THE MEDICAL ANNUAL

1961 Edition

Editors:

R. BODLEY SCOTT and R. MILNES WALKER

79th Issue. 624 pages. 75 plates and 33 text illustrations.
42s., postage 1s. 9d.

The indispensable Medical Annual again presents a well-documented, practical survey of progress in every field of medical and surgical practice.

The Special Articles of topical interest are:

CHROMOSOME ANALYSIS AND CLINICAL MEDICINE W. M. Court Brown

THE MANAGEMENT OF PARAPLEGIA L. Guttman

THE MICROSCOPE IN SURGERY J. Angell James

PSYCHOTROPIC DRUGS Linford Rees

“Every year when the MEDICAL ANNUAL is published we cannot but feel grateful to the editors and contributors alike, as their efforts illuminate not only the paths we rarely travel, but also those we habitually follow, and by their efforts they reduce some of our burden in keeping up with the literature.”—Proceedings of the Royal Society of Medicine.

THIS MONTH some of your patients will present with contact allergies after a spell in the garden. For these, as well as those with pollen sensitivities, Daneral is specific.

Daneral is a potent and long-acting antihistamine. It gives prompt and long-lasting relief from allergic symptoms. Daneral is an original compound discovered and developed by Farbwerke Hoechst. Its usefulness has been proved by its efficacy in thousands of patients, and normally there are no side-effects.

A New System of Anatomy

SIR SOLLY ZUCKERMAN, C.B., F.R.S.

Sands Cox Professor of Anatomy in the University of Birmingham

This book gives a comprehensive picture of the anatomy of the entire body, and it has been specially written as a practical guide to the courses of regional anatomy that lead to the second M.B. examination. Early drafts of the text, in typescript form, were used in the Anatomy Department at Birmingham, and were successively modified, over a period of eight years. The text was then entirely rewritten in the light of experience gained and on the basis of an extensive series of new dissections specially made for the purpose.

The book has been written with the following considerations in mind:

1. The increasing volume of new knowledge makes it inevitable that some of the older parts of the curriculum must be shortened if the student is to have time for the many new subjects now included in the curriculum.
2. The average student needs to know only the essentials of anatomy but he should know them really well.
3. Topographical anatomy can only be learnt properly in the dissecting room and a book on practical anatomy should describe only what can be demonstrated there.
4. A practical book should be based on an extensive series of dissections made especially for the purpose and it should give instructions on dissection and directions on what to observe in sufficient detail to enable any student of average intelligence to complete his dissection with the minimum of help from the teaching staff.
5. Detail which has no scientific or educational value should be eliminated and time should not be wasted by students trying to reveal features that can only be demonstrated adequately in special preparations.

6. The primary purpose of a medical student's work in the dissecting room is to learn enough about the structure of the body to enable him to understand the practical applications that follow in his clinical course. It is not the function of a pre-clinical department to teach the applied anatomy which is better left to those whose concern it is.

7. A practical book should only include as much osteology as a student needs to understand how the soft parts of the body relate to its bony structure.

The illustrations, which number 540, are an outstanding feature, nearly all of them being photographs of actual dissections made specially for this book. They show all the structures described in the text with extreme clarity, and as they will be seen by the student in his own dissection. Great care has been taken not to overcrowd them with leader-lines and at times, to avoid this, the same illustration is repeated with different leader-lines attached. They have been carefully placed so that they are adjacent to the descriptive text and it is seldom necessary to turn a page to see the relevant illustration.

The nomenclature used is an English equivalent of the Paris Nomina Anatomica as agreed at the Sixth International Congress of Anatomists held in Paris in 1955, and revised at the Seventh Congress in New York in 1960. Where the English equivalent differs markedly from a literal translation of the official Latin term the Latin has been added in brackets in the text. In addition the Index provides a full glossary, the Latin P.N.A. terms being placed adjacent to their English equivalents.

Guidance on the technique of dissection and on terminology is given in the Introduction and, for convenience, a brief statement on the layout of the lymphatic system has been included as an appendix.

DEEP SKIN PENETRATION IN ARTHRITIS AND RHEUMATISM

NICOTINIC, SALICYLIC AND p-AMINOBENZOIC ACIDS in Ester form

IN CASES of soft-tissue rheumatism, and arthritic disorders, many doctors are tending more and more to regard Transvasin as an indispensable adjuvant to treatment.

For Transvasin is composed of the esters of nicotinic, salicylic and p-aminobenzoic acids. These esters readily pass the skin barrier in therapeutic quantities, and so enable an effective concentration of drugs to be built up where they are needed.*

Transvasin not only induces vasodilatation of the skin with a superficial erythema, but also brings about deep hyperaemia of the underlying tissues. It is non-irritant and can be safely used on delicate skins.

It is now being widely prescribed, with successful clinical results. Since a very small quantity is sufficient for each application, the cost of treatment is extremely low. Transvasin can be prescribed on Form E.C.10.

A SPENCER SUPPORT for Intervertebral Disc

In both conservative and surgical treatment of intervertebral disc, application of a back support is usually indicated.* We invite the surgeons' investigation of Spencer as an adjunct to treatment. Each Spencer is individually designed, cut and made for each patient—after a description of the patient's body and posture has been recorded and detailed measurements taken. Thus, individual support requirements are accurately met. The Spencer Spinal Supports shown incorporating rigid Spinal Brace were individually designed for both man and woman patients. Note exterior pelvic binder for added pelvic stability.

Trouble brewing

When they fall ill, old people living alone and often inadequately nourished present the doctor with a patient physically unprepared to withstand surgery. Patients like these can be built up to a more robust state with the help of 'Anapolon', the new anabolic agent. 'Anapolon' restores the metabolic balance and stimulates appetite. It helps to strengthen debilitated patients and shortens convalescence.

Whenever protein reserves are depleted, as in febrile or wasting disease, post-menopausal and senile osteoporosis, and surgical procedures especially in the elderly, decided benefit can be obtained from a course of 'Anapolon'.

Price 12s. 6d.

Amongst a wealth of practical and factual detail, this book breathes a philosophy of surgery for which all who practise that art should be truly grateful. It is human and individual and personal, and mixes delightfully the academic research-minded professor with the friendly, philosophical surgeon. The portions of this book dealing with such diverse subjects as surgical training in various parts of the world; distinction awards; the physical, mental and moral requirements of a surgeon; surgical associations and undergraduate training, have to be read to be appreciated—but they show a breadth of knowledge in its truest and best sense which it would surely be hard to rival.

CLINICAL ELECTROENCEPHALOGRAPHY

L. G. Kiloh and J. W. Osselton

135 pages

Price 50s.

Dr. Kiloh and Mr. Osselton have produced a book mainly for the clinician. It is brief, modest but lucid, cogent and surprisingly comprehensive as a survey of existing knowledge. Doubtless it will encourage more clinicians to seek to acquire expertise in this field, and its qualities are such as to commend it to neurophysiologists and to encourage them to become more familiar with and to enquire into the problems of the neuropsychiatric clinic and the EEG laboratory.

MODERN TRENDS IN ENDOCRINOLOGY—Second Series

Edited by H. Gardiner-Hill

355 pages

Price 75s.

This is a companion volume to the first series of Modern Trends in Endocrinology published in 1958, and is both supplementary and complementary. This new book covers the results of the vast amount of research which has gone into endocrinology over the past ten years, presenting the broadest outlook and emphasizing the modern approach. The contributors, all experts in their various fields, offer their personal views with a critical evaluation of modern trends pointing to the future, and the aim throughout the book has been to highlight the advances in a particular field and to correlate these with present practice.

In this second volume, as in the first, will be found a collection of endocrine topics covering a wide and integrated field. They have been chosen to highlight the fronts on which advances of special interest seemed to have been or are being made. It has also been the objective to fill in some of the gaps which were unavoidable in the first series owing to shortage of space, and in addition to deal with similar topics or even the same topic from a different angle.

THORACIC DISEASESEmphasizing Cardiopulmonary Relationships

By ELI H. RUBIN, M.D., and MORRIS RUBIN, M.D. (both of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Yeshiva University, New York).

A new, complete and revealing picture of thoracic disorders and diseases—from simple muscle strain to metastatic calcification of the lungs—described from aetiology through follow-up care.

This volume gives the practitioner an immediately useful guide to diagnosis and management of thoracic disorders, both medical and surgical. This is the first book with fully developed integration of cardiopulmonary relationships. 968 pages, with about 400 illustrations. £8 15s. 0d.

PATHOLOGIC PHYSIOLOGYMechanisms of Disease

Edited by WILLIAM A. SODEMAN, M.D., F.A.C.P. (Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia). With 28 Collaborators.

This Third Edition represents a thorough revision keeping pace with the rapid advances in this field. While maintaining the same approach to the subject, the editor and contributors have held normal physiology to the minimum needed to satisfactorily understand and interpret the abnormal.

This book portrays the mechanisms of disease—shows how agents bring about disease—what causes a particular symptom—what changes take place in the body during disease and how one disordered system affects another. 1,182 pages, 199 illustrations. Third Edition. £5 5s. 0d.

Infective conditions in children

The febrile child suffers not only from the basic infection, but also from its toxic effects. For treatment of the debility and loss of appetite arising from the malaise, VITAVEL SYRUP is eminently suitable. It provides the vitamins which are not only needed in greater amounts but may well be lacking in the restricted diet of the febrile state.

One fluid ounce contains:—

VITAMIN A.....	20,000 i.u.
VITAMIN D ₂ B.P.....	3,000 i.u.
VITAMIN B ₁ B.P.....	4 m.g.
VITAMIN C B.P.....	80 m.g.
PURIFIED GLUCOSE B.P.....	25% w/v.

in an attractive orange juice base

BEMAX is especially suitable for children on the restricted diets taken during illness and convalescence, where its high protein and vitamin contents make a valuable contribution towards recovery.

NATIONAL HEALTH SERVICE

In no case is the cost of a V.L. preparation greater than, and in some it is less than, that of the official equivalent preparation. There is no official equivalent of some V.L. specialities.

has been achieved with 'Periactin' in Urticaria and in other allergic and pruritic conditions

Greater success in the treatment of histamine and/or serotonin induced allergy and pruritus is being obtained with 'PERIACTIN'. Remarkable results have been reported, particularly in urticaria and other pruritic states.

With the introduction of 'PERIACTIN', physicians are no longer dependent on ordinary antihistamines, since this entirely new agent antagonises both histamine and serotonin, providing optimal control over a wider field of allergic and pruritic disorders.

Detailed information and abstracts on this important new development are available on request.

THE UNIVERSITY OF SHEFFIELD

FACULTY OF MEDICINE

Dean—J. G. McCRIE, O.B.E., T.D., M.B., F.R.C.P.Ed.

The University grants Degrees in Medicine and Surgery (M.B., Ch.B., M.D., Ch.M.) and in Dental Surgery (B.D.S., M.D.S.). It also grants a Diploma in Public Health (D.P.H.), a Diploma in Microbiology (Dip. Microbiol.) and a Diploma in Dental Surgery (L.D.S.). These are all open to men and women on equal terms.

The Session 1961–62 begins on October 9.

Entries to the Medical and Dental Schools are strictly limited in order to ensure adequate lecture and laboratory accommodation for all students. Lectures and laboratory courses are given in the University, whilst clinical instruction is provided in the general and special Hospitals in the City. The relatively ample number of hospital beds available renders the facilities for clinical instruction unusually large.

HALLS OF RESIDENCE.—FOR MEN: Crewe Hall, Clarkehouse Road, Sheffield, 10; Ranmoor House, Fulwood Road, Sheffield, 10; Stephenson Hall, Oakholme Road, Sheffield, 10. FOR WOMEN: Halifax Hall, Encliffe Vale Road, Sheffield, 10, and annexes.

Particulars of the Halls may be obtained from the Wardens.

A number of junior hospital appointments are open to qualified students of the Schools, both male and female.

Prospectuses containing details of the Medical and Dental Schools may be obtained, respectively, from the Dean of the Faculty of Medicine and the Director of Dental Studies; and one giving particulars of Entrance Scholarships from the undersigned.

A. W. CHAPMAN, Registrar.

LONDON SCHOOL OF HYGIENE AND TROPICAL MEDICINE

The LONDON SCHOOL OF HYGIENE AND TROPICAL MEDICINE (Keppel Street, W.C.1) provides courses for the ACADEMIC POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN PUBLIC HEALTH, for the ACADEMIC POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMA IN BACTERIOLOGY, for the ACADEMIC POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATE AND DIPLOMA IN TROPICAL MEDICINE AND HYGIENE, for the ACADEMIC POSTGRADUATE CERTIFICATE AND DIPLOMA IN APPLIED PARASITOLOGY AND ENTOMOLOGY, and for the Conjoint Board's DIPLOMA IN TROPICAL MEDICINE AND HYGIENE (England).

The D.P.H. course, which begins next on October 2, 1961, lasts for one academic year. It is designed primarily for qualified medical practitioners who intend to enter any branch of public health work. Fee—£73 10s.

The Diploma in Bacteriology course, starting each October, lasts one academic year, and is intended to give advanced instruction to graduates in medicine, science (including veterinary science) or pharmacy who intend to follow a career in bacteriology. There are now no vacancies on the 1961-62 course. Applications for the subsequent session must be received not later than March 1, 1962. The number of places is strictly limited. Fee—£73 10s.

The University D.T.M. & H. course, starting each October, lasts for one academic year and is designed to give advanced training in tropical medicine. The preliminary C.T.M. & H. course covers approximately the first 4½ months. One of the following subjects must be elected for special study at the final part of the course (which is open only to those with at least a year's experience of medicine in a tropical country): Clinical Tropical Medicine; Tropical Hygiene. Fee—£73 10s. (£42 for Part I only).

The D.A.P. & E. course, starting each October, lasts for one academic year (the preliminary C.A.P. & E. course covering approximately the first 4½ months). The course is designed for candidates suitably qualified in medicine, veterinary medicine, veterinary science or science, who wish to take up research or laboratory appointments abroad. Applications for the subsequent session must be received by April 1, 1962. The number of places is strictly limited. Fee £73 10s. (£42 for Part I only).

The five months' course for the Conjoint D.T.M. & H., which is open to applicants with approved medical qualifications, is held twice a year commencing at approximately the end of September and February. Fee—£42. There are now no vacancies on the course beginning September 25, 1961.

OCCUPATIONAL HYGIENE

A whole-time course in Occupational Hygiene will be held at the beginning of October each year and will last for nine months. It is the first of its kind to be offered in the U.K. It is open to graduates—particularly in physics, chemistry, engineering, or medicine. In special circumstances non-graduates with the necessary previous education and experience will be accepted. Fee—70 guineas (£73 10s.).

A course in Statistical Methods applied to Medicine and Epidemiology is held annually on two days a week from approximately the beginning of January to approximately the end of April. Students without a medical qualification can be accepted. Fee—£15 15s.

MEDICAL ADMINISTRATION

A ten weeks' course in Medical Administration will be held at the end of April each year. Subjects of study will include (a) elements of business management and administration, (b) organization of central and local medical services, (c) relationship of administrative services with the community, (d) the work and the administration of professional and lay organizations associated with medical care, and (e) review of trends of management in medical and health affairs. Fee—30 guineas (£31 10s.).

A ten weeks' course in Environmental Control is held once in each academic year, commencing each October. Although intended primarily for health inspectors from abroad, the course is so planned as to be of value to medical officers and others interested in the health aspects of environmental control both at home and abroad. Fee—£27 6s.

A whole-time course in Occupational Health will be held from September 25 to December 15, 1961. It is for registered medical practitioners who desire training or a refresher course in this subject. For those who hold the D.P.H. it will provide the additional requirements for entry to the D.I.H. (England). Applications for the subsequent session must be received not later than April 1, 1962. The fee: 30 guineas (£31 10s.).

Applications for admission to courses should be made to the Registrar, London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine, Keppel Street, Gower Street, London W.C.1.

HOMOEOPATHY IN GENERAL PRACTICE

A short course will be held at the Royal London Homoeopathic Hospital on Friday/Saturday, September 22/23, 1961. Details may be obtained from the Dean of the Faculty of Homoeopathy at the hospital, Great Ormond Street, London W.C.1.

Applications are invited from registered medical practitioners with the Diploma in Public Health for the appointment of Deputy Medical Officer of Health for the Borough of Nuneaton, at a salary of £1,646 13s. 4d. per annum, rising by five increments to £1,895 per annum. Nuneaton, with an estimated population approaching 60,000, exercises delegated powers from the Warwickshire County Council in the fields of health and welfare, and is also an excepted district under the Education Act, 1944. The post, therefore, offers the opportunity of experience in all aspects of public health work. Previous administrative experience is not essential. Housing accommodation will be provided if required. Further particulars and conditions of appointment can be obtained from me, and the last date for the receipt of applications is Saturday, September 23, 1961.—A. A. Crabtree, Town Clerk, Council House, Nuneaton. (9506)

COUNTY BOROUGH OF WEST HARTLEPOOL

APPOINTMENT OF FEMALE ASSISTANT MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH

Applications are invited for the above appointment from registered medical practitioners. The possession of the D.P.H. or D.C.H. will be an advantage. The person appointed will be engaged primarily in maternity and child welfare and school health services. The successful applicant will also be required to attend to such other duties as may from time to time be allocated to her by the Medical Officer of Health. The appointment will be subject to the Whitley Council's scale and conditions. Salary £1,295 per annum to £1,845 per annum, according to experience. Consideration will be given to the payment of a car allowance. The appointment will be subject to a medical examination for superannuation purposes and to two months' notice in writing on either side. Applications, stating age, qualifications and experience, and giving names and addresses of three referees, must be received by the Medical Officer of Health, Durham House, Victoria Road, West Hartlepool, not later than September 9, 1961.—Eric J. Waggott, Town Clerk, Municipal Buildings, West Hartlepool. (9420)

SERVICES

MEDICAL EXPERIENCE IN THE
ROYAL AIR FORCE

Doctors, both men and women under 33, are assured of a progressive career in the Royal Air Force. Junior and senior ranks have ample opportunity for good-class general practice, and those with the necessary experience and qualifications can expect to be employed throughout their subsequent career as specialists in the clinical subjects or in aviation physiology. Generous leave is allowed for postgraduate study and courses.

Rank and seniority on appointment is related to previous experience. General practitioners are promoted on a length of service/time basis to Wing Commander, and specialists to Group Captain. Subsequent promotion to higher ranks is by selection.

Total emoluments (for the married officer) range from £1,307 per annum for a Flying Officer to £4,902 per annum for an Air Marshal. In addition officers selected as Junior Specialists (in the ranks up to and including Wing Commander) are eligible for additional pay of £109 a year whilst employed on the appropriate specialist duties, and recognized Specialists (in the ranks up to Air Vice-Marshal) are eligible for additional pay of £292 a year. Ample pensions and terminal grants are paid on retirement, and all suitable retired officers may be re-employed in clinical posts at a salary of £2,165 (plus pension).

Normally appointments are in the first instance to a short service commission of 3 or 5 years, for which tax-free gratuities of £1,500 or £3,000 are payable. Write to: Air Ministry (HN829A), 1/6 Tavistock Square, London W.C.1. The future is with the R.A.F. The Royal Air Force.

ROYAL PERTH HOSPITAL
Western Australia*HEAD OF THE DEPARTMENT OF HAEMATOLOGY

Applications for the above post are invited from suitably qualified medical practitioners with considerable experience in Haematology. As at present established this post involves both clinical and laboratory responsibilities.

The successful candidate will be required to maintain a diagnostic haematology service and supervise the operation of the Hospital Blood Bank. If the selected candidate has had wide clinical experience, he would be responsible for the investigation and management of certain patients with haematological disorders (for which beds are available). Alternatively, the Board may consider appointing a candidate whose major interests lie in the laboratory aspects of haematology, in which case he would work in co-operation with the Physicians in charge of such patients as described above.

Royal Perth Hospital is the main teaching hospital of the Medical School of the University of Western Australia. At the invitation of the University Departments of Medicine and Pathology, the present occupant of the post has accepted teaching responsibilities.

The Department of Haematology is also well equipped and adequately staffed for the performance of all modern haematological techniques. The head of the department is a member of the Laboratory Services Advisory Committee which advises the Board of Management on the Hospital's Laboratory Services as a whole, and is also a full member of the clinical staff.

Salary: Within the range £A.3,558 to £A.4,038 per annum, according to qualifications and experience.

Conditions of Service: Include long service leave (three months on full pay after each seven years' service), sick leave, etc. Study leave may be granted as a privilege for special purpose approved by the Board. Contribution to the State Superannuation Scheme is required, or alternatively, the hospital will consider subsidizing the appointed officer's existing commitments under an approved scheme or endowment policy.

Transport Expenses: A travel grant equivalent to minimum first-class sea passages will be provided for successful applicant and family (under 16 years of age), together with an allowance up to £A.300 for the cost of removal of personal effects, etc., subject to a bond to remain in the hospital's service for a minimum period of three years.

A Memorandum of Information (including further details of the Department of Haematology) is available upon request.

Further information concerning Royal Perth Hospital and the State of Western Australia may be obtained from the Agent-General for Western Australia, Savoy House, 115 Strand, London, W.C.2.

Applications in writing, which must be addressed to the undersigned, should include date of birth, qualifications, experience, present and previous appointments, a list of publications, a recent photograph, and the names and addresses of three referees.

Applications close on October 31, 1961.—Joseph Griffith, Administrator. (8975)

VISIBLE SAFE ACCESSIBLE

Packed in glass, London Hospital catgut is visibly secure, easily recognised and accessible.

Sutures remain completely safe and sterile, because glass tubes cannot be slit or punctured accidentally. Glass cannot become permeable or otherwise deteriorate. Glass is not affected by chemical sterilising agents.

London Hospital 'spot' glass tubes do not splinter. Under slight pressure they break cleanly at the centre groove without filing.
