as an alternative to the conventional many-tailed bandage

When frequent dressings are necessary, the following method of applying Elastoplast may be used as a substitute for an abdominal many-tailed bandage.

Six pieces, each about 12 inches in length, are prepared from a 3-inch wide Elastoplast bandage. Tapes are attached as illustrated (Fig. 1), and the completed pieces applied to the body from each side (Fig. 2). The tapes are tied over the dressing covering the wound (Fig. 3). The bandage may be applied by one person without disturbing the patient. It is easily made, provides adequate support and will remain firmly in position.

The above method is comfortable in use as the patient does not have to wear perineal stirrups to keep the bandage in place, or to lie on a bandage which may become "rucked-up" — disadvantages associated with the flannelette type of many-tailed bandage.

NO ESCAPE?

Upon many of its victims, hay-fever imposes an almost intolerable burden . . . a life sentence of disrupted summers. To such patients, 'Actidil' can mean the rediscovery of summer's pleasures. Most potent of all antihistamines, 'Actidil' is remarkably quick to take effect. Indeed, the interval between administration and onset of relief has been reduced to a matter of minutes. Yet these exceptional benefits are available to patients of all ages, for 'Actidil' has a particularly wide safety margin and little tendency to evoke the drowsiness and other side-effects so often associated with antihistamine action.

Pethidine PLUS 'Lorfan'

A combination of pethidine with the narcotic antagonist levallorphan tartrate in proportions which minimize respiratory depression without affecting analgesia.

The administration of these two drugs in a preformed mixture is an attractive idea which offers the freer use of this analgesic without incurring undue respiratory depression.

'Lorfan' (levallorphan) does not diminish the analgesic effect of pethidine and clinical observations show that it may enhance the sedation produced by pethidine.

The use of 'Lorfan' to diminish the respiratory depression caused by the narcotic analgesics in childbirth is one of the most valuable potentialities of this antagonist.

They look seldom downwards

Roped together over giddy depths, they climb through keen air and soaking cloud. They test each hold with shrewd fingers. They buy the inches dearly. Only after many hazardous assaults on the rock face do they at last attain the summit. Each receives his own reward of beauty, grandeur, achievement, or simply—relief. Through muscle and good technique they overcome the barrier set up by Nature.

A barrier set up by Nature in the human body tends to be more baffling, and medicine is faced with the task of finding a way to overcome it. One such barrier, the mucosal block keeps a great many patients constantly on the verge of iron deficiency anaemia. When oral iron is administered to an anaemic patient, the Hb level is raised, but the very effect of this is to increase the efficiency of the mucosal block. The more the Hb level rises, the more effective the block becomes.

Depleted body iron reserves remain depleted. The patient is never buffered against relapse. But like the towering rock the natural barrier to iron can be overcome—through muscle and good technique. Intramuscular iron by-passes the mucosal block. Fully absorbed and fully utilised, it not only raises the Hb level, but also replenishes body iron stores.

PRESCRIPTION INFORMATION. Each 2 ml. ampoule of Imferon will raise the Hb about 1.5% (5 ml. about 4%) as well as contributing to the replenishment of body iron stores, in an adult of average weight. Imferon is available in ampoules of 2 ml. and 5 ml. in boxes of 10 and 5 ampoules respectively. A simple dosage calculator and notes on intramuscular injection technique for nurses are available on request.

In Hypertension

RAUWILOID

Reduces the pressure gradually and safely . . .

Of proved value in the treatment of mild to moderate hypertension, 'Rauwiloid' is a purified and standardized fraction of Rauwolfia serpentina in tablet form. It lowers elevated blood pressure gradually, slows the pulse rate, and so reduces cardiac effort. A calm, tranquil sense of well-being is induced, without drowsiness, and with little impairment of alertness. Dosage is not critical, and there are no important side-effects or contra-indications. Mental depression is unlikely to be encountered when 'Rauwiloid' is used in the recommended dosage. It is the medicament of choice for hypertension in its early stages, in order to arrest progression.

'Rauwiloid' contains 2 mg. of the active hypotensive alkaloids of Rauwolfia serpentina per tablet, undesirable constituents of the crude root being excluded by the extraction process.

Dosage is simple—two tablets taken at bedtime.

Full literature on request.

SPR/ES

27th July, 1957

Dear Doctor,

You have been invited in a recent issue of the 'Prescribers Notes' to ask yourself the pertinent question: "would a sedative not serve the purpose of 'tranquillizers' equally well?"

At the B.M.A. Conference in Newcastle this month the dangers (such as agranulocytosis, dermatoses etc.) inherent in the use of many of these 'tranquillizers' have again been emphasized.

The proven safety of SEDALTINE* in inducing a state of both mental and physical relaxation without danger of untoward side or after-effects pinpoints its value as a 'tranquillizing sedative'.

It should be noted that SEDALTINE, a balanced combination of well established non-barbiturate sedatives, does not induce somnolence or dull the intellect in the dose recommended for tranquillization ( $\frac{1}{2}$ -1 tab. twice daily). SEDALTINE is therefore an ideal daytime sedative. In hypnotic dose (1-2 tabs. 15 mins. before retiring) normal physiological sleep as distinct from narcosis supervenes, without "hangover" or rebound depression characteristic of barbiturate sedation.

Briefly: "why sedate with a tranquillizer - why not tranquillize with SEDALTINE?"

I shall be pleased to send you literature and clinical sample on request.

Yours truly,

Countless thousands...every day

It is a sobering revelation that over 50 per cent of the average practitioner's patients can be said to suffer from some degree of anxiety neurosis. This means that hundreds of thousands of such cases present themselves every day in Great Britain alone. A massive problem—yet one which has been vastly simplified by the advent of MILTOWN meprobamate. Uniform in action, and remarkably free from side reactions, MILTOWN acts safely and selectively to calm restlessness and irritability of anxiety states. By day, MILTOWN secures true sedation; by night, it brings natural sleep without narcosis.

Because the use of an insoluble Palmitate ester of Chloromycetin* overcomes the problem of administering the bitter-tasting parent antibiotic to children who cannot swallow capsules. With these advantages Suspension Chloromycetin Palmitate is of exceptional value in the treatment of many serious respiratory and gastro-intestinal infections.

The LEVIT Bath Lift

MANDEVILLE HOSPITAL

The patient first sits on the platform with his feet on the floor and then raises his legs until he can lift them over the edge into the bath.

When the lever "L" is pushed forward, the patient is gently lowered to the bottom of the bath. Raising is effected by returning the lever to its upright position.

FOR THE INFIRM & DISABLED PATIENT

If desired, a Levit Bath Lift can be supplied on approval to Hospitals and Nursing Homes. Alternatively a 10 minute, 16 mm. sound film is available which, if preferred, can be seen first.

The Levit Bath Lift enables the infirm and those incapacitated by paralysis, rheumatism and similar conditions to get into and out of the bath with minimum difficulty, and in all but the most severe cases, without assistance. It consists essentially of a seat, or platform, which can be raised to the top of the bath or gently lowered to the bottom by water pressure, whilst supporting a weight up to a maximum of 35 stone. Equally suitable for use in Hospital, Nursing Home or Patient's Home.

EMERGENCIES IN GENERAL PRACTICE

from the British Medical Journal

470 pages, cloth bound
with full index

PRICE 25s. net

This book deals with medical emergencies in a wide sense: acute clinical emergencies requiring prompt and skilful treatment; conditions such as faints and fits and giddy turns, the careful elucidation of which may mean the difference to a patient between a life of activity and one of restriction; acute psychiatric states; accidents of treatment, such as dangerous reactions to drugs or collapse during anaesthesia; and emergency calls when the doctor is isolated, as on a ship.

It comprises 57 specially commissioned articles which appeared originally in the British Medical Journal.

The author of each is an acknowledged authority. This collection, now revised by the authors, will be of value not only to general practitioners but also to senior students, house-physicians, house-surgeons, and to those supervising their work in hospitals.
