Grandfather had Gout ?

The history of gout in a grandparent can be of significance in a patient with an unidentified arthritis. It may be important even though the father's history is negative. The determination of the serum uric acid level is a valuable diagnostic aid. 'BENEMID' reduces the frequency of acute attacks occurring in the course of chronic gout and may even abolish them in course of time. Ten years of clinical experience has established 'BENEMID' as the agent of choice for the easy and safe management of chronic gout.

trail blazers in British corticosteroid development

The first announcement of the clinical value of cortisone was made in 1949. This started an intensive world-wide search for vegetable steroids that could be used as starting material for the economic synthesis of the hormone. In the United Kingdom, Glaxo pioneered a British process utilising hecogenin derived from East African sisal waste. Intensive development of this basic method has enabled Glaxo not only to produce a range of corticosteroids for all types of treatment but also progressively to reduce their prices.

The recent introduction of betamethasone (Betnelan) was a major advance in this work. Because it is safer and more effective than other cortisone derivatives, betamethasone offers a fresh start in systemic corticosteroid therapy. Furthermore, it was the first new corticosteroid, with advantages over available compounds, to be introduced at a price lower than that of existing preparations.

So far, development has taken about 300 man-years of complex scientific effort at a cost of £1,250,000. The result is, however, that Glaxo produce safe, effective and economic corticosteroids that are entirely British made. The trail is still being blazed... research and development continue.

Many patients are consuming diets restricted in one way or another

- the low calorie diet of the obese patient

JUVEL was designed to meet the vitamin needs of patients in any of the above categories. accelerates healing rates by 25-50%*

Prolonged and expensive treatment of chronic ulcers may be avoided by the use of Cicatrin, the leading amino-acid/antibiotic preparation for topical application.

Further evidence of its efficacy is provided by a recently controlled clinical trial to evaluate the influence of various topical applications on the healing rates of stasis ulcers which shows that Cicatrin with its combination of selected amino-acids and antibiotics accelerates the healing rates by 25-50%.

It is also significant that in one group where the main difference between the two preparations was that one contained amino-acids and antibiotics (Cicatrin) and the other antibiotics only, the healing time in the Cicatrin treated group was shortened considerably both in bed rest and ambulatory cases.

Patient 4 (Cor Pulmonale)	50%	82% (controlled at this level to prevent rise in pCO ₂)

No accumulation of carbon dioxide

Due to its size, shape and position of oxygen inflow pipe, there is an organized movement of gases. Controlled percentage of inspired oxygen. This is of extreme importance in respiratory failure, where CO₂ narcosis must be avoided. The MC Mask can oxygenate the blood without increasing the level of CO₂. Transparent—lips can be seen. Disposable—no sterilization required. Can be used quickly and effectively by the ambulatory patient.

OXYGEN ECONOMY

2 litres per minute

The MC Mask reduces oxygen consumption by at least 66%, this means $ less expenditure on oxygen cylinder hire and refill, $ less portorage in exchanging cylinders and gives 28½ hours of controlled, effective oxygen therapy from a 120 cu. ft. cylinder—with increased efficiency.

Duration of 120 cu. ft. cylinder

Run at 10 l/min.—4½ hrs.
Run at 6 l/min.—9½ hrs.
Run at 2 l/min.—28½ hrs.

Cost MC masks are individually packed in polythene bags containing full instructions and are available at quantity discounts or 3/6 singly. The improved efficiency and great economy in oxygen more than repay the slight extra initial cost.

used successfully by a leading Northern Teaching Hospital

- (1) Plastic foam ensuring close fit to face.
- (2) Oxygen delivered to close proximity of patient's mouth or nose.
- (3) Swivelling inflow pipe reducing drag from cylinder tubing.
- (4) Transparent mask giving clear view of lips.
- (5) Tapered end to fit different bore tubing from cylinder.
- (6) Mask of small volume and maintaining its shape, producing an organized movement of gases and preventing formation of dead space.

Minty have 'cross-bred' a bookcase with a dresser and christened the offspring the book-dresser. There are five book-dressers in the Minty Contour range, and each embodies the essential advantages of both parent pieces. There may be a more apposite appendage than the portmanteau name we've given to this new kind of furniture. The following details could easily inspire you to think of one.

Finished in teak and hard, waxed, English elm, all Contour book-dressers have their tops in common: a glassed-in compartment for your best books; open adjustable shelves for your folios or paper-backs. What goes underneath is a matter for self-expression.

Contour One has a drawer, a writing flap that doesn't wobble, and a sliding-door cupboard that might well reveal reading type refreshment. Contour Two has the cupboard only. Contour Three has four sensible drawers, and the same non-flappable flap. Behind the drop door of Contour Four is a space that's positively cavernous in its dimensions. And if your library grows and grows like Alice, Contour Five fits comfortably alongside any of the others and takes the overspill. Prices from £36.10.0 teak finish, and £34.13.6 elm finish—or on deferred terms if you prefer.

You can see and buy book-dressers at your nearest Minty Centre. If, however, for any reason you can't call, Minty will be glad to send you a catalogue and details of post ordering. Write to Dept. B.19, Minty Ltd., 44-45 High Street, Oxford.

G.O.M. MEETS PROFESSIONAL PERSON

MR. GLADSTONE, on a train journey, fell into conversation with a young gentleman of such charm and intelligence that the statesman suggested exchanging visits. On seeing from his card, however, that the young man was a dentist, he sniffed haughtily and became silent for the remainder of the journey.

Today we know better the respect due to a noble profession, and few of us keep our mouths so resolutely shut when we meet a dentist. We know, too, a great deal more about keeping our teeth, and keeping them healthy. We know, for example, that the earlier we start our children in good dental habits—by teaching them the C D E F rule for good teeth—the more promise we give them of healthy teeth both now and in adult life.

C CLEANING Often and thorough, to remove food particles that can cause decay. After each meal if possible, and always with a brush at bedtime.

D DENTIST Now socially O.K. Regular visits catch any trouble early.

E EXERCISE Lots of chewing—apples, celery, chewing gum, raw vegetables. Helps to clean teeth, promotes flow of saliva (nature's mouthwash); stimulates gums, aids proper jaw development.

F FOOD Plenty of milk, butter, cheese and eggs: rich in minerals and vitamins for strong teeth and healthy gums.

A new advance in antitussive therapy

THORAGOL

S Y R U P REGD.

LONG ACTING

NON-TOXIC • NON-CUMULATIVE

THORAGOL Syrup is an entirely new antitussive compound which effectively suppresses the unproductive cough through its action on the 'cough centre' of the brain.

THORAGOL has a novel chemical structure for an antitussive being unique as a quaternary ammonium compound. 2-(1,2-diphenylethoxy)-ethyltrimethylammonium bromide.

Clinical trials have shown that THORAGOL effectively suppresses a cough for long periods, thus relieving the nervous irritability associated with persistent coughing. It is especially useful in providing the patient with a good night's sleep free from coughs. No toxic, cumulative or other side effects have been noted even when administration is prolonged. THORAGOL Syrup is pleasant in taste and readily accepted by children and patients of all ages.
