Nurses and doctors are well aware of the surgical and clinical uses of Dettol. In the great majority of hospital and maternity wards it is used and trusted.

But the value of Dettol goes far beyond the walls of medical and surgical establishments and specifically medical work.

Dettol can be used at all times with perfect safety and confidence by everyone. Indeed, its daily use throughout the home is an effective help against infection.

Dettol is recommended and widely used for the disinfection of all sick room appliances and utensils; for soaking handkerchiefs during times of colds and influenza, and for general personal hygiene. As a household antiseptic and germicide, Dettol is the ideal combination of safety and germ-killing power.

To nurses themselves, Detto¹ protection against the daily 11sks of their work.

dramatic clinical results in psoriasis

Patient M. Adult male. Alphosyl treatment initiated 7/6/58. Definite improvement observed with complete cessation of scaling by 4/8/58. Treatment continued until lesions cleared 6/12/58.

Patient J. Adult female. Total body psoriasis of several years' duration. Alphosyl started 22/1/58. Lesions practically clear by 5/3/58.

Controlled Tests

75-100% clearances

Impressive clinical results in the treatment of Psoriasis by ALPHOSYL continue to be recorded, and indicate most strongly that this allantoin-coal tar combination deserves a trial in all cases of:

- total scalp-to-toe psoriasis
- psoriasis of many years' duration
- psoriasis involving tender areas
- psoriasis refractory to all previous treatment

The most recent controlled study, of a group of 62 patients, shows that in 55 cases (89%) psoriatic lesions were cleared 75-100%, and nearly half of them were "completely cleared." In ALPHOSYL, for the first time, are presented in combination two powerful and proved healing agents: allantoin and a specially refined coal tar extract. The synergistic effects of these medicaments result in rapid clearance of the condition and positive stimulation of the healing process. ALPHOSYL is notably safe to use and promotes no irritation or tolerance. It is a non-greasy, non-staining lotion vanishing on application to the skin and is thus a welcome advance cosmetically.

alphosyl

FORMULA: Special coal tar extract 5% and allantoin 2% in a smooth, non-greasy lotion base.

CLINICAL CHILD PSYCHIATRY

By KENNETH SODDY M.D., D.P.M.

Physician, Department of Psychological Medicine, and Lecturer in Child Psychiatry in the Medical School of University College Hospital, London; Scientific Director, World Federation for Mental Health; lately Medical Director, Child Guidance Training Centre, London.

The standard literature of medicine has neglected modern ideas on child psychiatry and the new clinical attitudes attached to it. In an effort to rectify this omission, the author describes what he has seen and heard in over twenty years of practice in child psychiatry and suggests some guide-lines for developing systems of aetiology and diagnosis.

The cases of about one hundred children and their families have been selected to illustrate a representative range of problems commonly encountered in child guidance practice.

SOCIAL REHABILITATION OF THE SUBNORMAL

By H. C. GUNZBURG M.A., Ph.D., F.B.Ps.S.

Consultant Psychologist; Director of Psychological Services, Monyhull Hospital, Birmingham.

This book is concerned with the problem of the subnormal adult person who has become a social failure and indicates, in practical terms, what can be done to give such people a better chance of successful adjustment to the demands of society when they leave an institution after a period of training and treatment.

It deals with that type of subnormal, the dullard, who has, so far, received scanty treatment in textbooks and reflects the realistic optimism now characteristic of many progressive institutions.

the modern approach

A. E. CLARK-KENNEDY & C. W. BARTLEY

This is an outstanding and exciting new book which at last breaks new ground in the literature of medical education. It provides a readable and practical account of human disease and its symptomatology and of the basic principles underlying clinical diagnosis, prevention and treatment. Here the reader is freed from the textbook-compendium of solid information and given an understandable interpretation of the nature of ill-health. Dr. Clark-Kennedy is a well-known and wise clinical teacher who knows well the needs of the student reader; Dr. Bartley is in touch with the growing points of modern medicine and provides the contemporary scientific influence to the text. This is a book which no student should miss.

Excerpt from "Chlorpromazine and Schizophrenia - The Role of the General Practitioner." The Practitioner, 184, 333-344, 1960.

"... Schizophrenic patient seldom manifest serious sideeffects on this dosage (100 mg. t.d.s.)...
Chlorpromazine... has received a thorough assessment and it seems that at present it may be considered the most reliable drug to use in the majority of cases. Even if the other drugs do prove successful, it is probable that some patients will respond better to chlorpromazine than anything else,
and because of this it is likely to be of use to general practitioners for at least some time to come."

Neo-NaClex

the one-dose-daily diuretic

Neo-NaClex (bendrofluazide) is an oral diuretic sufficiently potent and long lasting to give effective treatment with a single dose daily. In practice one 5 mg Neo-NaClex tablet daily could replace, for example, a twice daily dosage of 50 mg hydrochlorothiazide or two 500 mg chlorothiazide tablets daily. One dose of Neo-NaClex produces over twelve hours diuresis. Yet it is relatively free from significant side-effects and has minimum likelihood of causing potassium loss.

You can use Neo-NaClex for every diuretic purpose. Start treatment with one 5 mg tablet daily at breakfast. Leave a three day interval between each week of treatment. Start maintenance with one 2.5 mg tablet daily. Eventually one dose weekly may suffice. Of course, dosage will be varied to suit the individual. The once daily dosage of Neo-NaClex greatly reduces cost of treatment.

So for effective, economical diuresis from a single dose daily remember this newest oral diuretic.

Oxygenaire

HEAD OFFICE: 8 DUKE STREET, WIGMORE STREET, LONDON W.1. WELbeck 4477

THE "VENTURI" MASK

The Oxygenaire "Venturi" Mask has been designed to give accurate control of oxygen concentration so that it does not rise high enough to allow serious respiratory depression or fall low enough to permit recurrence or increase of anoxia. Controlled oxygen concentrations in the range of 24-35% with an accuracy of $\pm\,1\%$ (i.e. ± 7 mm. Hg PO₂) are obtainable.

A double supply of oxygen enters the mask from the oxygen cylinder. Economical rates of flow may vary from 2-6 L.P.M. One oxygen jet is set to deliver a constant flow of oxygen (1.8 L.P.M.) and entrains air into the mask at a constant rate of 50 L.P.M. This high rate of flow minimises the accumulation of CO₂ in the face mask, thus effectively removing all dead space.

The second supply of oxygen increases the oxygen concentration to the desired percentage.

The unit is supplied complete with a specially calibrated dual-supply regulator.

THE SAFETY DISPOSABLE-FACE-MASK

Oxygen on entering the mask, at a flow of 2 or more litres per minute, will inflate a cuff which will conform to any facial structure, giving air cushion comfort even over a prolonged period of administration.

Should the supply of oxygen fail, the cuff will immediately deflate, giving visual indication to patient and nursing staff of oxygen failure and allowing unrestricted inspiration of room atmosphere.

Kinking or creasing of the bag will NOT impede continuous supply of Oxygen.

Ideally suited for either hospital or domiciliary use, the patient may carry on conversation without difficulty while wearing the mask. Made of polyvinyl chloride, the mask is designed to conserve oxygen and at the same time allow ease of respiration.

Available in three sizes (small, medium and large) and packed for convenience in boxes of 12 and 50.

CLOREVAN

A NEW PRODUCT FOR THE TREATMENT OF PARKINSONISM

Chlorphenoxamine has a potent, yet gentle, muscle relaxant action which permits of greater freedom, strength and confidence of movement. It helps alleviate tiredness, weakness and so-called "inner" tension and this is probably related to its mildly energising or stimulating action.

DOSAGE:-

One or two tablets two or three times daily will normally suffice.

PRESENTATION:-

CLOREVAN is available in tablets of 50 mg. in containers of 100.

"Because chlorphenoxamine is a nontoxic compound and because it affords relief to 53% of patients who were insufficiently helped by current remedies, it is a worthy addition to the armamentarium of preparations for paralysis agitans."

Inoculation against Poliomyelitis does not dispense with the necessity for using other proved methods of prevention.

On the contrary, such methods should be more widely and more thoroughly applied.

- A pattern of protection against Polio is assured by using DOMESTOS, which destroys Poliomyelitis virus—
- (a) For Lavatories. Overnight contact will destroy heavy soiling and give a free residual chlorine content which will inactivate virus contaminants. The exterior of the bowl and the seat which frequently come into contact with the hands—particularly with children—should always be washed with a domestos solution.
- (b) For the disinfection and cleaning of dishes, floors, kitchen surfaces, sinks, etc.
- (c) For safeguarding against the infection of food by bluebottles, flies and vermin.
 - (d) For the disinfection of yards, paths, etc.
 - (e) For the disinfection and cleaning of drains.

'In Poliomyelitis epidemics, where a large proportion of the virus hosts are symptomless, a vigorous health education programme... directed at raising the standards of personal hygiene... coupled with measures to raise individual resistance to Poliomyelitis virus infection by strengthening active immunity, offers best hope of success.' (1)

For inactivating Poliomyelitis virus, 'Oxidising agents seem to be the most active disinfectant chemicals.' (2)

'An oxidising agent of great potency is Domestos which, when used at concentration of from ½ to 2 ozs. per gallon, provides a level of available chlorine in the range 150 to 1,200 parts per million—sufficient to inactivate the Poliomyelitis virus.' (3)

the new magic of Malta

The world's newest, year-round Mediterranean playground

There's an accent on relaxation in Malta—where a holiday inspires the feeling that one has at last got away from it all. Perhaps that is why it is becoming increasingly fashionable among people in search of a changing rhythm from the hurly-burly of life. Possibly the scenery accounts for it—the sands are whiter, the skies bluer, the sea warmer. Or it could be the year-round sunshine. Of course there's the kind of sport that helps one to limber up in a way all of us would like to—effortlessly. Or can we ascribe Malta's popularity to 'atmosphere'—an atmosphere fostered by the cultural legacies of civilizations going back 5000 years. In the silver shadows of its cathedrals and grand palaces history does seem to come alive.

When you recommend a rest, recommend Malta—In fact, take a trip there yourself sometime.

Putting the gods in their place

You may take a delight in the doings on Mount Olympus, but if you leave your terms of reference littered all over the lounge you'll bring down the wrath of your own bright-eyed Athene and find a Greek tragedy being enacted in your own home. What you need is a temple which can be devoted to your favourite gods. The word for your Greeks is Minty.

Minty bookcases are designed on classical lines, built to last and capable of expanding to enshrine every inhabitant of the Olympian community. Behind their sliding glass doors Zeus and his many relations can be housed in dust-free comfort, and the tidiness which your wife regards as a myth can become a happy fact.

Minty sectional bookcases can be started from as little as £,10.16.od—on deferred terms if you wish. You can see and buy them (together with Minty furniture) only at Minty Centres. These Centres are situated so that Minty is within reasonably easy reach of most people, but if for any reason you can't call, Minty will be glad to send you catalogues and full details of ordering by post. "What! Me old fashioned?"

I may look a bit of an antique but when it comes to making barley water, my method is right up to date. None of that old pearl barley, stew-and-strain business for me: I use Robinson's 'patent' Barley. Why, sir, it is simplicity itself; just like making cocoa. A couple of minutes is all the time it takesand time counts when there's an invalid to look after. Robinson's is economical too-a $1/7\frac{1}{2}$ d. tin makes forty-eight pints!
