DULCOLAX

through life...

Five outstanding clinical advantages distinguish Dulcolax suppositories from all other evacuants. They have excited widespread medical interest and approbation in many countries. These features are:—

- Precision—a motion within the hour in most cases.
- A single, gentle motion—not several.
- A physiological action resulting in a soft, formed stool.
- Absolute safety with no danger of systemic side-effects.
- Ability to replace effectively the troublesome enema.

These, together with other clinical advantages, enable Dulcolax suppositories and tablets to be given at all ages from childhood onwards with complete safety. Dulcolax is non-toxic, is not absorbed and produces no undesirable side-effects. Its mere presence in the lumen of the colon induces long, normal peristaltic movements.

throughout the world...

ENGLAND—"Dulcolax... has remarkable properties and stimulates smooth evacuation within half an hour of its insertion into the rectum." Nursing Mirror, 1958, Feb. 21, p. 13.

—"The results with Dulcolax have been gratifying and impressive. The use of this substance has saved much nurses' time, and has spared patients a great amount of apprehension and discomfort." Lancet, 1959, 1, 1173.

—"It needs to be stressed that Dulcolax... cannot satisfactorily be replaced by the less-expensive glycerine pessary." Practitioner, 1959, 182, 728.

GERMANY—"... perfectly capable of replacing the cumbersome enema." Med. Klin., 1953, 48, 1951.

AUSTRIA—"The simplicity of the use... and the time saved compared to enemas is of advantage both for the small patients and for the nurses." Wien. med. Wschr., 1957, 45, 926.

does
'broad spectrum'
comprehensive spectrum?

Not any more. As bacterial resistance to broad-spectrum antibiotics increases, so more and more bacterial strains within the spectrum escape control. In other words, serious blind spots are becoming increasingly evident in the coverage of broad-spectrum antibiotics. This problem is now resolved by ALBAMYCIN T, which combines the broad antibacterial coverage of tetracycline with the complementary bactericidal action of novobiocin. It has been found¹ that in combination, tetracycline and novobiocin are effective against many strains of organisms resistant to either antibiotic given singly. Not only are already-resistant organisms eliminated; the actual development of resistant strains is intercepted. Thus, with ALBAMYCIN T, the coverage is markedly more comprehensive . . . the control more rapid and decisive.

Each 5 cc. teaspoonful of the suspension contains 62.5 mg. novobiocin and 62.5 mg. tetracycline. Bottles of 60 cc.

NICOTINIC, SALICYLIC AND p-AMINOBENZOIC ACIDS in Ester form

IN CASES of soft-tissue rheumatism, and arthritic disorders, many doctors are tending more and more to regard Transvasin as an indispensable adjuvant to treatment.

For Transvasin is composed of the esters of nicotinic, salicylic and p-aminobenzoic acids. These esters readily pass the skin barrier in therapeutic quantities, and so enable an effective concentration of drugs to be built up where they are needed.*

Transvasin not only induces vasodilation of the skin with a superficial erythema, but also brings about a deep hyperaemia of the underlying tissues. It is non-irritant and can be safely used on delicate skins.

It is now being widely prescribed, with successful clinical results. Since a very small quantity is sufficient for each application, the cost of treatment is extremely low.

Although the tuberculous patient may be frequently told that the drugs used to treat him must be taken for a long time and that if he interrupts his treatment it can be dangerous, these instructions are not always taken seriously. Results of recent surveys have shown that thirty to fifty per cent of T.B. patients depart from their treatment schedules.

Deception even by the most trustworthy people is common and it is often very difficult to find out whether or not patients are adhering to their dosage regimens.

Urine tests for PAS are valuable only if they are impromptu and irregular. If the patient realises what is the purpose of the test, he will make sure he takes a dose before coming to the surgery. The health visitor can play a useful part by collecting a specimen at each visit. The visitor can also keep a check on the amount of drugs in the house, and can have prescriptions filled for those unwilling or unable to do so themselves.

Two simple urine tests for PAS.

1. To 5 ml. urine, add 0.5 ml. Ehrlich's aldehyde reagents drop by drop. Shake, and note the precipitate formed. PAS can be detected by the immediate development of a lemon-yellow colour, with an orange or yellow precipitate if there is much PAS (about 1%).

(Lancet, 1956, 2, 552)

2. Dip a strip of blotting paper into the urine to be tested. Drop a single drop of 3% ferric chloride solution on to the wetted blotting paper. A positive reaction is shown by a violet ring round the yellow spot of ferric chloride.

NULACIN "has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer"

"This new method of the administration of antacids (Nulacin) has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer... milk drip is no longer part of our therapeutic stock in trade."

Proc. Roy. Soc. Med., December, 1958, 51, 1063

NULACIN tablets, when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, provide intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy safely and effectively for both the bed-ridden and ambulant patient. They may be relied on to provide a treatment for peptic ulcer as well as other conditions associated with gastric hyperacidity.

The safety and effectiveness of Nulacin therapy has been proven by "in vivo" clinical work carried out in many countries. References to this work include:—

An effective pattern of protection . .

The increasing use of inoculation against Poliomyelitis does not dispense with the necessity for using other proved methods of prevention.

On the contrary—such methods should be more widely and more thoroughly applied.

'In Poliomyelitis epidemics, where a large proportion of the virus hosts are symptomless carriers—a vigorous health education programme . . . directed at raising the standards of personal hygiene . . . coupled with measures to raise individual resistance to Poliomyelitis virus infection by strengthening active immunity, offers best hope of success.'¹

For inactivating Poliomyelitis virus, 'Oxidising agents seem to be the most active chemical disinfectants.'²

'An oxidising agent of great potency is Domestos which, when used at concentration of from $\frac{1}{4}$ to 2 ozs. per gallon, provides a level of available chlorine in the range 150 to 1,200 parts per million—sufficient to inactivate the Poliomyelitis virus.'³

A pattern of protection against Polio is assured by using DOMESTOS, which destroys Poliomyelitis virus—

(a) For Lavatories. Overnight contact will destroy heavy soiling and give a free residual chlorine content which will inactivate virus contaminants. The exterior of the bowl and the seat which frequently come into contact with the hands of children, should always be washed with a DOMESTOS solution.

FROM THE LOMU TRIALS

Retired gateman, aged 69. History of chest troubles over the last ten years; chronic bronchitis 8 years, emphysema six. Treatment: one cartridge of Lomudase in the mornings, 4-6 cartridges of Lomupren during the day. Found no difficulties in using the Lomulizer and had great confidence in its effectiveness. Derived a great improvement in his chest condition and is able to get about without the previous stops for breath. Appetite has improved; sleeps better. Very pleased with his improvement in health.

Chronic Bronchitis

A SEVEN-IN-TEN SUBJECTIVE IMPROVEMENT

A TRIAL IN GENERAL PRACTICE

A general practitioner investigation of the Lomu range of products in the treatment of chronic bronchitis has recently been completed. It involved 206 chronic bronchitic patients and 60 doctors in eight highly industrialised areas of Great Britain and was timed for the spring and early summer of 1959 to ensure that only the more severe cases were treated.

Each practitioner supervised treatment during a six-week period and was asked to summarise weekly such details as ability to expectorate without exhausting cough, reduction of thick viscid sputum and sputum volume, reduction in wheezing and subjective improvement associated with less disturbed sleep, improved effort tolerance and general well-being.

THE RESULTS

- * 58 patients received Lomudase and Lomupren together during the whole six weeks. A satisfactory improvement (taking all aspects of the patient's symptomatology into account) was noted in 84.5%.
- * 72 patients received Lomupren only in the first three weeks and during the next three weeks these patients received both Lomudase and Lomupren. 91.7% showed an overall subjective improvement.
- * Of the 206 patients in the trial, the records of 76 patients could not be fully assessed owing to incomplete information, but on the assessment given 40.8% achieved a satisfactory improvement.

OVERALL IMPROVEMENT

Of the 206 chronic bronchitic cases (including the 76 patients not fully assessed), 70.9% showed an overall clinical improvement. The results indicate that long-term therapy may produce an even more marked improvement.

Lomudase, the first safe and effective mucolytic is a revolutionary and unique presentation of the enzyme chymotrypsin. Each cartridge contains 0.01 Anson units of chymotrypsin and 0.1 mg. of isoprenaline sulphate as an ultra-fine powder, homogeneous by weight, and within a particle size range of 2-6 μ . Lomudase acts specifically on viscid mucus plugs. Liquefaction of the sputum enables the chronic bronchitic to clear his chest of thick tenacious mucus within minutes of application.

Lomupren, is a presentation of the highly efficient bronchodilator, isoprenaline, as an ultra fine powder, homogeneous by weight, within the particle size range of 2-6 μ . Each cartridge contains 0.1 mg. of isoprenaline sulphate and in this unique form, is more effective than 200 times the dose administered sublingually. Side effects with this minute dose are avoided.

The Lomulizer, is a simple yet ingenious pocket dispenser which ensures that the Lomu range of products penetrates in predetermined doses to the distal parts of the respiratory tract. The Lomulizer ensures that each dose of these drugs is only released at the correct point in inspiration, and is distributed throughout the pulmonary tree in the particle size range of 2-6 μ .

Note: A preliminary report of the investigation will be made available to all general practitioners in the near future.

DOSAGE—depends on individual requirements and will vary from time to time in the same patient. When expectoration is difficult, one cartridge of LOMUDASE on waking, and one or two more according to requirements, during any 24-hour period.

When bronchospasm persists, two to four LOMUPREN cartridges, in addition to the Lomudase may be used in 24 hours.

When bronchospasm alone occurs, two to six LOMUPREN cartridges daily as required.

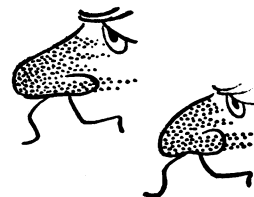

Antihistamines, Antibiotics and Corticosteroids should not be discontinued while justification for their use remains.

Lomu, Lomudase, Lomupren, Lomulizer are trade marks, property of the manufacturers.

The high dose of ergotamine, 2 mgm., contained in each 'Migril' tablet effectively averts a migraine attack in the majority of cases. Nausea and vomiting, whether due to the migraine or to the ergotamine, are prevented by the cyclizine hydrochloride in the tablet. 'Migril', which also includes caffeine, should be taken whenever premonitory signs indicate the onset of a migraine attack.

Why TWO oral diuretics?

Can't think why the 'SALURIC' people brought out 'HydroSALURIC'.

Oh, I use both in my practice.

Both? The last time we met you used nothing but 'SALURIC'. Changed your mind?

Not in the least! All my patients are still on 'SALURIC' alone, except a couple who have needed an occasional injection of mersalyl. I have changed these two to 'HydroSALURIC' and they've not needed any further injections.

I've only one patient like that. I'll try this 'HydroSALURIC'.

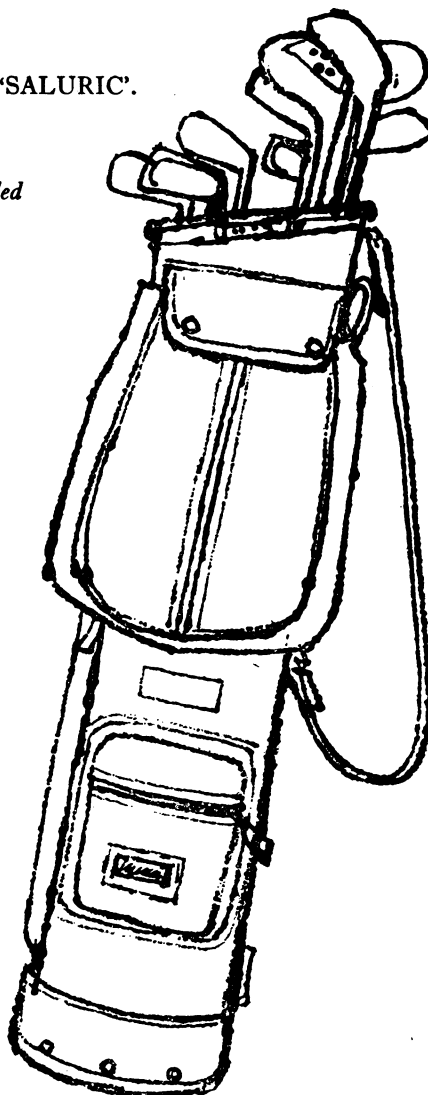

Yes, do! Borrow my dosage card. I prefer to give it Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Keeps them comfortable all week and they don't "fill-up" and call me out of bed in a hurry.

My Consultant told me they rarely see that type of case now, thanks to 'SALURIC'. It has changed the whole of diuretic therapy, especially for the G.P.

SAFETY with EFFICIENCY in antiseptics

Long and comprehensive experience has fully demonstrated the value of Dettol in general practice, obstetrics and surgery.

It is well-tolerated on the skin and tissues in high concentrations.

It is an efficient bactericide:—

Dettol will destroy the following organisms in 10 minutes at 20 degrees C. in the dilutions given:—

Staph. aureus:	1 in 200
S. typhi:	1 in 350
Strept. pyogenes:	1 in 500
Bact. coli:	1 in 250
Ps. pyocyanea:	1 in 40
Myco. tuberculosis:	1 in 200
Sh. shigae:	1 in 400

Different strains can vary widely in resistance, but the figures quoted are representative.

Dettol efficiency is well maintained in the presence of organic material.

A dilution of 1 in 50 will kill Staph. aureus in the presence of 25% blood in 5 minutes.

It is compatible with soap.

“Unlike the other antiseptics, Dettol appeared to have its activity increased by the presence of soap, and against Staph. pyogenes the effect was one of true synergism.” (British Medical Journal, 28th July, 1956).

It is non-poisonous.

It does not stain linen, etc.

It is stable in solution.

For pre-operative skin preparations—Surgical Dettol, Orange, Blue or colourless.

For obstetrics and prevention of cross-infection—Dettol Antiseptic Cream.

For instrument disinfection—Instrument Dettol.

does
comprehensive spectrum?

Not any more. As bacterial resistance to broad-spectrum antibiotics increases, so more and more bacterial strains within the spectrum escape control. In other words, serious blind spots are becoming increasingly evident in the coverage of broad-spectrum antibiotics. This problem is now resolved by ALBAMYCIN T, which combines the broad antibacterial coverage of tetracycline with the complementary bactericidal action of novobiocin. It has been found¹ that in combination, tetracycline and novobiocin are effective against many strains of organisms resistant to either antibiotic given singly. Not only are already-resistant organisms eliminated; the actual development of resistant strains is intercepted. Thus, with ALBAMYCIN T, the coverage is markedly more comprehensive . . . the control more rapid and decisive.

Each 5 cc. teaspoonful of the suspension contains 62.5 mg. novobiocin and 62.5 mg. tetracycline. Bottles of 60 cc.

‘Ferroids’, the new iron preparation of superb quality, raises haemoglobin levels rapidly, effectively and with the utmost freedom from gastro-intestinal upset.

‘Ferroids’ removes the uncertainty as to whether a poor response to iron therapy is due to inadequate utilisation or to the patient’s failure to take a dose. ‘Ferroids’ will not cause gastro-intestinal discom-

The patient will return to the doctor satisfied with the treatment that is prescribed.

The prescribing of ‘Ferroids’ has a negligible effect on prescription costs. BEMAX
STABILIZED WHEAT GERM

Of all natural vitamin-protein-mineral supplements the richest is wheat germ. Bemax is simply stabilized wheat germ containing the vitamins of the B complex, vitamin E, iron and trace elements and 27 per cent protein. It offers easily digested nutritional support for patients of all ages.

VITAMINS LIMITED

(DEPT. A.3)
UPPER MALL, LONDON, W.6.DOCTORS AND BEMAX . . .

At the Annual General Meeting of Vitamins Limited, the Chairman, Mr. H. C. H. Graves, said that net Group profit (after taxation) was £177,129, (£146,161). Ordinary dividend was 25 per cent (20 p.c.).

The year had been one of consolidation, a year in which the Company had improved the productivity of existing processes rather than starting new ones; cemented relations with old friends rather than wooing new ones.

The £100,000 of Notes issued in 1949 were repaid on 1st October, 1959.

They had recently acquired the freehold of their Hammersmith premises and a further 150 acres at Walton Oaks. The Keynsham and Chester premises were already their own freehold property. The Crawley factory was held on a 99-year lease with 91 years unexpired.

They had pioneered in both research into fundamental knowledge and its practical application. They were actively developing overseas branches, some in "under-developed" areas of the world, where the need for specialised knowledge of human and animal nutrition was great and where opportunities for growth over the next quarter of a century might well be considerable.

For the reasons indicated, further finance was required and shareholders were about to be offered the right to subscribe for 455,200 new Ordinary shares at 20s. each in the proportion of one for every five held.

He had referred, for a number of years past, to the National Health Service and additionally campaigned for steps to be taken for a better understanding by the nation as a whole and in particular of those responsible for the formation of national policy, of the achievements of the Pharmaceutical Industry and of its immense contribution to national health and well-being.

It was apparently one thing to have one's probable life span extended from 45 years—as it was at the beginning of the century—to 70 years, as it is now, and quite another to be expected to pay 5d. a week to cover the cost of the necessary drugs and medicines which that extension entailed.

He was happy to say that the nutritional science which had contributed so greatly to the prolongation of life, could also contribute powerfully to the enjoyment of those bonus years. Within the last few months they had placed at the disposal of the medical profession, under the name of JUVEL, a preparation—and a remarkably inexpensive preparation—embodying in a convenient form for elderly people, the quintessence of nutritional wisdom on the needs of the declining years—the responsible years for some—the 'leisured years for others.

The product had received a more than ready acceptance by the medical profession.

It was gratifying to note that great as were the advances in the knowledge of scientific nutrition, the role of Bemax as the best-known vitamin-mineral-protein food in the world continued to be appreciated and taken advantage of by doctors and dieticians, by nurses and mothers as it had been for over thirty years.

The Report and Accounts were adopted.

DISTAVAL

“BARBITURATE DEATHS INCREASING”

Under this warning headline the British Medical Journal, in an editorial of October 17th 1959, draws attention to the increasing number of deaths by poisoning, once again emphasising “that barbiturates are the most prominent group of drugs causing these deaths.” How great the increase has been in recent years can be seen from the latest available figures, which show that 75% of suicidal deaths due to drugs and 80% of all accidental deaths by poisoning are caused by barbiturates. From these facts it is evident, the article concludes, that the barbiturates present a hazard that the existing precautions against overdosing have not overcome and that “the increasing number of these deaths would suggest that something more is needed.”

A SAFE ALTERNATIVE

A letter to the British Medical Journal (October 3rd 1959) from a General Practitioner, suggests that the new non-barbituric drug 'Distaval' seems to be "a satisfactory sedative and hypnotic in many patients" and that its use "might go a long way towards reducing the present annual mortality from overdoses of the central nervous system depressants currently prescribed." In support of this view the writer gives the following case history:

A 70-year-old man, suffering from insomnia associated with mild senile dementia, took twenty-one 100 mg. tablets by mistake. No specific treatment was given, there was no vomiting or evidence of respiratory or cardiac depression. After 12 hours apparently normal sleep the patient woke up, remaining a little drowsy for a further 24 hours.

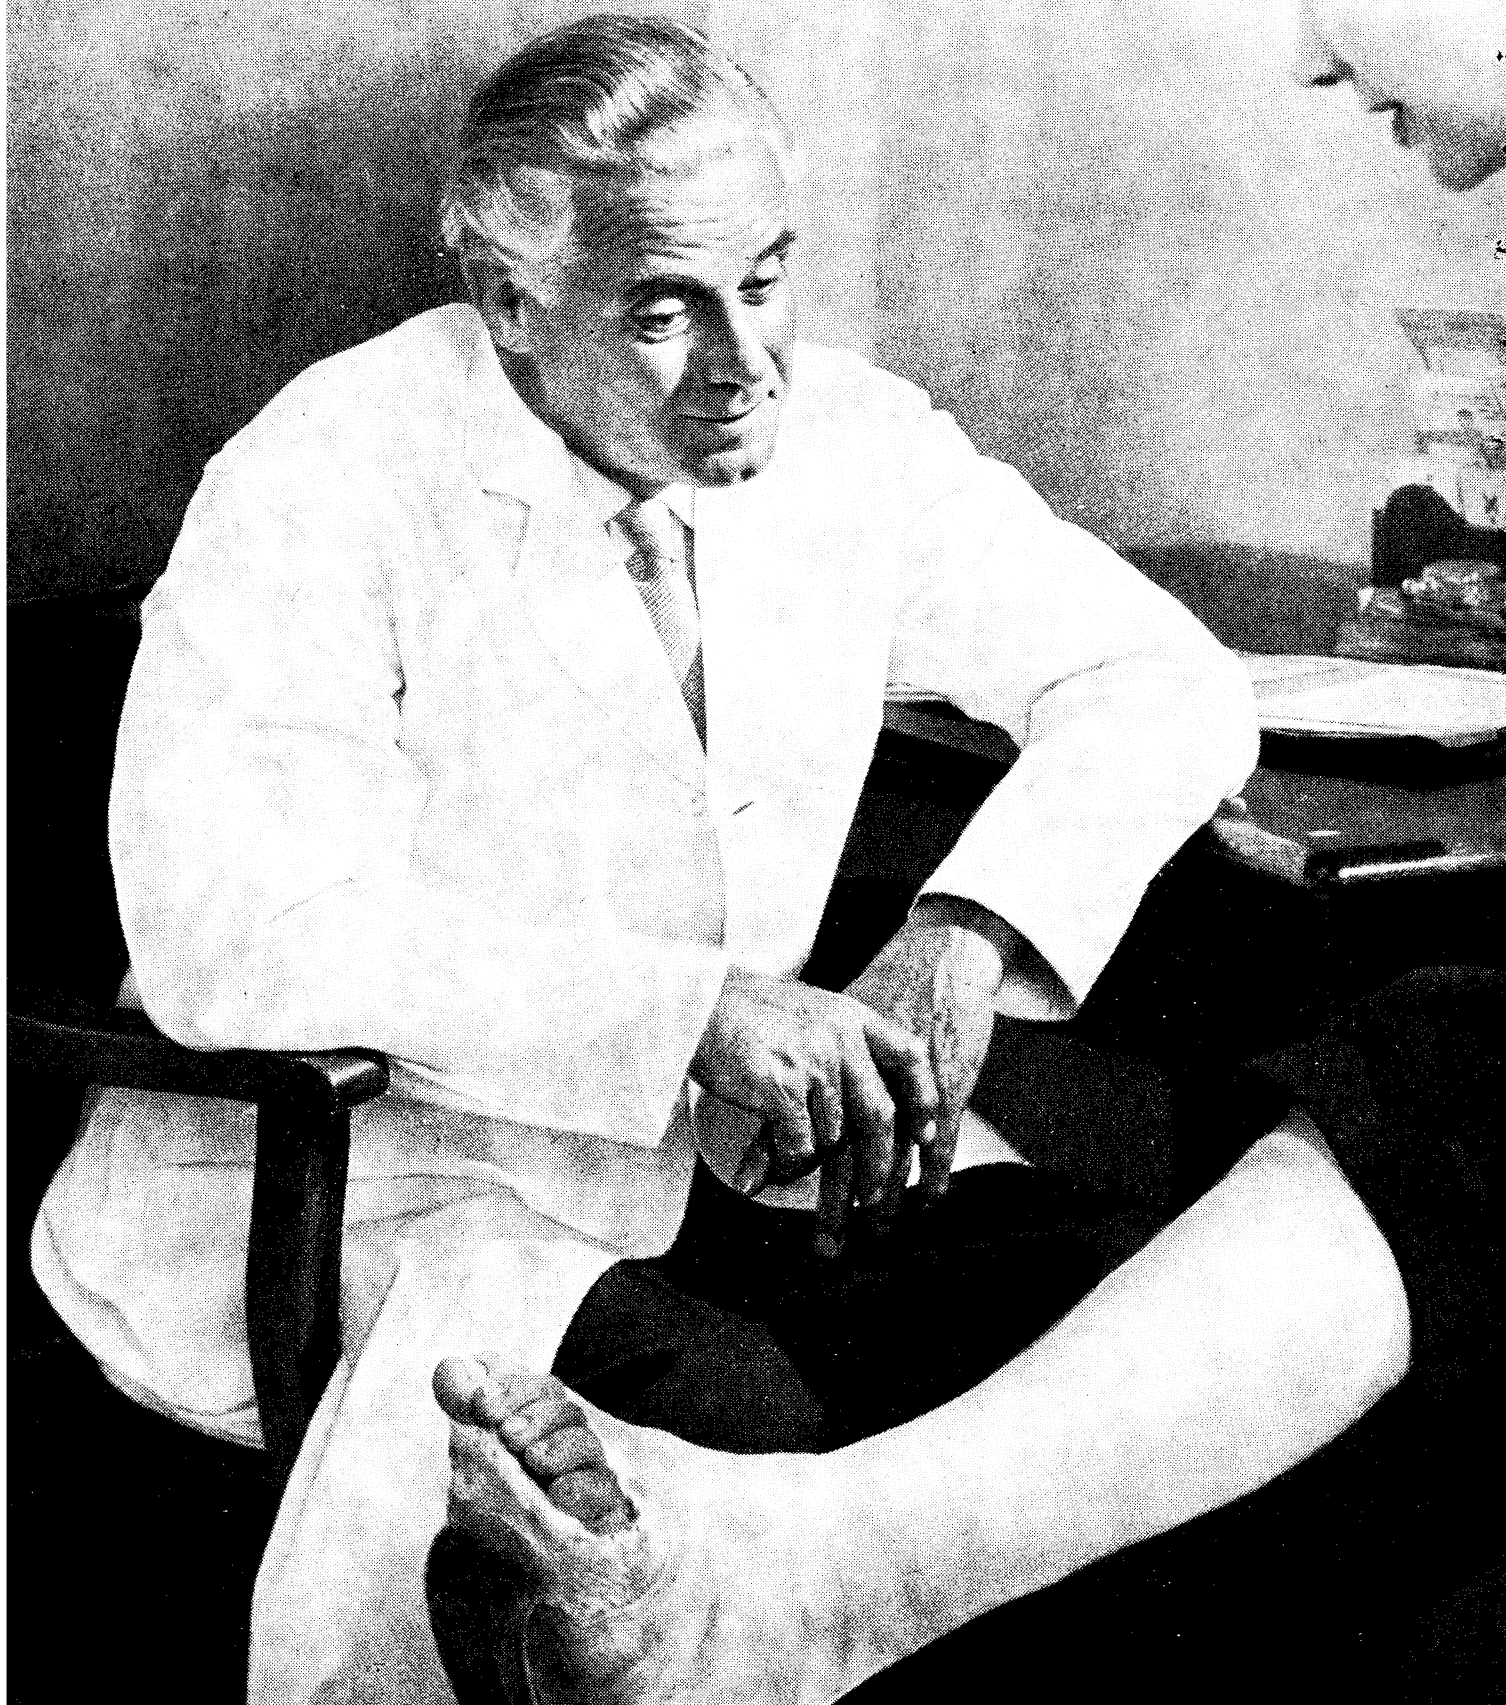

Since the introduction of 'Distaval' two years ago a number of reports have been received of cases of gross overdosing with similarly harmless results. On the other hand, no severe toxic effects of any kind have been reported.

COMMERCIAL APPOINTMENTSMEDICAL SERVICES MANAGER
RIKER

We invite applications for the newly created post of Medical Services Manager. The successful applicant will be expected to advise the Company on the uses and applications of its products, and to make his own contributions to the formulation and development of new products. He will also be responsible for organizing and setting up clinical trials of established and experimental products. Age is not important, although it is unlikely that a person below the age of 30 would have sufficient experience of the kind we need.

Whilst a medical qualification is desirable, it is not absolutely essential if a degree in a biological science is held and the experience is right. Some knowledge in planning and setting up controlled clinical trials would be an advantage, as would be a better than average knowledge of modern therapeutic agents and their uses.

We are looking for a man of enthusiasm and ability who is prepared to travel about the country, who can develop his own ideas into worthwhile projects, and who can make a real contribution to the progress of the Company.

Salary and working conditions are appropriate to the importance of the position. Applications should be made in writing, in the first instance, to the General Sales Manager, Riker Laboratories Limited, Morley Street, Loughborough, Leicestershire.
