

ORBENIN (BRL) SODIUM CLOXAGILLIN

ORAL PENICILLIN ACTIVE AGAINST RESISTANT STAPHYLOCOCCI

ORBENIN is indicated for immediate use in known or suspected resistant staphylococcal infections, and in mixed Gram-positive infections (e.g. infected burns) where resistant staphylococci may be present.

- Orbenin is stable to staphylococcal penicillinase and highly effective against 'resistant' staphylococci. Its activity is four times that of methicillin.
- Orbenin is also highly effective against other Gram-positive organisms, including streptococci, pneumococci and penicillin-sensitive staphylococci.
- Orbenin is bactericidal; it is acid-stable and well absorbed by either the oral or intramuscular foutes.

Dosage by mouth is 500 mg. 6 hourly. Dosage by intramuscular injection is 250 mg. four to six hourly dressings has proved highly successful in the treatment of resistant dermatoses—even in psoriasis. 'Drenison' cream or ointment is applied to the area which is then covered with thin flexible plastic sheeting. This technique facilitates penetration into the skin and hastens recovery. 'Drenison' with Neomycin is also available, for use where infection is present.

Even in psoriasis...

'TIGLYSSIN' — NHS classification

When we marketed 'Tiglyssin' a year ago we claimed that it relieved spasticity and painful spasms due to upper motor neurone disease in about fifty per cent of patients. This claim was based on reports from several independent clinicians and appears to be confirmed in practice.

Suitable patients are, however, usually cared for under general practice conditions. It has, therefore, proved impossible to collect sufficiently large groups for trials which would be statistically fully valid.

'Tiglyssin' was recently considered by the 'Cohen Committee' and placed in category 'O' ("a preparation not 'standard' which, in the Committee's view, has not been proved of therapeutic value").

Two courses of action are now open to us:

- I. To withdraw the product.
- 2. To continue to offer it, and information about it, to the medical profession.

We have decided on the second course because we believe that there are patients for whom 'Tiglyssin' has already proved more useful than any other drug at present available.

We intend, so far as we are able, to encourage further study of 'Tiglyssin'; but it is our duty to the profession to point out that the prescription of 'Tiglyssin', a preparation in category 'O', may "lead to the practitioner being called upon to justify his action if the cost of his prescribing is being formally investigated".

Our dilemma reflects the difficulty of evaluating drugs in the treatment of comparatively rare conditions. It emphasizes the need for the continued close collaboration of profession and industry.

Counteracting protein loss in the elderly

In the elderly, the lack of interest in food is both cause and result of failing energy and vitality.

ORABOLIN ensures full use of such nitrogen as is available in the food, thus counteracting body protein loss; the renewed vigour and appetite lead to improved independence and gain in weight.

ORABOLIN is effective in doses as low as 0.05 mg. per kilo body weight, well tolerated and free from liver toxicity or other harmful effects.

EXPANSYL in asthma

Complex aetiology calls for comprehensive therapy • sustained bronchodilatation

- anti-allergic action
- control of psychological factors

Many drugs are available that will terminate an asthmatic paroxysm, but the complex aetiology of asthma makes the prevention of attacks a more difficult problem.

'Expansyl' provides the most comprehensive protection available for the asthmatic by controlling the major precipitating factors.

'Expansyl' is presented in 'Spansule' sustained-release capsule form to ensure a consistently high level of protection—with minimum risk of symptom breakthrough between doses.

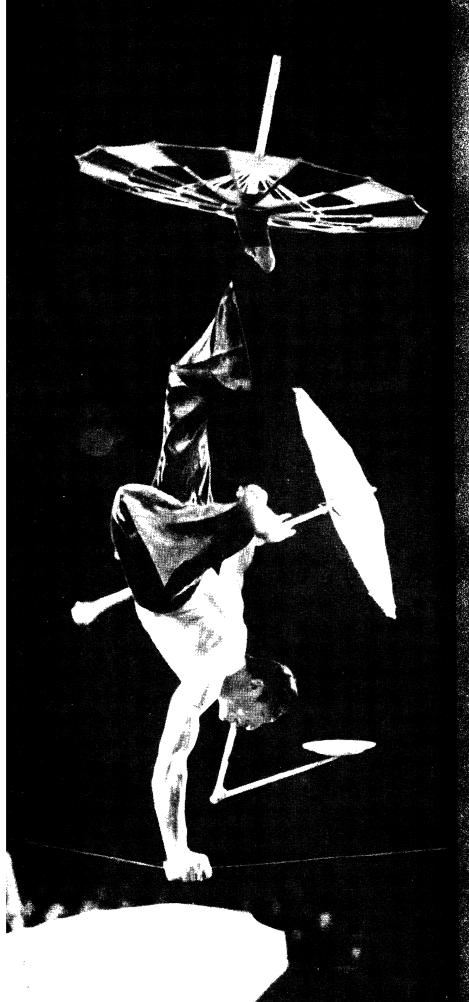

Each 'Expansyl Spansule' sustained-release capsule contains 50 mg, ephedrine sulphate, 5 mg. 'Histryl' (brand of diphenylpyraline), and 2 mg. 'Stelazine' (brand of trifluoperazine).

SMOKING AND HEALTH

Do you agree with the findings of the Royal College of Physicians' report on smoking in relation to cancer of the lung and other diseases?

If you do, then you must accept the following facts about the nicotine and tars in cigarette smoke:

- 1. tars are linked with the high incidence of lung cancer
- 2. nicotine must be avoided in thrombo-angiitis obliterans
- 3. nicotine can be damaging in coronary artery disease
- 4. nicotine does affect the heart in many normal people.

Cigarette smoking is not an easy habit to control; but now there is a way to reduce the nicotine and tars in cigarette smoke, without affecting smoking pleasure. How? By smoking through an Aquafilter.

The Aquafilter is a disposable cigarette holder containing a patented filter cartridge of treated fibres which have been water-activated (on the principle of the oriental Hookah, which filters smoke through water to remove irritants without affecting tobacco taste).

Independent laboratory tests were conducted on ten of the leading brands of cigarettes, plain and filter-tipped, small, standard and king size (between them accounting for the great majority of all cigarettes smoked in Britain). In these tests, which were made under standardised conditions of smoking as laid down by the Tobacco Manufacturers Standing Committee, the Aquafilter was found to remove an average of 76% of the nicotine and 77% of the tars from cigarette smoke. No significant difference was found in the average elimination percentages between the plain and filter-tipped cigarettes tested.

If you have patients who should give up smoking, but insist that they can't, they should be advised to smoke through an Aquafilter, always.

Details of the actual percentages of nicotine and tars extracted by the Aquafilter from each of the different brands of cigarettes tested are available to doctors on application, together with samples of the Aquafilter. Please write to the address below.

offers unsurpassed safety

ERYTHROCIN Stearate is, and has been, considered one of the safest antibiotics in practice. After millions of prescriptions, there has not been a single report implicating it with damage to the Kidneys . . . the Liver . . . or the blood-forming organs.

But Erythrocin has more than just an outstanding record of safety. It is also a potent agent with bactericidal activity against many of the everyday infections encountered in general practice. Whenever a coccal infection is involved, and this includes many staphylococci that have developed resistance to penicillin and the tetracyclines, Erythrocin should be considered.

When it comes to patient-sensitivity to penicillin, many physicians consider this point alone an important reason for prescribing Erythrocin. Allergic reactions may occur but sensitivity to Erythrocin is so rarely encountered that it is seldom an obstacle to treating patients.

a new and completely different antihypertensive agent with significant advantages

ALDOMET is indicated in all degrees of hypertension and has significant advantages both for the physician and the patient.

ALDOMET reduces both standing and lying blood pressure.

Diurnal blood pressure variations rarely occur. By adjustment of dosage, morning hypotension can be prevented without sacrificing control of afternoon blood pressure. Exertional hypotension rarely occurs.

When an effective dosage is attained, ALDOMET produces a smooth, maximal effect in most patients in 12 to 24 hours.

Dosage is simple, flexible and easily established.

The duration of action is short and hypertensive rebound does not occur on stopping treatment.

There is a general lack of severe side effects.

ALDOMET is a first choice for the treatment of all cases of essential hypertension.

ALDOMET is an original discovery of the Merck Sharp & Dohme Research Laboratories and is made in England by MERCK SHARP & DOHME LIMITED, HODDESDON, HERTS issued in tubes of 4 gm. and 10 gm. has all these merits, for it contains all three antibiotics. In each gramme of petrolatum base is: polymyxin B sulphate 5,000 units \cdot zinc bacitracin 400 units \cdot hydrocortisone 10 mgm. \cdot neomycin sulphate 5 mgm.

ALDOMET is available as yellow, film-coated tablets containing 250 mg. methyldopa. Detailed information on dosage, administration, indications, precautions and bibliography is available on request.

'CORTISPORIN' OINTMENT

'CORTISPORIN' LOTION

issued in bottles of 10 c.c. is indicated for larger, moist or abraded lesions. It contains, in each c.c. of aqueous vehicle: polymyxin B sulphate 10,000 units · hydrocortisone 10 mgm. neomycin sulphate 5 mgm.

The hydrocortisone in 'CORTISPORIN' products reduces inflammation and therefore enables the potent antibiotics to reach bacteria more easily.

Skin sensitisation has not been reported with 'Cortisporin' products. Cross-resistance or cross-sensitisation to other antibiotics does not occur.

"The danger of superinfection with monilia and other fungi occurring during oral broad-spectrum antibiotic therapy is a real one, especially if dosage is heavy and treatment prolonged.*

Preparations are available in which one of these anti-fungal drugs is combined with a broad-spectrum antibiotic in a single tablet [capsule] and have much to recommend them."

a new analgesic for the treatment of severe pain and with some advantages over morphine and pethidine.

atidine is Duncan Flockhart's brand of Anileridine, a synthetic substance closely related to pethidine. It has the advantage over pethidine of greater activity, dose for dose, and of being fully effective when given by mouth. It has less tendency than morphine to produce nausea and vomiting and it is not constipating.

A paper (J.A.M.A. 1958), reporting the use of anileridine in 632 patients, states that mental side-effects were rare, even in the elderly, and that tolerance seemed to develop more slowly and to a less extent than with morphine or pethidine.

alidine may, therefore, be used whenever a potent morphine-like analgesic is needed.

There is good evidence in continental literature, for which further confirmation is being sought in this country, that this troublesome complication of broad-spectrum antibiotic treatment can be relieved or prevented by administering living antibiotic-resistant Lactobacillus acidophilus in the form of ENPAC.

The lactobacilli can be shown to establish themselves and multiply in the bowel, and their presence is inimical to that of pathogens, including, according to some reports, Salmonella species, and to Candida and staphylococci.

FOR GERIATRIC PATIENTS safe, comfortable, effective HERNIAL SUPPORT

Because each Spencer Support is designed to order to meet the patient's individual needs, results are demonstrably superior.

The patient shown on left, at the age of 74, developed a left ventral hernia following surgery fourteen years previously. A left inguinal hernia resulted from the long wearing of a cast following a hip injury 3 years later. "Stock" supports proved ineffective. A Spencer Support as shown was prescribed with excellent results. Her Spencer gives safe, comfortable and effective control of the hernias—improves and maintains posture—protects and supports the weak muscles of old age. With the aid of her Spencer, the patient runs her household, does all her own work, and—as she says—still has time "to enjoy life."

Jectofer the foremost intramuscular haematinic for anaemia in pregnancy

No permanent stain

Jectofer does not cause permanent skin staining, inflammatory swelling, prolonged pain, or tenderness at the injection site.1 Even discoloration caused by an accidental subcutaneous injection disappears in 1-2 weeks. The injections are simple; given deeply into the gluteal muscle, there is no need for a test dose, and no need for a slow injection

Rapid, dependable response

Jectofer overcomes the inherent difficulties of oral iron therapy. The desired effect is not jeopardized by either impaired absorption or neglect of the patient in taking the tablets. Jectofer is rapidly absorbed from the injection site (by the blood as well as by the lymph) and is readily utilised by the bone marrow.^{2,4,5} The therapeutic response is achieved within a short time, as shown by raised Hb and serum levels and restored body iron stores.

Absence of allergic reactions and carcinogenicity

No allergic reactions of any import have been reported from the use of Jectofer alone and no evidence of carcinogenicity has been found.13

Iron-deficiency anaemia particularly in iron-deficiency of pregnancy. Intolerance or impaired absorption of oral iron. Substitute or supplement for blood transfusions.

Due to exceedingly rapid uptake of iron-sorbitol, it is recommended that oral iron medication is discontinued to prevent the possibility of temporary overloading.

Jectofer is a low-molecular weight iron-sorbitol-citrate compound in a dextrin-stabilized, aqueous, sterile solution. 2 ml. ampoules containing 100 mg. iron, in boxes of 5, 10 and 50 ampoules.

Jectofer is now classified under Category N of the Report of the Standing Committee on the Classification of Proprietary Preparations, January 1959. (Category N denotes drugs of proved and accepted value which are not yet classified as Standard).

Betnelan (betamethasone) is the recent anti-inflammatory steroid developed by Glaxo. It has proved remarkably effective in the treatment of severe asthma when other measures have proved inadequate.

Although dosage should be varied to suit the individual, in general practice a short-term course of 21 Betnelan tablets given over 6 days, is usually sufficient to achieve control. Side effects are no problem in short-term use and treatment is inexpensive.

Betnelan

When conventional treatment of less severe asthma is interrupted by an acute attack, short-term Betnelan therapy can restore control. When the attack is extremely severe (status asthmaticus) all recognised measures which may include injectable corticosteroids (Betnesol Injection is recommended) should be taken, at least initially. At the same time oral treatment with Betnelan can be started to maintain control. Betnelan is presented as scored tablets of 0-5 milligrams betamethasone in bottles of 30, 100 and 500. Half-strength tablets of 0-25 mg are also available in similar quantities.

NEW—soluble corticosteroid tablets
BETNESOL TABLETS

Betamethasone disodium phosphate in a form which dissolves spontaneously in water to provide a palatable solution. This new form of betamethasone ensures maximum efficiency of absorption and greater tolerance in patients liable to dyspepsia.

The names Betnelan and Betnesol are Glaxo trade marks.
