EMERGENCIES IN GENERAL PRACTICE

from the British Medical Journal
470 Pages (cloth bound), with full index

This book deals with medical emergencies in a wide sense; acute clinical emergencies requiring prompt and skilful treatment; conditions such as faints and fits and giddy turns, the careful elucidation of which may mean the difference to a patient between a life of activity and one of restriction; acute psychiatric states; accidents of treatment, such as dangerous reactions to drugs or collapse during anaesthesia; and emergency calls when the doctor is isolated, as on a ship.

It comprises 57 specially commissioned articles which appeared originally in the British Medical Journal.

The author of each is an acknowledged authority. This collection, now revised by the authors, will be of value not only to general practitioners but also to senior students, house-physicians, house-surgeons, and to those supervising their work in hospitals.

PERITRATE
extra protection against angina
of effort

The basic prophylactic dose of Peritrate is one or two tablets four times a day before meals. But one tablet taken half an hour before exertion gives extra protection for stair climbing, walking and the daily rush to and from work. Up to ten extra Peritrate tablets may safely be taken in 24 hours.

Exercise tolerance increased 50 per cent

Exercise tolerance usually improves when Peritrate is administered.^{1,3,6}

Angina patients were required to walk up a 10 per cent gradient at 40 paces per minute. The average number of steps before pain intervened increased from 96 with placebos to 144 with Peritrate. "This represents an improvement of 50 per cent."¹

Twelve patients showed marked and consistent improvement, the smallest increase in exercise tolerance being 90%, while several showed an increase of more than 200% over their basal distance.⁶

N.B.—The patient should not be allowed to interpret his freedom from attacks upon exertion as a signal to undertake strenuous and formerly prohibited exercise. While exercise tolerance tests which measure the patient's ability to walk certain distances show striking improvement, they do not indicate an improved capacity for strenuous or unusual activity.

Other beneficial effects

Apart from reduction in the number and severity of anginal attacks, certain other beneficial effects in various patients have been reported.

It has been reported¹ that "Patients 84, 62, 58 and 53 had less palpitation, especially at night, and were able to sleep on their left side which they had been unable to do . . ."

He would have got to the top ...

"Shortness of breath on effort was less severe in patients 6, 8, 17 and 19."

In another series, "Patients with angina decubitus . . . were pleased with the fact that insomnia due to pain was much reduced and they were able to enjoy reasonably good sleep."

It has been found that, in a combination of angina pectoris and angina cruris, patients "will show improvement in the symptoms of both conditions while under treatment with Peritrate."

Absence of side effects

Peritrate "seems to be virtually free of serious side effects."¹ Indeed, one investigator could find none "which could be unequivocally attributed to the drug."³

Those reactions observed are uncommon and mild, and have rarely been sufficiently severe to require discontinuation of treatment. Nausea (in 4 of 100 patients) and transient headache (4 in 100) both appear to vanish after four or five days therapy. Rarely, a rash may appear, possibly due to drug allergy. About one patient in one hundred cannot tolerate Peritrate.

Methaemoglobinaemia has not been seen in any patient.^{1,3,5}

Contra-Indications

Like all nitrates, Peritrate should be given with caution in patients with glaucoma. Anaemia, however, does not appear to be a contra-indication since methaemoglobinaemia has not occurred during administration of the drug.

Packaging

Peritrate (Pentaerythritol Tetranitrate) is available in 10 mg. tablets in bottles of 50 and 500.

For those patients requiring additional sedation, Peritrate is also available with phenobarbitone gr. $\frac{1}{4}$ in bottles of 50 and 500.

The basic N.H.S. cost of 50 Peritrate tablets is 11d.

The esters of NICOTINIC, SALICYLIC and p-AMINO BENZOIC acids bring relief to cases of arthritis and rheumatism

IN CASES of soft-tissue rheumatism, and arthritic disorders, many doctors are tending more and more to regard Transvasin as an indispensable adjuvant to treatment.

For Transvasin is composed of the esters of nicotinic, salicylic and p-aminobenzoic acids. These esters readily pass the skin barrier in therapeutic quantities, and so enable an effective concentration of drugs to be built up where they are needed.*

Transvasin not only induces vasodilation of the skin with a superficial erythema, but also brings about a deep hyperaemia of the underlying tissues. It is non-irritant and can be safely used on delicate skins.

It is now being widely prescribed, with successful clinical results. Since a very small quantity is sufficient for each application, the cost of treatment is extremely low.

Poliomyelitis-

...an effective pattern of protection

The increasing use of inoculation against Poliomyelitis does not dispense with the necessity for using other proved methods of prevention.

On the contrary—such methods should be more widely and more thoroughly applied.

'In Poliomyelitis epidemics, where a large proportion of the virus hosts are symptomless carriers—a vigorous health education programme.... directed at raising the standards of personal hygiene.... coupled with measures to raise individual resistance to Poliomyelitis virus infection by strengthening active immunity, offers best hope of success.'

For inactivating Poliomyelitis virus, 'Oxidising agents seem to be the most active chemical disinfectants.'

'An oxidising agent of great potency is Domestos which, when used at concentration of from $\frac{1}{4}$ to 2 ozs per gallon, provides a level of available chlorine in the range 150 to 1,200 parts per million—sufficient to inactivate the Poliomyelitis virus.'

A pattern of protection against Polio is assured by using DOMESTOS, which 'destroys Poliomyelitis virus—

(a) For Lavatories. Overnight contact will destroy heavy soiling and give a free residual chlorine content which will inactivate virus contaminants. The exterior of the bowl and the seat which frequently come into contact with the hands of children, should always be washed with a DOMESTOS solution.

Only Nulacin provides intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy for the ambulatory patient

"In view of the ineffectiveness of most of the tableted antacids, the milk alkali tablet (Nulacin) would appear to be the antacid of choice for ambulatory therapy."

(Medical Times 1958, 1, 74)

NULACIN TABLETS have been developed so that when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, they give continuous milk-alkali drip therapy and provide a treatment of peptic ulcer and other conditions associated with hyperacidity. The effectiveness of Nulacin therapy has been established by clinical work in many countries. The following are a few references to the literature:

This special shampoo owes much of its success to the Medical Profession

Just about four years ago, Sebbix shampoo was introduced to the medical profession with marked success. Almost at once, doctors began to recommend Sebbix as a safe, sure means of controlling seborrhæa capitis. Not until it had earned professional acceptance was Sebbix offered to the general public; and only then was it widely and carefully advertised. Today, Sebbix is a respected name in many households, and doctors continue to advise their patients to use this special shampoo—without the need of prescription. As a product which requires no prescription, Sebbix shampoo offers remarkable value both to private and N.H.S. patients. A point worth remembering.

reduces the mean capillary bleeding time

Adrenoxyl is a capillary haemostatic which reduces the mean capillary bleeding time by increasing the contractility and resistance, and decreasing the permeability of the capillary wall.

Reduces capillary oozing

Reports have been received of the value of Adrenoxyl in diminishing capillary oozing both at the time of operation and post-operatively in many types of operation, including ear, nose and throat, ophthalmic, plastic and dental surgery. It has no effect on venous or arterial bleeding.

Safe and free from side-effects

Adrenoxyl is safe, and no side-effects have been reported following its use. It does not affect pulse rate, blood pressure, nor blood coagulation.

Packs

Adrenoxyl is available in ampoules for intramuscular or subcutaneous injection and in tablets for oral administration.

AMPOULES Each 2 ml. ampoule contains 0.75 mg. of adrenochrome monosemicarbazone dihydrate. The ampoules are packed in boxes of 6 and 50.

TABLETS Each tablet contains 2.5 mg. of adrenochrome monosemicarbazone dihydrate. The tablets are packed in tubes of 25 and bottles of 500.

The Pneumotron is an electronically controlled breathing apparatus originally designed for promoting and sustaining breathing in new-born infants, and which has now been developed for treating adult patients. It can be operated as a 'patient triggered' or fully automatic resuscitator. The slightest inspiratory effort of the patient will 'trigger' the apparatus to follow the breathing rate and respiratory pattern of the patient.

The Pneumotron will change over automatically to cycle at a preset rate and pressure should breathing cease altogether. Alternatively, the control can be set at fully automatic to give a continuous breathing cycle.

ST. ANDREW'S HOSPITAL, NORTHAMPTON
for Nervous and Mental Disorders

President: The Earl Spencer. Medical Supt., Thomas Tennent, M.D., F.R.C.P., D.P.H., D.P.M.
This Registered Hospital is situated in 130 acres of park and pleasure grounds. Voluntary patients who are suffering from incipient mental disorders or who wish to prevent recurrent attacks of mental trouble, temporary patients and certified patients of both sexes are received for treatment. Careful clinical, biochemical, bacteriological and pathological examinations. Private rooms with special nurses, male or female, in hospital or in one of the numerous villas in grounds of the various branches can be provided.
MOULTON PARK.—Two miles from the main hospital there are several branch establishments and villas situated in a park and farm of 650 acres. Milk, meat, fruit and vegetables are supplied to the hospital from the farm, gardens and orchards of Moulton Park. Occupational therapy is a feature of this branch and patients are given every facility for occupying themselves in farming, gardening and fruit-growing.

WANTAGE HOUSE.—This is a Reception Hospital in detached grounds with a separate entrance to which patients can be admitted. It is equipped with all the apparatus for the complete investigation and treatment of Mental and Nervous Disorders by the most modern methods; insulin treatment is available for suitable cases. There is an Operating Theatre, a Dental Surgery, an X-ray Room, an Ultra-Violet apparatus, and a department for Diathermy and High-frequency treatment. It also contains laboratories for biochemical, bacteriological and pathological research. Psychotherapeutic treatment is employed when indicated.

BRYN-Y-NEUADD HALL.—The seaside house of St. Andrew's Hospital is beautifully situated in a park of 330 acres at Llanfairfechan amidst the finest scenery in North Wales. On the North-West side of the Estate a mile of sea-coast forms the boundary. Patients may visit this branch for a short seaside change or for longer periods. The hospital has its own private bathing house on the seashore. There is trout-fishing in the park.

At all the branches of the hospital there are cricket grounds, football and hockey grounds, lawn tennis courts (grass and hard courts), croquet grounds, golf courses and bowling greens. Ladies and gentlemen have their own gardens, and facilities are provided for handicrafts such as carpentry, etc. For terms and further particulars apply to the Medical Superintendent (Telephone No.: Northampton 4354 (3 lines)), who can be seen in London by appointment.

Tessalon Perles

Selective inhibition of the cough reflex

Tessalon has a unique mode of action as a cough depressant. It acts both by reducing the sensitivity of the pulmonary stretch receptors which form the starting point of a cough, and by depressing the transmission of afferent cough impulses.

Dose: One 100 mg. Perle (Capsule) 3 or 4 times daily swallowed whole. If necessary this dose may be doubled.
Packages: Perles containing 100 mg. nonaethylene-glycolmonomethylether-p-n-butylamino-benzoate in 25's, 100's, and 500's.
