sometimes causative agents can be removed or mitigated but always the underlying factor—bronchospasm—can be treated, successfully, with FELSOL.

Most cases of Asthma are chronic and demand patience in treatment—persistence with FELSOL will yield the highest possible percentage of successes.

'Synapoidin'

Combined Anterior Pituitary & Chorionic Gonadotrophins

'Synapoidin' is a balanced combination of the follicle-stimulating principle, extracted from the anterior lobe of the pituitary gland, and the luteinizing hormone obtained from pregnancy urine. These two gonadotrophins are highly purified and combined in such proportion that, when administered in proper doses to sexually immature animals, they will induce precocious maturation and the onset of functional activity of the gonads, indistinguishable from that occurring during normal sexual development.

Although it has not been demonstrated that 'Synapoidin' exerts the gonad-stimulating activity in the human subject in the same qualitative and quantitative manner as in laboratory animals, its clinical effectiveness has been found satisfactory by a number of investigators. 'Synapoidin' appears to be a particularly useful agent for the stimulation of ovarian activity in women with functional menstrual disorders and sterility resulting from deficiency of pituitary gonadotrophins. Experimental and clinical evidence indicates that 'Synapoidin' is a more potent gonadotrophic preparation than has been previously available.

In the male subject the follicle-stimulating hormone acts only on the germinal epithelium, increasing spermatogenic activity; the luteinizing hormone acts on the interstitial secretory elements of the testes, inducing secretion of the male hormone.

Full details concerning the physiological properties of 'Synapoidin' and the precautions to be observed in its clinical use are available on request.

Supplied in vials of 10 c.c., each c.c. containing 15 synergy rat-units.

VIMALTOL

(V-MALT-OL)

A Delicious Concentrated Vitamin Food

TO the physician requiring a product which incorporates the important vitamins in a form entirely pleasant and acceptable to every patient, "Vimaltol" presents special advantages.

"Vimaltol" is a concentrated and economical vitamin food with a delicious orange flavour. The vitamins are supplied from specially prepared malt extract and yeast, which is one of the richest natural sources of vitamin B, together with Halibut Liver Oil fortified with additional vitamins.

"Vimaltol" is thus an important aid in preventing or remedying the many abnormal conditions resulting from the deficiency of one or more of the essential vitamins in the average everyday dietary. The routine use of "Vimaltol" ensures normal development of the growing organism and the maintenance of correct metabolism, while raising the general resistance against infection.

It is of signal value at certain physiological periods, such as infancy, adolescence, and pregnancy, to prevent deficiency diseases and to restore normal metabolism in the many "border-line" cases arising from insufficient intake or defective assimilation of the essential food factors.

"Vimaltol" has thus a very wide application in general practice for patients of all ages. It can be prescribed with advantage at all seasons.

WIDENED SCOPE FOR STILBOESTROL

● That stilboestrol will benefit a large number of menopausal patients has proved a boon to doctors treating women during the trying change of life. Stilboestrol, though chemically unrelated to the natural oestrogens, reproduces their full effects. The convenience of oral administration and the economy of 'Clinestrol' brand of stilboestrol are advantages which widen the scope of this therapy.

Inhibition of lactation is another important practical use of 'Clinestrol'; one short course of treatment lasting a few days is usually successful. Other measures, such as binding the breasts, restricting the fluid intake, and the use of purgatives, are rendered unnecessary.

More recently, numerous papers have appeared on the use of stilboestrol in the treatment of prostatic cancer. This form of alleviative therapy though still in its trial stage has given promising results. It seems certain that a degree of symptomatic relief is possible.

Economy in Disinfectants

USE OF HYPOCHLORITES RECOMMENDED

In a statement on economy in the use of certain types of disinfectants in short supply the Therapeutic Requirements Committee of the Medical Research Council emphasised the necessity of selecting "those materials which are most readily available." Among the substances recommended to replace those in short supply for special purposes are "hypochlorites."

Milton, the Hypochlorite Antiseptic, has been recommended in recent medical and pharmaceutical literature or in statements by authoritative bodies for many uses including the following:—

As an antiseptic and therapeutic agent

In the Envelope Irrigation treatment of wounds, burns and ulcers.

Treatment of simple boils, carbuncles, whitlows and any septic wounds.

Treatment of mustard gas burns.

As a general sterilising agent

For the sterilisation of the new standard Jaconet, Battiste and Artificial Silk Waterproof Dressings.

For the sterilisation of non-metallic sick-room utensils and instruments.

For the emergency sterilisation of water.

For the disinfection of air in operating theatres, hospital wards, air-raid shelters, offices, etc.

Details of references and information with regard to these and other uses of Milton may be obtained from the Medical Dept., Milton Antiseptic Ltd., John Milton House, London, N.7.

ONE MOMENT PLEASE...

Azochloramid is modest. Azochloramid does not claim to be winning the War but whilst others take the spotlight, Azochloramid has been content to go quietly about doing an important job behind the scenes.

Fungous infection of the feet for example, is extremely difficult to control and, as a complaint, hinders the war effort in every phase of civilian and service life.

Ample evidence has been received to show that epidermophytosis is quickly and thoroughly eradicated by Azochloramid in Triacetin 1:500. Now we have to report that due to heavy demands, including service requirements, our stock has been exhausted.

It is hoped that fresh supplies will be available soon. Meanwhile, it is suggested that Azochloramid in Triacetin 1:125 suitably diluted in oil, will give similar therapeutic results.

Anorexia and Constipation

Constipation is common in experimental vitamin B₁ deficiency. So is anorexia. Where these co-exist in patients vitamin B deficiency may be suspected. Bemax is one of the richest natural sources of the B complex and has been shown to have a marked effect in restoring the patient's appetite. Bemax also provides a valuable amount of first-class protein.

The action of vitamin B in common constipation is well established. As the natural agent for invigorating the bowel muscle, it promotes healthy elimination and should render purgatives and other expedients unnecessary.

Imperfect Nutrition

"The constant drip will wear away the stone; the constant imperfection in nutrition, though this be relatively slight, will wear away the body."

B.M.J., June 15th, 1940.

Inadequate intake of calcium and phosphorus is one of the commonest of all food faults, especially in these days of restricted rations. It is vital to national health that such deficiency should be made good by extra-dietary supplementation of these essential elements.

'CALFOS' contains the calcium and phosphorus naturally present in bone, and provides them in a form which ensures rapid assimilation in proper physiological ratio without risk of metabolic upset.

HIS MAJESTY'S COLONIAL SERVICE. The Colonial Medical Service. Vacancies for Medical Officers.—The maintenance of an efficient Colonial Medical Service constitutes a vital part of the national war effort, and it is most important that the Service should be assured of an adequate supply of doctors. The Secretary of State for the Colonies therefore invites applications from doctors possessing a medical qualification registrable in the United Kingdom who are British subjects and who are under 35 years of age. Medical Officers are appointed in the first instance for general service, but there are ample opportunities for work in special branches of medicine and surgery, in public health, and in medical research. The normal salary scale is from £600 to between £1,000 to £1,120. There are large numbers of super-scale posts, to which promotion is made on merit and which carry higher salaries. Government quarters, in many cases free of rent, and first-class passages to and from the Colonies, are provided, and an adequate pension scheme is in force. Selected candidates are normally required to attend a course of instruction in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene either before proceeding overseas or during their first period of leave. Further particulars, including the regulations governing admission to the Colonial Medical Service, may be obtained from the Director of Recruitment (Colonial Service), 2, Park Street, London, W.1.

Antedate of seniority may be granted up to a maximum period of 6½ years in respect of resident hospital appointments, higher qualifications, and/or professional experience. The antedate will count for pay and promotion, but, in the case of candidates recruited in this country, higher rank will not be assumed until the date of disembarkation in India. On termination of service, a minimum gratuity is guaranteed to those officers who complete one year of service, viz., Rs. 2,000 to officers whose registrable medical qualification is dated before January 1, 1940, and Rs. 1,000 to those who qualified after that date, plus one month's pay for each further completed year of Army Service. The outstanding feature of PYREX Brand Scientific Glassware is its high resistance to acids and to sudden temperature changes.

PYREX Brand Scientific Glassware thus possesses a remarkably wide range of safety, inasmuch as the low co-efficient of expansion (0.000032) permits of more robust construction than that of ordinary glass, thereby minimising the risk of breakage, and reducing renewal costs to a minimum.

PYREX Brand Scientific Glassware is one of the most important assets in the laboratory or the dispensary. The reduced risk of breakage is a vital aid to the research chemist, as it ensures continuity of experimental processes, the value of which might otherwise be jeopardised.

PYREX
SCIENTIFIC GLASSWARE
A wide margin of safety.

PYREX Brand Scientific Glassware is supplied only through Laboratory Furnishers, but illustrated catalogue and two free copies of our Chemist's Notebook will be sent direct on application to us.
