The convalescent & Mackeson

Dark beers have long been regarded as a valuable aid in building up strength after illness.

Mackeson (or Mackeson Stout, as it was long called) has a high reputation in this tradition. The makers of Mackeson recognise that only the individual practitioner can decide when such a beer can most effectively be used. For the convenience of doctors, therefore, they set out below an analysis of its nutritional properties.

Mackeson differs from other dark beers in one important respect: it is more acceptable to invalids and convalescents because of its taste. Instead of having the bitter taste usually associated with this type of beer, it is smooth, and mild in flavour.

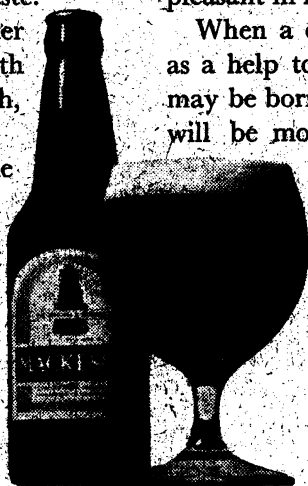

It provides an invaluable source of energy through its calorific value (276 calories per pint, essentially that of three-quarters of a pint of milk). Because its most important ingredient in this respect is Lactose Sugar, Mackeson is easily digested, quickly assimilated—by even a weakened digestive system.

Nitrogenous matter is also present, mainly as protein break-down products, e.g. peptides and amino acids. It also contains valuable water-soluble members of the B groups of vitamins.

In short, Mackeson is a drink rich in energising properties, and at the same time bland, non-bitter and pleasant in flavour.

When a dark beer is contemplated as a help to speedy convalescence, it may be borne in mind that Mackeson will be more acceptable to patients who find a slightly bitter drink not to their taste.

Lends wings to troubled minds

'Aventyl'*

brand Nortriptyline

NEW WIDE SPECTRUM
MOOD ENHANCER

'Aventyl', synthesized in the Lilly Research Laboratories, at one stroke broadens the doctor's power to relieve troubled and disturbed patients. 'Aventyl' is not a combination of an anti-depressant with a tranquillizer. Instead, 'Aventyl' is a single entity that has been shown to be clinically effective over a constellation of symptoms associated with depression as well as with anxiety and psychosomatic disturbances. Indeed, 'Aventyl' has an unusually wide spectrum of action in psychiatric disorders.

'Aventyl'*

brand Nortriptyline

provides these important advantages

1 'Aventyl' not only has its marked anti-depressant activity, but also a valuable concurrent anti-anxiety and hostility-channelling effect. In agitated depressed patients, this tranquillizing action often appears first.

2 'Aventyl' has shown an over-all response rate close to 80% in approximately 2,000 cases with widely diverse symptoms.

3 'Aventyl' produces improvement in one week in 50% of the patients who respond to it, and in almost 80% by the end of the second week.

4 'Aventyl' is not a monoamine oxidase inhibitor. Side-effects appear to be milder and less frequent than those produced by other psychotropic drugs.

5 'Aventyl' has not been observed to give potentiation or increased incidence of side-effects when used with tranquillizers, stimulants, sedatives or other standard drugs used for primary medical disorders.

6 'Aventyl' appears to be effective in allaying psychosomatic complaints in such fields as gastro-enterology, urology, dermatology, cardiology, allergy and paediatrics.

7 'Aventyl' helps some patients to overcome undesirable psychic inhibitions and gain insight and awareness of their illness, thus enabling them to cope with it more effectively. This is especially valuable with concurrent psychotherapy.

Introducing

allegron

nortriptyline hydrochloride

an important new tool in the hands of the doctor effective in a wide variety of behaviour disorders

ALLEGRON may be described as a truly multi-phasic psychotrope, embodying anti-depressant, anti-anxiety and anti-hostility* activity in a single substance, to a degree of effectiveness comparing favourably with other drugs. Careful studies followed by electronic analyses of case histories have shown that the action of ALLEGRON has a high degree of predictability, a criterion that has not hitherto been applied to anti-depressants proper or combinations of anti-depressants with tranquillizers. Further, the incidence of side effects is low.

Basic facts about ALLEGRON are set forth on the next pages. A full report, summarizing clinical experience with nortriptyline in more than 2,000 patients over a period of two years, is available on request.

□ DISTA PRODUCTS LIMITED SPEKE LIVERPOOL 24

*In common with drugs to which it is related, ALLEGRON does not counteract hostility in the same way as it controls such symptoms as depression and anxiety. While it may, in some cases, increase hostility, it usually mobilizes or re-directs the hostility in a manner that is therapeutically desirable.

potent multi-phasic psychotrope

allegron

nortriptyline hydrochloride

ALLEGRON is a new iminodibenzyl derivative which has both anti-depressant and tranquillizing properties. It is not a monoamine oxidase inhibitor. ALLEGRON is an effective psychotropic agent for the treatment of mental depression, anxiety, hostility, and psychosomatic disorders—particularly those of the gastro-intestinal tract—and as an adjunct to psychotherapy.

In some patients nortriptyline produces an initial stimulant effect, especially beneficial in retarded depression. In others the tranquillizing effect may occur before the anti-depressant activity. Side effects observed with nortriptyline appear to be less frequent and milder than with other psychotropic drugs and combinations.

Clinical evidence

A broad programme of clinical evaluation of nortriptyline has been under way in the United States for more than two years, and similar work is in progress in the United Kingdom and in many other countries. Detailed reports from some 150 investigators had been evaluated by the middle of this year, including not only psychiatrists but many general practitioners and consultants in general medicine, allergy, dermatology, gastro-enterology, paediatrics and urology. The data here summarized are based on observations in more than 2,000 patients. A number of studies on nortriptyline have been published or are now in press, and many more are in preparation. Some are of the "double-blind" variety.

Indications

A satisfactory response to nortriptyline has been observed in large proportions of patients with

Depression (endogenous, reactive, involutional, etc.)

Psychoneurosis (anxiety, phobia, obsession-compulsion)

Passive-aggressive personality

Psychosomatic reaction with functional gastro-intestinal disorders

Symptomatic reactions in childhood (bed wetting, nail biting, tantrums, etc.)

Alcoholic intoxication

Senile psychosis

Schizophrenia*

Mental retardation*

* Many of these patients also received a phenothiazine.

Nortriptyline has also shown promising results when used to treat anxiety and depression associated with various urological, dermatological, arthritic, cardiovascular, allergic and endocrine disorders.

In terms of symptoms, the following usually respond well: depression, anxiety-tension, hostility, insomnia, restlessness, disinterest, irritability, headache, fatigue, functional gastro-intestinal disorders, e.g. loss of appetite, epigastric distress, abdominal distress, diarrhoea, bloating, belching, flatulence, nausea and vomiting.

Response rate

The rate of satisfactory response to nortriptyline varied from a low of 50 per cent in 22 chronic undifferentiated schizophrenics to a high of 100 per cent in 13 child schizophrenics. The overall rate for 1,783 patients classified by psychiatric diagnosis was 79 per cent. In terms of presenting complaints the overall rate of satisfactory response among 1,718 patients was 74 per cent.

Representative examples:

Symptom	Percentage of Satisfactory Response	Number of Patients
Depression	77	1,308
Anxiety	76	1,073
Tension	63	858
Insomnia	78	666
Restlessness	72	654
Disinterest	75	629
Irritability	76	528
Hostility	69	452
Appetite loss	80	359
Headache	73	338
Epigastric distress	79	239
Fatigue	85	66

Of 244 patients who received nortriptyline as adjunctive therapy with various medical disorders, 66 per cent are reported to have shown a satisfactory response.

In a number of instances, involving more than 500 patients, investigators were able to use patients as their own controls in comparing nortriptyline with other medications, based either on treatment of previous episodes or of the present illness, when nortriptyline preceded or followed another medication.

The composite findings follow:

NORTRIPTYLINE
Treatments compared	Better	Equal	Inferior
amitriptyline	45%	35%	20%
barbiturates	52	33	15
chlordiazepoxide	62	13	25
chlorpromazine	47	29	24
imipramine	52	29	19
meprobamate	67	15	18
phenelzine	60	10	30
tranlylcypromine	50	14	36
electro-convulsive therapy	21	37	42

The time for initial improvement has been noted in more than 1,000 patients. Half of these began to improve by the end of the first week, and 79 per cent had begun to improve by the end of the second week—a highly predictable pattern of response.

☞ Combination therapy

Apart from the lifting of depression and anxiety and the constructive redirection of hostility, patients on nortriptyline often appear to experience a lessening of the sense of "imprisonment" in their illness. Communication is facilitated, rendering psychotherapy more productive or helping to make it effective where it has failed. The need for electro-convulsive therapy may be averted or reduced with nortriptyline, or such therapy made more successful. The recovery period tends to be more comfortable, with minimal confusion, fewer memory defects and a more rapidly regained sense of self-sufficiency. Remission may be more effectively maintained with continuing nortriptyline therapy.

☞ Side effects, precautions, contra-indications

Nortriptyline is a potent multi-phasic psychotrope. Extensive animal tests have shown that it possesses a low degree of toxicity. Used with due precautions, it may be considered safe in both special and general practice. Because of its anticholinergic activity, ALLEGRON should be used with caution in patients with glaucoma or a tendency towards urinary retention, and with sympathomimetic drugs. It should not be used together with monoamine oxidase inhibitors. The potentiation of adverse side effects can be serious, even fatal. ALLEGRON should not be given until 21 days after treatment with such drugs has been withdrawn. Patients have been maintained on nortriptyline for more than two years without adverse or toxic effects. No report of habituation or withdrawal symptoms have been reported. No potentiation or increased incidence of side effects has been seen when nortriptyline was given with tranquilizers, stimulants, sedatives and standard drugs for primary medical disorders. In depressed patients, the possibility of suicidal attempts must, of course, always be borne in mind. In two reported instances patients ingested excessive amounts of nortriptyline. No serious side effects were noted in either case.

The commonest side effect, noted in 26 per cent of patients is dry mouth, followed by drowsiness (11 per cent). They were mild in most cases, and neither has been considered disturbing. Constipation, dizziness, tremulousness, confusional state, restlessness, weakness and blurred vision have been seen occasionally (6–10 per cent). Rarely noted (1–5 per cent) are epigastric distress, sweating, peculiar taste, fatigue, weight gain or loss, insomnia, headache, paraesthesia, nausea and vomiting, rash and itching, and delayed micturition. The anticholinergic effects (dry mouth, drowsiness, constipation, blurred vision) appear to be related to the dosage.

☞ Dosage

Usual recommended dosages (in divided doses) are 20–100 mg. daily for adults, 10–75 mg. daily for children (1–2 mg. per kg. of body weight). Although the dose should be adjusted to the needs of the individual patient, most adults respond well to 25 mg. three times daily. In mildly anxious or depressed individuals as well as those with a psychosomatic reaction (particularly of a gastro-intestinal nature), and in children and elderly patients, 10 mg. three or four times daily has been found to provide satisfactory results.

Severe depression or psychotic reactions may require 25 mg. four times daily.

Once the desired clinical effect is achieved (three or four days to two weeks), dosage may be reduced to the smallest amount necessary. Treatment should be continued for several months after improvement is noted.

If a patient develops uncomfortable side effects, dosage should be decreased by one tablet daily until the side effects are no longer troublesome.

Psoriasis

All the time fresh evidence is received of Alphosyl's effectiveness in cases of psoriasis, even in those which have defied all other treatment for years.

Excellent clinical trials. In a recent controlled study¹ of 62 cases of psoriatic lesions, 29 were completely cleared after use of Alphosyl and altogether 55 obtained between 75% and 100% clearance. In no case was the condition less than 50% cleared.

Patients observed included those with total scalp-to-toe psoriasis, psoriasis of many years' duration, psoriasis involving tender areas and psoriasis refractory to all previous treatment. These results confirm others obtained under comparable conditions.

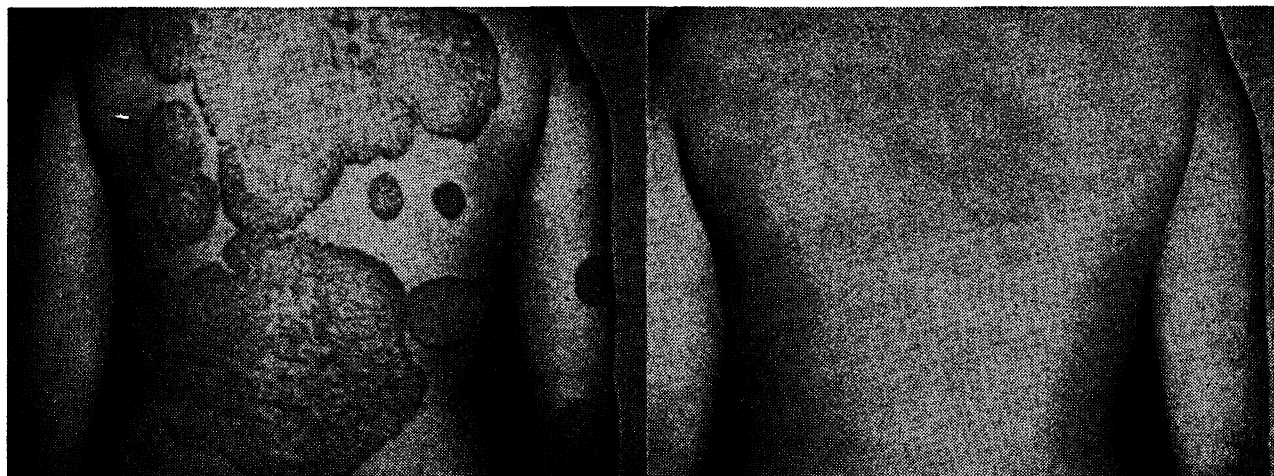

Why Alphosyl is so successful. In Alphosyl allantoin and a special refined coal tar extract are presented together for the first time. Allantoin has been found to be particularly effective in loosening psoriatic scales,² while the keratoplastic effect of coal tar is well known.* Alphosyl is non-greasy and non-staining and vanishes on application.

Freedom from side effects. Alphosyl is notably safe,^{2,3} being free from the risks which are found in other forms of treatment such as arsenicals, mercury, corticosteroids, x-ray, etc. It certainly deserves a trial in all cases of psoriasis, for which it is so widely prescribed.

The problem of the dirty mouth

Even in 1963 the dangers, and the unpleasantness, of the dirty mouth are still present in the post-operative period, as well as in many fevers; the geriatric patient being especially prone to them. Careful attention to oral hygiene will usually, of course, keep the patient comfortable and prevent complications. Such attention, however, is very time-consuming to the nurse; and it is not often realised that for most patients it can be replaced or supplemented by the use of chewing gum.

The regular use of chewing gum, by stimulating salivary flow, keeps the mouth clean in the most natural way possible. The patient is in a sense providing his own nursing care with the minimum of energy expenditure by himself.

Child patients, of course, need no encouragement to chew gum. The older patient may need encouraging—but not once he has appreciated the very obvious cleansing and refreshing effect that chewing gum has upon the mouth. Chewing gum is also of value to patients who are forbidden to smoke.

Synadrin[®] for the patient with angina pectoris

Regd. Trade Mark

Synadrin is a specific coronary vasodilator, and is chemically unrelated to any known treatment for coronary disease. Its specific activity has been demonstrated in animal experiments¹¹⁻¹⁷ and it has been tested in over 1,000 patients¹⁻¹⁰. Results of trials so far reported have been promising and Synadrin has been described as "an effective drug for treating angina pectoris."¹

Effective and safe

Synadrin has been shown to reduce the frequency of anginal attacks. It is particularly successful in patients with coronary ischaemia with or without previous infarction. It produces prolonged improvement of the coronary blood supply, and consistent treatment over a period of weeks produces the best results. Synadrin is well tolerated and its safety has been shown by use in more than 1,000 patients over the last two years.

Dosage

Treatment may be initiated with 2 tablets, three times daily, reducing after three days to a maintenance dosage of 1 tablet two or three times daily.

Presentation

Synadrin is presented as tablets, each containing 15 mg. of prenylamine lactate in bottles of 30 and 150 at basic NHS prices of 8/8d. and 34/8d. (subject to P.T.). Synadrin is known in some other countries as Segontin.

medihaler-ergotamine

Medihaler-Ergotamine offers unique advantages in the treatment of migraine and recurrent vascular headaches. An entirely new route, oral inhalation, enables ergotamine to provide the speed and degree of relief expected only of injections. Yet Medihaler-Ergotamine is as simple to use and carry as a tablet. Attacks are aborted by a much smaller dose than is needed orally, with correspondingly less risk of side-effects. One to three inhalations ensure profound relief in most cases, at a cost of only 3d to 9d per treatment. Basic NHS prices are: complete unit 17/4, refill 15/-.

Medihaler-Ergotamine contains Ergotamine Tartrate B.P. 9 mg./ml. and delivers 60 measured doses (0.36 mg. per dose).

'ILOSONE' the decisive move

when infection poses problems

'Ilosone', brand Erythromycin Estolate B.P., gives quicker, surer and more effective treatment of common bacterial infections than any other oral form of erythromycin.

'Ilosone' is more stable than either erythromycin base or erythromycin stearate, particularly in the presence of gastric acid. This results in consistently higher and more prolonged serum concentrations, and accounts for the quick response of most respiratory tract and other common bacterial infections, to the decisive control of 'Ilosone'.

Side-effects are rare; very occasionally a reversible jaundice occurs, but no residual toxic effects have been authenticated.

Average Adult Dose

250 mg. every six hours (1 G. daily), increased to 2 G. daily in severe infections.

Presentation

'Pulvules' 125 mg. and 250 mg.

Suspension 125 mg. per 5 ml. Bottles to make 60 ml.

HAVE A LINE FOR EVERY CALL ON INFANT FEEDING

No two babies are exactly alike, but the vast majority will thrive on our standard infant foods. A very small percentage, however, present a wide variety of differing feeding problems.

The whole of our medical research, over the past fifty years, has been directed towards the production of superlative infant foods. As a result, we claim to produce not only the best food for the majority, but also for this small but vitally important minority.

Our Medical Handbook, giving a complete list of products with their analyses and indications, can be obtained free on application to: The Medical & Research Department, Cow & Gate Ltd., Guildford, Surrey.

A major announcement from Abbott, makers of PENTOTHAL*

PENTHRANE

(Methoxyflurane, Abbott)

REGD.

Brings new ease of control, and many safety features to inhalation anaesthesia

Penthrane, a halogenated ethyl methyl ether, provides full surgical depths of anaesthesia equal to any agent, and adds many safety features. Here are just a few of its many outstanding benefits:

Potent anaesthetic effect: Penthrane moves the patient direct from Stage I into Stage III, bypassing the delirium stage. Here it easily produces any desired surgical plane without need for supplemental anaesthetics.

Excellent muscle relaxation: Pronounced muscular relaxation is one of the most striking features of Penthrane. For most surgery, supplemental relaxants are not needed.

Profound analgesia: Penthrane provides analgesia of exceptional duration. The analgesia persists well into the postoperative period. This considerably lessens the need for postoperative narcotics. There is no nausea or vomiting during induction, and incidence during recovery is low.

Ideal in "balanced" anaesthesia: Penthrane has been most successfully employed when an intravenous barbiturate is used to facilitate induction. A short-acting muscle relaxant frequently is used to accomplish early intubation.

Freedom from explosion hazard: The vapour will neither burn nor explode at any concentration used for anaesthesia, regardless of oxygen content.

A remarkably stable cardiovascular function: Normal sinus rhythms are maintained throughout all levels of anaesthesia. Pulse rate is well sustained. Blood pressure declines only gradually, without fear of precipitous drop-offs.

How supplied: In 125-ml. shatterproof bottles. These and other features are discussed in full detail in the Penthrane literature—available on request.

TRYPTIZOL

Amitriptyline hydrochloride

the antidepressant with intrinsic tranquillising properties

TRYPTIZOL is an outstanding antidepressant, particularly valuable for its tranquillising effect on the anxiety and insomnia—characteristically early morning awakening—which so often accompany depression.

TRYPTIZOL is indicated in all forms and presentations of depression. Other symptoms which may be expected to respond well include functional somatic complaints, loss of interest, loss of appetite, feelings of guilt, slowing of emotional and physical reactions.

TRYPTIZOL is well-tolerated and serious toxic side reactions are extremely rare. It is not a monoamine oxidase inhibitor.

TRYPTIZOL is supplied as tablets of 25 mg and 10 mg, as a syrup and as an injection. Detailed information on indications, dosage, administration, precautions and bibliography is available on request.

A career for doctors in the R.A.M.C.

GOOD GENERAL PRACTICE

Professional standards in the Royal Army Medical Corps are high. The R.A.M.C. is responsible for the welfare not only of serving officers and men but also for many of their dependants; there is thus great scope for good general practice. An illustration of this is the fact that over 12,000 babies were born in military hospitals during, for example, 1961. There are thirty well-equipped hospitals at home and overseas, as well as field medical units to provide medical care for the Army in its active role.

Accommodation is provided for all married and single officers. Well-equipped surgeries with medical assistants are provided, allowing you to do your best work, and devote more time to the care of your patients. Consultant opinion is available to you, and, as a general practitioner, you are welcome in the hospital to follow up your cases.

PAY, ALLOWANCES AND LEAVE

The range of pay varies from not less than £2,000 for the young married medical officer up to £5,000 for the senior consultant; and you will be offered employment up to the age of 65. Annual allowances of up to £185 for the first, up to £225 for the second, and up to £260 for the third and all subsequent children, may be granted to assist in the education of children who are sent to boarding schools in the United Kingdom. These allowances are untaxed when serving outside the United Kingdom.

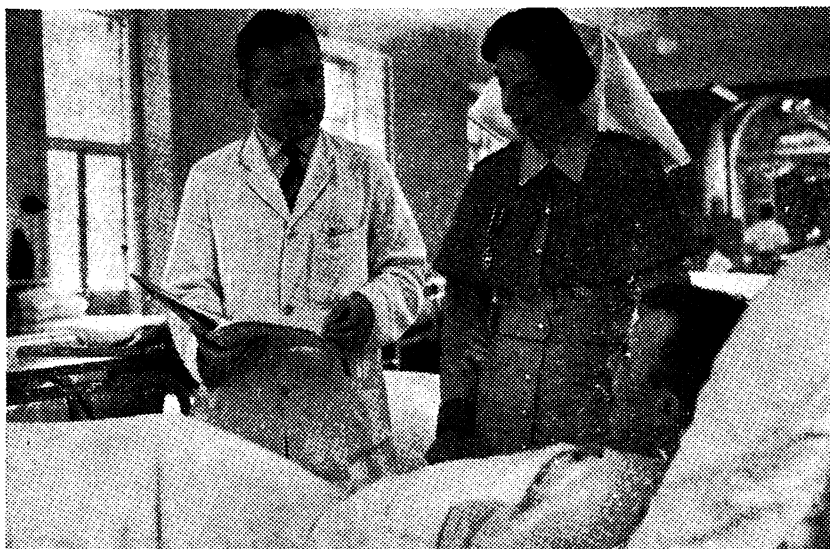

Six weeks' leave is given each year, and you are not responsible for finding or paying your relief.

SPECIALISATION

Doctors granted permanent commissions may apply for training in any of fourteen specialties, and those selected are given ample time and opportunity for obtaining their higher qualifications. Senior specialists may be awarded consultant grading directly comparable with civilian standards. Extra pay for specialists ranges between £109 and £584 a year.

POST-GRADUATE STUDY AND RESEARCH

Great importance is attached to post-graduate study for permanent officers engaged in general practice, as well as specialists. General practitioners are expected to take diplomas, such as D.C.H., D. Obst. R.C.O.G.,

An officer in the R.A.M.C. visits a patient, accompanied by a member of Queen Alexandra's Royal Army Nursing Corps.

and refresher courses are arranged for both specialists and general practitioners at the Royal Army Medical College and other post-graduate centres.

Research is an increasingly important aspect of the work of the R.A.M.C. Several officers are engaged either wholly or in part in clinical and physiological research, their work covering a wide range of subjects.

GENERAL CONDITIONS

Previous service in the Armed Forces counts for pay and promotion, and an antedate of up to seven years may be granted for civilian experience.

Short service commissions are for 3 to 5 years with terminal tax-free gratuities of £1,500 and £3,000 respectively. A short service commission can lead to a permanent commission. For permanent officers, there is an initial taxable grant of £1,500 and a terminal tax-free grant of three times the annual pension. The pension scheme is non-contributory. The upper age limit for permanent commissions is forty, and for short service commissions, fifty.

PRE-REGISTRATION COMMISSIONS

Medical graduates may be accepted for short service commissions of 3 or 5 years at any time before full registration.

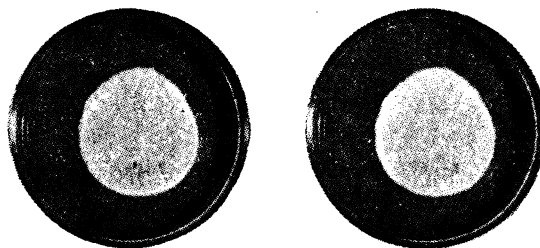

Age limit is 32 years. Pre-registration appointments may be done in N.H.S. hospitals of choice, or in selected military hospitals. Board and accommodation are free, and salary is £876 for a married man; £1,065, if over 25 years. The short service commissions carry a terminal gratuity. In addition, a gratuity of £200 is payable in respect of the pre-registration year's service.

MEDICAL CADETSHIPS

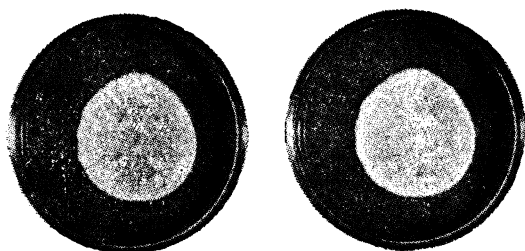

A limited number of cadetships is open to male medical students who have passed their 2nd M.B. or equivalent examination. Tuition fees are paid from Army funds, and books and instruments are issued on loan. The age limit is 28 years: the salary for a single man is £930.

Service with the R.A.M.C. is for a minimum period of five years after full registration; this service carries a terminal gratuity. A booklet, 'A Career for Doctors in the Royal Army Medical Corps,' containing details of pay, gratuities, pensions and conditions of service, may be obtained from: The Director-General, Army Medical Services, The War Office, (HNR/36/B) (AMD 2B), London S.W.1, Tel: GRO 8040, Ext. 602, or you may care to come and discuss your application personally.

treatment

GRISOVIN-FP

fine particle griseofulvin for greater absorption

DURATION OF TREATMENT

Treatment should be continued for at least four weeks, but it must vary with the site and nature of infection. Thus treatment should be extended for infections involving the nails or where the keratin layer is thickened as in the soles of the feet; in such cases, it is best continued for at least two weeks after clinical symptoms have disappeared. GrisoVin-FP given orally exerts its activity systemically, and endows newly formed keratin with the power to resist fungal attack. The time taken for this resistant barrier to reach the surface completely will vary with the different structures, e.g. thin body skin, thickened palms and soles, hair and nails etc.

Cure is demonstrably complete when it is no longer possible to see the fungus microscopically or by culture, but the infected skin in most cases shows a rapid and remarkable improvement in a very short time.

CLINICAL USE

Grisovin-FP given by mouth, has remarkable activity against dermatophyte (tinea) infections of the skin, hair and nails. Accurate diagnosis and selection of cases is desirable, and it should be recognised that minor superficial fungal infections can often be successfully treated by topical remedies.

DOSAGE

The significance of griseofulvin blood levels and their duration in relation to therapeutic effectiveness is not yet clearly established. As judged by comparative ability to produce blood levels, the dosage of GrisoVin-FP usually employed for adults is likely to be four tablets (500 mg) daily. Higher dosage may be needed in some cases to produce full therapeutic effect and in such instances up to eight tablets (1.0 gram) or more daily, may be given, at least for a period. Correspondingly, dosage for children usually will be two or three tablets (250 or 375 mg) daily.

SERVICES

A PRACTICE AS WIDE AS THE WORLD

In the Medical Branch of the Royal Air Force you gain wide clinical experience. You travel the world and among the subjects with which you will become familiar are tropical medicine, rescue operations, the care of airborne patients and medicine in relation to flying. You will also be expected to contribute to research.

As Medical Officer on a Royal Air Force Station you have a vigorous general practice among the officers, men and their families. You enjoy complete clinical freedom in charge of sick quarters with your own beds, and you will be assisted by a well-trained nursing and clerical staff. You and your family can live comfortably and near your surgery.

Your salary and career prospects are good: as a married man drawing full allowances you could receive £2000 per year on entry. If you have post-graduate civilian experience you could be granted up to seven years back-dated seniority. Pensionable career commissions or short service engagements entitling you to a generous tax-free gratuity on completion are still available to the right applicants.

GRADUATES AND MEDICAL STUDENTS

If you are a pre-registration year graduate or a senior medical student you may apply for a commissioned cadetship. This will enable you to finish your pre-registration house jobs or medical training as an officer in the R.A.F. drawing full pay and certain allowances. On completion you will serve on a long or short service engagement in the Medical Branch of the Service.

For details of entry to the Royal Air Force as a registered doctor, a graduate or a medical student, write to the Director-General of Medical Services, Air Ministry (M.A.I.). (HN53P), 1 Tavistock Square, London, WC1.

UNIVERSITY AND RESEARCH
APPOINTMENTSBRITISH POSTGRADUATE MEDICAL FEDERATION
University of LondonPOSTGRADUATE TRAVELLING
FELLOWSHIPS

The Governing Body of the British Postgraduate Medical Federation invites applications from registered medical or dental practitioners for a limited number of post-graduate Travelling Fellowships. The aim of the Fellowships is to enable graduates who are in the course of training as specialists in one of the pre-clinical or clinical branches of medicine, surgery or dentistry, to obtain experience of the methods of practice, education and research at other universities or centres in the United Kingdom or abroad. Candidates must be British subjects holding an appointment at one of the undergraduate or postgraduate teaching hospitals or medical or dental schools or postgraduate institutes of the University of London. The Fellowships will normally be tenable for one year, and the successful candidates will be expected to commence work at, or after the end of, the academic year, 1963-4. The value of the Fellowships is not less than £1,000 per annum and, in addition, allowances are paid for study abroad, for dependants in the case of married Fellows, and for travelling.

Applications must be submitted before November 30, 1963, and further information and application forms may be obtained from the Assistant Director, British Postgraduate Medical Federation, Central Office, 18 Guildford Street, London W.C.1. (5257)

MENTAL HEALTH RESEARCH FUND STUDENT PRIZES AND TRAVELLING FELLOWSHIP IN PSYCHIATRY

The Mental Health Research Fund awards annually to medical students and doctors in their pre-registration year three monetary prizes and a travelling fellowship as the result of an essay competition on a subject relating to mental health, and a subsequent interview.

Applicants gaining the top three places in the essay competition will be given prizes of £100, £50 and £25 respectively. The travelling fellowship, tenable in a psychiatric or other department abroad for up to six months, will be awarded as the result of an interview combined with consideration of the candidate's undergraduate record. Persons interviewed will be chosen from the top ten in the essay competition. The travelling fellowship will normally be taken up at the end of the pre-registration year or, in the event of it being awarded to a medical student, may be taken up after qualification.

The subject for the essay this year is "What objectively verified contributions to the understanding and treatment of psychiatric disorder have been made by (a) learning theory and (b) psychoanalysis?"

The Panel of Examiners consists of two members of the Research Committee of the Mental Health Research Fund and one member of the Association of Teachers of Psychiatry in Undergraduate Medical Schools.

Essays should be sent, before March 1, 1964, to the Secretary, Research Committee, Mental Health Research Fund, 38 Wigmore Street, London W.1 (Tel.: WE1beck 4103), from whom further details may be obtained. (5215)
