Kaylene-ol in Upper Respiratory Infections

The common cold, sinusitis, tonsillitis, and other inflammatory conditions of the nose and throat lead inevitably to the swallowing of infected exudates.

The digestive tract, deranged by toxins, bacteria and fever, is ill-prepared to receive them.

The routine use of Kaylene-ol on these occasions does much to normalise the gastric and intestinal functions, and to nullify the harmful effects of noxious discharges.

DOSAGE: 1 to 4 drachms of KAYLENE-OL night and morning, or preferably 20 minutes before each meal.

The manufacturers of DETTOL submit
 the following facts to your attention

Wide mention in medical literature has made Dettol a textbook antiseptic. Wide clinical use has attested the efficiency of Dettol in literally millions of cases which range from minor accident to major operation.

Efficiency Dettol is an efficient antiseptic which, moreover, retains a high degree of efficiency in the presence of organic matter.

Toleration Dettol is well tolerated on the skin and tissues in high concentrations. Moreover, its non-toxicity offers a high degree of safety to doctor, nurse and patient.

Strength The fact that Dettol is well tolerated by the tissues permits dilutions to be recommended for clinical purposes which provide a margin of safety even when a reasonable amount of organic material is present.

Activity Dettol is active against both

Gram-positive and Gram-negative micro-organisms. Under standard conditions of test a dilution of 1 in 200 kills Staph. aureus in 10 minutes; a one in 500 dilution kills Strept. pyogenes in 10 minutes.

Dettol is not incompatible with soap, traces of which need not be removed before application. Compatibility

Dettol is non-poisonous, safe, pleasant and economical in use. It has an agreeable smell. Pleasantness

Bacteriological data and the literature of Dettol are available on request. Dettol is packed in 2 and 5 gallon, Purchase-Tax-free Dispensing containers. Data

In a wide range of common skin disorders

'Pragmatar'

—the outstanding tar-sulphur-salicylic-acid ointment— is effective in many common skin disorders. The cetyl-alcohol-coal-tar distillate retains the therapeutic activity of crude coal-tar but is less likely to irritate and does not stain.

The effectiveness of all the active components is enhanced by the special oil-in-water emulsion base.

'Pragmatar' is convenient to use on both glabrous and hairy surfaces, and is therefore particularly useful in the general care and hygiene of the seborrhoeic scalp.

THERE'S STRENGTH IN COMBINED ACTION

The answer to many a problem lies in combined action. Witness the higher blood levels and the greater clinical efficacy that have been reported from the oral administration of penicillin and the sulphonamides simultaneously in cases when the oral administration of the antibiotic or chemotherapeutic agent alone has been ineffective. A convenient means of applying this combined antibacterial therapy is Sulpenin. Containing penicillin, sulphadiazine and sulphamerazine in balanced dosage, it provides a valuable treatment for many infections due to susceptible micro-organisms. By utilising the synergistic action between penicillin and the sulphonamides the antibacterial range is increased, the likelihood of kidney damage is lessened and the tendency for the bacteria to develop mutant strains resistant to one or other of the component drugs is reduced.

The virtues of 'sour oranges and lemons' in curing 'the scurvy' were known to seafarers in the days of Elizabeth Tudor, and later on Captain Cook found that fresh vegetables served the same purpose.

The difference today is that we know how much ascorbic acid we get in these foods and we can regulate our intake according to the needs of health and disease.

When Veratrum is Indicated and Tolerance is Low

...simplifies the treatment of HYPERTENSION

When side-effects prevent [satisfactory adjustment of dosage of Veriloid given alone, Veriloid-VP usually makes possible continuation of therapy. This combination in one tablet of Veriloid, 2 mg., with phenobarbitone, B.P., 15 mg., is of value in all forms of hypertension. Arterial pressure is reduced by the specific hypotensive effect of the Veratrum alkaloids; phenobarbitone given concurrently effectively raises the limit of tolerance to Veriloid, and reduces emotional tension. There is marked relief of subjective symptoms.

The initial dose of Veriloid-VP (subsequently adjusted according to clinical response) is one to one and one-half tablets four times daily, after meals and at bed-time.

Veriloid-VP is available in bottles of 100 and 500 tablets.

Detailed information sent on request.

Reference: Lancet, 261: 1002 (Dec.) 1951.

NOTE

Veriloid, plain, continues to be available in scored tablets of 1 mg. and 2 mg. A distinct, biologically assayed fraction of Veratrum viride, Veriloid has given outstanding results in hypertension of all degrees. It produces a significant reduction in arterial pressure without compromise of the postural reflexes necessary for normal living.

for the new antirheumatic

BUTAZOLIDIN

(3, 5-dioxo-1, 2-diphenyl-4-n-butyl-pyrazolidine)

As a result of accumulated evidence during extensive use of Butazolidin since its introduction, the following revised dosage is recommended.

TABLETS.—It is suggested that treatment should commence with one tablet three times daily, taken immediately before or after food. If, however, a satisfactory therapeutic response is not obtained after two or three days the intake may be increased to a maximum of 1000 mg. daily. Once improvement becomes apparent a gradual downward adjustment should be made to the minimal level required for maintenance purposes. This is usually 400 mg. daily, but some patients are adequately maintained on a dosage as low as 200 mg. daily or every second day.

AMPOULES.—5 c.c. (one ampoule) every two or three days. Butazolidin should be injected intramuscularly, the injection being made deeply and very slowly. As with the tablets, it is necessary to adjust the maintenance dose to suit each individual case.

In children and debilitated adults the dosage should be proportionately reduced.

Tablets: 200 mg. containers of 20, 50, 100 and 500.

Ampoules: 1000 mg. in 5 c.c., boxes of 5 and 50.

In the Service...

Naturally Induced

The Science of Therapeutics recognizes that all reparative processes require maximal rest—and that naturally induced sleep is its ideal form.

Restorative Sleep

For promoting natural sleep, a hot, readily digestible food beverage is your first choice, especially when insomnia results from pain or restlessness, or from either psychical or dyspeptic syndromes. A nutritious food drink is equally valuable in encouraging undisturbed rest in cardiac distress, lobar pneumonia and other states in which insomnia is a common feature—but where narcotics are contra-indicated. 'Ovaltine' is an invaluable adjunct in these cases because it counteracts sleeplessness while providing in soluble, palatable and easily digestible form important nutritional principles essential for tissue repair.

In the Service of Rehabilitation

'Ovaltine' encourages sedation by day, restorative sleep by night; concurrently it supplies promptly assimilable nutriment, including vitamins, whose easy digestion leaves your patients' tranquillity undisturbed throughout. In diseases, such as myocardial insufficiency and pneumonias, which present the two-fold problem of irritability and difficult feeding, you may confidently prescribe 'Ovaltine'.

Vitamin Standardization per oz.—Vitamin B₁, 0.3 mg.; Vitamin D, 350 i.u.; Niacin, 2 mg.

Infantile Scurvy and Sub-Scurvy

THE INFLUENCE OF VITAMIN C DEFICIENCY

In the case of a baby which is pale and fretful; not feeding or thriving well; showing low resistance to infection and slow healing in the event of wounds, it is often advisable to examine the possibility of a lack of Vitamin C as the basic cause.

If the child is BREAST FED it is probable that the mother is not eating a sufficiency of fresh fruit and vegetables or is in poor health with anorexia, anaemia and fatigue. She may indeed be suffering from sub-scurvy herself, yet wishes to continue breast feeding.

If the child is BOTTLE FED, the mother may have omitted to give some fresh fruit juice, possibly because the baby may be sick on such additions. It is well to remember also that cow's milk has less than one third of the Vitamin C content of human milk and that this is further reduced by pasteurisation.

In order to remedy Vitamin C deficiency and so restore the devitalised health which may otherwise end in symptoms of scurvy with its painful muscular haemorrhages and rapid heart failure, the use of Delrosa Rose Hip Syrup is confidently recommended. Delrosa is the richest natural source of Vitamin C, is very palatable and quickly absorbed. It provides all the Vitamin C necessary for positive health, the development of new tissue (such as red blood cells, new bone and teeth cells) and for cementing the walls of blood vessels and other tissues. Because of its high Vitamin C content (57 mgms. per fluid oz.), Delrosa plays a part in helping to increase resistance to bacterial infections.

New peptic ulcer treatment comparable to drip therapy

Whole milk and alkaline constituents combine to produce increased buffering action

NULACIN TABLETS have been evolved to meet a very real need in the treatment of gastric and duodenal ulcers.

All the literature on the treatment of peptic ulcers emphasizes the proven value of diminishing the acidity of the gastric juice. Many large and otherwise intractable ulcers can be healed by a continuous, intra-gastric drip of milk or alkali.

Drip therapy, is, however, not always available, nor is it practicable to use it in many instances. Nulacin offers a satisfactory alternative.

CONTINUOUS NEUTRALIZATION

NULACIN TABLETS, allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, have been shown clinically to provide a continuous neutralization comparable with that of drip therapy. (B.M.J., 1952, 2, 180.)

NULACIN TABLETS contain nutrient in a most acceptable form to the peptic ulcer patient. Nulacin tablets obviate the necessity of taking frequent feeds, and so lessen the tendency to obesity which must occur in those who are following a dietary regime of food at frequent intervals.

During ulcer activity the suggested dosage is 3 tablets to be sucked each hour, and for follow-up treatment 2 tablets should be sucked between meals, beginning half an hour after a meal.

The tablet is of a suitable size, and of a consistency and hardness so that, when it is sucked, the result is a constant and prolonged neutralization of the gastric juice.

NULACIN TABLETS are extremely palatable and during extensive clinical tests their taste has proved to be particularly acceptable to patients.

The patient should be instructed to place the tablet between the gum of the upper jaw and the cheek. Here it will be comfortable, and slowly dissolve. The efficacy of the tablet is greatly diminished if it is chewed and swallowed.

NULACIN TABLETS are not advertised to the public. There is no B.P. equivalent to this tablet.

NULACIN TABLETS are available in dispensing units of 25, free of purchase tax.

50 YEARS of MEDICINE

15/- post free.

Attractively bound in stiff cloth cover and with full complement of illustrations this book will provide the General Practitioner and Specialist alike with a worthwhile record of medicine over the last fifty years.

Either as a present or as an addition to your own library, "50 Years of Medicine" will prove a valuable acquisition.

"... when the story came to be told by the able contributors to this volume the width and the depth of the advance came as a surprise to not a few, especially, perhaps, to those whose work had become highly specialized. The progress recorded in this book may make medical men and women legitimately proud of the profession to which they belong, and thankful that it is possible to do so much more now than it was fifty years ago to relieve pain and suffering. . . ."

APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state name, address, age, nationality, qualifications, and enclose 3 copies (unless otherwise specified) of recent ★ testimonials with short statement of experience and appointments held.

Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given.

Canvassing in any form will disqualify.

★ SERVICE MEMBERS may have difficulty in supplying recent testimonials, but this should not deter them from applying.

Deferment of recruitment for "R" practitioners (i.e., practitioners liable for call-up under the National Service Acts) is granted at the discretion of the Central Medical Recruitment Committee and (in Scotland) the Scottish Central Medical Recruitment Committee. The Committees normally allow an "R" practitioner to hold a First House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £350 per annum) provided that it commences within three months of the end of his deferment by the Ministry of Labour as a whole-time medical student; and a Second House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £400 per annum) provided that it is secured before the end of his First House Officer post and commences within one month thereafter.

An "R" practitioner requires the special written permission of the C.M.R.C. or (in Scotland) the Scottish C.M.R.C. to proceed to a Third House Officer post (£450 per annum).

Under present arrangements in England and Wales the C.M.R.C. normally allows an "R" practitioner to proceed directly from a Second House Officer post to a Senior House Officer post (£670 per annum) for one year, but this practice will be discontinued on January 1, 1953. An "R" practitioner who completes six months in a Second House Officer post on or after January 1, 1953, will require the special written permission of the C.M.R.C. or Scottish C.M.R.C. to proceed to any further post.
