FOR MILD FORMS OF PAIN

Background to Tercin "Aspirin and phenacetin are effective and useful, and a sedative effect is obtainable if a barbiturate is combined with them. . . . The reputation of codeine as a pharmacologically useful drug is at present waning, for the analgesic effect of the compound tablet of codeine B.P. is probably due more to its content of aspirin and phenacetin than to the  $\frac{1}{2}$  gr. (8 mg.) of codeine present. It is a weak analgesic even when given in full doses."

(Brit. Med. J. 1952 (Oct. 25th) ii, p.928)

Tercin combines aspirin and phenacetin with butobarbitone. It is indicated for the relief of mild forms of pain for which tablets of aspirin, phenacetin and codeine have hitherto been prescribed. An important aspect of Tercin therapy is that it does not cause constipation. Tercin is available in tablets containing aspirin 5 grains, phenacetin 3 grains and butobarbitone  $\frac{1}{2}$  grain. Basic N.H.S. price. Bottles of 200 at 4/10.

DOSAGE: One or two tablets as required. A total dose of eight tablets daily should generally not be exceeded.

PREGNANCY: meeting the inevitable iron deficiency

Progressive inroads are made on the maternal iron stores during pregnancy. The demand made is greatly increased during the third trimester, and there is little doubt that the exposition of a suitable form of iron is of definite clinical value. FERROMYN meets these important demands because it affords maximum bivalent iron from a minimum of ferrous salt, does not cause alimentary upset, has a high utilisation factor and will maintain a satisfactory haemoglobin level throughout term.

FERROMYN is supplied in four forms:

Upjohn

The powerful therapeutic properties of Kendall's Compound F-hydrocortisone—have been known since 1949 when The Upjohn Company made available the first small amount for clinical testing. With the synthesis of CORTEF by The Upjohn Research Laboratories and the subsequent large-scale production, this potent steroid—probably the main product of the adrenal cortex in vivo—is now at hand for general use*.

The most dramatic effects of CORTEF therapy are seen following continuous intravenous transfusion in cases of acute adrenal failure, in situations of great stress when the patient's own adrenals are incapable of secreting the amount of cortical steroid demanded, and in acute hypersensitivity reactions such as status asthmaticus.

HYDROCORTISONE (COMPOUND F)

However, it is in less spectacular fields that the pronounced anti-inflammatory and anti-allergic properties of CORTEF find their greatest application. For example, in the local treatment—by injection into the joint cavity or bursal sac—of rheumatoid arthritis and acute bursitis, and in the systemic treatment—by oral tablet—of a wide range of common diseases.

In addition, CORTEF exerts its therapeutic properties when applied in the form of an ointment to the skin. It therefore offers distinct advantages over cortisone in this respect, and its effectiveness in many types of dermatitis has established it as one of the most important dermatological advances of recent years.

* Cortef preparations are currently available in Great Britain only to hospitals. They are freely available overseas.

Threshold for 'stress'

Among the postulated stress-producing factors, emotional and physical strain take an important place, and may provoke a state of systemic stress with protean manifestations on every body tissue. The incidence of such stress disorders has recently been rated as high as 15% in rural and 25% in urban practice.<sup>1</sup>

In the treatment of stress disorders, no one disputes the fundamental importance of simple psychotherapy which the family doctor is so well placed to dispense; yet he, himself, generally recognises the need for a more material adjunct, a tonic and restorative which will assist the nervous system as well as the organism as a whole. Sanatogen is an active nutrient tonic, and the choice of many physicians in such circumstances. Conversely, the considerable effect of a poor nutritional state on the mental outlook has long been recognised. Here again, the merits of Sanatogen as a high protein tonic nutrient are apparent.

Sanatogen is a protein-glycerophosphate complex; 95% casein rich in essential amino-acids; 5% sodium glycerophosphate, yielding most readily assimilable phosphorus. Because of its high nutrient and restorative effects on the entire nervous system, it can be recommended with assurance whenever a tonic is indicated, whether in general or mental asthenia, or in any condition of stress.

What does the National Formulary say?

In the notes for prescribers the National Formulary 1955 comments on Sulphadimidine B.P. ('Sulphamezathine') as follows :-

the choice of a Chemotherapeutic Agent

"Sulphonamides have as advantages a relatively wide range of activity, the oral route of administration, comparative cheapness and, if sulphadimidine is used, a relative freedom from toxic effects especially in short term treatment."

The National Formulary 1955, p.28.

on Sulphonamide
Mixtures

"Such mixtures are preferable to most of the sulphonamides in common use although it is doubtful if they have any advantage over sulphadimidine."

The National Formulary 1955, p.41.

on Sulphadimidine itself

"Sulphadimidine is very active, but probably less so than sulphanilamide or sulphadiazine. It is easy to produce high blood concentrations by six-hourly administration and toxic effects are rare. Both it and its acetyl derivative are relatively soluble even in acid urine. It is probably the best sulphonamide for routine use."

The National Formulary 1955, p.41.

Sulphadimidine was discovered in the laboratories of I.C.I. and for more than ten years has been marketed by Imperial Chemical (Pharmaceuticals) Ltd. under the name 'Sulphamezathine'.

Note: Our product, prescribed as 'Sulphamezathine' Tablets, is supplied at the Drug Tariff price for Tab. Sulphadimidin. B.P. 'Sulphamezathine' remains the cheapest of the 'safe' sulphonamides now commonly available.

3 New G. & S. Books — JUST PUBLISHED

J.A.M.A. CLINICAL ABSTRACTS OF DIAGNOSIS AND TREATMENT

Selected by Noah D. Fabricant, M.D., Editorial Associate of the J.A.M.A.

These abstracts, carefully selected from the Journal of the American Medical Association of the past year (ending March 31, 1955), furnish a key to the most up-to-date and significant work being done—world-wide—in diagnosis and treatment. They deal with internal medicine, paediatrics, gynaecology and obstetrics, dermatology, ophthalmology, and many other specialties, providing a comprehensive and authoritative guide for every practitioner. (636 pages, 39s.)

THE HEMORRHAGIC DISORDERS: A Clinical and Therapeutic Approach

By Mario Stefanini, M.D., and William Dameshek, M.D.

Not limited to simply a discussion of the principles of blood coagulation, this new monograph emphasizes, rather, disorders of the haemostatic mechanism and particularly a broad range of practical clinical problems encountered by the physician in the actual management of the bleeding patient. (378 pages, 147 illus., 16 in colour, 83s.)

DIFFERENTIAL DIAGNOSIS OF INTERNAL DISEASES

Clinical Analysis and Synthesis of Symptoms and Signs on Pathophysiologic Basis

By Julius Bauer, M.D.

In this second revised and enlarged edition (1955) Dr. Bauer brings this well-known book again to the foreground of medical writing. Of the first edition the Annals of Internal Medicine said, "This book can be highly praised. The author has combined with his individual approach to each subject in turn, an extraordinary display of knowledge. . . . There can be few living men who enjoy such evident familiarity with the medical literature of both continents. . . . This book is an education to read and will remain an invaluable work of reference." (1,004 pages, 66 illus., 105s.)

Again the price of

I.C.I. penicillin is reduced, and the most useful and the least toxic of the antibiotics costs still less. The basic cost to the Health Service for 1 mega unit of crystalline penicillin G is now only 1/4d.

From the surge of claims made for newer and better antibiotics, it is easy to lose one's perspective and forget the plain fact that penicillin continues to be the antibiotic of choice for all Gram-positive infections due to staphylococci, hæmolytic streptococci & pneumococci and for all cases of gonorrhœa and syphilis.
