... and it is this dual effect, this power to control local infection and stimulate the growth of new tissue which, more than anything else, characterises Cicatrin. Moreover, Cicatrin, containing as it does bacitracin and neomycin (the combined effect of which is bactericidal and bacteriostatic), renders unnecessary the use of antibiotics more valuable in systemic use. At the same time Cicatrin is effective against most pathogens including those resistant to penicillin and other antibiotics. RELEASING the surplus

In cardiac oedema and other conditions where excess fluid accumulates in the tissues, DIAMOX acetazolamide can be relied upon to release the surplus promptly and safely. DIAMOX induces diuresis in a novel and highly efficient manner—by inhibiting the enzyme carbonic anhydrase. A single dose will induce a powerful diuretic response, persisting for six to twelve hours—and in many cases of congestive heart failure DIAMOX alone is capable of maintaining the patient oedema-free. As clinical experience of DIAMOX grows, more and more applications are revealed—including glaucoma, toxæmias and oedema of pregnancy, epilepsy and premenstrual tension. DIAMOX has also been used in emphysema, drug-induced oedema, renal oedema and obesity.

Two weapons against Athlete's Foot and other fungal dermatoses

The combined use of Mycil Ointment and Powder has proved to be highly effective in both prophylaxis and treatment of fungal dermatoses.

Mycil Ointment is formulated to ensure penetration of the active constituent, chlorphenesin, to the site of the infection.

Mycil Powder, used alone, prevents reinfection. Because of its adsorptive properties it is useful in combating the effects of excessive perspiration.

Both preparations are non-mercurial and odourless and may be used over long periods, if necessary, without adverse effects.

ACHROMYCIN tetracycline is unsurpassed among broad-spectrum antibiotics. Not only is this true in severe generalised infections but in the strictly localised conditions too, where topical application of the drug can be relied upon to exert intensive antibacterial action—right at the site of infection—with gratifying certainty and with the minimum of side reactions. This valuable property of ACHROMYCIN has led to the formulation of a comprehensive range of topical presentations—each with a well defined place and purpose in general and hospital practice.

DRAMAMINE* IN VERTIGO

Labyrinthine Disturbance

The remarkable relief afforded by Dramamine in motion sickness has led to its effective use in controlling various other clinical conditions characterised by vertigo

Vertigo, it has been claimed,[†] is primarily due to a disturbance of the organs of the body that are responsible for body balance. When the posture of the head is changed, the gelatinous substance in the semi-circular canals begins to flow. This flow initiates neural impulses which are transmitted to the vestibular nuclei and thence to different parts of the body such as the eye muscles, the cerebellum and skeletal muscles, the emetic centre, and the cerebrum. Vertigo may be caused by a disease or abnormal stimuli of any of these tissues involved in the transmission of the vertigo impulse, including the cerebellum and the end organs.

Dramamine's therapeutic efficiency is believed to be the result of suppression of the over-stimulated labyrinth of the inner ear which is the point at which the impulses causing the various disturbances originate. Thus, Dramamine prevents the resulting symptom complex of vertigo, nausea and finally vomiting.

The remarkable relief given by Dramamine in motion sickness led to studies of its value in allied conditions, and it is now widely used for the nausea and vomiting of pregnancy, electro-convulsive therapy, certain drugs and narcotisation; for vestibular dysfunction associated with streptomycin therapy; and for vertigo in Ménières syndrome, hypertensive disease, fenestration procedures, labyrinthitis and radiation sickness.

Dramamine (brand of dimenhydrinate) is supplied in tablets of 50 mg. in bottles of 12, 36, 100, 500 and 1000 tablets and in cartons (10 strips of 10 tablets). Dramamine for injection is available in multidose vials of 5 c.c. containing 250 mg. of Dramamine. G. D. Searle & Co. Ltd., High Wycombe, Bucks. Telephone : High Wycombe 1770.

"an approach to the ideal is provided by a slowly dissolving antacid tablet which is lodged between the gum and cheek. Thus, with each act of swallowing, alkali is carried down over the gullet to the stomach. It is remarkable how little is the quantity needed to depress effectively the concentration (pH) of gastric HCl. The first such tablet ("nulacin"). . . ."

Practitioner, January, 1957.

NULACIN THERAPY —Simple, safe, effective

A Nulacin tablet effectively depresses the concentration of gastric HCl in peptic ulcer and other conditions of hyperacidity. It also provides protection against gastric HCl to the otherwise unprotected oesophageal wall and in such conditions as oesophagitis and hiatus hernia.

SUPPLY. Nulacin tablets may be prescribed on E.C.10. The dispensing pack of 25 tablets is free of Purchase Tax. (Basic price to N.H.S.: 2/-). Also available in tubes of 12.

EMERGENCIES IN GENERAL PRACTICE

by post: inland 26s. 6d., overseas 26s.

This book deals with medical emergencies in a wide sense: acute clinical emergencies requiring prompt and skilful treatment; conditions such as faints and fits and giddy turns, the careful elucidation of which may mean the difference to a patient between a life of activity and one of restriction; acute psychiatric states; accidents of treatment, such as dangerous reactions to drugs or collapse during anaesthesia; and emergency calls when the doctor is isolated, as on a ship.

It comprises 57 specially commissioned articles which appeared originally in the British Medical Journal.

The author of each is an acknowledged authority. This collection, now revised by the authors, will be of value not only to general practitioners but also to senior students, house-physicians, house-surgeons, and to those supervising their work in hospitals.

For patients with marked involvement of trunk and abdominal muscles

Spencer
IS the support of choice

Spencer Supports are therapeutically effective as treatment aid in convalescent and chronic poliomyelitis, especially where there is involvement of trunk and abdominal muscles. The patient pictured at left is a typical example. This female child is shown 16 months following acute poliomyelitis. Note residual paralysis of abdominal muscles, scoliosis, and marked lordosis. Treatment for this patient included Spencer Spinal Support (as shown) to help maintain and correct body alignment and to help prevent further development of deformity. A Spencer abdominal Spring Pad* was incorporated in the support to aid respiration and to compensate for paralysed abdominal muscles.

Spencer is the support of choice because: each Spencer Support is individually designed, cut, and made according to the medical indications for each patient.

The company's products are all ethical and are recognized by the medical profession to be of a high standard. Very extensive research facilities exist in the U.S.

The duties of the Medical Adviser will cover all aspects of the U.K. organization, but the most important functions will be those connected with the clinical investigation of new products and with the medical aspect of questions received on established products. This will entail close liaison with the company's medical staff in the U.S. as well as with leading investigators in the U.K.

The Medical Adviser should have had several years hospital experience and preferably some acquaintance with clinical research. The age limit is 32 to 45 years. The starting salary will be not less than £2,500; other benefits would depend on qualifications and experience and would be the subject of discussion.

- (3) Consultant to the research and pharmaceutical development departments in the initiation of new products.
- (4) Consultant to the sales, advertising, production and quality control departments on all medical matters.

Candidates aged between 35 and 45 years should have, in addition to a medical degree, either (a) a postgraduate degree in one of the basic sciences, or Membership, with four to five years' medical practice, or (b) at least three years' hospital appointments with some background of clinical research, plus four to five years' experience in hospital practice. This strong scientific and medical basis is essential, but a sound commercial sense will also be an important quality in order to effect a smooth co-ordination of the various aspects of the Company's business. Candidates with some few years of hospital or university teaching experience, especially in the postgraduate field, will have an advantage. The position will call for fairly extensive travel within the United Kingdom. The starting salary will be not less than £2,500 per annum.

Candidates are invited to write, in confidence, full details of their career to date, to the Managing Director, Abbott Laboratories Limited, 3, Wadsworth Road, Perivale, Greenford, Middlesex.

It is difficult to obtain therapeutically effective blood levels of theophylline by oral administration of aminophylline. They can, however, be achieved easily and reliably using 'Theodrox' tablets, which combine aminophylline with specially prepared aluminium hydroxide gel. The latter delays hydrolysis of aminophylline, and thereby avoids gastric irritation, an advantage which has been demonstrated by widespread clinical usage. As the aminophylline molecule is unchanged, there is no delay in onset of action, and 'Theodrox' is more effective than simple aminophylline therapy.

'Theodrox' is indicated in bronchial or cardiac asthma. It is also indicated as a diuretic in congestive heart failure, and as supplementary therapy in status asthmaticus and angina pectoris.

Each 'Theodrox' tablet contains gr. 3 aminophylline and gr. 4 dried aluminium hydroxide gel.

'Theodrox' with Phenobarbitone tablets contain in addition gr. 1 phenobarbitone.
