NOBECUTANE

A NEW PLASTIC WOUND DRESSING

(See Brit. med. J. 1954. 2.17)

NOBECUTANE consists of an acrylic resin dissolved in a mixture of acetic esters. When applied to the dry skin the solvent evaporates leaving an elastic, transparent, and adhesive film.

NOBECUTANE has many advantages over conventional dressings. It is non-irritating, transparent, tough, pliable and durable and can be applied over joints where some degree of mobility is required.

NOBECUTANE is impervious to bacteria but permeable to air and water vapour and allows normal aqueous exhalation of the skin to escape and no maceration of the skin occurs.

NOBECUTANE is economical in use and results in a saving of at least 20% over the cost of conventional dressings. In addition it is welcomed by nursing staff who find it effects a considerable amount of saving in time.

NOBECUTANE is available to hospitals only in bottles of 250 ml. at a price of 17/6 per bottle. Each bottle contains adequate material for the dressing of approximately sixty to seventy surgical wounds.

. . . I watched the wound heal through a Dalmas Transparent Dressing

DALMAS TRANSPARENT WOUND DRESSING

The Dalmas Transparent Wound Dressing consists of a clear, transparent observation panel spread with adhesive along the edges and incorporating two strips of antiseptic dressing.

Reports have been received on the use of DALMAS transparent wound dressings on over 300 major operation cases, during a period of 6 months. Not a single case of sepsis occurred.

The dressing enables the wound to be seen in all stages of repair. It has high degree of pliability, thus allowing it to mould to the body contours during post-operative movements; it need not be changed until the stitches or clips are removed.

The dressing is waterproof and strong and protects stitches and clips from being dragged on by loose dressings. The ends are sealed with Damaplast waterproof strapping.

The use of Dalmas transparent wound dressings saves time. They are cheaper than the usual gauze, wool, strapping and bandages. The protective gauze covering is specially treated to remain sterile over several weeks, so that it constitutes a reliable surgical dressing. Two widths 3" & 4½"; three lengths 8", 12" and 36"

Aspirin, phenacetin, codeine phosphate; there is no more familiar group of analgesic drugs. 'Codis' improves upon it. In Codis the 'aspirin' is soluble, as in 'Solprin', and rapidly forms a solution of palatable calcium aspirin.

A Codis tablet placed uncrushed in water provides, in a few seconds, a solution of calcium aspirin and codeine phosphate, with phenacetin in fine suspension.

The advantages of analgesic therapy with Codis are, rapid disintegration of the tablet in water with resulting greater ease of administration, and far less likelihood of intolerance by the patient. The chance of gastric irritation is minimised because there are no undissolved particles of aspirin.

RAUWILOID + VERILOID

The calming, relaxing and mildly hypotensive effect of Rauwiloid, when combined with the more potent Veriloid (brand of standardized alkaloids of Veratrum viride), leads to a unique type of drug complementation. The patient's Veriloid requirement is decreased, side effects, if present, disappear and significant hypotensive response is produced. Not only are the diastolic and systolic pressures lowered significantly, but also at the same time the patient feels better. Headache and dizziness disappear and tachycardia, when present, is replaced by mild bradycardia.

On the basis of this apparent synergism, Rauwiloid+ Veriloid leads to excellent results in moderate, severe and resistant hypertension. Each tablet contains 1 mg. of Rauwiloid and 3 mg. of Veriloid. Average dose: one tablet three or four times daily, preferably after meals, at intervals of not less than four hours.

In mild and labile hypertension . . . .

RAUWILOID

Rauwiloid produces excellent results in early, mild or labile hypertension. Blood pressure is significantly reduced, a sense of well-being is quickly experienced and mild bradycardia replaces tachycardia. Toxic reactions do not occur, even when the amount of drug administered is three or four times the usual dose. Side effects are rare. Initial dose: 4 mg. (2 tablets) once daily; maintenance dose: 2 mg. daily. Rauwiloid is a standardized alkaloidal extract of Rauwolfia serpentina. Each batch is tested in dogs for its sedative, hypotensive and bradycardic effects. Hence pharmacological uniformity is assured.

Where combined action Succeeds

From apparent defeat, many a contest is won by combined action. The joint administration of penicillin and the sulphonamides frequently establishes successful therapy, when the oral administration of the antibiotic or chemotherapeutic agent alone has been ineffective.

Sulpenin, containing penicillin, sulphadiazine and sulphamerazine in balanced dosage is a convenient means of applying combined therapy in the treatment of many infections due to susceptible microorganisms. By utilising the synergistic action known to exist between penicillin and the sulphonamides, the antibacterial range is increased, the likelihood of kidney damage is lessened and the tendency for the bacteria to develop mutant strains resistant to one or other of the component drugs is reduced.

BREAST FEEDING

A normal infant should not be put to the breast until 6-12 hours after birth. In the case of a premature, this period should be longer.

He should then be put to the breast every 3 hours for 5 minute periods, gradually working up to 10-15 minutes.

On about the 4th day, the flow of milk should be established.

At the end of a week's feeding, he may take 20 minutes to empty a breast. In such cases, only one breast should be used at each feed.

I-2 ozs. of glucose water in 5% mixture should be given after each feed until the 5th day.

At this stage, a test feed should be given to see how much milk the child is receiving after each feed for 24 hours and the average per feed estimated.

He should receive 2½ ounces of milk in 24 hours for every pound of body weight.

Should the supply of breast milk prove insufficient, the deficit should be made up with Half Cream Cow & Gate until 2 months and then Full Cream.

When breast feeding has been established, the child should gain 4-6 ozs. per week.

Breast feeding may be continued until 9-10 months, but weaning should be started when the child is 4-5 months old or weighs 15 lbs.

ARTIFICIAL FEEDING

It is usual to give Half Cream Cow & Gate until the child is 2 months old, but some are able to take the additional fat in Full Cream almost from birth.

When it is decided to change from Half to Full Cream, an abrupt change should not be made. One measure of Full Cream should be substituted for one of Half Cream at first and gradually stepped up until the child is on Full Cream only. This change over should take about 5 days. Although the average child requires  $2\frac{1}{2}$  ozs. per lb. of body weight in 24 hours, this amount should be varied to suit each individual child.

Signs of Underfeeding.

Crying, failure to put on weight, green stools and constipation.

Signs of Overfeeding.

Vomiting, putting on too much weight, constipation.

If the child is below weight, feed up to the expected body-weight, e.g., suppose a child weighs  $9\frac{1}{2}$  lbs. and should weigh 10 lbs., then he will require 10 x  $2\frac{1}{2}$  ozs. of milk in 24 hours.

Weaning should begin as in breast feeding, using Cow & Gate CEREX.

Normal bowel action is a fine thing to possess. It is, perhaps, the most sought after talisman against ill-health in the world. No wonder, then, if its temporary suspension leads from a mild despondency even to black despair. But in such a crisis panic measures are to be avoided—the taking of harsh purgatives eschewed.

Success in the restoration of the much-cherished habit lies in the regular persuasive stimulus of soft bulk—such as is provided by 'Petrolagar.' Gently and unobtrusively, 'Petrolagar' arranges for normal physiological evacuations and secures the return of 'clockwork regularity.'

For your Surgery

Many doctors have told us that Cidal is the ideal soap for surgery use. It is a very pleasant toilet soap containing an unusually effective germicide, Hexachlorophene (2, 2'-dihydroxy-3, 5, 6, 3', 5', 6'-hexachlorodiphenylmethane).

The Hexachlorophene reduces the risk of the infection of small cuts and grazes. And the Cidal lather itself has a clean, healthy freshness that is very enjoyable. Cidal Cream Shampoo also contains Hexachlorophene and is well worth trying.

CIDAL

For an experimental sample of Cidal Soap just drop a line to: Technical Sales Department (Antiseptic Division), J. Bibby & Sons Ltd., King Edward Street, Liverpool 3.
