

Have you received your copy of MODERN CONTRACEPTIVE TECHNIQUE?

This practical manual on contraception has already proved invaluable to many doctors in advising their patients. It presents a concise and compact survey of methods commonly used, together with notes on methods which have medical approval, and also on others which are medically contra-indicated. If you have not yet received a copy, you are invited to write for one now.

The case against 'natural' methods

Medical opinion generally agrees that the practice of so-called "natural" methods of contraception (coitus interruptus, coitus reservatus, etc.) can have an adverse effect on physical and mental health. One of the principal reasons why these unreliable methods are used is the slight loss of sensitivity experienced with protectives (condoms).

This problem has now been almost entirely overcome by the introduction of Durex Gossamer, a new kind of lubricated protective. Durex Gossamer, is treated with Sensitol, "a non-wet, non-messy" lubricant which substantially increases the level of sensitivity. Samples of Durex Gossamer protectives on request.

HASTINGS AND ST. LEONARDS

are what the doctor might order

Hastings is one of the nearest places to London that combines a mild climate with complete absence of smog, plus excellent hotels—and the peace and quiet a convalescent needs.

A patient can hardly fail to benefit by (literally) a 'breather' at Hastings. There is, on average, 400 hours more sunshine a year than in London. There are cleverly designed suntrap shelters on the

the whole town. As a spot for

FRAMYGEN CREAM

FRAMYCORT LOTION

NEW FRAMYCORT OINTMENT

Framycetin is highly effective against most of the organisms that commonly cause skin infections—including staphylococci resistant to other antibiotics. For simple infections FRAMYGEN CREAM (Framycetin alone in a cream base) is indicated. When infection and skin reaction are both present, use FRAMYCORT LOTION or NEW FRAMYCORT OINTMENT. Both present Framycetin with hydrocortisone, in a lotion or greasy base.

enterology

NEW ENTERFRAM

Framycetin is the ideal antibiotic for use in enterology. Its wide spectrum covers the organisms normally responsible for gut infections, including staphylococci resistant to other antibiotics. Available evidence shows that it is not absorbed from the gut, and patient sensitivity and bacterial resistance are virtually unknown.

ENTERFRAM presents Framycetin with Light Kaolin BP in a pleasantly flavoured vehicle. ENTERFRAM is highly effective in the treatment of diarrhoea, particularly in children.

sleep

MELSEDIN—methaqualone hydrochloride—is a new non-barbiturate hypnotic which produces natural sleep and is often effective where other hypnotics have failed. Melsedin is of low toxicity, quick-acting—within 15-30 minutes—and its effect lasts for 6-8 hours. Side effects are negligible; rapid excretion obviates cumulative effects, and neither tolerance nor addiction has been demonstrated in Melsedin therapy.

Melsedin is an entirely new product chemically unrelated to all other hypnotics. It is the ideal alternative to barbiturates in the treatment of insomnia.

DOSEAGE: A dose of 150 mg. 15-30 minutes before retiring will usually be sufficient. In some cases, a dose of 300 mg. may be necessary at first, reducing later as the condition responds.

Many clinical trials have shown its efficacy.

DOSAGE The normal dosage, which may be safely increased if desired, is 1-4 tablets, each tablet containing 120 mg. of β -monohydroxypropyltheophylline, 3 or 4 times a day. For emergencies BRONTYL is available in 2 ml. ampoules which contain 300 m.g. B.H.T. It may be given intravenously or intramuscularly.

Basic N.H.S. price in the United Kingdom: 25 tablets 3/6d, 100 tablets 10/6d, 5 x 2 cc ampoules 5/-. Brontyl is exempt from purchase tax. Samples and literature will be gladly sent on application.

NULACIN "has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer"

"This new method of the administration of antacids (Nulacin) has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer... milk drip is no longer part of our therapeutic stock in trade."

PROC. ROY. SOC. MED., Digestion, 1958, 51, 1069

NULACIN tablets, when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, provide intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy safely and effectively for both the bed-ridden and ambulant patient. They may be relied on to provide a treatment for peptic ulcer as well as other conditions associated with gastric hyperacidity.

The safety and effectiveness of Nulacin therapy has been proven by "in vivo" clinical work carried out in many countries. References to this work include:

FOR SUPPRESSION OF

severe cough

'PHYSEPTONE' LINCTUS has a direct suppressive action on the cough reflex. It is especially valuable in such conditions as bronchiectasis, pertussis, post-influenzal tracheitis, chronic passive pulmonary congestion, pulmonary tuberculosis, and other conditions requiring a powerful cough suppressant.

'PHYSEPTONE' LINCTUS is not constipating, and seldom causes other side-reactions. Although subject to D.D.A., the Linctus in therapeutic doses carries negligible risk of addiction since only a small amount of the drug is contained in such doses.

'PHYSEPTONE' LINCTUS contains 2 mgm. of methadone hydrochloride in each fluid drachm (the recommended adult dose). For children it should be diluted with simple syrup in the proportion of one part linctus and seven parts syrup—one to two teaspoonfuls (0.25—0.5 mgm.) of this diluted linctus to be given according to the age of the child.

LAEVORAL

LAEVULOSE has been reported to have advantages over glucose as a carbohydrate supportive therapy in conditions of metabolic stress. Owing to new and more economical methods of processing, this useful carbohydrate is now available for general clinical use as sterile pyrogen-free solutions for intravenous injections and as a concentrate of 65% for oral administration.

The Fundamentals of Laevulose Therapy

LAEVULOSE enters the energy releasing system more directly than glucose and is metabolized independently of insulin.

The liver synthesizes 35-40% of glycogen from LAEVULOSE, but only 12% from glucose.

In animal experiments the severely damaged liver is still capable of utilizing LAEVULOSE when it can no longer utilize glucose.

LAEVULOSE has a protein-sparing action in cases of traumatic shock or severe infection. High concentrations of LAEVULOSE may be injected with little risk of vein damage.

It produces blood level peaks two to three times as high as those following oral potassium penicillin V, and at least equal to those following intramuscular injections of penicillin G.

how broad is a 'broad spectrum'?

That is no longer the real issue. Today the effectiveness of an antibiotic cannot be assessed on the breadth of its activity. Many strains of the organisms within the spectrum have developed resistance, thus much of the once formidable coverage of broad-spectrum antibiotics is now nullified. This problem is effectively answered by ALBAMYCIN T. Not only does ALBAMYCIN T exert the broad antibacterial activity of tetracycline; it reinforces, intensifies and complements that coverage with the bactericidal action of novobiocin.

Studies¹ confirm that, combined as they are in ALBAMYCIN T, tetracycline and novobiocin are effective against many bacterial strains resistant to either substance used alone. It is this effective comprehensive coverage that ensures a more rapid, more certain response with ALBAMYCIN T.

Each 5 cc. teaspoonful of the suspension contains 62.5 mg. novobiocin and 62.5 mg. tetracycline. Bottles of 60 cc.

for the control of hypertension

'Perolysen', the newest ganglion blocking agent synthesised in the M&B research laboratories, has an autonomic ganglion blocking action resembling that of mecamlamine, but of shorter duration. It is devoid of other pharmacological actions in the dosages used clinically.

The moderate duration of action ensures that any necessary dosage modifications are rapidly effective.

'Perolysen' is presented as tablets of 1 mg., 5 mg. and 10 mg.

THEIR VIEWS COUNT

◀ Patrick Mennem, DAILY MIRROR

The Triumph Herald saloon—"I cruised in it without fuss at 65 m.p.h. and still had 10 m.p.h. in hand . . . It is easy to handle . . ."

◀ Keith Challen, NEWS OF THE WORLD

"After testing the new Triumph Herald over the mountain roads of County Kerry I can say . . . this car captured my enthusiasm immediately. This coupé version is one of the prettiest I've seen."

◀ Gordon Wilkins, OBSERVER

The Triumph Herald—"I do not know any other small car which offers such a combination of riding comfort and road holding."

◀ Basil Cardew, DAILY EXPRESS

The Triumph Herald—"Over the mountain-roads and cart-tracks the Herald behaved like a sports car in road-holding and sureness of steering touch. Put that down to the four-wheel independent suspension."

◀ H. Mundy, THE AUTOCAR

The Triumph Herald—"This is one of the most exciting specifications to come from any of the larger manufacturers for some time, and seems assured of a good reception in world markets. It shows an appreciation of future needs, incorporating many of the features which home and overseas buyers are coming to expect."

◀ Charles Fothergill, DAILY SKETCH

The Triumph Herald—"Extremely slim front and rear pillars, high wide-curved windscreen and large windows giving greater visibility."

◀ Ian Nickols, SUNDAY TIMES

The Triumph Herald—"This is not merely a revolutionary car in respect of design, but it is thoroughly practical and it works very well."

◀ Courtenay Edwards, DAILY MAIL

The Triumph Herald—"I liked these things about the new Triumph: sophisticated good looks; parkability; light, positive steering; and business-like brakes."

An effective pattern of protection . .

The increasing use of inoculation against Poliomyelitis does not dispense with the necessity for using other proved methods of prevention.

On the contrary—such methods should be more widely and more thoroughly applied.

'In Poliomyelitis epidemics, where a large proportion of the virus hosts are symptomless carriers—a vigorous health education programme . . . directed at raising the standards of personal hygiene . . . coupled with measures to raise individual resistance to Poliomyelitis virus infection by strengthening active immunity, offers best hope of success.'¹

For inactivating Poliomyelitis virus, 'Oxidising agents seem to be the most active chemical disinfectants.'²

'An oxidising agent of great potency is Domestos which, when used at concentration of from $\frac{1}{4}$ to 2 ozs. per gallon, provides a level of available chlorine in the range 150 to 1,200 parts per million—sufficient to inactivate the Poliomyelitis virus.'³

A pattern of protection against Polio is assured by using DOMESTOS, which destroys Poliomyelitis virus—

(a) For Lavatories. Overnight contact will destroy heavy soiling and give a free residual chlorine content which will inactivate virus contaminants. The exterior of the bowl and the seat which frequently come into contact with the hands of children, should always be washed with a DOMESTOS solution.

(b) For the disinfection and cleaning of dishes, floors, kitchen surfaces, sinks, etc.

(c) For safeguarding against the infection of food by bluebottles, flies, vermin.

(d) For the disinfection of yards, paths, etc.

(e) For the disinfection and cleaning of clogged drains.

Availability of Vitamins in Yeast

Deficiencies of single factors of the Vitamin B Group do not occur. Accordingly, even if a deficiency condition appears to result from the lack of an individual factor of the group and it is considered necessary to give intensive treatment with this factor, the entire Vitamin B Complex should always be administered concurrently.

It is, however, extremely important, in view of suggestions in recent publications, that the vehicle selected as a source of the entire B Complex does not withhold its vitamin content from the patient.

Human experiments show that the rich, natural vitamin potency of Aluzyme is totally available to the human system.

- Aluzyme is not advertised to the public and may be prescribed on Form E.C.10
