Rheumatoid Arthritis

robably no drug offers better hope of attacking the fundamental disease process of rheumatoid arthritis than Plaquenil.

But . . . In the administration of Plaquenil, the role of the doctor can be as important as that of the drug.

Firstly, he must win his patient to an understanding that Plaquenil is a long-term treatment. Time and patience are necessary before beneficial results can be enjoyed. The patient must be told that a saturation period is necessary for the drug to accumulate in the tissues before the disease process is arrested. This can vary from as little as four weeks to several months.

Secondly, he must be prepared to support Plaquenil therapy, if necessary, by the use of analgesics, steroids and other anti-inflammatory agents to give symptomatic relief of pain and inflammation, particularly when flare-ups occur.

Used in this way in combined therapy, and with an understanding of its cumulative action, Plaquenil can be prescribed with the expectation of marked improvement in some 70% of cases. It is likely to produce fewer toxic side-effects than any other major anti-rheumatoid drug.

"When effectiveness and absence of toxicity are both taken into consideration, then for the routine long-term treatment of rheumatoid arthritis Plaquenil appears to be the drug of choice".

Christmases to wait*
for Lucofen

Tracey Tupman, that "grown up Bacchus", undoubtedly enjoyed his Christmas at Dingley Dell. There he was able to enjoy to the full his two pastimes—love and eating. His success in the first was marred by his zeal in the second. We read that "time and feeding had expanded that once romantic form;" "inch by inch had his gold watch chain disappeared from the range of Tupman's vision; and gradually had the capacious chin encroached upon the borders of the white cravat."

His abortive love-affair with Mr. Wardle's sister would perhaps have prospered more had he had LUCOFEN to help reduce his figure to its once romantic proportions.

LUCOFEN is a new drug for the limitation of appetite which acts without interfering with normal meal anticipation. It thus helps to gain the active co-operation of the patient, so essential in the treatment of obesity. Eating sensibly, feeling and sleeping well, the calm and co-operative patient is more ready to help the doctor and himself.

LUCOFEN (chlorphentermine) acts without the frustration and irritation caused by many weight-reducing programmes. The resultant weight loss is gradual, safe and dependable. LUCOFEN is free from the disadvantages of the usual amphetamine-like drugs, and thus causes no restlessness, sleeplessness or addiction. It is especially useful in combating the evening hunger felt by many patients. There is evidence of fat mobilization.

DOSAGE: The recommended dose is one tablet (25 mg.) three times a day before meals. This dosage normally results in an average loss of 1 to 1½ lb. per week.

PRESENTATION: Bottles of 50 and 500 tablets.

The "Posthumous Papers of the Pickwick Club" were first published in 1836 in monthly instalments. They were first intended as a framework to sketches by Robert Seymour, specialist in "Cockney Sporting Prints," who committed suicide after the issue of No. 11 in the series and whose place was taken by "Phiz." The action of the Papers takes place in the year 1827-1828.*

All nasal sprays have a DECONGESTANT

Most nasal sprays have an ANTIBIOTIC

Some nasal sprays have an ANTIHISTAMINIC

GLAXO LABORATORIES LIMITED

GLAXO

Betnesol is the name given to a new range of topical steroid preparations developed by Glaxo. They are complementary to Betnelan (betamethasone alcohol), the anti-inflammatory steroid recently introduced for systemic use. Betnesol (betamethasone phosphate) preparations are soluble, effective in low concentrations and have low basic NHS Costs. Here are the details :

BETNESOL EYE and EAR DROPS 5 ml vial

Clear solution — no particles to cause irritation

BETNESOL EYE OINTMENT 3 gram tube

Bland ointment with more prolonged effect than eye drops

BETNESOL OINTMENT 5 and 15 gram tubes

Greasy base — often preferred for dry lesions

BETNESOL CREAM 5 and 15 gram tubes

Non-greasy base for wet lesions

BETNESOL LOTION 20 ml bottle

Economical for applying to large areas

BETNESOL SPRAY 30 ml aerosol

For 'no-touch' treatment

There is an equivalent range of Betnesol-N preparations each containing neomycin.

Also available: β -Corlan pellets, a palatable treatment for mouth ulcers.

The Betnesol range offers the simplest answer to the topical steroid dilemma of which steroid, which name, which strength, which maker. Now only one name need be remembered — Betnesol — and each preparation has only one strength, usually 0.1%.

There is only one maker—Glaxo, a British company making Betnesol by a British process which uses sisal from the sterling area as starting material.

The name Betnesol is a Glaxo trade mark.

It visually demonstrates to the patient whether or not his diaphragmatic breathing technique is correct.

It strengthens abdominal muscles through exercise—thereby making the practice of diaphragmatic breathing more instinctive.

Expiratory ventilation of lungs is improved by the recoil-type thrust of the springs during exhalation.

The Gordon-Barach Support is an adjunct to diaphragmatic breathing. Special steel springs incorporated into the abdominal pad are compressed during inhalation when abdominal muscles are properly used. Increased tension of these compressed springs aids expiratory ventilation.

POLYBACTRIN

and POST-OPERATIVE SEPSIS

A survey of over 6,000 major surgical cases
included in a 4 year clinical study

"Staphylococcal infection of surgical wounds was studied in one hospital for four years. The yearly infection-rate fell progressively from 6.7 % in 1957 to 1.8% in 1960. Reasons are given for the belief that the improvement was due to the increasing use in the operating-theatres of an antibiotic mixture of neomycin, bacitracin, and polymyxin B ('Polybactrin') which was sprayed periodically into the wound during the course of the operation.

The incidence of infection among wounds which were sprayed in this way (2.0%) was less than half that of wounds not so treated (4.3%) and during the last year of the survey the infection-rate among over 1,000 sprayed wounds was as low as 1.2%".

CRYSTAPEN Injection

Trade Mark

The penicillin with a tradition

Crystapen is no new and virtually untried antibiotic—it's a product that has proven itself through and through during years of daily use in hospitals, clinics and doctors' surgeries the world over. Crystapen is the soluble form of penicillin—sodium penicillin. It dissolves readily when sterile water is added, giving a clear, pure solution. Solutions can be kept for 24 hours at room temperature or seven days if refrigerated.

Crystapen gives a high destructive level of penicillin in the blood and produces a swift clinical response. It is essential whenever a considerable overspill of penicillin from blood to tissues is required—that is whenever infections are acute, not readily susceptible or in less accessible areas. A single large daily dose has been shown by long experience to be the most effective and least expensive.

Its speed of action, certainty and safety (as well as outstanding economy) make Crystapen the logical first choice for treating most bacterial infections.

An important advance in the control of anticoagulant therapy

Four factors in the diagram (II, VII, IX, and X) are reduced by oral anticoagulant therapy. The combined activity of these four factors is evaluated by Thrombotest.

THROMBOTEST OWREN

Trade Mark

As opposed to other methods of control, Thrombotest offers the advantages of easy evaluation of all four factors depressed by oral anticoagulants.

Thrombotest provides uniformity in the technique, the reagent and the expression of results, thus achieving reproducibility.

Stabilization will be smoother, control will be simpler and more rapid, and maintenance more predictable with Thrombotest.

Thrombotest has been specially designed for use as a whole blood method with capillary or venous blood. It can, however, be satisfactorily used with plasma.

PARAMETHASONE ACETATE

predictable anti-inflammatory effect

'Haldrate' is a potent synthetic corticosteroid with marked anti-inflammatory activity. In steroid-responsive conditions, it provides predictable anti-inflammatory effects with a minimum of untoward reactions. Gratifying response has been observed in patients transferred from other corticosteroids to 'Haldrate'. There is relatively little adverse effect on electrolyte metabolism, sodium retention is unlikely and psychic effects are minimal. In addition, 'Haldrate' treatment appears to be free from muscle weakness and cramping.

'Haldrate' 2 mg. is approximately equivalent to:

Cortisone	25 mg.
Hydrocortisone	20 mg.
Prednisone or
Prednisolone...	5 mg.
Triamcinolone or
Methylprednisolone	4 mg.
Dexamethasone	0.75 mg.

Although the incidence of significant side-effects is low, the usual contra-indications to corticosteroid therapy apply to 'Haldrate'.

Availability:

'Haldrate', 1 mg., scored (yellow) and 2 mg., scored (orange), in bottles of 30 and 100 tablets.

tiglyssin

tiglyssin

brand tigloidine hydrobromide
for relief of spasticity and spasms non-toxic
free from side-effects

Tigloidine is related to atropine: it has, however, almost no anti-cholinergic activity, but has the atropine-like action on muscle described as 'delayed recovery'—characterised by quick fatigue.

A 'double-blind' trial showed relief of spasticity and spasms associated with paraplegia due to spinal cord injury. The patients were more cheerful and easier to manage.

A similar trial in Disseminated Sclerosis was of benefit to about half the patients though the full therapeutic effect may take up to three weeks to develop. Good results are reported in other degenerative Upper Motor Neurone Diseases.

The effect of 'Tiglyssin' is palliative. Apart from relieving spasticity and spasms, which helps rehabilitation and reveals any useful remaining function, patients become more cheerful and comfortable—most important, nursing is made easier.

INDICATIONS :

Spasticity and spasms associated with :
 partial or complete rupture of the cord.
 disseminated sclerosis.
 transverse myelitis.
 cerebro-vascular accidents.
 subacute combined degeneration of the cord.

The therapeutic daily dose for adults is 1-2 gm. divided into three, with meals. An initial daily dose of 0.75 to 1.0 G. is suggested, and this should be slowly increased until no further improvement occurs or until mild atropine-like effects appear.

EFFICIENCY ECONOMY IN OXYGEN THERAPY

WITH AN ENTIRELY NEW TYPE OF
DISPOSABLE MASK

Rate of flow of oxygen 2 litres/minute. This oxygenates the blood in all cases except where a shunt is present.

No accumulation of carbon dioxide. Due to its size, shape and position of oxygen inflow pipe, there is an organized movement of gases. Controlled percentage of inspired oxygen. This is of extreme importance in respiratory failure, where CO₂ narcosis must be avoided. The MC Mask can oxygenate the blood without increasing the level of CO₂.

Transparent—lips can be seen.

Oxygen economy. The rate of flow of 2 litres/minute results in more than 60% longer duration of oxygen cylinders and saving in hire and refill cost. The MC Mask can be used quickly and effectively by the ambulatory patient.

BRONCHITIS

The well established formula for chronic bronchitis is TERCOLIX. This dislodges the habitual mucoid sputum; relieves wheeziness, breathlessness and distressing fits of coughing; makes expectoration easy by liquifying tenacious mucus. Each teaspoonful contains Codein Phosph. $\frac{1}{4}$ grain combined with Terpin Hydrate, Menthol, Pine and Eucalyptus oils to provide a warm, soothing, sedative effect. Dosage: Two teaspoonfuls in warm water, before retiring—sipped slowly—free the air passages of accumulated mucus and ensure a good night's sleep. Where the critical point has been reached and the bronchial tubes are swollen, soggy and unduly sensitive, daily maintenance doses are strongly recommended. Samples for clinical trial are available on request.
