

THE THERAPY OF ASTHMA

The treatment of asthma resolves itself into a consideration of underlying factors and causes. Often in ASTHMA the underlying cause is not discoverable or changes from time to time—now irritant dusts, now bacterial infection, etc. The underlying factor is fortunately always the same—bronchospasm.

Thus sometimes causative agents can be removed or mitigated but always the underlying factor—bronchospasm—can be treated, successfully, with FELSOL.

Most cases of Asthma are chronic and demand patience in treatment—persistence with FELSOL will yield the highest possible percentage of successes.

MIASMATIC

THE atmosphere in blacked-out factories, badly ventilated vehicles, crowded shelters and places of entertainment can, perhaps inelegantly but not inaccurately, be described as miasmatic. It is a prolific source of the common cold and influenza and it aggravates sinus troubles.

Distressing enough in normal circumstances, such conditions to-day are more than distressing. Either the sufferer stays away from work and the Nation is thus robbed of precious man-power, or praiseworthy he attempts to keep going—and infects others.

Perhaps the most effective method of counter-acting infections of the nose and throat is the early application of

to the mucosa of the upper respiratory tract. This consists of a 10% solution of soluble sulphacetamide with a surface tension of 37 dynes per sq. cm., thus ensuring its even and rapid dispersal and penetration.

It is non-toxic and non-irritant, entirely suitable for application either as a throat paint or in any of the usual sprays or atomisers.

A Milestone in Medical History

A DECADE or so ago, pharmacology had scarcely envisaged a non-narcotic drug capable of alleviating depression, that "common spectre of mankind." Yet to-day, in 'Benzedrine' Tablets, the medical profession has in its hands just such a therapeutic weapon, which, in its very efficiency, cuts across the old categories.

So rapid has been the development of 'Benzedrine' therapy that it is hard to appreciate the revolutionary possibilities which it has created in psycho-somatic medicine—after only seven years of clinical use in this peculiarly difficult field. In the verdict of medical history 'Benzedrine' may well rank with the foremost discoveries of this era.

'PRE-EMINENT IN THE RELIEF OF PAIN'

"WERE I limited" (writes a London Consultant) "to one method in physical medicine, that method would be infra-red irradiation". And for efficacious application of this valuable therapy in all its many indications, the most exacting physician finds all he requires—and more—in the Hanovia Sollux Lamps. The new Model VII gives six different stages of intensity from each of its alternative radiant heat and 'infra-red' sources, with ample facilities for applying these palliative rays from any distance, at any angle, and to any defined area.

'SOLLUX LAMP' Booklet

*(please enclose 1d.

to comply with Govt. decrees).*

SOME CLINICAL USES OF THE SOLLUX LAMPS:—

SURGERY :

In sprains and strains pain is quickly alleviated and function rapidly restored by prolonged irradiation ("one can undertake to cure an acute sprain and produce complete freedom of movement in 3 days"). The decongestive action is marked in contusions. Fractures and swellings near a joint are best treated with radiant heat.

FAR, NOSE AND THROAT :

Indications include acute otitis, sinusitis, mastoiditis, laryngitis; boils in the ear and nose. Radiant heat produces active hyperaemia, relieves congestion, soothes pain, enhances local nutrition.

NERVOUS AND MUSCULAR CONDITIONS :

For neuritis and neuralgic symptoms, sciatica, migraine, radiant heat is 'of the greatest value.' Myalgia and other rheumatic manifestations show good response. Valuable also in arthritis and osteo-arthritis.

‘Synapoidin’

Combined Anterior Pituitary and Chorionic Gonadotrophins

‘Synapoidin’ is a balanced combination of the follicle-stimulating principle from the anterior lobe of the pituitary gland and the luteinizing hormone obtained from pregnancy urine. These combined gonadotrophins, when administered in proper doses to sexually immature animals, induce precocious maturation and the onset of functional activity of the gonads, indistinguishable from that occurring during normal sexual development.

Although it has not been demonstrated that ‘Synapoidin’ exerts the gonad-stimulating activity in the human subject in the same qualitative and quantitative manner as in laboratory animals, its clinical effectiveness has been found satisfactory by a number of investigators. ‘Synapoidin’ appears to be a particularly useful agent for the stimulation of ovarian activity in women with functional menstrual disorders and sterility resulting from deficiency of pituitary gonadotrophins.

Supplied in vials of 10 c.c., each c.c. containing 15 synergy rat-units. Full details on request.

A COLOUR CODE FOR INSULIN

Collaboration between the British Insulin manufacturers, which throughout the period of the war has consistently operated to the advantage of the diabetic community, has resulted in an important decision which will be welcomed by all concerned with the prescription, distribution and use of insulin preparations.

Believing that considerations of safety and convenience outweigh the commercial advantages attaching to their individual styles of packaging, the manufacturers, after consultation with leading authorities and with the approval of the Ministry of Health, have agreed upon a uniform treatment of labels and cartons by which each type and strength of insulin, of whatever make, will be immediately distinguishable by colour. In addition, the adoption of clear bold type will still further reduce the possibility of confusion between strengths.

Insulin packaged according to this new colour code will be issued as soon as practicable after 1st January, 1944. An explanatory card, printed in colours, is available on request from any of the undermentioned manufacturers.

NOVUTOX PROCESS

NOW APPLIED TO THE PRODUCTION OF

SELF-STERILISING MORPHINE SOLUTIONS

The special Novutox cold sterilising process by which statrilized (i.e., stable and self sterilising) solutions are prepared, offers for Morphine Therapy an advance which is outstanding compared with any other system.

Inconvenient tablet forms of morphine and other important narcotics, often of necessity prepared for injection with water of doubtful character, have been grudgingly tolerated by the Medical Profession for half a century.

The growing volume of emergency work associated with modern life, and especially with A.R.P. arrangements, demanded some improvement, and solutions of morphine in bottles, ampoules and the new cartridge form, ready for immediate use without further process of sterilisation, have at long last made their appearance.

To obviate possible confusion between Novutox Self Sterilising local anaesthetics and solutions of morphine produced by the Novutox Cold Sterilising Process, the description "STATRILIZED" (e.g., Statrilized Morphine $\frac{1}{2}$ gr.) has been applied to drugs other than Novutox Local Anaesthetics prepared by the process.

Solutions prepared by the process are:

● LESS TOXIC ● SELF-STERILISING ● STABLE ● READY FOR USE

● LESSENED TOXICITY: In particular cases, such as those with cardiac manifestations or when shock is accompanied by toxæmia (as in burn-shock), the advantages of lessened toxicity are very real.

● SELF STERILISING: Elimination of the danger of accidental infection renders the solution perfectly safe for use from rubber capped or glass stoppered bottles, even under the adverse conditions of A.R.P. and other emergency work. Moreover, additional to the safety factor this feature of the solution makes for extreme economy in use.

● STABLE: Any fear that the solution "will not keep," either due to the development of micro-organisms or to decomposition, is entirely abolished.

A LOGICAL DEFENCE AGAINST COMMON COLD

● A logical—and successful—method of preventing the common cold is to stimulate natural powers of resistance by immunising with Cold Dissolved Vaccine (Glaxo). The discomfort and ill health from the common cold is caused by the secondary bacterial infection of the mucosa, and Cold Dissolved Vaccine contains all the bacterial strains commonly responsible.

A course of Cold Dissolved Vaccine (Glaxo) provides protection in many instances, and in others the severity of the attacks is greatly reduced.

ALUMINUM HYDROXIDE GEL

Aluminum hydroxide gel has been described repeatedly as the most satisfactory antacid thus far employed. Investigations on the mechanism of its action show that it is much more than an antacid. Aluminum hydroxide gel possesses the following properties in addition to its buffering capacity: pepsin inactivation, protective coating, mild astringent effect and adsorbent action. The following results are obtainable from the use of aluminum hydroxide gel in the peptic ulcer regimen: prompt relief of pain, rapid healing of the ulcer, fewer recurrences, less need for marked restrictions in diet, no danger of alkalosis.

Disclosure of Vitamin Content

The case of Bemax

It is only natural that Vitamins Ltd. should offer a warm welcome to the recent regulations of the Ministry of Food under which it is intended that foods claiming to contain vitamins and minerals must in future bear on the label a quantitative disclosure of these active ingredients.

Medical men will need no reminder of the sustained efforts, initiated long before the war, which the proprietors of Bemax have made

The Bemax policy has not confined itself to preaching: for many years now the vitamin content of Bemax has been clearly shown in quantitative detail both in the medical and lay press and on each package. This practice has achieved more than the kind of safeguard for the public now insisted upon by the Government; it has, we believe, been definitely helpful to the medical profession in making fully effective the varied forms of vitamin therapy now so generally practised.

PROPAMIDINE JELLY and CREAM for the prevention and treatment of sepsis

PROPAMIDINE is one of the aromatic diamidines, a series of compounds synthesised in our Research Laboratories. Studied originally for their anti-protozoal action they were found to possess anti-bacterial properties which are not inhibited by pus and tissue fluids or para-aminobenzoic acid. The amidines are active against sulphonamide-resistant strains of beta-haemolytic streptococci. For topical application in the treatment of infection propamide possesses therefore advantages over the sulphonamides of the same nature as are shown by penicillin.

Two preparations of propamide are now freely available commercially, a jelly and a cream. The first is used for established sepsis in wounds and burns as in the presence of sloughing or rough granulations, more intimate contact of the drug with the infected area is secured. For other purposes the cream is employed and provides a valuable "first aid" application for burns.

A pamphlet on these products is available on request. Propamide jelly and cream are supplied as follows:

PROPAMIDINE JELLY Jars of 4-ozs. 4s. 0d. Jars of 16-ozs. 15s. 0d.

Defended . . .

Defence in depth is major strategy in modern defensive warfare. The outposts of defence lie well beyond the shores of this island citadel. Similarly modern medicine's defence against the insidious attacks of pathogenic organisms has many facets. Notable among these is maintenance of the barriers against systemic infiltration of germs through the nasal mucosa.

Decongestion of the turgid nasal mucosa in acute and chronic rhinitis, hay-fever, and sinusitis is rapidly effected by use of the Karsodrine Inhaler. Maximal shrinkage with corresponding symptomatic relief is obtained within five minutes. The powerful volatile vasoconstrictor in the Inhaler penetrates to the uttermost recesses of the nasal cavity and sinuses, securing optimal drainage and aeration. With only one cap to remove, the Karsodrine Inhaler is pre-eminently simple to use.

Free Clinical Samples. Free Samples of the Karsodrine Inhaler for surgery use will gladly be sent to any member of the medical profession. Please address your request to: Karsodrine Clinical Department, E. Griffiths Hughes, Ltd., 1, Adelphi, Salford, 3, Manchester.

This year advertisers have been asked to help make people more aware of the need to look after their health. Naturally, as producers of fine quality cod liver oil, we have always endeavoured to do this.

Last winter we backed up the Ministry of Food's distribution scheme for expectant mothers and infants. Now that this excellent scheme is more widely known and good supplies are assured, we are using our advertising to encourage adults also to take SevenSeaS as a regular diet supplement.

We hope our endeavours will result in some lightening of the load on medical and health services.

SCIENTIFIC GLASSWARE
The high-light of Craftsmanship

PYREX Brand Scientific Glassware is supplied only through Laboratory Furnishers, but illustrated catalogue and two free copies of our Chemist's Notebook will be sent direct on application to us.

For many years, much thought and the close application of the craftsman's skill, has been given to the evolution of glassware that would meet the demands of the scientist in his specialized research work.

With the advent of PYREX Brand Scientific Glassware this need has been adequately met, and in the laboratory and the dispensary alike, this remarkable glassware is found to be both safe and reliable. Its low co-efficient of expansion (0.000032) makes it almost completely immune from the effects of sudden thermal changes.

That is why it has been possible to make PYREX Brand Scientific Glassware of more robust build than that of ordinary glass, thus effectively reducing the risk of breakage resulting from continuous everyday handling.

NOTICE—Applications for vacancies advertised should, except where otherwise specified, state name, address, age, nationality, qualifications with dates, and be accompanied by copies of three recent testimonials with short statement of experience and appointments held. Unless closing date is stated applications should be sent at once.

HIS MAJESTY'S COLONIAL SERVICE. The Colonial Medical Service. Vacancies for Medical Officers.—The maintenance of an efficient Colonial Medical Service constitutes a vital part of the national war effort, and it is most important that the Service should be assured of an adequate supply of doctors. The Secretary of State for the Colonies therefore invites applications from doctors possessing a medical qualification registrable in the United Kingdom who are British subjects and who are under 35 years of age. Medical Officers are appointed in the first instance for general service, but there are ample opportunities for work in special branches of medicine and surgery in public health, and in medical research. The normal salary scale is from £600 to between £1,000 to £1,120. There are large numbers of super-scale posts, to which promotion is made on merit and which carry higher salaries. Government quarters, in many cases free of rent, and provided passages to and from the Colonies, are provided, and an adequate pension scheme is in force. Selected candidates are normally required to attend a course of instruction in Tropical Medicine and Hygiene either before proceeding overseas or during their first period of leave. Further particulars, including the regulations governing admission to the Colonial Medical Service, may be obtained from the Director of Recruitment (Colonial Service), 2, Park Street, London, W.1.

INDIAN MEDICAL SERVICE. Recruitment of Women Medical Officers.—The Government of India are prepared to recruit a limited number of women medical officers for service with the Indian Medical Service for the duration of the war. The antedate will count for pay and promotion, but, in the case of candidates recruited in this country, higher rank will not be assumed until the date of disembarkation in India. On termination of service, a minimum gratuity is guaranteed to those officers who complete one year of service, viz., Rs. 2,000 to officers whose registrable medical qualification is dated before January 1, 1940, and Rs. 1,000 to those who qualified after that date, plus one month's pay for each further completed year of Army Service. For the Treatment of Functional Nervous States

A STUDY of the manifestations of nervous disorders, such as neurasthenia, hysteria, and the various types of neurosis, shows that there is frequently an associated impairment of the general nutrition of the patient. Conversely, it is found in practice that measures taken to improve the nutrition of the patient are generally followed by a definite amelioration of the nervous state.

'Ovaltine,' in addition to its well-known high nutritive value, exerts a distinct sedative effect on the nervous system, which renders its use of special benefit in the treatment of functional nervous states. Where insomnia is an additional feature, its use before retiring is conducive to restful sleep.

'Ovaltine' is a natural food tonic prepared from milk, eggs, and malt extract. Noteworthy features are its high percentage of maltose and its content of calcium, phosphorus and iron.

Ovaltine

VULNERABLE!

The susceptibility of the upper respiratory tract to infection provides a periodic source of discomfort to millions of people each year. Although specific "cold" therapy still is lacking, the physician can readily provide adequate symptomatic relief and inaugurate measures to prevent complications.

The rational combination of ephedrine with Metaphen as provided in Abbott's Metaphedrin Inhalant No. 99 will appeal to many physicians. Not only does it decongest and shrink the nasal mucous membrane, thereby maintaining drainage and ventilation, but it also exerts a bacteriostatic effect on the infected secretions. Metaphedrin Inhalant No. 99 contains ephedrine 0.95% with Metaphen 1:2500 in light, bland mineral oil. It is miscible with nasal secretions, thus affording more effective and prolonged contact with affected areas, and is active against the common secondary invaders of the oral and nasal cavities. Metaphedrin Inhalant No. 99 may be sprayed, swabbed or dropped into the nose. It is supplied in $\frac{1}{2}$ -, 1-, 4- and 16-fluid ounce bottles. Abbott Laboratories (England) Ltd., Wadsworth Road, Perivale, Middlesex.

Why not a NUPERCALINE LOZENGE?

In the treatment of painful conditions of the mouth and throat, the prolonged anaesthesia of the mucous membranes produced by has proved most efficacious in alleviating the discomfort of sore throat and aphthae and in allaying post-tonsillectomy distress. They also facilitate pharyngeal and laryngeal examinations.

Boxes of 15 and bottles of 100 Lozenges each containing 1 mg. Nupercaine, a-butyloxycinchonic acid diethyl-ethylenediamide hydrochloride.

Samples are available for clinical trial.

A copy of The Nupercaine Handbook, Part II, Ciba Handbook No. 2, second edition, a 32 page survey of the special advantages of Nupercaine for surface, infiltration and regional anaesthesia, will be sent to members of the Medical Profession on request.
