BRAND'S ESSENCE is a first-class protein of animal origin. Being partly hydrolized, it is capable of easy ingestion, digestion and absorption. It is extremely palatable, and may be taken either as a jelly or as a liquid. It helps to support convalescence and assists in restoring a positive nitrogen balance.

The major indications for the administration of Brand's Essence are loss of appetite during fatigue, acute infections, and dysphagia or digestive disturbances due to organic or bacterial lesions of the mouth, oesophagus and alimentary tract, and after surgical procedures.

The addition of Brand's Essence to low residue and weight-reducing diets is especially appreciated by the patient.

A detailed account of the human anatomy of especial interest to all surgeons.

Anatomy for Surgeons describes and interprets the anatomical facts and concepts that the surgeon deals with in his daily practice. The author gives a detailed description of the basic anatomy but he also lays special emphasis on those structures which may not be so easily seen at the operating table, and includes a discussion of anatomical variations and abnormalities. The complete three volume set will be an ideal guide and reference book for the general surgeon, providing information both for general study and for refreshing his knowledge of structures less commonly encountered in his practice.

NOW AN ACCEPTED TREATMENT . . .

Transvasin

Contains skin-penetrating esters of salicylic, nicotinic, and p-aminobenzoic acids. It brings real relief to deep-seated muscular rheumatism by simple inunction.

TRANSVASIN, a new preparation, developed by Hamol S.A., our Swiss associates, and now available for prescription in this country, contains polar esters of salicylic, p-aminobenzoic and nicotinic acids. These esters readily pass the skin barrier in therapeutic quantities and enable an effective concentration of the drugs to be built up where they are needed. Transvasin not only induces vasodilation of the skin with a superficial erythema, but also brings about a deep hyperaemia of the underlying tissues. It is non-irritant, and can be safely used on the skin.

It is now being widely prescribed, with highly successful results. There is evidence, also, that since a very small quantity is sufficient for each application, the cost of treatment is extremely low.

Salicylic acid tetrahydrofurfuryl-ester	14%
Nicotinic acid ethyl-ester	2%
Nicotinic acid n-hexyl-ester	2%
p-Aminobenzoic acid ethyl-ester	2%
Water-miscible cream base ad	100%

Transvasin is available in 1 oz. tubes at 3/4½ plus 7½d P.T., which are obtainable on form E.C.10, and is not advertised to the public.

Samples and literature will be gladly sent on application.

— a NEW M&B brand Medical Product, containing promethazine, codeine and ephedrine.

Here is a rational and really effective linctus designed for the prompt relief of unproductive cough.

'Phensedyl' combines the powerful antihistamine, central sedative and local analgesic effects of promethazine with the depressant action of codeine on the cough reflex and the bronchodilation of ephedrine.

'Phensedyl' is of value, therefore, not only in post-influenzal types of cough but also in those due to an allergic cause or to any degree of bronchospasm such as in "asthmatic" cough, bronchitis, and whooping-cough. In addition, the anti-emetic action of promethazine helps to control any tendency of the patient to vomit.

'Phensedyl' is attractive in appearance and pleasant to take — both important features when prescribing for children.

A perfect source of Vitamin C

RIBENA (Syrupus Ribis Nigri B.P.C.)

HIGH CONCENTRATION OF VITAMIN C—REMARKABLE STABILITY

Four characteristics of Ribena make it
a perfect source of Vitamin C:

- 1 It contains a high concentration of Vitamin C—and it is very stable.
- 2 The vitamin is in its natural state. *
- 3 Ribena is very well tolerated even by sensitive stomachs. It is completely free from all cellular structure. It is suitable for infants almost from birth, for peptic ulcer cases, and for women suffering from "morning sickness"; they can take it when almost everything else increases discomfort.
- 4 In addition to its therapeutic values, it is delicious in its own right as sweet blackcurrant syrup.

* Following reports of unsatisfactory response to the therapeutic use of synthetic ascorbic acid in peptic ulcer cases, controlled tests using Ribena were instituted at various large British hospitals, with striking results. Clinical experience has also shown that in ulcerative gingivitis, the routine use of Ribena as an adjunct to local therapy has given more satisfactory results than that of the synthetic vitamin. The superiority is presumably due to the presence of other factors of the Vitamin C complex, possibly the Vitamin P, as well as mineral elements.

Therapeutic uses

Ribena is recommended for all conditions requiring Vitamin C implementation: namely, as a natural and rapid restorative from fatigue; for increasing resistance to local infection and colds; for expectant and nursing mothers; for infants from birth; for children and adolescents; in many dental conditions; in peptic ulcer cases; in fractures and wounds; in blood dyscrasias and hæmorrhagic states; in infections and fevers; and in many skin disorders.

Reports for doctors overseas

The makers of Ribena co-operated extensively with the Ministries of Food and Health during the war, a co-operation which still goes on to some extent even now. The Royal Forest Factory has attached to it a series of very fine laboratories where research into fruit juices and vitamins is conducted to an academic level, under the direction of an expert, lately in charge of the Fruit Products Section of the University of Bristol Agricultural Research Station. Reports of much of the work done are available, on application, to doctors and scientists overseas. These are likely to be of particular interest now that Ribena is being extensively exported.

Send for further information. A booklet entitled "Blackcurrant Juice in Modern Therapy: Natural Vitamin C" will be forwarded to you with pleasure; also details of a number of controlled tests made on the use of Vitamin C, if you will write to:—

What can you do for my Rheumatism, Doctor?

What a difficult question this is to answer—particularly when put by an elderly patient. As an immediate resort, however, you can readily relieve the painful symptoms by prescribing Berex.

Being a combination of salicylate and succinate, Berex enables a massive dosage of salicylate to be administered without lowering the prothrombin level, with less gastric disturbance and with the encouragement of tissue respiration.

SUMMARY OF FINDINGS OF A STUDY ON SUCCINATE SALICYLATE THERAPY*

A succinate-salicylate combination has been found superior to acetylsalicylic acid in rheumatic states both on grounds of therapeutic efficacy and lower toxicity. Adequate amounts of the former could be administered with more lasting effect and with fewer and milder side effects. Furthermore, succinate-salicylate affects the disease process itself, as well as relieving painful symptoms and does not abnormally increase prothrombin time even after prolonged dosage.

Let Sanatogen help you in treatment of Psychosomatic Disorders

Hippocrates, in the fifth century B.C., taught that deductions are to be made only from observed facts. Though this basic principle was neglected for more than two thousand years, in the last hundred years it has borne fruit, and the harvest increases year by year. Today the general practitioner treats many diseases with confidence and exact knowledge. But what of psychosomatic disorders?

EVIDENCE FOR SANATOGEN

Sanatogen (a casein-glycerophosphate complex) has been successfully used as a nerve tonic for more than fifty years. In this period there must have been hundreds of proprietary tonics, now forgotten. Yet the demand for Sanatogen has continued to increase each year. Now that is a statement of observed fact which deserves consideration. Of course, we do not suggest that Sanatogen is the complete answer to psychosomatic disorders. Nevertheless, all the clinical evidence shows that the chemical combination contained in Sanatogen does produce remarkable results.

THE ROLE OF SANATOGEN

Sanatogen is 95% casein chemically combined with 5% sodium glycerophosphates. Three teaspoonfuls of Sanatogen t.d.s. (the normal dosage) provide the patient with 24 grams of protein daily, free from fat and cholesterol, at a cost of less than a shilling a day; whilst by reason of its glycerophosphate content it has a specific tonic effect on body and nerve tissue. Although Sanatogen is not prescribable owing to its high food value, it is being increasingly recommended by practitioners today because of the excellent results obtainable with this tonic. On the evidence, it is a fair deduction to say that Sanatogen is by far the best tonic available today for treatment of stress and strain. You can with confidence say to your patient: "A course of Sanatogen will do you good."

There was a time when making barley water meant a lot of fuss and bother, stewing and straining the old pearl barley. Prevention of Vaginitis after major gynaecological operations

The advantages of using Kylon Medicated Jellies (with disposable applicators) in the treatment of vaginitis are already well recognized,^{1 2 3} but only lately has attention been drawn to their value as a prophylactic measure following gynaecological surgery.

In a recently published paper,⁴ a study was reported in which a number of major surgical cases were post-operatively treated with Kylon Medicated Jellies. The authors noted that:—

"The incidence of vaginitis was greatly reduced in the treated series as compared with the controls. In the treated series only three cases of vaginitis occurred in fifty cases, an incidence of 6 per cent. In the control group, eleven cases of vaginitis occurred, an incidence of 26 per cent.

"The ethyl cellulose jelly is well retained and the medicament remains in the vagina for at least three days. Treatment is therefore adequate when given only on alternate days or three times a week.

"The method of treatment was found to be simple in use, acceptable to the patients and free from ill effects."*

The Kylon technique employs standard medicaments presented in a neutral, stable, readily miscible jelly base; the correct and hygienic placement of the jelly is ensured by means of disposable applicators (which conform to the N.H.S. Drug Tariff Specification). The following medicaments are available: Acetarsol, Lactic Acid, Sulphathiazole, Oestrone, Proflavine, Ichthammol, Acetarsol Chlorphenesin, Gentian Violet 0.4 and 0.8 per cent.

Samples and literature on application.

FOR PATIENTS
who cannot take oral iron

The administration, orally, of iron can prove difficult in practice through gastrointestinal irritation. Absorption is reduced and the patient after one or two digestive upsets fails to take the tablets regularly. FERGON, however, causes less digestive disturbances than any other oral preparations and often produces a marked rise in the haemoglobin level where ordinary iron salts have failed. FERGON is well tolerated and even the most sensitive patient will take this better absorbed iron preparation readily and regularly.

For intensive oral iron therapy

N.H.S. cost 8d. per week
