Diagnosis?—Acute gastritis. What the mother didn't even bother to say was that the only fluid this little boy did keep down was Lucozade. And he wanted it—like so many patients, for the liquid glucose in Lucozade is only one quarter as sweet as sucrose, and one third as sweet as dextrose. Also, as the doctor knows, it supplies needed calories more quickly. That is why Lucozade is such a useful therapeutic aid, and why the doctor too approves of . . .

CICATRIN

accelerates healing rates by 25-50%*

Prolonged and expensive treatment of chronic ulcers may be avoided by the use of Cicatrin, the leading amino-acid/antibiotic preparation for topical application.

Further evidence of the efficacy of Cicatrin is provided by a recent controlled clinical trial to evaluate the influence of various topical applications on the healing rates of stasis ulcers. This trial shows that Cicatrin with its combination of selected amino-acids and antibiotics accelerates the healing rates by 25-50%.

It is also significant that in one group where the main difference between the two preparations was that one contained amino-acids and antibiotics (Cicatrin) and the other antibiotics only, the healing time in the Cicatrin treated group was shortened considerably both in bed rest and ambulatory cases.

A Combined Effort

The Russian troika, pulled by the combined effort of three horses, was a popular and safe means of transport. In antibacterial therapy, too, the combined effort of three sulphonamides is more effective and safe than that of a single sulphonamide, which accounts for the popularity of 'Sulphatriad' over the past fifteen years.

In 'Penitriad', the combined effort of three sulphonamides is enhanced by that of penicillin V-K, 'Penitriad' being effective against infections caused by both sulphonamide- and penicillin-susceptible organisms.

brand tigloidine hydrobromide for relief of spasticity and spasms associated with upper motor neurone disease

Tigloidine is a minor alkaloid of the atropine series, but is almost totally devoid of anticholinergic activity. It has however been shown (I) to share with atropine an effect on muscle characterised by quick fatigue on rapidly repeated stimulation. For this reason, its possible therapeutic effect on pathologically increased muscle tone was investigated, and useful activity subsequently reported in Parkinsonism (2), Huntington's chorea (3) and spastic paraplegia (4, 5).

In controlled trials Tigloidine has been found to reduce spasms and spasticity to a useful extent in approximately fifty per cent of patients suffering from upper motor neurone disease: an incidence and degree of improvement greater than were produced by a matching placebo. The effect of the drug in any individual patient is unpredictable; patients whose clinical state is similar do not necessarily benefit to the same extent. In patients who do respond, however, the effect of the drug appears to be well maintained—in one trial (4) no loss was seen after periods of administration up to a year.

The effect of Tigloidine is, of course, purely palliative, it has no curative effect on the cause of spasticity, nor can it slow down the advances of progressive CNS disease.

DOSE AND ADMINISTRATION

The daily dose for adults is 1-2G, divided into three and taken with meals. A suitable starting dose is 0.75G, and this should be slowly increased until no further improvement occurs or mild atropine-like side-effects appear. Administration for 3-4 weeks is usually needed for the full effect to develop.

The problem

dirty mouth

Even in 1962 the dangers, and the unpleasantness, of the dirty mouth are still present in the post-operative period, as well as in many fevers; the geriatric patient being especially prone to them. Careful attention to oral hygiene will usually, of course, keep the patient comfortable and prevent complications. Such attention, however, is very time-consuming to the nurse; and it is not often realised that for most patients it can be replaced or supplemented by the use of chewing gum.

The regular use of chewing gum, by stimulating salivary flow, keeps the mouth clean in the most natural way possible. The patient is in a sense providing his own nursing care with the minimum of energy expenditure by himself.

Child patients, of course, need no encouragement to chew gum. The older patient may need encouraging—but not once he has appreciated the very obvious cleansing and refreshing effect that chewing gum has upon the mouth. Chewing gum is also of value to patients who are forbidden to smoke.

when pain prevents sleep

HYDRATE

To ease pain and induce sleep Hydratene combines the well-known hypnotic Caloral Hydrate, with the modern analgesic Paracetamol, and has the fundamental ment of being both effective and mild. In this compound form Chloral Hydrate has little odour or taste and shares with the analgesic, Paracetamol, the advantage of being singularly free from side effects and habituation. Hydratene, in the appropriate dosage, is therefore safe for adults and children.

Each Hydratene tablet contains the equivalent of Chloral Hydrate 4 grains
Paracetamol 6 grains

Dosage: 1-3 tablets as may be directed by the physician.

Available in packings of 25 and 250. Basic N.H.S. prices: 2/6 and 13/4.

CHD AND CLO

SIGNIFICANCE OF

MODERN COD LIVER OIL

1. A field study of CHD (Coronary Heart Disease) is being conducted in the town of Framingham, Massachusetts, by the National Heart Institute of the United States Public Health Service. More than 5,000 of the townspeople have been studied for 8 years, and the results so far obtained have been reported.

In men aged 30-49 at the start of the study 'The risk (of developing CHD) increased more than fivefold from low to high levels of serum cholesterol... It is clear that men with low serum cholesterol levels and low blood pressure, who do not smoke cigarettes, have less than a third the standard risk...

'It is believed that the Framingham enquiry and other similar investigations have demonstrated beyond question that certain characteristics are associated with the development of coronary heart disease... Meanwhile, since the (remedial) procedures advocated are not considered hazardous, it seems reasonable to recommend that persons with high risk characteristics should attempt to change them in a favourable direction.'

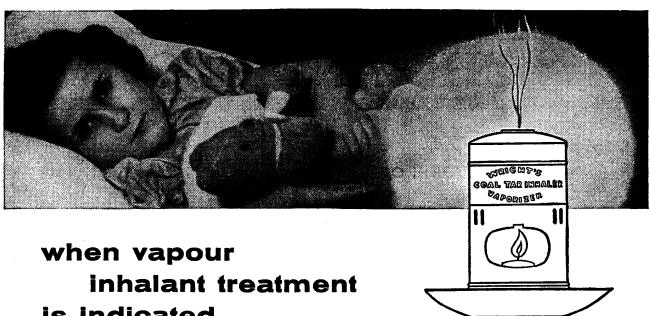

- 2. The dietary procedures commonly advocated for the lowering of serum cholesterol levels are:
 - (a) A moderate reduction of total fat consumption (say, by one quarter).
 - (b) Reduction of consumption of heavy and refined carbohydrates—chocolate, toffee, ice cream, puddings, pastry, heavy cakes, biscuits, white bread; fruit and vegetables being taken ad lib.
 - (c) Substitution of poly-unsaturated fats for a majority of the saturated fat in the diet. This means inter alia an increased consumption of fish, poultry, liver, kidney, and cottage cheese, in place of bacon, ham, pork, lamb, mutton, sausages, tongue, ordinary cheese, and cream and eggs; and, nearly always, the consumption of a liquid source of poly-unsaturates.
- 3. A highly concentrated liquid source of poly-unsaturates is Cod Liver Oil (CLO), of which 2 tablespoonsful a day has been shown² to be superior to corn oil in its effect on plasma cholesterol levels. In addition, unlike vegetable oils, CLO supplies vitamins A and D.

THE ROYAL NAVY offers you MORE

You can serve almost anywhere in almost any field of Naval activity, combining your calling as a doctor with the stimulus of a life as a commissioned officer in the Royal Navy. You could serve in almost any vessel from a frigate to an aircraft carrier, sail with the fleet to the Far East or work with a squadron in the West Indies. You could apply your care to Royal Marines Commandos, among parachutists, frogmen or rock climbers. You could fly with the Fleet Air Arm as a specialist in aviation medicine or investigate the problems of deep diving and advanced submarine development. You could work in a laboratory, hospital or medical school; serve at home or abroad, on shore or afloat; or study any one of a variety of subjects ranging from radio-biology to tropical diseases. And throughout your service as a Naval Medical Officer you would be working with the finest equipment in complete clinical freedom -and perhaps a greater opportunity to exercise your versatility than would ever be possible in civilian life.

YOU CAN ENTER BY ONE OF THREE METHODS All schemes lead to Short Service Commissions of 3-5 years' duration. Holders of such commissions can apply for permanent commissions after one year following appointment as Surgeon Lieutenant.

SERVICES

You can earn £2000 a year on entry in the Royal Air Force

New Conditions for Registered Practitioners

Under a new scheme announced by the Air Ministry, if you are a qualified doctor you can enter the Royal Air Force immediately after full registration and be commissioned as a Flight Lieutenant, earning, with full allowances, £2,000 a year. If you have post-graduate experience you can be granted up to seven years back-dated seniority; a doctor with six years' civilian experience will be appointed Squadron Leader on entry, earning, with full allowances, £2,300 a year.

Tax free gratuities are payable on completion of short service commissions. These are £1,500 after three years or £3,000 after five years.

You can be offered a permanent commission and guaranteed pensionable employment to the age of 65 with excellent prospects of promotion to Group Captain rank and a salary of well over £3,000 a year. If you are married and serving at a Station you may be allocated an official married quarter. This will be a comfortably furnished house near your surgery.

You will have full clinical freedom and your practice will normally include the families of serving members of the Royal Air Force. You will have opportunities for specialising, and study leave is granted on full pay and allowances to permanent officers who wish to read for further qualifications.

'Pre-Registration Year' Scheme

If you are a medical graduate you may be commissioned in the Royal Air Force immediately in the rank of Flying Officer. You may then spend your pre-registration year seconded to a civilian hospital. This means that during your year as house physician or surgeon you may earn, with full pay and allowances, up to £1,339 a year. On registration, you will become a Flight Lieutenant with possible earnings of £2,000 a year. To qualify for this scheme you must undertake to serve for at least three years after full registration. Your pre-registration year counts towards your gratuity following a short service commission and towards retired pay on a permanent commission. The gratuity on completion of a three year commission is £1,500 plus £200 for the full pre-registration year; on completing a five year commission the gratuity is £3,000 plus £200 for the full pre-registration year. These gratuities are tax free.

'Medical Cadetship' Scheme

If you are a medical student and have passed your second M.B. examination or the equivalent you may be commissioned now in the Royal Air Force. During the remainder of your medical training your fees will be paid and you will receive the full pay and allowances of a Pilot Officer which can amount to £1,090 a year.

To qualify for this scheme, you must undertake to serve for at least five years in the Medical Branch of the Royal Air Force after full registration.

At the end of the five years you may enter civilian practice with a tax free gratuity of between £1,400 and £2,600, or you may be selected for a permanent commission which guarantees pensionable employment to the age of 65 and which may take you to the most senior ranks in the Service.

For full information on the new conditions for doctors, specialists, graduates and cadets in the Royal Air Force, write to the Director-General of Medical Services, Air Ministry (M.A.I), (HN 893 2),1 Tavistock Square, London, W.C.1.
