Peptic ulcer is treated in all its aspects, and academic researches are well balanced with practical advice on diagnosis and treatment. While the world literature is fully reviewed, every chapter reflects the author's own opinions and a personal interest which covers such diverse fields as the physiology of the gastric secretion, the aetiology, pathology, and epidemiology of ulcer, the nature of ulcer pain, and the medical and surgical treatment of ulcer and its complications.

In acute ear infections, few drugs are effective owing to their inability to reach the site of infection. By selecting an antibacterial substance with a wide spectrum of activity and combining it with agents which decongest, promote drainage and reduce discharge, this difficulty is overcome. Auralgicin ear drops were designed for this purpose—they have proved particularly effective.

In a comparative study of three liquid oral penicillin preparations, published in Antibiotics and Chemotherapy (June 1953, 3, 593-9), the authors concluded:

'It would, therefore, appear as a result of this comparative study that orally administered N,N'-dibenzyl-ethylenediamine dipenicillin G affords blood serum concentrations of no significantly longer duration, or greater magnitude than are obtained with either potassium or procaine penicillins. The peak serum concentrations are significantly higher for procaine and potassium penicillin under the conditions of this study.'

Mending Old Nets

Clinical efficacy and low toxicity are the characteristic features which make 'Sulphamezathine' the best sulphonamide for routine treatment, especially in pneumonias and most bronchial infections. High therapeutic blood levels are maintained with moderate dosage, and nausea, vomiting, and other common reactions associated with sulphonamide therapy are rarely encountered. An outstanding advantage is the absence of renal complications such as crystalluria and haematuria.

In the elderly patient, these factors help greatly in effecting a rapid and complete recovery.

RAUWILOID

For the long term management of mild and labile HYPERTENSION with control of associated symptoms

B.P. 155/95
Complains of Occasional Headaches and Dizziness

- Rauwiloid represents the alkaloids obtained from Rauwolfia serpentina.
- Each batch is tested in dogs for its effectiveness in producing hypotension, bradycardia and sedation.

• Clinically, Rauwiloid produces

- (1) Moderate fall in blood pressure
- (2) A desirable mild bradycardia
- (3) A valuable calming influence
- (4) Prompt relief of headaches, dizziness and other symptoms

• The hypotensive action of Rauwiloid is slow in developing, and may not attain its maximum for weeks or even months. However, the ability to lower blood pressure is limited, regardless of dose.

• Rauwiloid is not a ganglionic or adrenergic blocking agent and does not interfere with postural reflexes. Even at several times the therapeutic dosage, undesirable side effects are rarely seen with Rauwiloid.

• Initial dose 4 mg. (2 tablets) once daily until desired effect is achieved; thereafter one tablet daily.

when a more potent hypotensive action is needed...

RAUWILOID + VERILOID*

• The characteristic effect of Rauwiloid is retained when a more potent hypotensive agent such as Veriloid is concurrently given. Clinical evidence suggests that synergistic potentiation results. In severe or resistant hypertension Rauwiloid + Veriloid produces outstanding objective and subjective improvement.

• The calming influence of Rauwiloid enhances tolerance for Veriloid, making it possible for patients to obtain a significant reduction of blood pressure from lower doses of Veriloid.

• The average dose of Rauwiloid + Veriloid is one tablet three times daily after meals, at intervals of not less than four hours. Each tablet contains 1 mg. of Rauwiloid and 3 mg. of Veriloid.*

Not whether but how

FERROUS SULPHATE is now recognised as the most efficient form of iron treatment for hypochromic anæmias. The question is therefore not "whether" but "how" it should be administered.

The preparation should not be too bulky, nor cause gastro-intestinal upset, yet it must disintegrate quickly and produce maximum hæmatopoietic response.

In 'PLASTULES' ferrous sulphate is presented in its most attractive form—in a semi-solid base in a capsule which rapidly dissolves in the stomach, thus ensuring maximum absorption. 'PLASTULES' induce a rapid response without gastric upset.

'PLASTULES' are available in four varieties:

Each capsule contains:

Plain: Exsiccated Ferrous Sulphate 5 gr., Dried Yeast $\frac{1}{2}$ gr.
 With Hog Stomach: Exsiccated Ferrous Sulphate $2\frac{1}{2}$ gr., Dried Yeast $\frac{1}{2}$ gr.,
 Desiccated Hog Stomach 1.47 gr.
 With Liver Extract: Exsiccated Ferrous Sulphate $2\frac{1}{2}$ gr., Dried Yeast $\frac{1}{2}$ gr.,
 Extract of 52 gr. of fresh liver.

'NEOLIN' has the advantage of being uniformly absorbed, giving adequate and predictable blood-penicillin levels. A recent trial of benzethacil (Brit. Med. J. 1 (1953) 805) on 101 children showed clinically effective levels in all cases after 6 hours.

DOSAGE: The dose of 'NEOLIN' should be such as to supply approximately three times the unitage of penicillin which would be given intramuscularly under the same conditions.

the following facts to your attention

Wide mention in medical literature has made Dettol a text-book antiseptic. Wide clinical use has attested the efficiency of Dettol in literally millions of cases which range from minor accident to major operation.

Efficiency	Dettol is an efficient antiseptic which, moreover, retains a high degree of efficiency in the presence of organic matter.	Gram-positive and Gram-negative micro-organisms. Under standard conditions of test a dilution of 1 in 200 kills Staph. aureus in 10 minutes; a one in 500 dilution kills Strept. pyogenes in 10 minutes.
Toleration	Dettol is well tolerated on the skin and tissues in high concentrations. Moreover, its non-toxicity offers a high degree of safety to doctor, nurse and patient.	Dettol is not incompatible with soap, traces of which need not be removed before application.
Strength	The fact that Dettol is well tolerated by the tissues permits dilutions to be recommended for clinical purposes which provide a margin of safety even when a reasonable amount of organic material is present. Elastoplast as a many-tailed bandage

When frequent dressings are necessary, the following method of applying Elastoplast may be used as a substitute for an abdominal many-tailed bandage.

Prescribe Elastoplast Bandages
by name on form E.C.10

SIX PIECES, each about 12 inches in length, are prepared from a 3 inch wide Elastoplast bandage. Tapes are attached and the completed pieces applied to the body from each side (Fig. 1). The tapes are tied over the dressing covering the wound (Fig. 2). The bandage may be applied by one person without disturbing the patient. It is easily made, provides adequate support and will remain firmly in position.

The above method is comfortable in use as the patient does not have to wear perineal stirrups to keep the bandage in place or to lie on a bandage which may become 'rucked-up' — disadvantages associated with the flannelette type of many-tailed bandage.

THE EXTRA PHARMACOPŒIA (MARTINDALE)

Volume [1, 23rd Edition

In this new edition will be found information on the composition and character of practically every substance used in medicine, together with a concise summary of its use, its method of administration and its contraindications, with abstracts of the world literature. The book gives details, with references, of the most recent innovations in medical practice.

Details are provided on the toxicity of chemicals and drugs, on reports of cases of poisoning, and on treatment of overdosage. It is unlikely that any medicinal agent of established value has been omitted from the Therapeutic Index, which is about half as long again as that of the last edition and contains approximately 750 headings.

Nulacin for continuous, maintained gastric anacidity

IT has long been recognized that the most rapid relief of the pain and discomfort of peptic ulcer and most rapid healing of the lesion are achieved when a continuous state of gastric anacidity is maintained.

Heretofore, such a state has only been possible with hospitalization and severe discomfort to the patient. Now, NULACIN offers all the advantages of continuous drip therapy without the attendant inconveniences.

NULACIN accomplishes this desirable aim simply and effectively. A NULACIN tablet placed between the cheek and the gum dissolves slowly and releases its contained medicaments at a rate which achieves the effect of intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy. By maintaining a prolonged influence NULACIN accomplishes its acid-neutralizing effect with considerably less antacid than would be required by any other method employing oral administration.

INDICATIONS: NULACIN tablets are indicated whenever acid neutralization of the gastric contents is required; in active and quiescent peptic ulcer, gastritis, gastric hyperacidity.

Dosage

Beginning half-an-hour after food a NULACIN tablet should be placed in the mouth between the cheek and the gum and allowed to dissolve.

During the stage of ulcer activity up to three tablets an hour may be required. During quiescent periods, for prophylaxis in peptic ulcer and for the relief of discomfort due to gastric hyperacidity, the dose of NULACIN is one or two tablets between meals.

NULACIN tablets are not advertised to the public and have no B.P. equivalent. May be prescribed on E.C.10. The dispensing unit of 25 tablets is free of purchase tax. (Price to pharmacists . . . 2/-.) Also available in tubes of 12.

Superimposed gruel, fractional test-meal curves of five cases of duodenal ulcer.

Same patients as in Fig. 1, two days later, showing the striking neutralizing effect of sucking Nulacin tablets (3 an hour). Note the return of acidity when Nulacin is discontinued.

She

good night Doctor

A patient rests particularly comfortably on an Intalok mattress, yet is firmly supported in a natural position. The unique Intalok spring system makes this possible. Large numbers of fine gauge springs flex gently under 'local' pressure, but, because they are interlinked coil by coil right through the mattress, their combined resilience over larger areas is firm and even. The complete rest Intalok brings makes a real contribution to the patient's recovery.

Here are other good reasons why Intalok is the ideal hospital mattress:

- 1 All metal parts are rustless—can be sterilized repeatedly.
- 2 The spring centre gains by repeated stoving.
- 3 The special Intalok spring system makes the mattress unusually light and easy to handle.
- 4 Intalok mattresses can be made to special thicknesses or sizes, or in segments to suit special cases.
- 5 Existing hair mattresses can be converted to Intalok. This cuts costs

- 6 Every Intalok springing unit is guaranteed for ten years.

"Yes, canned strained foods really are better than home-made!"

Every day Doctors and Nurses find more and more mothers are accepting the fact that canned strained foods are better for baby than home-prepared strained foods.

And the more one knows about Heinz Strained Foods the easier it is to see why. Take Strained Spinach as an example.

First, Heinz select the most suitable variety of seed. They supervise the growth from sowing to harvesting. As soon as the crop reaches perfection the spinach is hurried to the factory, where it is inspected, carefully washed and cleaned. It is then cooked without delay by Heinz special equipment which minimises nutrient losses. Straight from cooking, it is put through fine sieves, then into enamel-lined cans. And in their laboratories, Heinz check the quality before the food is sterilized—and after too, by testing cans from each batch. The result is a much more nourishing and hygienic food than spinach cooked under normal home conditions.

For full details of the nutrient value of Heinz Strained Foods, please write to Dept. 1G, H. J. Heinz Company Ltd., Harlesden, London, N.W.10.

★THE SAME ACCURATE DIAGNOSIS BUT SIMPLER AND QUICKER

This new and modern twin instrument—the MEREDITH—combines a Bell type Chest-piece and a Phonendoscope, giving new efficiency. It eliminates distortion by maintaining a constant diameter throughout the whole length of the sound channels and the avoidance of angular interruptions in the acoustic column of air. It weighs only 2½ ounces.

The Y-piece is snap-hinged to give instantaneous and precise conversion from bell to diaphragm, or the reverse, and in each position the rubber tubing is directed away from the patient.

The diaphragm is generally preferred for high-pitched murmurs, foetal heart sounds and blood pressure tests; the bell for low-pitched murmurs, breath sounds and low frequency murmurs of mitral stenosis.

The Committees normally allow a fully registered "R" practitioner to hold a First House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £350 per annum) provided that it commences within three months of the end of his deferment by the Ministry of Labour and National Service as a whole-time medical student; and a Second House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £400 per annum) provided that it is secured before the end of his First House Officer post and commences within one month thereafter.

An "R" practitioner requires the special written permission of the C.M.R.C. or (in Scotland) the Scottish C.M.R.C. to proceed to any further post.

The position of provisionally registered "R" practitioners has been made clear in a notice sent to them by the University Joint Recruiting Boards.

Retrobulbar Neuritis

The syndrome with which nutritional retrobulbar neuritis is associated has been reported from various tropical territories for a number of years, and it was frequently encountered amongst prisoners of war in the Far East.

It has been suggested that the best method of treatment includes the administration of the entire vitamin B complex. Marmite has been found to arrest the condition and to cure cases where irreversible changes have not already occurred. Spectacular results have been achieved with Marmite; it is possible that the effective factor may not necessarily be a known vitamin, but may be some unidentified substance that is present in Marmite.

*New!
for Babies*

Carters of Coleford, makers of Ribena Blackcurrant Juice, announce a new Vitamin C syrup—ROSENA—which has been especially prepared for children from two weeks to ten years old. Rosena is a balanced blend of pure orange juice and rose hip extract. The soft, pleasant flavour of the rose hip has been used to stabilise the orange juice at an acidity which makes it most pleasant and acceptable to children of all ages. It does not cause stomach or bowel trouble. By reason of its high vitamin content (not less than 56 mgms. of Vitamin C per fluid oz.) Rosena is equal in Vitamin C activity to Ministry of Food Orange Juice and National Rose Hip Syrup. It also contains three natural sugars, which are nutritionally valuable.

These comprise glucose, fruit sugar and cane sugar. In addition, a further ten per cent of pure glucose has been added. It costs only 2/10d. a bottle and lasts baby a whole month. From Chemists only.
