SPECIAL ISSUE OF THE BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL, JANUARY 1st, 1870.

THE BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL for January 1st, 1870, will be issued to TEN THOUSAND of the Medical Profession in Great Britain and Ireland.

The weekly professional circulation of the JOURNAL now exceeds that of any other Medical Periodical published in the United Kingdom. Its advantages as an advertising medium are consequently very great.

Advertisements for this issue should be sent to the Office, 37, Great Queen Street, W.C., not later than December 28th.

The scale of charges (which will not be increased, notwithstanding the large issue of the JOURNAL) will be as follows:—

Seven lines and under . . . . .	£0 3 6
Each additional two lines . . . . .	0 0 9
A whole column . . . . .	1 15 0
A page . . . . .	5 0 0

Extract from the Government Newspaper Stamp return last issued, for years ending June 30th,

THE BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL . . . . .	1867. and 1868.	121,400	163,000
The Lancet . . . . .	90,575	—	99,250

Owing to the great increase in circulation, the number of stamps now issued to the BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL is at the rate of above 200,000 annually.

[The BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL is Registered for Transmission Abroad.]
