Discord into Harmony...

"The sympathetic is like the loud and soft pedals, modulating all the keys together; the cranial and sacral innervations are like the separate keys."

CANNON, W. B., The Wisdom of the Body.

Mental and emotional stress may set the keys a-jangling and throw the autonomic system into discord—a discord which reverberates through every function of the body and shows itself as one or other form of psychosomatic disorder.

Elimination of the cause if possible, reassurance of course and psychotherapy if needed are the essentials of treatment—but the first aid the distressed patient needs is relief.

Bellergal acts by controlling the exaggerated responses of the autonomic nervous system—ergotamine and belladonna block the passage of impulses at the sympathetic and parasympathetic nerve-endings and phenobarbitone renders the higher centres less reactive to mental and emotional stimuli.

Bellergal acts at different levels—central and peripheral—to control the somatic manifestations of mental and emotional stress.

Bellergal restores the harmony of autonomic functions and once again the body becomes a well-tuned—and well-tempered—instrument.

"timed-release tablets"

The NEW concept for relief of the Common Cold

In the common cold and postnasal drip, one "timed-release" 'TRIOMINIC' tablet brings welcome relief of symptoms in minutes. Running noses stop, clogged noses open—and stay open for 6 to 8 hours. The patient can breathe again. 'Triominic' is not likely to cause secondary congestion, and it eliminates local overtreatment and consequent nasal pathology, such as commonly follow the use of topical decongestants in the form of sprays and nasal drops.*

Each "timed-release" 'TRIOMINIC' Tablet contains:

Its action is positive and yet so smooth and free from side effects that it may safely be given to children.

'209 patient-nights on Medomin and 79 patient-nights on butobarbitalone are reported on. the first specific aldosterone-blocking agent

Aldactone

Brand of Spironolactone. (SC 9420)

The new therapeutic principle embodied in this drug effectively extends control of oedema and ascites in congestive heart failure, hepatic cirrhosis, the nephrotic syndrome and idiopathic oedema.

Aldactone provides satisfactory relief of resistant or advanced oedema even when all other agents, alone or in combination, are ineffective or are only partially effective.

By blocking the effect of aldosterone which is the major cause of resistance to diuretics, and because of its different site and mode of action Aldactone has a true and highly synergistic activity when used with a mercurial or thiazide diuretic.

What physicians may expect of Aldactone

It is fully expected that Aldactone will change present medical concepts of therapeutic limitations in the management of oedema. Many patients living in a greater or lesser state of oedematous invalidism can now be oedema-free. To others, gravely ill, Aldactone will be life-saving.

When Aldactone is used in a comprehensive therapeutic regimen, which includes a mercurial or a thiazide diuretic, a satisfactory diuresis and relief of oedema may be expected in approximately 85 per cent of oedematous patients who would not otherwise respond.

Aldactone is supplied as compression-coated yellow tablets of 100 mg.

When you examine

please note...

How easy it is for your patients to insert

Please note also—

How flat Tampax expands to fit the vaginal canal.

How gentle its contact with the vaginal epithelium.

How positive its wick action in absorbing the flux.

How dainty it is for the patient to remove.

How well it is adapted to individual needs.

Ease of insertion—so imperative for the successful employment of internal menstrual protection—has been achieved by Tampax in two equally efficient ways. Firstly, by compression of the surgical cottonwool to one-eighth its original size, and secondly by the unique individual applicator that facilitates insertion without orificial stress or irksome effort.

Patients appreciate these practical niceties; and the Medical Profession recognizes the hygienic advantages assured by the unhampered placement of the Tampax in the vaginal canal.

Designed by a physician, Tampax is available in two absorbencies (Regular and Super) to meet individual requirements. Its superior absorbency assures a safe margin of protection, while in addition Tampax serves to minimize the risk of odour...eliminates vulvar irritation...abolishes conspicuous bulging...permits eliminative functions without disturbance...and promotes complete hygiene. It also enables the normal shower or bath to be taken.

If you have not examined Tampax recently, Professional samples and literature will gladly be supplied by Medical Department, Tampax Limited, Havant, Hants.

MODERN CONTRACEPTIVE TECHNIQUE?

This practical manual on contraception has already proved invaluable to many doctors in advising their patients. It presents a concise and compact survey of methods commonly used, together with notes on methods which have medical approval, and also on others which are medically contra-indicated. If you have not yet received a copy, you are invited to write for one now.

The case against 'natural' methods

Medical opinion generally agrees that the practice of so-called "natural" methods of contraception (coitus interruptus, coitus reservatus, etc.) can have an adverse effect on physical and mental health. One of the principal reasons why these unreliable methods are used is the slight loss of sensitivity experienced with protectives (condoms).

This problem has now been almost entirely overcome by the introduction of Durex Gossamer, a new kind of lubricated protective. Durex Gossamer, is treated with Sensitol, "a non-wet, non-messy" lubricant which substantially increases the level of sensitivity. Samples of Durex Gossamer protectives on request.

VITAMINS LIMITED "DISCIPLINING AN INDUSTRY"

Referring to the price of drugs, Mr. Graves said it was perhaps appropriate to make some reference to the Voluntary Price Regulation Scheme, which the industry accepted in 1957 and which was now under review.

He would like to make the point, which he did not remember having seen publicly noted before, that this was the only scheme of its kind in the whole field of procurement of Government supply. Oddly enough it was being used to control the prices of an industry which was—almost more than any other—subject to the chill blast of world competition. No less august a body than the Committee on Public Accounts had recently paid tribute to the value of the competitive element in the fixing of export prices for British pharmaceuticals and had conceded that where home prices were regulated to equal export prices, there could be no question as to their genuineness.

It was odd, therefore, that the pharmaceutical industry, with its magnificent export performance, far exceeding, on a pro rata basis, that of the majority of other industries, should be the one selected for price control—even if it be "voluntary."

He could not help wondering how some other industries would fare if they were required to submit to control of this character—the furniture industry, for example, on the plea that so many hundreds of thousands of pounds a year—or was it millions—were spent on purchasing furniture for hospitals; or the surgical instruments industry because of the cost of the surgical instruments required for hospitals; or if we left the sphere of the National Health Service, why not a voluntary price regulation scheme, with rather similar criteria to the scheme for the pharmaceutical industry, for say the aircraft industry, or the clothing industry (uniforms for the Royal Navy, the Army and the Royal Air Force) or the steel or the aluminium industries, the cost of whose products, he would be pretty certain, entered into national spending to a considerably greater extent than the very modest cost of the drugs for the National Health Service (7d. in the £ of all N.H.S. expenditure).

He wished all these industries well. He had no desire to see any of them with an incubus round their collective necks, corresponding in any way to the incubus carried by the pharmaceutical industry.

It was well known that the strictest discipline would be cheerfully accepted if (a) seen to be in the general interest and if (b) fairly applied.

He was sure that the pharmaceutical industry would accept the exceedingly strict discipline being applied to it a good deal more cheerfully, if the fairness of being singled out—uniquely over the whole range of British industry—in this way were a little more obvious.

The Report and Accounts were adopted.

WHEN BARBERS PULLED TEETH

IN 1399 Henry IV awarded a London barber 16d a day to draw the teeth of the poor without charge. So began the second stage of our state dental service. (The first was already thriving in the hands of the Public Executioner, who pulled teeth as a handy punishment for minor offences.)

We have come far since then. The law no longer claims our teeth, and neither does the barber. In fact these days everyone wants us to keep our teeth, and to keep them healthy. We know too that the earlier we start our children in good dental habits—by teaching them the C D E F rule for good teeth—the more promise we give them of healthy teeth both now and in adult life.

C CLEANING Often and thorough, to remove food particles that can cause decay. After each meal if possible.

D DENTIST No longer barberous. Regular visits to catch any trouble early.

E EXERCISE Lots of chewing—apples, celery, chewing gum,* raw vegetables. Helps to clean teeth, promotes flow of saliva (nature's mouth-wash); stimulates gums, aids proper jaw development.

F FOOD Plenty of milk, butter, cheese and eggs: rich in minerals and vitamins for strong teeth and healthy gums.

* The Mayas of Central America chewed chiclo (the basis of today's chewing-gum) more than 1,000 years ago. And they were renowned for their splendid teeth.

PHILIPS NEW INFRAPHIL

brings faster, more effective relief to pain centres

Using a new technique of lamp manufacture, Philips have now produced a new 'Infrafil' lamp that provides an improved method of heat treatment. Moulded instead of blown, the new lamp is made with greater precision than was previously possible. It has an accurately positioned filament, an integral reflector that even covers the area behind the filament, and a lens with concentric prismatic rings. This new optical combination focuses the maximum amount of infra-red radiation into a concentrated beam. Thus the new 'Infrafil' is suitable both for pin-point treatment of small areas and for general treatment of larger areas. It is, too, extremely convenient to use. So, for all cases where heat treatment is indicated, Philips new 'Infrafil' is indispensable.

NULACIN "has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer"

"This new method of the administration of antacids (Nulacin) has revolutionized the treatment of duodenal ulcer... milk drip is no longer part of our therapeutic stock in trade."

PROC. ROY. SOC. MED., December, 1958, 51, 1063

NULACIN tablets, when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, provide intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy safely and effectively for both the bed-ridden and ambulant patient. They may be relied on to provide a treatment for peptic ulcer as well as other conditions associated with gastric hyperacidity.

The safety and effectiveness of Nulacin therapy has been proven by "in vivo" clinical work carried out in many countries. References to this work include:—

Nutritional needs in convalescence

Convalescents in general require a full well-balanced diet. Specific needs vary with individuals, but it is always important to ensure an adequate supply of all the essential nutrients. It is now known also that it is specially necessary to build up a nutritional reserve before operation. Lack of proper attention to nutrition may be one of the factors causing a delayed recovery.

As a dietary source of the B vitamins Marmite has proved particularly useful, since it can readily be included in the menu in a variety of ways.
