in the control of epilepsy

'Mysoline', an entirely new anticonvulsant, was introduced in 1952 following publication of the results obtained in long-standing cases of major epilepsy which had resisted treatment with other established drugs. Since that time clinical evaluation in numerous important neurological centres in Great Britain and overseas has amply confirmed the earlier trials. These investigations have all shown that 'Mysoline' possesses a number of notable features—ability to control the grand mal attack, low toxicity and freedom from hypnotic effect. In addition, a beneficial effect on general behaviour, performance and sociability has been observed.

Preliminary studies with 'Mysoline' in psychomotor epilepsy are extremely encouraging, and there is evidence that it may also be of use in petit mal.

'Mysoline' tablets (0.25 gramme) are now available in packings of 100 and 1,000.

A new and logical therapy for Rheumatic conditions

Water-soluble esters of salicylic, p-aminobenzoic and nicotinic acids, that readily pass the skin barrier

The local treatment of rheumatic conditions has hitherto presented certain difficulties; drugs which penetrated the skin often caused intense irritation and their use was of doubtful value.

Transvasin, a new preparation developed by Hamol S. A., our Swiss associates, and now available for prescription in this country, contains esters of salicylic, p-aminobenzoic and nicotinic acids. These esters, being both water- and fat-soluble, readily pass the skin barrier in therapeutic quantities without causing irritation, and enable an adequate concentration of the drugs to be built up where they are needed. Transvasin not only induces vasodilation of the skin with a superficial erythema but also brings about a deep hyperaemia of the underlying tissues.

Salicylic acid tetrahydro-
furfuryl-ester	14%
Nicotinic acid ethyl-ester	2%
Nicotinic acid n-hexyl-ester	2%
p-Aminobenzoic acid ethyl-ester	2%
Water-miscible cream base ad	100%

Transvasin is not advertised to the public. It is available in 1 oz. tubes at 3/4d. plus 7d. P.T., and is obtainable on Form E.C.10.

defines a common deficiency

The water-soluble vitamins are not stored by the body to any great extent. Any excess above immediate needs is, in a real sense, 'washed out' from the system; so it is easy for a deficiency to arise—showing itself in an indefinite lassitude and fatigue, and often accompanied by sub-clinical skin and digestive disorders. Just as easily, the condition can be corrected with Nicorbin, which presents the four most important water-soluble vitamins in convenient tablet form.

Q: How to avoid the glossitis that sometimes follows treatment with oral antibiotics?

A: Advise 3 to 6 Nicorbin Tablets, three times a day.

LIVER INJECTION U.S.P. - 20 MICROGRAMS

NOW AVAILABLE IN GREAT BRITAIN

LEDERLE'S undisputed reputation for superior Liver Extracts stems from a quarter of a century's experience in liver-extract research. Their latest liver extract—Liver Injection U.S.P.—20 Micrograms—described in a recent British study as "significantly more potent" than other extracts* is now available to doctors in Great Britain. Liver Injection U.S.P.—20 Micrograms Lederle contains 20 μ g. of vitamin B₁₂ activity in each cc. and is especially suited to the prolonged treatment of pernicious anaemia because of its small volume, high concentration of anti-anaemic substance and low concentration of solids—qualities which ensure minimum patient discomfort and maximum therapeutic effect. In addition it is outstandingly useful in everyday practice for hepatic and metabolic stimulation.

*A review of pernicious anaemia patients on liver extract maintenance over several years showed a deterioration in their red-cell count and clinical conditions. A change to Solution Liver Extract Concentrated Lederle (now known as Liver Injection U.S.P.—20 Micrograms) brought about striking improvement in 20 of the 25 patients who had been maintained on extracts, as well as in 3 patients who had neglected their treatments. The author concluded from the definite response to the change of treatment that the Lederle Extract was significantly more potent than those previously used.

A STRIKING EXAMPLE
DRUG COMPLEMENTATION

IN MODERATE, SEVERE AND

HYPERTENSION

..... RAUWILOID + VERILOID

The calming, relaxing and mildly hypotensive effect of Rauwiloid, when combined with the more potent Veriloid (brand of standardized alkaloids of Veratrum viride), leads to a unique type of drug complementation. The patient's Veriloid requirement is decreased, side effects, if present, disappear and significant hypotensive response is produced. Not only are the diastolic and systolic pressures lowered significantly, but also at the same time the patient feels better. Headache and dizziness disappear and tachycardia, when present, is replaced by mild bradycardia.

On the basis of this apparent synergism, Rauwiloid + Veriloid leads to excellent results in moderate, severe and resistant hypertension. Each tablet contains 1 mg. of Rauwiloid and 3 mg. of Veriloid. Average dose: one tablet three or four times daily, preferably after meals, at intervals of not less than four hours.

In mild and labile hypertension

..... RAUWILOID

Rauwiloid produces excellent results in early, mild or labile hypertension. Blood pressure is significantly reduced, a sense of well-being is quickly experienced and mild bradycardia replaces tachycardia. Toxic reactions do not occur, even when the amount of drug administered is three or four times the usual dose. Side effects are rare. Initial dose: 4 mg. (2 tablets) once daily; maintenance dose: 2 mg. daily. Rauwiloid is a standardized alkaloidal extract of Rauwolfia serpentina. Each batch is tested in dogs for its sedative, hypotensive and bradycardic effects. Hence pharmacological uniformity is assured.

VERILOID*

is particularly valuable when injected INTRAMUSCULARLY

There is good evidence of the value of Veriloid Intramuscular Solution for use when the relief of hypertensive symptoms presents unusual or increasing difficulties.

Veriloid reduces blood-pressure by a central action independent of ganglionic function and has no direct relaxing action on the blood vessels.

A single injection of Veriloid Intramuscular Solution produces a marked lowering of blood-pressure lasting from 3 to 6 hours. In many cases the concomitant symptomatic relief persists for considerably longer periods. By repeated injections the arterial tension may be depressed for many hours or even days. Thereafter, oral medication with Veriloid tablets may be employed with advantage.

Veriloid Intramuscular Solution is indicated in the following conditions:—

- Hypertensive states accompanying cerebral vascular disease
- Hypertensive crises (encephalopathy)
- Malignant hypertension
- Toxaemia of pregnancy
- Pre-eclampsia and eclampsia

Veriloid Intramuscular Solution is prepared in ampoules of 2 cc. and contains the equivalent of 1 mg. of standardized alkaloids of Veratrum viride per cc. It may be used to maintain the hypotensive response produced by intravenous veratrum or it may be employed as the primary hypotensive agent. It supplements the Veriloid dosage forms hitherto available, namely:—

Veriloid tablets (plain), Veriloid-VP tablets, Veriloid Intravenous Solution

'Mixtamycin' is a mixture of streptomycin and dihydrostreptomycin. FOUNDED ON A ROCK

For centuries, the many lighthouses around our shores have warned of treacherous rocks and shoals and guided shipping into the right channels. Without these safeguarding sentries of the seas many valuable lives and craft would be lost each year in the dangerous waters which surround our island home.

Babies, like frail craft, need protection if they are to be safely steered through the sometimes dangerous waters of infancy into the safe haven of adult health and happiness.

Winter ailments, coughs, colds, depression states

Winter, with its winds, rains, fogs and "smog", invariably crowds surgeries with cases of influenza, coryza and bronchitis, with all their complications.

Long queues for transport, crowded public vehicles, the home and the school are all sources of infection.

An adequate intake of vitamin C helps to maintain immunity against infections; unfortunately, however, winter diet often lacks a sufficiency of fresh fruit, vegetables and salads.

DELROSA ROSE HIP SYRUP contains three times as much vitamin C per ounce as fresh orange juice. It is the ideal method of maintaining a regular intake of vitamin C, of which a daily amount of 30 to 100 mgms is essential, since it is not stored up in the body.

Delrosa is ideal for infants and children, as it is extremely palatable and does not upset the digestion.

SEXUAL BEHAVIOR IN THE HUMAN FEMALE

By Dr. Alfred Kinsey and Associates on the Staff of the Institute for Sex Research at Indiana University.

846 pages - 151 charts - 179 tables and 4 illustrations. Price 50s.

Out of the storm of acclaim, condemnation and controversy which has accompanied publication of this volume, an unmistakable fact has emerged: SEXUAL BEHAVIOR IN THE HUMAN FEMALE is a milestone on the road towards a truly scientific approach to human sexual behaviour.

It is an interesting, readable study of female sexual behaviour, of the factors which influence it, of the ways in which it is similar to and different from male behaviour, and of its social and legal implications.

The material has been derived from personal interviews with nearly 8,000 women; from special research studies; and from exhaustive study of the literature.

It would be difficult to over-emphasize the book's ultimate importance in brushing away the confusion that has for many centuries cobwebbed the subject of sex. Its impact will be felt immediately in such problems as sexual adjustment in marriage, sexual education of children, and the social control of sex offenders.

Deferment of recruitment for fully registered "R" practitioners (i.e., fully registered practitioners liable for call-up under the National Service Acts) is granted at the discretion of the Central Medical Recruitment Committee and (in Scotland) the Scottish Central Medical Recruitment Committee. The Committees normally allow a fully registered "R" practitioner to hold a First House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £350 per annum) provided that it commences within three months of the end of his deferment by the Ministry of Labour and National Service as a whole-time medical student; and a Second House Officer post (N.H.S. salary £400 per annum) provided that it is secured before the end of his First House Officer post and commences within one month thereafter.

An "R" practitioner requires the special written permission of the C.M.R.C. or (in Scotland) the Scottish C.M.R.C. to proceed to any further post.

The position of provisionally registered "R" practitioners has been made clear in a notice sent to them by the University Joint Recruiting Boards.
