is the main problem ...

Brand's Essence is a first-class protein of animal origin. Being partly hydrolized, it is capable of easy ingestion, digestion and absorption. It is extremely palatable, and may be taken either as a jelly or as a liquid. It helps to support convalescence and assists in restoring a positive nitrogen balance.

The major indications for the administration of Brand's Essence are loss of appetite during fatigue, acute infections, and dysphagia or digestive disturbances due to organic or bacterial lesions of the mouth, oesophagus and alimentary tract, and after surgical procedures.

The addition of Brand's Essence to low residue and weightreducing diets is especially appreciated by the patient.

The definition of "Purity" is:-

"Complete freedom from mixture of any kind". This faithfully describes "Simple" Soap which is of natural colour, and guaranteed to contain no Anline Dyes, Perfumes, or Fillings such as Titanium—not even animal tat—as these, Dermatologists and scientists have established, are often the causes of bad skins, setting up or aggravating Dermatitis. In certain cases of sprain, restriction of extreme movements, but not complete immobilization is required. A useful method of achieving this by Elastoplast strapping is illustrated in the accompanying photographs. A roll of 3 inch Elastoplast is used, and the bandaging consists essentially of figure-of-eight turns around the thumb.

However, because a 3 inch width of bandage passing across the cleft between thumb and index finger would result in undue limitation of their movement, the bandage is split longitudinally for a distance of 2 to 3 inches at each alternate turn to produce a band about 1 inch wide across this cleft, while the other 2 inches of its width pass across the base of the thumb.

For the first turn, slit a 3 inch Elastoplast bandage off-centre for about 4-5 inches to give two tails — one 1 inch and the other 2 inches wide. Apply to the palmar aspect of hand, each side of thumb, so that the narrower tail is close to the clefts of the fingers (Fig. 1). At the next turn, the bandage is split as previously described (Fig. 2). The third turn of complete 3 inch width is passed round the wrist, under tension sufficient to obtain required support and dorsiflexion of the hand. Bandaging is continued, alternately slitting for thumb and passing round wrist, until about four complete figures-of-eight are applied.

Elastoplast is made by T. J. Smith & Nephew Ltd., 7 in Hull, England. Prescribe Elastoplast Bandages by name on Form E.C.10.

It therefore finds valuable application in the emergency treatment of malignant hypertension, encephalopathy, eclampsia and hypertensive states accompanying cerebral vascular disease. After tension has been controlled by Veriloid Intravenous Solution, oral treatment with Veriloid tablets can be instituted and continued indefinitely.

Veriloid Intravenous Solution contains 0.4 mg. of Veriloid brand alkaloids of Veratrum viride in each c.c. and is biologically assayed to ensure uniform hypotensive potency. It is a very potent agent, and should not be used before the instructions for use have been carefully studied.

CARE OF GERIATRIC PATIENTS

A Growing Problem for the General Practitioner

With the increasing number of old people amongst the population the General Practitioner is being faced more and more with the problem of supplying an adequate high-protein diet for his geriatric patients, for protein is the one type of food that older people frequently neglect. They have difficulty in chewing meat, and often hold such strong, if mistaken, notions on the indigestibility of cheese and milk that it is extremely difficult to get them to take enough protein. Yet protein they must have.

The Value of the Sanatogen Method

The use in such cases of a concentrated protein supplement, such as Sanatogen, greatly simplifies the practitioner's problem. Sanatogen contains 95% casein combined with 5% sodium glycerophosphate. By recommending Sanatogen to the geriatric patient you ensure that the diet contains at least 24 grammes a day of first-class protein of high biological value. This is a high proportion of that recommended by authoritative bodies as the recognised daily requirement. In addition, Sanatogen gives your elderly patients the advantage of the tonic action of its glycerophosphate content.

Easily Administered—Easily Absorbed

Sanatogen is bland, easily digested, readily absorbed by those with impaired digestive systems, and simple to administer. It may be mixed as a hot or cold drink, sprinkled on food or mixed in cooked dishes. Practitioners who wish to carry out their own clinical tests with Sanatogen will be given every help. Please write to the Medical Department, Genatosan Limited, Loughborough, Leicestershire, for further information and medical samples.

CIDAL

THE NEW TOILET SOAP THAT CONTAINS 2°/_o HEXACHLOROPHENE

CIDAL is a high-grade, triple-milled toilet soap with remarkable germicidal properties, that make it of particular interest to the medical profession. The 2 per cent of Hexachlorophene in CIDAL ensures that it purifies the skin more thoroughly than any other toilet soap.

Hexachlorophene (2:2'-dihydroxy-3:5:6:3':5':6'-hexachlorodiphenylmethane) is colourless, odourless, non-irritant and non-toxic. It is 125 times more efficient than carbolic acid at 37°C against Staphylococcus aureus, and possesses a high dilution coefficient.

The hexachlorophene in CIDAL purifies the skin by attacking the bacteria which settle deep within folds and pores, and forms an anti-bacteria barrier which gives protection until the next washing. That's why CIDAL is particularly useful to the medical profession as a protective measure against infection.

CIDAL Soap can be commended in all cases of skin ailments where soap and water form part of the therapy. It assists in the prevention of secondary infections of minor cuts and abrasions. It helps to reduce the incidence of boils, styes, carbuncles and other forms of folliculitis and cellulitis, and is found beneficial in treating impetigo and barber's rash.

CIDAL is also recommended for personal hygiene, since it destroys the bacteria which ferment perspiration and cause unpleasant body-odours.

Members of the medical profession are invited to write for experimental samples of CIDAL Soap to the Technical Sales Department (Antiseptic Division), J. BIBBY & SONS LIMITED, KING EDWARD STREET, LIVERPOOL 3

The facts about Glucose

Glucose, a term used to include a substance resulting from the partial hydrolysis of starch, is in practice a general description rather than a precise one. It is applied to medical preparations which contain additives that may not always be wanted and to commercial products of varying degrees of refinement. To identify Glucose in its purest form, and only in this form, the term Dextrose is used.

Dextrose, as found in the blood and tissues, is the sugar into which the body converts all carbohydrates. Requiring neither digestion nor chemical alteration, Dextrose is used by the body as a source of immediate energy.

The Dextrose (pure medicinal Glucose) produced by the Pharmaceutical Division of Corn Products Company Limited is prepared in two convenient forms:—

Dextrosol Powdered Glucose

This contains no additives of any kind. It can be taken in large quantities without causing nausea, and should be prescribed in all cases where a patient needs a source of heat and energy with the least demand on the digestion Packed in 1 lb. & 1/2 lb. cartons.

Dextrosol Karo Glucose Syrup

for Infants and Children

An appetising blend of pure Glucose and selected carbohydrates, carefully balanced to provide the ideal sugar addition to the milk diet of artificially-fed infants. Of special value in cases of nutritional disorder. Spread on rusks, bread, etc., it offers an excellent supplementary source of energy for growing children. Packed in 1 lb. tins. A Karo Baby Book is available for the guidance of mothers.

Professional samples of both Dextrosol products will be gladly provided. For further information, doctors are invited to write to the Dextrosol Information Bureau, Wellington House, 125/130 Strand, London, W.C.2.

It has been noted that the patient on an Intalok mattress enjoys a greater degree of peaceful rest and relaxation

The reason is clearly shown in this illustration.

The background photograph shows a top-view of a section of the mattress. It consists of a mass of fine gauge springs loosely interlinked throughout the whole length and breadth. Surface coils take the first pressure, and as weight increases, more and more springs share the load.

The diagram shows how the mattress reacts when the patient is placed upon it. The springs conform exactly to the shape of the body. Where pressure is great there is deep compression—yet, as the springs are interlinked, there is no excessive resistance—no flattening of fleshy parts, to cause soreness or fatigue. The patient is comfortably and naturally supported.

Here are other good reasons why hospital authorities are in favour of Intalok mattresses:

- 1 The mattresses can be stoved; in fact they gain by stoving.
- 2 All metal parts are rustless, can be sterilized repeatedly.
- 3 Intalok mattresses have no tufts or piping to collect dust and germs.
- 4 The ticking is easily removable for laundering.
- 5 Existing hair mattresses can be converted to Intalok—the good hair being retained. This cuts costs.
- 6 Every Intalok springing unit is guaranteed for 10 years. Write today for illustrated leaflet and prices.

THROMBIN (MAW)

in Surgery

ITS USES AND TECHNIQUE

The characteristic property of THROMBIN is that when mixed with plasma it produces a true physiological clot. This reaction can take place within a few seconds, needs no other substances, and works well in citrated plasma—whether fresh or reconstituted. As such, THROMBIN has an increasingly large part to play in surgery.

SKIN GRAFTING AND PLASTIC SURGERY

Rapid Adhesion. THROMBIN combines with plasma to form a 'physiological glue', which allows a graft to be fixed securely into position. The following technique has been used: the graft was wetted with THROMBIN and the bed of the wound with plasma; the two surfaces were then placed together. It was found that a few minutes later the graft was so firmly adherent that it wrinkled and flattened when the underlying muscles moved—and that no splints, sutures or retentive dressings were necessary.

This technique can be successfully used under the stress of an emergency, when special skingrafting skill is not always available.

Quicker Vascularisation. THROMBIN has been found to accelerate vascularisation in skin grafting—thus giving better results in the survival of the grafts. This seems due to the fact that the fibrin threads act as 'scaffolding' for the growth of the capillaries.

HAEMOSTASIS

THROMBIN will often control the oozing type of haemorrhage. The surface should first be swabbed clean blood, then syringed with a solution of concentrated THROMBIN.

The use of absorbable haemostatic dressings (such as fibrin foam, gelatin foam and alginates) allows Thrombin to be applied by soaking the dressing in a solution of the enzyme. These dressings, though haemostatic on their own, are more efficient when used with THROMBIN; and—since effective haemostasis depends on speed—this is now the common practice.

THE FILLING OF "DEAD SPACES"

THROMBIN has been successfully used in the filling of 'dead spaces', for it has been found that physiological clots rapidly become organised tissue. The space is filled with plasma in which penicillin is dissolved, and then clotted with a few drops of THROMBIN solution. This technique has been used in tonsillectomy and mastoidectomy, and there are many more surgical conditions which have similar requirements.

NOTE: Thromboplastin — whether applied or produced from the patient's own tissues—is ineffective in the presence of citrated plasma.

MORE FACTS ABOUT THROMBIN

GTABILITY: Thrombin keeps indefinitely in the dry state — and therefore may be kept in stock against an emergency. In solution it is less stable and should be used on the day of preparation.

STERILITY: THROMBIN is sterilised by filtration, and needs no re-sterilisation.

ADSORPTION: THROMBIN is easily adsorbed by solids and therefore must not be applied by using a brush or cotton wool swabs. It should be sprayed or dropped on to the surface where it is wanted.

APPLICATION: THROMBIN is supplied in a dry ampoule, together with an ampoule of diluent. Solution is very rapid and the liquid is immediately available.

QUANTITY: THROMBIN solution generally reacts with several times its own volume of plasma, so that normally there is an excess of fibrin. No exact measurement is possible or necessary, since proportions vary with the nature of the operation and the technique of the surgeon.

We shall be glad to supply any further information. Inquiries about the use or application of THROMBIN should be addressed to:

New Peptic Ulcer Treatment Comparable to Drip Therapy

Whole milk and alkaline constituents combine to produceincreased buffering action

NULACIN TABLETS have been evolved to meet a very real need in the treatment of gastric and duodenal ulcers.

All the literature on the treatment of peptic ulcers emphasizes the proven value of diminishing the acidity of the gastric juice. Many large and otherwise intractable ulcers can be healed by a continuous, intragastric drip of milk or alkali.

Drip therapy is, however, not always available, nor is it practicable to use it in many instances. Nulacin offers a satisfactory alternative.

Continuous Neutralization

A NULACIN TABLET allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth has been shown clinically to provide a continuous neutralization comparable with that of drip therapy.

NULACIN TABLETS contain nutrient in a most acceptable form to the peptic ulcer patient. Nulacin tablets obviate the necessity of taking frequent feeds, and so lessen the tendency to obesity which must inevitably occur in those who are following a dietary regime of food at frequent intervals.

During ulcer activity the suggested dosage is 3 tablets to be sucked each hour, and for follow-up treatment 2 tablets should be sucked between meals, beginning half an hour after a meal.

The tablet is of a suitable size, and of a consistency and hardness, so that, when it is sucked, the result is a constant and prolonged neutralization of the gastric juice.

NULACIN TABLETS are extremely palatable and during extensive clinical tests their taste has proved to be particularly acceptable to patients.

The patient should be instructed to place the tablet between the gum of the upper jaw and the cheek. Here it will be comfortable, and slowly dissolve. The efficacy of the tablet is greatly diminished if it is chewed and swallowed.

NULACIN TABLETS are not advertised to the public. There is no B.P. equivalent to this tablet.
