robably no drug offers better hope of attacking the fundamental disease process of rheumatoid arthritis than Plaquenil.

But . . . In the administration of Plaquenil, the role of the doctor can be as important as that of the drug.

Firstly, he must win his patient to an understanding that Plaquenil is a long-term treatment. Time and patience are necessary before beneficial results can be enjoyed. The patient must be told that a saturation period is necessary for the drug to accumulate in the tissues before the disease process is arrested. This can vary from as little as four weeks to several months.

Secondly, he must be prepared to support Plaquenil therapy, if necessary, by the use of analgesics, steroids and other anti-inflammatory agents to give symptomatic relief of pain and inflammation, particularly when flare-ups occur.

Used in this way in combined therapy, and with an understanding of its cumulative action, Plaquenil can be prescribed with the expectation of marked improvement in some 70% of cases. It is likely to produce fewer toxic side-effects than any other major anti-rheumatoid drug.

"When effectiveness and absence of toxicity are both taken into consideration, then for the routine long-term treatment of rheumatoid arthritis Plaquenil appears to be the drug of choice".

dramatic clinical results in psoriasis

followed by medical successes
throughout the United Kingdom

Though modern medicaments have brought almost dramatic relief to many forms of skin affection, Psoriasis has so far remained intractable. Its aetiology continues to baffle investigation and many forms of tried therapy have yielded only partial or temporary results.

Now ALPHOSYL—after extensive clinical trials and medical successes throughout the United Kingdom—shows promise of bringing total clearances in many cases of Psoriasis.

In ALPHOSYL, for the first time, are presented in combination two agents: allantoin and a specially refined coal tar extract. The synergistic effects of these medicaments result in rapid clearance of the condition itself and positive stimulation of the healing process.

ALPHOSYL LOTION combines these two valuable agents in one preparation and has had impressive results where other medications have failed.

The successes obtained with ALPHOSYL indicate that it deserves a trial in all cases of Psoriasis—no matter how extensive the area of infection, how long the duration of the condition, or whatever the therapy previously used. Deficiencies of single factors of the Vitamin B Group do not occur. Accordingly, even if a deficiency condition appears to result from the lack of an individual factor of the group and it is considered necessary to give intensive treatment with this factor, the entire Vitamin B Complex should always be administered concurrently.

R.M.S. TRANSVAAL CASTLE

33,500 TONS

Grand Hotel of the South Atlantic

She's a new idea in friendly travel. You have the run of the ship on all passenger decks and in all the public rooms. Your fare depends simply on what accommodation you choose... a berth in a shared cabin, a room with private bath (or shower) and toilet, or the Suite with bedroom, sitting room and two bathrooms. Swim, tan, eat, dance, make friends, make up parties, go to the cinema: all in the price of your ticket. Air-conditioning throughout, and stabilizers for millpond steadiness. The Hotel 'Transvaal Castle' sails on her Maiden Voyage to South Africa on January 18th, 1962, and then every eight weeks. There are still a few double cabins, with private shower and toilet, available for the Maiden Voyage, for as little as £150 per passenger to Cape Town.

BRONCHITIS

The well established formula for chronic bronchitis is TERCOLIX. This dislodges the habitual mucoid sputum; relieves wheeziness, breathlessness and distressing fits of coughing; makes expectoration easy by liquifying tenacious mucus. Each teaspoonful contains Codein Phosph.  $\frac{1}{4}$  grain combined with Terpin Hydrate, Menthol, Pine and Eucalyptus oils to provide a warm, soothing, sedative effect. Dosage: Two teaspoonfuls in warm water, before retiring—sipped slowly—free the air passages of accumulated mucus and ensure a good night's sleep. Where the critical point has been reached and the bronchial tubes are swollen, soggy and unduly sensitive, daily maintenance doses are strongly recommended. Samples for clinical trial are available on request.

REFRESHER COURSE FOR GENERAL PRACTITIONERS

Third Collection with classified contents list to volumes 1, 2 and 3

Price 25s. (by post 26s. 9d.)

Each book contains a collection of sixty Refresher Course articles from the British Medical Journal. Each article, written by an acknowledged expert, has been revised by its author. The articles cover a wide range. Their object is to refresh the reader's memory of what is old and well-established and to tell him about new developments. They are invaluable to general practitioners and residents as practical reference books, to specialists as a means of keeping in touch with developments outside their own field, and to final-year students as up-to-date and reliable text-books.

The Third Collection has a cumulative classified contents list to the three volumes of "Refresher Course for General Practitioners."

THE MEDICAL SERVICE OF THE ROYAL NAVY

VACANCIES FOR MEDICAL OFFICERS

The Royal Navy offers Short Service Commissions of 3 or 5 years' duration to registered medical practitioners. Opportunity exists for transfer to Permanent Commission, by selection, after one year's service. There are facilities for postgraduate study and training for higher degrees with a view to specialization, in the case of officers entered on 5-year short service and on Permanent Commissions. Specialities include Underwater Physiology, Nuclear and Aviation Medicine, as well as the usual clinical subjects.

Pay: On entry a Surgeon Lieutenant married and over the age of 25 years will receive £1,195, with annual pay increments thereafter and a tax-free ration allowance of £112 p.a. if unaccommodated. Additional allowances are paid for children's education, disturbances involving essential moves of family, and for service overseas.

Gratuities and Pensions:

Gratuities are payable on completion of short service commissions:

- 3 years' service £1,500 tax free
- 5 years' service £3,000 tax free
- Those officers accepted for Permanent Commissions receive £1,500 (Taxable).

Service becomes pensionable after 16 years.

VITAMINS LIMITED

"DUMPED DRUGS FOR N.H.S."

Net profit for Vitamins Ltd. to year ending March 31, 1961, was £151,953 (£129,280). Ordinary dividend was maintained at 12½%.

In his Report, the Chairman, Mr. H. C. H. Graves, said that the British fine chemical and pharmaceutical industries, of which they were proud to form part, were second to none. They had been built up as a far-sighted and long-term act of national policy since the time of the first world war. It had fallen to the present Minister of Health to reverse the policy, by encouraging dumping of other countries' surplus outputs.

So far from encouraging and helping British inventiveness he had taken the unprecedented step of offering to purchase the nation's requirement of certain essential products, protected by patent in this and other countries, from pirates. This policy could extend to those who, by industrial espionage or otherwise, sought to cash in on the patented knowledge of inventors without having contributed either cash or inventiveness to the invention or development of the product itself or the clinical research needed before it could be safely marketed.

It was axiomatic that the successful development of export trade needed a firmly based home market.

The Minister had said, "I am willing to pay a royalty to the true owner of the patent." You could not run a factory on royalties—you needed physical throughput. The Minister "has a duty to purchase drugs for the N.H.S. at the lowest possible cost," even if to do so he had to encourage dumping of goods surplus to the pirate's home market. Had he no responsibility to Parliament and people for the protection of a key industry: or had he forgotten this country's lamentable position at the time of the first world war?

The Minister's position as one of the chief customers of the pharmaceutical and fine chemical industries was incompatible with his national responsibility for the guardianship of those industries as their sponsoring Minister. So long as he was going to have his pound of flesh as the hard-faced buyer—concerned only with the short-term advantage—so long should responsibility for sponsorship of these industries be transferred to an unbiased Minister capable of weighing credits against debits and taking up the cudgels for the industry he was protecting.

Of course, it was politically convenient to have a whipping-boy for the cost of the N.H.S., in spite of the fact that the drugs themselves offered the best hope of reducing the cost of the N.H.S., by reducing hospital costs. How much longer was the Minister going to ignore the recommendations of the Guillebaud Committee that he should consider ways and means of publicising the facts of the industry's great achievements in a telling manner? Its export record—a fourteenfold increase since 1938—exports now totalled nearly as much as the value of the N.H.S. drug purchases. Its contribution to national health and long life—millions were alive to-day who would never have survived on the drugs of 25 years ago! The tremendous reduction in the cost of illness due to the reduction in the length of treatment.

How much longer was he going to ignore the same Committee's recommendation that "the conditions which favoured profits for research, such as patent rights, publicising of proprietary names, and the price agreement with the Ministry of Health be accepted"?

The Report and Accounts were adopted.

* Particularly suitable for recent entrants to General Practice.

All the courses are available to N.H.S. Practitioners and Assistant Practitioners, for whom fees and allowances (travelling expenses, locum fees, etc.) are provided for courses equivalent to 22 half-day sessions in an academic year, subject to certain conditions. Trainee General Practitioners are not eligible for grants.

Other practitioners may attend on payment of a fee of 10 guineas for two weeks, 5 guineas for one week or extended course of 11 sessions, 1½ guineas for a week-end course.

Grants are available, subject to the above conditions, to General Practitioners who attend the Institute of Obstetrics and Gynaecology, for short periods during the regular terms' courses, when limited hostel accommodation is available.

Similar arrangements have been made for attendance on the obstetric practice of St. John's Hospital, Chelmsford. Accommodation is available and applications should be made to Mr. D. Brown, M.R.C.O.G., at the Hospital.

Grants are also available, under the same conditions, for General Practitioners who attend the preliminary three months' course at the Institute of Laryngology and Otology, Royal National Throat, Nose and Ear Hospital, W.C.1, leading to a clinical out-patient assistantship.

A natural action laxative

When advising a laxative, medical preference usually favours the use of a product which acts in a perfectly natural way. Andrews meets this demand admirably. Its effect is to increase the fluid content in the bowel by osmosis and so induce a mild and natural aperient action that does not irritate the intestine.

Andrews will be found particularly useful for relieving constipation arising from decreased food intake, either during illness or restricted diet.

Andrews has further advantages, it is mildly antacid and relieves gastric discomfort. It also improves the flow of bile and helps to check biliousness and sick headaches.

The pleasant taste and refreshing effervescence of Andrews make it readily acceptable to most patients.
