

Even Mothers may be wrong

Would you believe that 83% of mothers ask for the wrong size of shoes for their children? That's what the records of one shoe shop show. So Clarks safeguard children from mistaken guesswork: they insist that Clarks 'Fullrange' fitting shoes shall be fitted in the shop. Children's foot-health is a serious matter, and neither mothers nor shoemakers can risk being wrong.

The anticipated effects of glucose as an energiser and restorer are to some extent lost if the patient shows a degree of unwillingness to accept it.

But the common aversion to the sickly, sometimes nauseating, taste of glucose in many of its ordinary forms is strikingly absent whenever LUCOZADE is offered.

LUCOZADE is so palatable, so refreshing, that neither children nor adults ever need urging to take it as prescribed.

LAWS OF MEDICINE

Courvoisier's Law

"In obstruction of the bile duct by a stone, dilation of the gall bladder is rare, the organ having already been rendered fibrotic. In obstruction from other causes, however, dilation is common; fibrosis occurs in only 1/12 of these cases."

LUDWIG COURVOISIER, born in 1843 at Basle, Switzerland. Professor of Surgery 1888. Noted for his contributions to the surgery of the biliary tract. Died in 1918.

FAMILIAR TO DOCTORS since their student days, Courvoisier's Law defines two useful though not invariable rules.

Just as the laws of medicine may be qualified by later experience, so there can be no finality in the sphere of drug manufacture. The Boots organisation is alert to every possibility for new developments, and behind its great resources for research and production there is a long tradition of service to the medical profession.

Why 'Ribena' in Gum Infections?

Because the satisfactory results from clinical tests with Ribena have confirmed the belief that hypovitaminosis C predisposes to defective dentition and gum infections. Because, moreover, natural vitamin C, in the form of blackcurrant syrup, has been shown by practical experience to be a most valuable adjunct to local therapy in ulcerative stomatitis. Further, more specific, information will be gladly supplied to members of the medical profession.

Ribena is the pure undiluted juice of fresh ripe blackcurrants with sugar, in the form of a delicious syrup. Being freed from all cellular structure of the fruit, it cannot upset the most delicate stomach. It is particularly rich in natural vitamin C (not less than 20 mgm. per fluid ounce) and associated factors.

There is evidence that the reduced daily calorie intake of the nation, resultant upon the lower quantitative and qualitative food standards of to-day, has a tendency to be a contributory cause of asthenia.

The physician rightly seeks a corrective for this condition, especially in patients where an examination reveals nervous instability, lassitude and weakness arising from a deficiency of vitamins and mineral constituents.

'ESTIGYN'

(Ethinyl Œstradiol B.D.H.)

An Orally Active Derivative of the Natural Œstrogen, Œstradiol

Ethinyl Œstradiol is unique in that it is a simple derivative of the natural ovarian hormone which is highly active when administered orally. It is now available for clinical use as 'Estigyn'.

'Estigyn' may be prescribed in all cases in which an oral Œstrogen is indicated, especially those in which the physician hesitates to prescribe one of the synthetic, non-steroid Œstrogens.

Toxic reactions, such as headache, nausea and vomiting, are rare following the administration of 'Estigyn' and are most unlikely after the usual therapeutic doses.

'Estigyn' is issued in tablets containing 0.05 mg., each tablet scored for convenience in giving doses of 0.025 mg. when these are required.

The simple answer to this global problem

Whatever the form of macrocytic anaemia, Examen liver extract reduces treatment to the simplest possible terms. Highly refined and concentrated, Examen is fully effective in small injections—with consequent benefits both in convenience and economy—appreciated by patient and doctor alike.

Preliminary enzyme digestion of the raw liver ensures that the liver cell structure is broken down. The anti-anaemic factor is thus freed from its combination with protein and becomes totally available in Examen. This important advance in manufacturing technique also lessens still further the risk of sensitization to liver.

Examen has not only specific action but its effective stimulation of the haemopoietic system is of considerable value in many of the chronic infections met with in warm climates.

There are many cases where infants exhibit allergy associated with milk. However, the antigenicity of milk can be decreased.

PEPTALAC is a milk food in which the quantity of fat has been decreased and the protein treated with a pancreatic enzyme, ensuring that a definite proportion has been predigested to form peptone and amino acids. This food finds its greatest use in the later age group.

X-rays show how fine-gauge springs provide correct support, without flattening the fleshy parts of the body

WHY BED-FATIGUE IS ELIMINATED BY INTALOK

The patient on the Intalok mattress in the radiograph below is a normal 11-stone man. The area shown is the natural Lumbar arch.

Doctors, matrons and other medical authorities have noticed that patients relax as soon as they are placed on Intalok mattresses — and remain relaxed, enjoying an extraordinary degree of restful quiet. The remarkable radiographs reproduced on this page show why. They show that the scientific interlinking of fine springs into a firmly-sprung whole has completely overcome the problem of providing anatomically correct support for the frame of the body, with gentle cushioning for the fleshy parts and bone protuberances. Fig. 1 is of a section of an Intalok mattress uncompressed. The make-up of the springing can be seen clearly. Note how the springs are interlinked together throughout their lengths, yet are linked but loosely. Every spring will share part of the load, but before calling on the support of its neighbours each spring has slight "give". The surface, therefore, at first yields readily to pressure, resistance increasing as the weight becomes greater.

How this springing supports the patient is shown in Fig. 2. The compression varies exactly with the natural contour of the body in its supine position. Note there is no sagging where the body is heavier, so no fatigue. Yet no soreness or irritation can be caused through excess pressure at any point. The result is that the patient enjoys an exceptional degree of comfort on Intalok. There is a strong case for Intalok mattresses in hospitals.

CARNEGIE GELATIN BASE PENICILLIN PASTILLES

No added flavour

To prolong the effect of penicillin in the treatment of oral infections, it is important that the dissolution of the product in the mouth should be very slow. The introduction of flavoured material into the mouth produces a marked increase of salivation and a tendency for the patient to move and suck the substance continually. This considerably increases the rate of dissolution of the product.

No flavouring is included in Carnegie Gelatin Base Penicillin Pastilles, as the advantage of prolonging the life of the Pastilles far outweighs the doubtful objection to lack of flavour. The Pastilles contain only pure gelatin and sodium penicillin.

PACKAGING

To overcome the disadvantages of bulk packing in bottles, involving frequent exposure to atmospheres of varying humidities, Carnegie Gelatin Base Penicillin Pastilles are packed in individual heat-sealed compartments of laminated aluminium foil. Any number of Pastilles can be detached, leaving the remainder with their individual pockets intact. Long storage tests have been carried out at temperatures up to 30° Centigrade and relative humidities of up to 90%. The potency has been perfectly maintained under these conditions. The foil should not be torn until immediately before use.

The filter tip absorbs

throat irritants

Five protective layers go to make up the filter tip of every du Maurier cigarette. Three layers of white vegetable tissue with alternate layers of fine cellulose protect the membranes from the irritant action of pyridine bases and other non-volatile bodies. Although no shred of tobacco can pass the lips and no unfiltered smoke can impinge on the tongue, the du Maurier tip allows the full flavour and fragrance of finely selected tobacco to pass unimpaired
