JAEGER

Jaeger body-belts are made of pure wool, for these reasons. Wool keeps its wearer cool in summer, warm in winter. Wool disposes quickly of perspiration, retaining body warmth. Wool, being porous, allows both the escape of exhalations from the skin, and the access of pure air to the skin. Jaeger body-belts sit well, stay in position, and give support without pressure. They are available in all sizes.

Soothing the cough that causes insomnia

IN TRACHEITIS and bronchitis the sleeplessness caused by a persistent, unproductive cough can be very exhausting. Tusana Cocillana Cough Linctus is very valuable in such cases. It provides a blend of expectorants to loosen the tenacious mucus in the upper air passages and the central sedative, codeine, to depress the cough reflex.

By breaking the vicious circle of coughing and irritation, Tusana allows the patient to sleep and gather strength for recovery. The tendency of codeine to cause constipation is offset by the inclusion of a little extract of senna in the formula.

Supplied in bottles of 4 fl. oz. - 2/10½d.
and 20 fl. oz. - 10/7½d.

"F99" in the treatment of INFANTILE ECZEMA

Photograph on left taken March 17, 1948, before treatment with F "99". Diagnosis: Very severe Infantile Eczema with crusting and weeping encrustation. Photograph on right taken June 5, 1948, after 11 weeks' treatment with F "99" liquid and ointment.

F "99"—available in capsule, liquid and ointment forms—is a concentrate of the active isomers of linoleic and linolenic acids, of the highest achievable purity and standardized biological activity.

It is indicated in skin disorders due to essential fatty acid deficiency of dietetic or "absorption" origin, i.e., chronic furunculosis, eczemas of various types including infantile eczema and in some cases of acne. It is also excellent in the healing of all wounds free from serious infection—particularly leg ulcers. Sufficient success has also been reported to warrant its use—as an unsaturated substance—in the treatment of psoriasis.

F "99" has no N.F. equivalent, is not advertised to the public and may be prescribed on E.C.10. The average net weekly cost is 3/6.

IMMOBILIZATION BY GYPSONA AFTER SKIN GRAFTING OPERATION

These illustrations and the brief details below are of an actual case where, after a skin grafting operation, a Gypsona plaster of Paris cast was used to immobilize the patient.

In such a case Gypsona is particularly convenient. The bandages are ready for immediate use and are quick setting. Being evenly impregnated with a uniform content of plaster of Paris, they can be quickly formed into a strong but light cast — with a minimum of disturbance to the patient in the post-operative condition.

CASE HISTORY: Boy received a burn covering 16% of body surface. Plasma transfusion started and the burn dressed with penicillin cream.

There was almost complete skin destruction, and a fortnight later early granulations were visible through separating slough. Under general anaesthetic, these were stripped off leaving a clean raw area. This was covered with split skin grafts which were fixed with crepe pressure dressings. The child was immobilized in a Gypsona cast.

A week later, the cast was removed. 100% take of grafts. Tulle gras dressings applied. Three weeks later the boy was discharged home, walking satisfactorily.

OTHER SMITH & NEPHEW PRODUCTS USED IN THIS TECHNIQUE

JELONET (Tulle gras) is an open mesh gauze dressing impregnated with medicated soft paraffin containing 1.225% Balsam of Peru. Its non-adherent properties prevent dressing trauma, making it particularly suitable for wound areas encountered in skin grafting operations.

ELASTOCREPE is Elastoplast cloth without the adhesive spread. It therefore maintains uniform tension when stretched for long periods, keeping the pressure dressing firm throughout the immobilization.

The Aged...

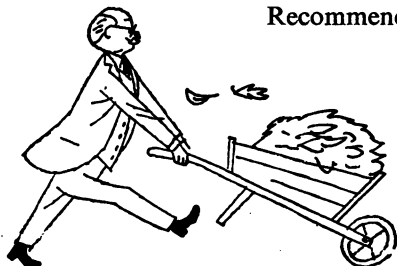

Many aged people, though retaining their interests in life, lack the initiative and physical strength to translate inclination into action. They are notoriously exacting and difficult.

The administration of a reliable and palatable tonic often helps to add 'life to years'.

'Neuro Phosphates' might well have been specifically designed for the aged, its outstanding palatability makes it acceptable to the most exacting patient.

Recommended dosage: Two teaspoonfuls, with water, t.i.d. before meals.

Because of its wide range of antibacterial action, and its low toxicity, 'Sulphamezathine' is considered by many authorities to be the best sulphonamide for routine hospital use. RESPIRATORY TRACT INFECTIONS

The value of Terramycin in the general field of infective medicine is due to its very wide antibacterial range, its versatility and ease of administration, the rapidity of its action, and its remarkably low toxicity.

In respiratory tract infections the particular value of Terramycin lies in its efficacy against the variety of ætiological agents involved. Therapeutically, effective amounts of Terramycin can be demonstrated in the pleural fluid after oral administration.^{1, 2, 3.}

INDICATIONS IN RESPIRATORY TRACT INFECTIONS

1. Bronchitis.
2. Bronchiectasis.
3. Pertussis.
4. Bacterial Pneumonia.
5. Atypical Pneumonia.
6. Q Fever.
7. Lung Abscesses
8. Other Respiratory Tract Infections due to Terramycin-sensitive organisms.

Terramycin can now be used for all suitable conditions in Hospitals in Great Britain, and the forms at present available include Sugar-Coated Tablets, Elixir, Oral Drops and Intravenous

New peptic ulcer treatment comparable to drip therapy

Whole milk and alkaline constituents combine to produce increased buffering action

NULACIN TABLETS have been evolved to meet a very real need in the treatment of gastric and duodenal ulcers.

All the literature on the treatment of peptic ulcers emphasizes the proven value of diminishing the acidity of the gastric juice. Many large and otherwise intractable ulcers can be healed by a continuous, intra-gastric drip of milk or alkali.

Drip therapy, is, however, not always available, nor is it practicable to use it in many instances. Nulacin offers a satisfactory alternative.

CONTINUOUS NEUTRALIZATION

NULACIN TABLETS, allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, have been shown clinically to provide a continuous neutralization comparable with that of drip therapy. (B.M.J., 1952, 2, 180.)

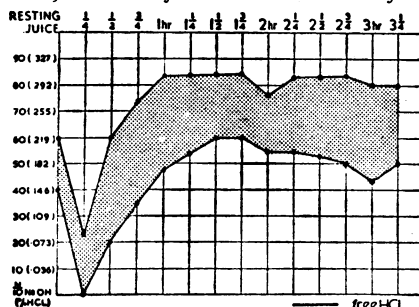

NULACIN TABLETS contain nutrient in a most acceptable form to the peptic ulcer patient. Nulacin tablets obviate the necessity of taking frequent feeds, and so lessen the tendency to obesity which must occur in those who are following a dietary regime of food at frequent intervals.

During ulcer activity the suggested dosage is 3 tablets to be sucked each hour, and for follow-up treatment 2 tablets should be sucked between meals, beginning half an hour after a meal.

The tablet is of a suitable size, and of a consistency and hardness so that, when it is sucked, the result is a constant and prolonged neutralization of the gastric juice.

NULACIN TABLETS are extremely palatable and during extensive clinical tests their taste has proved to be particularly acceptable to patients.

The patient should be instructed to place the tablet between the gum of the upper jaw and the cheek. Here it will be comfortable, and slowly dissolve. The efficacy of

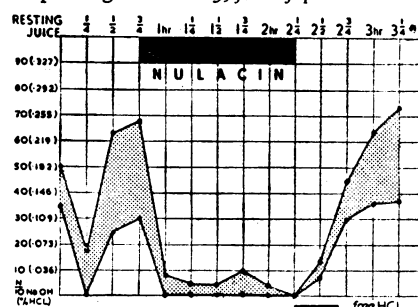

Superimposed gruel

six patients with duodenal ulcer

the tablet is greatly diminished if it is chewed and swallowed.

NULACIN TABLETS are not advertised to the public. There is no B.P. equivalent to this tablet.

NULACIN TABLETS are available in dispensing units of 25, free of purchase tax.

A new approach to Vaso-Dilatation

New powerful penetrative agent ensures subcutaneous penetration of histamine

It has long been recognised that histamine, in dilating the capillaries, acts as a pain-reliever. In 'Algipan' the difficulty hitherto experienced in applying the drug to the subcutaneous layers without injection has now been overcome. The potent penetrative agent methyl nicotinate enables surface applications of histamine to reach the deeper tissues, where it promotes an increased flow of blood and relieves pain. A comforting rubefacient action is exerted by the glycol salicylate and capsin.

ALLEN & HANBURY'S LIMITED

FACTORS AFFECTING RESULTS

MR. J. C. HANBURY ON INSULIN SUPPLIES

The sixtieth ordinary general meeting of Allen & Hanburys Limited was held on December 15 in London, Mr. J. C. Hanbury, the vice-chairman, presiding.

In the course of his speech the Vice-Chairman said:

The balance sheet of the Parent Company shows that the Issued Share Capital has been increased from £595,100 to £800,600. In order to enable two new Directors to obtain their qualification holding, 2,000 Ordinary Shares were issued at a premium of 30/- each, and at the end of May we made an issue of 203,500 shares at a premium of 20/-, all the shares being allotted to existing shareholders. These issues gave rise to the Share Premium Account, which stands at £206,500.

In our letter to shareholders relating to the issue, we said that the net profit for the year under review would not be materially different from that of 1951. The net profit of the Parent Company for the year, after tax, was £104,821, against £95,016 for the previous year. The profit, before tax, was £205,821 against £269,634. Taxation on the 1951 profits was abnormally high.

One important reason for the fall in profits before tax was the necessity to write down certain stocks by £26,704. This was mainly in respect of stocks of paper and board, which, as many of you know, took a very sudden and unexpected downward turn.

The net profit, before tax, was lower than we had reason to expect when we were considering the results of the first nine months' trading at the time of the Ordinary Share issue. Sales at nine months were a record, but during the last three months of the year export sales suffered a setback owing to severe import restrictions in several important markets.

RIISING COSTS

During the year costs continued to rise, owing to wage increases, increases in costs of fuel and transport, and other factors entirely beyond our control. As competition intensified and the sellers' market disappeared, it became impossible fully to recover these increased costs by higher prices for our products.

The net profit of £104,821, plus other profits appearing in the Profit and Loss Appropriation Account, have enabled your Directors to recommend the payment of a final dividend of 2/- per share, making the total distribution 3/6 per share as last year, and to recommend a transfer of £125,000 to General Reserve, leaving the carry forward £10,404 higher at £39,574. The necessity for a further transfer to General Reserve is clearly shown by the large increase in stock values and the increase in Subsidiary Companies' Current Accounts.

From time to time we have made it clear that the character of this business has changed materially in the past few years. It has been our policy to keep abreast of current advances in medicine and pharmaceuticals. Many of the new products, which we have marketed in recent years, have involved expensive ingredients and costly methods of production, and this, together with the necessity for maintaining adequate stocks of these newer raw materials and of finished products in various parts of the world, has led to considerable increase in the total value of the stocks held.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

If our business is to grow and to maintain the high position it holds in the pharmaceutical field, it is necessary for us to continue to spend large sums on fundamental research and on the development of new products. This year Directors have done over a number of years with beneficial results, and I can say that to-day your Company is in a stronger position, both from the point of view of expert personnel and research equipment, than ever before. We intend to improve the position we have achieved, and it will be our policy in the future to introduce to the medical profession new therapeutic agents and new methods of treatment designed to advance still further the progress of medical science in this country.

Our subsidiaries have all increased their sales, but their total profit showed little change. This expansion in their activities is expensive, but we consider that it is desirable for the future development of the business.

SUPPLY OF INSULIN

Many of our shareholders will doubtless have read reports in the daily and technical press of the conclusions reached by the Monopolies and Restrictive Practices Commission in their report on the supply of insulin. This Company is one of the four British companies concerned in the manufacture and sale of insulin, and it was a source of great satisfaction to the Directors and staff that the Monopolies Commission should have presented a report to Parliament, which gave such warm approval to the manner in which insulin was produced and sold in this country. We had always felt that close collaboration between manufacturers in respect of research activities and production methods, combined with the usual salutary effects of intense competition on the selling side, represented a somewhat unique "ideal come true," and as a distinguished organ of the press stated by way of comment, it provided a good example which other sections of British industry might well consider following. The concluding words of the Commission's report stated—"The arrangements now made by the British insulin manufacturers individually and collectively for the supply of insulin operate and may be expected to operate in the public interest, and we do not recommend that any of them should be discontinued."

Although the sellers' market has now disappeared, and we have to fight increasingly hard to maintain and increase our turnover, I am pleased to be able to tell you that, since the end of the financial year under review, both our home and export sales have been maintained as compared with the corresponding period last year. Your Directors believe that the Company can continue to sustain its position through the high quality of the goods that we supply and through the high standing that your Company enjoys in the medical and pharmaceutical professions.

The report was adopted.

REDUCING THE PRESSURE...

THE SUPERIORITY of papaverine nitrite over the generally used hydrochloride is becoming more and more recognized. The lower toxicity of the nitrite is of obvious importance in such long-term treatment as hypertensive syndromes usually demand.

presents a positive approach to the medical management of gastro-duodenal ulceration in providing dihydroxy aluminium aminoacetate.

The reaction of this new buffering agent under conditions of gastric hyperacidity is threefold:—

It rapidly neutralises excess acid, bringing quick relief from pain.

A freshly precipitated colloidal gel is formed which protects the exposed gastric submucosa from the action of the digestive ferments.

By slow hydrolysis the amino acid, glycine, is released, which in addition to the free glycine in the formula assists in the promotion of healing.

Cetamium is a quaternary ammonium salt known chemically as cetylpyridinium chloride. It is best known as a compound with high bactericidal activity, but its other important property of lowering surface tension is of special interest in a cough syrup.

Reduced Surface Tension Aids Penetration of Oral Mucosa

The surface tension of Vick Cough Syrup is approximately 43 dynes per square centimetre as compared with that of distilled water, which is 72. This enables the syrup to penetrate into the crypts and crevices of the oral mucosa which water alone, or a normal syrup, will simply bridge over.

More Effective Action of Accepted Medicaments

The inclusion of Cetamium with time-tested, clinically proven expectorants—ammonium chloride, sodium citrate and glycerine—produces a syrup which brings these medicaments into contact with a more extensive area of the throat membranes than they normally reach, thus bringing more relief to irritated tissues where inflammation or infection may exist.

Active Ingredients

Cetamium	0.025%
Ammon. Chlorid.	1.00%
Sod. Cit.	4.00%
Acid Cit.	0.25%
Glycer.	3.75%

Suitable for Children: No Narcotic

Vick Cetamium Cough Syrup contains no narcotics or habit forming drugs. This fact, plus its delicious flavour, makes it particularly suitable for children.

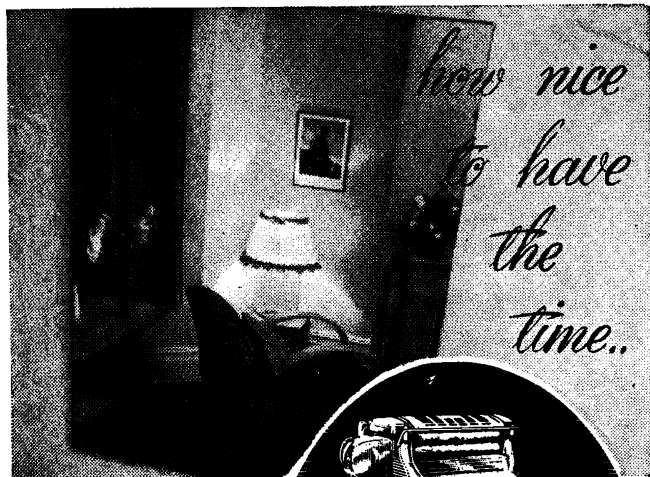

No Nausea

There is evidence to suggest that Cetamium slightly accelerates stomach emptying action. It will be found that the tendency of syrupy expectorant mixtures to induce nausea, particularly in children, is virtually absent. Nor are there any other side effects.

The facts about Glucose

Glucose, a term used to include a substance resulting from the partial hydrolysis of starch, is in practice a general description rather than a precise one. It is applied to medical preparations which contain additives that may not always be wanted and to commercial products of varying degrees of refinement. To identify Glucose in its purest form, and only in this form, the term Dextrose is used.

Dextrose, as found in the blood and tissues, is the sugar into which the body converts all carbohydrates. Requiring neither digestion nor chemical alteration, Dextrose is used by the body as a source of immediate energy.

The Dextrose (pure medicinal Glucose) produced by the Pharmaceutical Division of Corn Products Company Limited is prepared in two convenient forms:—

Dextrosol Powdered Glucose

This contains no additives of any kind. It can be taken in large quantities without causing nausea, and should be prescribed in all cases where a patient needs a source of heat and energy with the least demand on the digestion. Packed in 1 lb. & ½ lb. packets.

Dextrosol Karo Glucose Syrup

for Infants and Children

An appetising blend of pure Glucose and selected carbohydrates, carefully balanced to provide the ideal sugar addition to the milk diet of artificially-fed infants. Of special value in cases of nutritional disorder. Spread on rusks, bread, etc., it offers an excellent supplementary source of energy for growing children. Packed in 1 lb. tins and jars which carry recommended feeding tables.

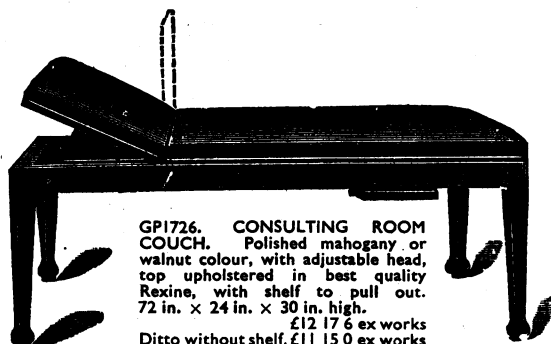

Professional samples of both Dextrosol products will be gladly provided. For further information, doctors are invited to write to the Dextrosol Information Bureau, Wellington House, 125/130 Strand, London, W.C.2.

Deferment of recruitment for "R" practitioners (i.e., practitioners liable for call-up under the National Service Acts) is granted at the discretion of the Central Medical Recruitment Committee and (in Scotland) the Scottish Central Medical Recruitment Committee. The Committees normally allow an "R" practitioner to hold a First House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £350 per annum) provided that it commences within three months of the end of his deferment by the Ministry of Labour as a whole-time medical student; and a Second House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £400 per annum) provided that it is secured before the end of his First House Officer post and commences within one month thereafter.

An "R" practitioner requires the special written permission of the C.M.R.C. or (in Scotland) the Scottish C.M.R.C. to proceed to a Third House Officer post (£450 per annum).

Under present arrangements in England and Wales the C.M.R.C. normally allows an "R" practitioner to proceed directly from a Second House Officer post to a Senior House Officer post (£670 per annum) for one year, but this practice will be discontinued on January 1, 1953. An "R" practitioner who completes six months in a Second House Officer post on or after January 1, 1953, will require the special written permission of the C.M.R.C. or Scottish C.M.R.C. to proceed to any further post.
