

Introducing the B.O.C BOYLE MARK II Closed Circuit Absorber

GREATER FLEXIBILITY · IMPROVED VAPORIZATION

The Boyle Mark II Circle Absorber has been designed to meet the needs of those anaesthetists who prefer the conventional rebreathing bag for hand compression. Besides permitting greater flexibility of control, this absorber also tends to increase the vapour concentration—because the basal flow is introduced below the surface of the ether, so that the fresh gases actually bubble through the liquid. Careful attention to design has ensured highly efficient absorption and low restriction.

Though primarily designed for use with the Boyle range of apparatus and fitted as standard to Model 'H,' the Mark II Absorber can be readily attached to almost any apparatus possessing flowmeters suitable for measuring the low rates of flow employed in closed circuit anaesthesia. Full details will gladly be supplied on request.

Veriloid Intravenous Solution is an important new emergency drug. By its use, immediate control of arterial tension is possible in those conditions in which a continued hypertensive state could readily lead to disaster. It therefore finds valuable application in the emergency treatment of malignant hypertension, encephalopathy, eclampsia and hypertensive states accompanying cerebral vascular disease. After tension has been controlled by Veriloid Intravenous Solution, oral treatment with Veriloid tablets can be instituted and continued indefinitely.

Veriloid Intravenous Solution contains 0.4 mg. of Veriloid brand alkaloids of Veratrum viride in each c.c. and is biologically assayed to ensure uniform hypotensive potency. It is a very potent agent, and should not be used before the instructions for use have been carefully studied.

Evans introduce into this country for the first time, a synthetic anticoagulant which has marked advantages over the coumarin derivatives at present in use.

* * *

PRELIMINARY clinical trials carried out in this country confirm the results with phenylindanedione reported from France, Canada and America.

DINDEVAN (phenylindanedione) is a synthetic anticoagulant which, like the coumarin derivatives, effectively lowers the prothrombin content of the blood when given orally. It thus prolongs the coagulation time of the blood.

DINDEVAN possesses advantages over dicoumarol and other coumarin derivatives in that it is excreted and inactivated sufficiently rapidly to reduce the danger of cumulative effects yet not so rapidly as to cause difficulty in maintaining a therapeutic prothrombin level.

DINDEVAN produces its therapeutic effect in 24-36 hours after the initial dose. 36 hours after stopping the drug there is a marked fall of the prothrombin time to near normal, even where the blood prothrombin has been maintained at a therapeutic level for some weeks.

PRESENTATION: Scored tablets each containing 50 mgm. of phenylindanedione. Containers of 25 and 100 tablets.

DESIGNED FOR FEWER SIDE-EFFECTS

The soldier in his sentry-box is protected from the effects of wind and weather. Patients treated with 'Histantin', the antihistamine derived from piperazine, are similarly shielded from unwelcome side-effects. Usually, such patients experience no untoward reactions—while those who do seldom encounter more than a mild drowsiness.

A single daily oral dose of one to two 'Histantin' products (i.e. 50 to 100 mgm.) gives continuous relief of symptoms in most cases of allergy. 'Histantin' is available in bottles of 25, 100 and 500.

Diagram symbolizing competition for "shock-tissue" receptor sites by histamine (H) and an antihistaminic (AH).

Modus operandi...

The clinical use of antihistaminics such as mepyramine maleate and promethazine hydrochloride for the symptomatic relief of allergic and anaphylactic conditions is based on the theory of histamine-release.

According to this concept, allergy is the result of a reaction between the sensitizing substance, the allergen or antigen, and specific antibodies produced by the body. Once the hypersensitive individual has become sensitized, further exposure to the offending substance results in excess release of histamine or a histamine-like compound, which in turn provokes the allergic manifestation. The nature of this response in a particular individual depends on the part or parts of the body acting as "shock-tissues".

The antihistaminics are not believed to prevent the antigen-antibody reaction in the "shock-tissue", nor to destroy the histamine thereby released, but it is thought that in some unknown manner, perhaps by competing for and occupying or blocking the receptor-sites in the "shock-tissues", they prevent tissue damage by histamine.

For the 'bilious' or 'liverish' patient

DEHYDROCHOLIN B.D.H. is the most active and least toxic of the bile acids. Since it is highly effective in promoting the secretion of bile and therefore aids the digestion and absorption of foodstuffs, particularly fats, it is indicated particularly for the treatment of 'bilious' or 'liverish' conditions.

Dehydrocholin B.D.H. is also useful in establishing normal bowel action in patients with a deficiency of bile and in patients needing mild peristaltic stimulation. Dosage of three tablets three times a day is recommended.

The facts about Glucose

Glucose, a term used to include a substance resulting from the partial hydrolysis of starch, is in practice a general description rather than a precise one. It is applied to medical preparations which contain additives that may not always be wanted and to commercial products of varying degrees of refinement. To identify Glucose in its purest form, and only in this form, the term Dextrose is used.

Dextrose, as found in the blood and tissues, is the sugar into which the body converts all carbohydrates. Requiring neither digestion nor chemical alteration, Dextrose is used by the body as a source of immediate energy.

The Dextrose (pure medicinal Glucose) produced by the Pharmaceutical Division of Corn Products Company Limited is prepared in two convenient forms:—

Dextrosol Powdered Glucose

This contains no additives of any kind. It can be taken in large quantities without causing nausea, and should be prescribed in all cases where a patient needs a source of heat and energy with the least demand on the digestion. Packed in 1 lb. & ½ lb. cartons.

Dextrosol Karo Glucose Syrup

for Infants and Children

An appetising blend of pure Glucose and selected carbohydrates, carefully balanced to provide the ideal sugar addition to the milk diet of artificially-fed infants. Of special value in cases of nutritional disorder. Spread on rusks, bread, etc., it offers an excellent supplementary source of energy for growing children. Packed in 1 lb. tins. A Karo Baby Book is available for the guidance of mothers.

Professional samples of both Dextrosol products will be gladly provided. For further information, doctors are invited to write to the Dextrosol Information Bureau, Wellington House, 125/130 Strand, London, W.C.2.

SIMPLE SOAP

The Lily—the symbol of Purity

The definition of "Purity" is:—

"Complete freedom from mixture of any kind". This faithfully describes "Simple" Soap which is of natural colour, and guaranteed to contain no Aniline Dyes, Perfumes, or Fillings such as Titanium—not even animal fat—as these, Dermatologists and scientists have established, are often the causes of bad skins, setting up or aggravating Dermatitis. Many Dermatologists and doctors are recommending "Simple" Soap to patients whose skins are allergic to ordinary soaps, and as a non-medicated cleansing agent for troublesome skin conditions.

"Simple" Soap makes no claims to medication—its purity is its only claim to distinction.

Made by the makers of the World famous Albion Milk & Sulphur Toilet Soap.
