BUFFERIN contains the exclusive combination of antacids called Di-Aluminate. This prevents gastric distress even when taken in massive doses as for rheumatism and arthritis.

A clinical investigation carried out at the Robert Breck Brigham Hospital in Boston showed that 70% of arthritics who had a proved intolerance to straight aspirin were able to take BUFFERIN without gastric distress. (Bufferin in the Management of Rheumatic Arthritis, J.A.M.A., 158: 386, June 4, 1955.)

SPEED OF ACTION BUFFERIN works twice as fast as plain, non-soluble aspirin. The Lancet, Feb. 6, 1960.

BUFFERIN has no equivalent in the B.P. or National Formulary and is prescribable on E.C. 10's.

Of the antacids at present available for the treatment of peptic ulcer, 'Transid' most nearly approaches the ideal, defined (in "The Pharmacological Basis of Therapeutics," 1955. (a) p. 1040; (b) p. 1032) as

"that which does not cause systemic alkalosis, does not cause 'rebound' stimulation of the secretion of acid, interferes least with digestive processes, does not cause diarrhoea or constipation, is not irritative to the stomach, does not release carbon dioxide upon reacting with hydrochloric acid and, lastly, is efficient in neutralising gastric juices."

'Transid' is active only against excess acid; it also reduces pepsin activity. Otherwise, 'Transid' is completely inert; it does not interfere with digestion or absorption and cannot cause alkalosis, constipation or diarrhoea. Clinical experience suggests that 'Transid' may succeed in cases of peptic ulcer in which medical treatment with orthodox antacids has failed.

INDICATIONS:

Peptic ulcer; gastric hyperacidity from whatever cause; dyspepsia of pregnancy.

No ill-effect can come from too much polyaminostyrene and the correct dose is that required to control the symptoms (initially, usually two to four tablets every two or three hours).

PACK AND PRICE:

100 tablets in foil pack, basic NHS cost, 10s.

May we send you a copy of our Standard Publication on 'Transid'? It contains much more information than can be included in a journal advertisement.

The other day the staff of the Daily Herald welcomed five brilliant News Chronicle writers to their columns.

Paul Dehn, David Walker, Leslie Mallory, Tom Baistow and Joyce Egginton—any editor would be glad to have men and women of such talent.

They chose to come to the Daily Herald because it is the only popular daily newspaper that is carrying forward the great traditions of the News Chronicle.

Tens of thousands of new readers have turned to the Daily Herald for the same reason.

The Daily Herald is a fair newspaper and a free newspaper. That is why the public's respect for it grows and some of the best men and women in journalism want to write for it.

I suggest you take the Herald for a week. I think it will appeal to you.

Franol eases the patient's breathing by dilating the bronchioles and reducing mucous congestion. It encourages patient co-operation by freeing him from distressing symptoms and helping him to get unbroken rest at night. For the acute bronchitic, Franol brings immediate relief, for the chronic continual relief.

Since its introduction, the prescribing of Franol for the relief of bronchitis and asthma has increased every year. More and more doctors regard Franol as an effective auxiliary in the treatment of bronchitis.

Is Symptomatic Treatment Sinful?

People do not usually consider themselves ill unless they have symptoms that cause them pain or discomfort. A heavy drinker, warned that his alcohol consumption will finally damage his liver, cannot imagine that this will happen to him until he begins to feel ill.

The patient who feels fine lying at rest in bed may feel that he is better until, against orders, he gets up—and discovers his doctor was right after all. From the patient's point of view, his symptoms are his disease.

Beyond the Symptoms

There was a time when symptomatic relief was all the doctor could offer a patient. One of the most important lines of progress in medicine within fairly recent years has been our increased ability to look beyond the symptoms to their pathological causes. With the increase in this knowledge has also come progress in development of specific therapeutic agents. Whereas at one time a high temperature would be removed by giving the patient an antipyretic only, nowadays we also give an antibiotic to eradicate the infection that caused the increased temperature.

Naughty Term

The development of more specific therapeutic agents has tended to create a situation in which symptomatic relief may be overlooked. And to the purist the phrase may even be considered as a rather naughty term. But the specific therapeutic agents, powerful though they may be in reducing the progress of a disease mechanism, do not always quickly provide the feeling of wellbeing that a patient associates with good health. An improved X-ray plate or a lower bacteriological count may not be very convincing evidence of progress to the patient who still feels as bad as ever.

Worse before better

Medical research is constantly evolving new and improved methods of bronchitis therapy, but even with the most advanced treatment it may be some weeks before the patient actually feels some symptomatic benefit. This is the reason for the use of a drug such as Franol in the treatment of bronchitis. Franol carries out the simple but important function of dilating the bronchioles and reducing mucous congestion, thus making the patient feel better as he gets better.

Clinical Efficacy

The acute bronchitic patient needs this kind of relief as quickly as possible, and the chronic bronchitic patient may require this relief continually. In providing this benefit, Franol may carry out the important function of ensuring the patient's co-operation during his often lengthy treatment. Franol is ideally suited for symptomatic treatment in terms of economical prescribing as well as in clinical efficacy. A week's treatment with Franol, 4 tablets daily, costs only 1s. 7d.

Not the least of the advantages of Franol is that it helps to give the patient unbroken rest at night. Besides helping to maintain the patient's general health and hence his resistance to attacks, this effect of Franol means that the doctor, too, is more likely to have a good night's sleep, undisturbed by calls to his bronchitic or asthmatic patients.

A water-soluble corticoid given as a rectal infusion has produced complete symptomatic relief and considerable improvement, as judged by sigmoidoscopic and histological findings,<sup>1</sup> in a high proportion of patients with ulcerative colitis. This technique has now been further simplified<sup>2</sup> by presenting a small quantity of Predsol (water-soluble prednisolone) in solution as an enema to avoid the inconvenience of prolonged administration by rectal drip.

The course of treatment is one Predsol Enema contained in a disposable plastic bag, self administered nightly for about a month ... a course to which the majority of patients will respond.

PROPIONYL ERYTHROMYCIN ESTER LAURYL SULPHATE

'Ilosone' is an important development in antibiotics. It is the lauryl sulphate salt of propionyl erythromycin ester, which has been shown to give earlier, higher, more prolonged and more consistent antibacterial activity than any other antibiotic of the erythromycin group.

'Ilosone' has a specific spectrum, and in normal dosage does not destroy the colon bacillus. It is supremely safe, causing neither serious toxic reactions nor allergic symptoms. In common bacterial diseases such as pneumonia, bronchitis, breast abscess, otitis media and many other infections, 'Ilosone' is eminently suitable for prescribing as a first choice oral antibiotic.

NULACIN "has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer"

"This new method of the administration of antacids (Nulacin) has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer... milk drip is no longer part of our therapeutic stock in trade."

PROC. ROY. SOC. MED., December, 1958, 51, 1063

NULACIN tablets, when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, provide intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy safely and effectively for both the bed-ridden and ambulant patient. They may be relied on to provide a treatment for peptic ulcer as well as other conditions associated with gastric hyperacidity.

The safety and effectiveness of Nulacin therapy has been proven by "in vivo" clinical work carried out in many countries. References to this work include:—

in the local treatment of mouth and throat infections because they have been specially formulated to overcome the disadvantages of many conventional antiseptic lozenges. Strepsils do not have the sensitizing potential of preparations containing antibiotics and/or local anaesthetics. Perfectly safe for both adults and children, Strepsils combine rapid bactericidal action against most of the common pathogens found in the mouth with a prolonged and soothing effect. Unique-formula Strepsils are packed in vacuum-sealed tins to reach your patients laboratory-fresh.

Each lozenge contains 1.2 mg. of Dybenal and 0.6 mg. of Amyl-meta-cresol.

Basic N.H.S. price: 1/5d. per tin of 24 lozenges.

Comment from three important papers in the Lancet, 20th August.

"Patients are spared constipation, impotence, dryness of the mouth, and iridoplegia, and there is no risk of paralytic ileus."

"Life need no longer be made a misery by the parasympathetic effects of the ganglion blocking agents."

"Its action is apparently steady; tolerance does not develop; and outpatient care of cases is relatively easy."

"If our present experience is confirmed, and if our survival-rates are as good as those with pentolinium, guanethidine or some similar drug should almost entirely replace the older ganglion blocking agents."

"Guanethidine was much more satisfactory in outpatient control. A single daily dose was adequate, and there was only 1 outpatient failure in 16 patients, in contrast to 16 failures in 25 patients treated with bretylium tosylate."

DO YOU MAKE FULL USE OF IT?

Nurses and doctors are well aware of the surgical and clinical uses of Dettol. In the great majority of hospital and maternity wards it is used and trusted.

But the value of Dettol goes far beyond the walls of medical and surgical establishments and specifically medical work.

Dettol can be used at all times with perfect safety and confidence by everyone. Indeed, its daily use throughout the home is an effective help against infection.

Dettol is recommended and widely used for the disinfection of all sick room appliances and utensils; for soaking handkerchiefs during times of colds and influenza, and for general personal hygiene. As a household antiseptic and germicide, Dettol is the ideal combination of safety and germ-killing power.

To nurses themselves, Dettol is a potent protection against the daily risks of their work.

75-100% clearances of psoriasis

Completely cleared in 6 months: Adult male. Alphosyl therapy initiated 7th June. Marked improvement by 4th August, progressing until skin cleared of all lesions by the 6th December.

dramatic clinical results achieved by alphosyl

Impressive clinical results in the treatment of Psoriasis by ALPHOSYL indicate most strongly that this allantoin-coal tar combination deserves a trial in all cases of:

- total scalp-to-toe psoriasis
- psoriasis of many years' duration
- psoriasis involving tender areas
- psoriasis refractory to all previous treatment

The most recent controlled study, of a group of 62 patients, shows that in 55 cases (89%) psoriatic lesions were cleared 75-100%, and nearly half of them were "completely cleared".

In ALPHOSYL, for the first time, are presented in combination two powerful and proved healing agents: allantoin and a specially refined coal tar extract. The synergistic effects of these medicaments result in rapid clearance of the condition and positive stimulation of the healing process.

ALPHOSYL is notably safe to use and promotes no irritation or tolerance. It is a non-greasy, non-staining lotion vanishing on application to the skin and is thus a welcome advance cosmetically.

FORMULA: Special coal tar extract 5% and allantoin 2% in a smooth, non-greasy lotion base.

TELL A LIE LOSE A TOOTH

LONG, long ago it was widely believed that if you told a lie a tooth fell out. There were even cases of people being burned as witches because they were toothless. (This does much to explain the early development of false teeth.)

Nowadays, of course, the penalties for neglecting our teeth are much less severe, and we are much better at looking after them. We know, for one thing, that the earlier we start our children in good dental habits—by teaching them the C D E F rule for good teeth—the more promise we give them of healthy teeth both now and in adult life.

Inoculation against Poliomyelitis does not dispense with the necessity for using other proved methods of prevention.

On the contrary, such methods should be more widely and more thoroughly applied.

A pattern of protection against Polio is assured by using DOMESTOS, which destroys Poliomyelitis virus—

(a) For Lavatories. Overnight contact will destroy heavy soiling and give a free residual chlorine content which will inactivate virus contaminants. The exterior of the bowl and the seat which frequently come into contact with the hands—particularly with children—should always be washed with a DOMESTOS solution.

(b) For the disinfection and cleaning of dishes, floors, kitchen surfaces, sinks, etc.

(c) For safeguarding against the infection of food by bluebottles, flies and vermin.

(d) For the disinfection of yards, paths, etc.

(e) For the disinfection and cleaning of drains.

'In Poliomyelitis epidemics, where a large proportion of the virus hosts are symptomless, a vigorous health education programme . . . directed at raising the standards of personal hygiene . . . coupled with measures to raise individual resistance to Poliomyelitis virus infection by strengthening active immunity, offers best hope of success.' (1)

For inactivating Poliomyelitis virus, 'Oxidising agents seem to be the most active disinfectant chemicals.' (2)

'An oxidising agent of great potency is Domestos which, when used at concentration of from  $\frac{1}{4}$  to 2 ozs. per gallon, provides a level of available chlorine in the range 150 to 1,200 parts per million—sufficient to inactivate the Poliomyelitis virus.' (3)

The course will have special reference to common skin ailments encountered in general practice. The fee is five guineas, and accommodation at one of the University's Hall's of Residence will probably be available at a moderate additional charge. N.H.S. practitioners are (subject to certain conditions) eligible to have the course fee paid on their behalf and to receive also certain allowances (travelling expenses, subsistence, locum fees). As the number who can be accepted is limited, enquiries and applications (stating whether or not the latter are made under the scheme for N.H.S. practitioners, and whether residential accommodation is desired) should be addressed as soon as possible to the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, The University, Sheffield 10.
