Pycraft, "the fattest clubman in London", was particularly fond of "eavy vittles"—pork, sausages and hot, buttered teacakes. Yet, "like all excessively fat people he fancied he ate nothing." After swallowing an old Hindu concoction for loss of weight he floated on his ceiling like a balloon. Loss of weight was almost complete though obesity was unaffected.

Lucofen is both a less exotic and a more successful treatment for obesity. A new drug for the limitation of appetite, Lucofen acts without interfering with normal meal anticipation. It thus helps to gain the active co-operation of the patient, so essential in the treatment of obesity. Eating sensibly, and taking Lucofen, the co-operative patient is more ready to help the doctor and himself.

Lucofen, 1-(p-chlorophenyl)-2-methyl-2-aminopropane hydrochloride (chlorphentermine) acts without the frustration and irritability caused by many weight-reducing programmes.

The resultant weight loss is gradual, safe and dependable. Lucofen is free from the disadvantages of the usual amphetamine-like drugs, and thus causes no restlessness, sleeplessness or addiction. It is especially useful in combating the evening hunger felt by many patients. There is evidence of fat mobilisation.

Dosage: The recommended dose is one tablet (25 mg.) three times a day with meals, or three tablets with breakfast. This dosage normally results in an average loss of 1 lb. to 1½ lbs. per week.

Presentation: Bottles of 50 and 500 tablets.

WATERLOO TEETH

IN the past, those who could afford it made good their dental deficiencies by wearing teeth bought from the poor, or taken from those who no longer had use for them. Battlefields were a rich source for the less scrupulous suppliers, and many a nobleman unwittingly sported the teeth of a late warrior.

Today's acrylic triumphs are infinitely more palatable, and the need for them grows less as we learn more about keeping our teeth, and keeping them healthy. We know, for one thing, that the earlier we start our children in good dental habits—by teaching them the C D E F rule for good teeth—the more promise we give them of healthy teeth both now and in later life.

C CLEANING Often and thorough, to remove food particles that can cause decay. After each meal if possible, and always with a brush at bedtime.

D DENTIST Regular visits to catch any trouble early.

E EXERCISE Lots of chewing—apples, celery, chewing gum, raw vegetables. Helps to clean teeth, promotes flow of saliva (nature's mouth-wash) stimulates gums, aids proper jaw development.

F FOOD Plenty of milk, butter, cheese and eggs: rich in minerals and vitamins for strong teeth and healthy gums.

The incidence of diarrhoea and infections of the intestinal tract is extremely high during the summer months. The majority of cases are bacterial in origin but dietary factors also play their part.

Ivax provides effective treatment in such cases. Both the infecting bacteria and the debilitating diarrhoea will yield to the special combination of neomycin, sulphaguanidine and kaolin. Ivax quickly controls infection, consolidates the stools, and soothes irritated and inflamed mucosa.

Ivax is palatable and ready-prepared suitable for children and adults.

supplement

'There is no substitute for calorie restriction in the management of obesity.'

Brit. Med. Jnl., 1957, II, 310.

'The chief aims of treatment [of obesity] will thus be to increase physical activity, and to give a diet designed to be lower in calories while still of optimal satiety. This in practice means a diet which need be restricted only in carbohydrate. As a help in the early stages, when the new dietary habits are being acquired, it may be found useful to take methyl cellulose or possibly some other preparation which decreases appetite.'

Lancet, 1959, II, 1138.

'If appetite can be controlled by a high fat diet or some other modification with a high satiety value, this might be more effective than attempting to persuade the obese to practice dietary continence.'

Lancet, 1960, I, 1282.

'It is then reasonable to conclude that at least some obese patients will find it useful to take methyl cellulose, provided they take sufficient and it is in the powder form.'

Lancet, 1960, I, 1413.

Formula 21 is a palatable preparation of methyl cellulose, presented as a granular powder in tins (21 days' supply) and one-dose sachets (7 days' supply per box). Taken with water before meals, it helps to reduce appetite by providing inert bulk in the stomach and intestine. In association with a low-calorie diet, Formula 21 can thus help immediate weight loss and long-term dietary re-education to take place simultaneously, in comfort, and with the minimum disruption of the subject's day-by-day routine. You just dispose of the Steriseal syringe after use

THIS is the Sterile Disposable Hypodermic Syringe made by Shrimpton Steriseal Limited, Washford Mills, Redditch, Worcestershire, from 'Diakon' I.C.I. acrylic polymer. The Steriseal syringe contributes towards safety and time saving in the modern hospital.

The syringe is sterilised after assembly and sealed in an airtight pack until used. It is intended to be used once only, then destroyed, to avoid any possibility of cross-infection. No time or money is wasted on re-sterilizing.

'Diakon' is a material that can be moulded at low cost and high speed to tight dimensional tolerances. For this reason, light, accurately-formed and highly transparent syringes like the 'Steriseal' can now be made at a price that makes single-use an economic proposition.

The modern method of treatment in otitis externa, chronic suppurative otitis media, and infected mastoid cavities, is 'Otosporin' brand Drops.

'Otosporin' is an aqueous suspension containing both neomycin and polymyxin B sulphate which are together effective against practically all the bacteria found in ear infections. They are unlikely to induce bacterial resistance or skin sensitisation, and neither of them gives rise to cross-resistance or cross-sensitisation to penicillin and other antibiotics. Their effectiveness is visibly enhanced by the hydrocortisone in 'Otosporin'; this, by reducing inflammation, not only relieves pain, but provides greater access for the antibiotics

insoluble, non-alkaline ion-exchange resin

Of the antacids at present available for the treatment of peptic ulcer, 'Transid' most nearly approaches the ideal, defined ("The Pharmacological Basis of Therapeutics", 1955) as

"that which does not cause systemic alkalosis, does not cause 'rebound' stimulation of the secretion of acid, interferes least with digestive processes, does not cause diarrhoea or constipation, is not irritative to the stomach, does not release carbon dioxide upon reacting with hydrochloric acid and, lastly, is efficient in neutralising gastric juices."

'Transid' is active only against excess acid ; it also reduces pepsin activity. Otherwise, 'Transid' is completely inert ; it does not interfere with digestion or absorption and cannot cause alkalosis, constipation or diarrhoea. Clinical experience suggests that 'Transid' may succeed in cases of peptic ulcer in which medical treatment with orthodox antacids has failed.

INDICATIONS :

Peptic ulcer ; gastric hyperacidity from whatever cause ; dyspepsia of pregnancy.

No ill-effect can come from too much polyaminostyrene and the correct dose is that required to control the symptoms (initially, usually two to four tablets every two or three hours).

PACK AND PRICE :

100 tablets in foil pack, basic NHS cost, 10s.

May we send you a copy of our Standard Publication on 'Transid'? It contains much more information than can be included in a journal advertisement.

DO YOU MAKE FULL USE OF IT?

Nurses and doctors are well aware of the surgical and clinical uses of Dettol. In the great majority of hospital and maternity wards it is used and trusted.

But the value of Dettol goes far beyond the walls of medical and surgical establishments and specifically medical work.

Dettol can be used at all times with perfect safety and confidence by everyone. Indeed, its daily use throughout the home is an effective help against infection.

Dettol is recommended and widely used for the disinfection of all sick room appliances and utensils; for soaking handkerchiefs during times of colds and influenza, and for general personal hygiene. As a household antiseptic and germicide, Dettol is the ideal combination of safety and germ-killing power.

To nurses themselves, Dettol is a potent protection against the daily risks of their work.

Is there a DROXALIN in the house?

Gastric crises occur even in Doctors' houses—so we learn from letters received. When they do, the cry goes forth "Is there a Droxalin in the House?" Doctor must then perforce produce two Droxalin Tablets from somewhere—probably the top drawer in his surgery desk. Whether the trouble be indigestion, Gastric Ulcer or Sickness of Pregnancy "Two Tabs. Droxalin" bring speedy relief. They are also easy to chew and most pleasant to taste.

This medical confidence in Droxalin is reflected also in its wide prescribing, hence the ever-growing question in a Gastric Crisis "Is there a Droxalin in the House?"

In the letters we receive doctors speak highly of Droxalin as:

Giving rapid relief to the abdominal pain and discomfort due to Hyperchlorhydria and Peptic Ulcer.

Being an excellent tablet for indigestion, and in particular for the indigestion of pregnancy.

Effective in acute Dyspepsia and accompanying Insomnia.

Giving instant relief from abdominal discomforts and Duodenal Ulcer.

... AND THAT MEANS HAPPY MOTHERS (FATHERS TOO!)

Experienced mothers write to us expressing appreciation of the EXTRA qualities of Carnation Milk.

The following points are repeatedly mentioned in the very many letters we receive:

DIGESTIBILITY—Contented sleep between feeds, particularly at night.

DEVELOPMENT—Pride in Baby's healthy, happy appearance — readily recognised by medical advisers and by other mothers.

SIMPLICITY—The daily feeding routine could not be easier — no mixing.

"THE FEEDING OF INFANTS"—a book specially prepared for the medical profession — together with reprints of clinical investigations and Carnation feeding charts are available from Medical Dept., General Milk Products Ltd., Bush House, Aldwych, London, W.C.2.

DOCTORS can have every confidence in the standard performance of Carnation Milk. Published medical opinion relating to evaporated milk emphasizes:—

Smooth skin and relative freedom from rashes; Convincing evidence of good muscle tone and motor activity; Successful use in varying housing conditions.¹

It can be used, with very rare exceptions, to the exclusion of all other milk preparations if desired.²

Wright's Coal Tar Soap has been in continuous use by the Medical Profession for nearly a century. Its world-wide use is largely due to professional approval of its quality, and to the fact that it contains the original 'Liquor Carbonis Detergens'. Even in 1882 this ingredient was described by the B.M.J. as "by no means a new preparation".

To maintain this front-rank position has not been easy. It has called for unremitting effort, continuous improvements in technique, ever higher analytical standards, and a record of service in which we take modest pride.

A case of natural selection

Would Mr. D. have charted the Origin sooner with his tomes of reference conveniently arrayed in a Minty bookcase? Did he realise that books are also prone to extinction through wear and tear? Too bad that Minty was not available to him. Today, book-loving homo sapiens has the advantage.

Minty have survived supreme for years as the makers of bookcases most naturally selected to house valued volumes. Behind sliding glass doors your books are protected in dust-free distinction and discernibility. And, since Minty bookcases are sectional, your library can evolve to any size you wish, starting from as little as £10.16.0.—on deferred terms if you prefer.

Only at the Minty Centres shown below can you see and buy Minty bookcases (and furniture). The Centres are so placed that Minty furniture is within easy reach of most people. If, for any reason you can't call, Minty will send you a catalogue and particulars of post ordering. Write to Dept. B.18, Minty Ltd., 44-45 High St., Oxford.

Management of your Investments

To have money invested in Stock Exchange securities is one thing; to acquire the specialised knowledge necessary for their proper management is quite another. There is, however, no need to continue at such a disadvantage. The Trustee Department of the Westminster Bank has for many years offered a service for the management of customers' investments. This provides, at very moderate cost, all the advantages of experienced investment management (in collaboration with your own stockbroker if you wish), yet your personal requirements are always kept in mind. The service can also be used with advantage by institutions, public authorities and those concerned with the management of pension funds. Particulars of this service can be obtained from any branch of the Bank, or from the Manager of the Trustee Department.

ASTHMA

Betnelan

Betnelan, the new oral steroid (betamethasone) developed by Glaxo, is particularly suitable for use with other measures in the treatment of severe asthma. Betnelan is not suggested for milder cases which are adequately controlled by other measures.

Periodic Acute Attack

Betnelan is indicated when the conventional management of asthma is interrupted by acute attacks. Short-term therapy with Betnelan should control the exacerbation and allow conventional measures to be resumed.

Severe Attack

In attacks of extreme severity (status asthmaticus) all recognised measures must be taken. Corticosteroid injections (Efcortelan Soluble or Predsol Injection) should be given initially, while at the same time oral treatment with Betnelan should be started. When there is no immediate threat to life, Betnelan alone will be found adequate.

Severe Chronic Asthma

When existing treatment gives only slight relief and the patient's activities remain restricted, Betnelan can be of special help. Continuous administration may be necessary and is well justified by enabling a reasonably useful life to be followed. Treatment should begin with a short, intensive course of Betnelan, using bronchodilators and other measures. Dosage of Betnelan should be decreased gradually until the minimum level is found for reducing symptoms to tolerable limits. Often this may be no more than half a tablet twice daily.

Hay Fever

In severe attacks, uncontrolled by normal therapy, the condition usually responds rapidly to short-term Betnelan therapy.

Betnelan is presented as scored tablets containing 0.5 milligrams betamethasone in bottles of 30, 100 and 500.

DRUGS IN THE TREATMENT OF DISEASE

Medium 8vo. 570 pages. Price 35s. (by post 36s. 9d.)

An authoritative guide to the use and comparative efficacy of many drugs developed in recent years. It assists the practising doctor to compare the newer drugs with each other and with those older remedies that are still the best of their kind. Information is also given regarding toxic and side effects.

Compiled from the series of articles published in the British Medical Journal, the book presents an up-to-date, indexed, authority on medicinal treatment — of considerable help to the doctor in choosing the best drug for his patient.

Oversea (Vacant)—contd.

MEDICAL OFFICER

Applications are invited for a full-time appointment in the medical services of a leading British company in Commonwealth West Africa. Candidates should preferably be not more than thirty-five years of age, and should have had a good amount of experience since qualifying.

The scope of the work done by the Company's medical services varies from place to place in West Africa, but in general may be said to cover the health supervision of working communities and their dependants. In many cases this involves taking charge of a small hospital. There is also considerable opportunity for the practice of preventive medicine, public health and industrial medicine in the widest sense.

While each doctor is administratively responsible to his local manager, his professional links are with the Assistant Principal Medical Adviser, Unilever Limited, to whom applications should be made at Unilever House, Blackfriars, London E.C.4.

The successful candidate will spend an initial period attached to the London Medical Centre of Unilever Limited. During this time he will be given an opportunity to learn something of the many aspects of the business, and to devote extra time, if necessary, to any branch of general or tropical medicine, surgery, midwifery, etc. While in London he will be paid not less than the recommended B.M.A. scale for Industrial Medical Officers. On departure overseas, the starting salary and allowances will not be less than £2,500 per annum, and in accordance with age, qualifications and experience. The length of tours in West Africa is approximately eighteen months each, followed by generous leave on full pay. First-class travel facilities are granted to and from West Africa. There is a contributory pension fund, mid-tour passages are arranged, and education allowances paid for children under education in the United Kingdom. (5038)

APPLICATIONS ARE INVITED FOR ONE-YEAR rotating internships in 296-bed general hospital devoted to acute medical and surgical, paediatric and obstetric cases. Programme approved by Council on Education, A.M.A. For those completing internship a fully approved three-year residency in radiology is available, as are residencies in paediatrics, medicine and surgery. Basic stipend for interns $200 monthly, for residents $300 monthly. Foreign graduates must be E.C.F.M.G. certified. For further details write Director, Roger Williams, General Hospital, Providence, Rhode Island, U.S.A. (7665)
