Routine examination of young children's feet reveals many foot-ailments in the making. Doctors with children under their care may wish to take preventive action by instructing mothers on correct shoe-fitting for growing feet.

In Clarks experience, the vital factors are:

- 1. AMPLE TOE-ROOM held in place by close fit at heel and instep.
- 2. CONTOUR-MEASUREMENT—for girth as well as width and length.
- 3. FULL CHOICE OF SIZES—with up to four width fittings in each length-size and half-size.

- 4. TRAINED FITTERS, with a sound instruction course on fitting children's feet.

On these factors, Clarks have built their own reputation and can give this real promise; Freedom from all foot troubles caused by footwear, if from babyhood none but Clarks Shoes are worn correctly fitted.

Come, fill the case...

Breadless, wineless, sadly songless in an unpoetic wilderness known as "the dog house". Such poetic justice may well descend upon that dream-filled head of yours. For if you scatter your quatrains to the four corners of the living-room, don't feign surprise when you're hauled onto the carpet—Persian or otherwise—and faced with a wife waxing anything but lyrical. The gist of her few-thousand-word sermon being: "The proper place for books is a bookcase". Who can deny it?

Minty have specialised for years in making superb bookcases that house your many-splendoured books in dust-free distinction behind very elegant sliding glass doors. Easy on the eye—and the pocket—they allow you to go your merry way reading books, buying books—for Minty bookcases are sectional and may be started for as little as £12.19.0—on deferred terms if you prefer.

Only at the Minty Centres shown below can you see and buy Minty bookcases (and furniture). The Centres are so placed that Minty furniture is within reasonably easy reach of most people. If, however, for any reason you can't call, Minty will be glad to send you a catalogue and particulars of post ordering. Write to Dept. B.31, Minty Ltd., 44-45 High Street, Oxford.

CLO AND THE FIFTH COLUMN

FATTY ACID COMPOSITION OF OILS AND FATS

EFFECT ON PLASMA CHOLESTEROL

Data based on—

Lancet, 1956, I, 521.

Lancet, 1961, I, 739-741.

A relationship between raised plasma cholesterol levels and coronary heart disease seems to be accepted; though whether reducing such levels will prevent the disease is not yet established. When, however, the possibility of doing so is thought to provide sufficient reason for bringing down a particular patient's cholesterol level, the commonest means adopted is the prescribing of a diet high in unsaturated fatty acids.

In everyday terms this means substituting any one of a series of oils for ordinary dietary fat; and therefore the superiority of cod liver oil to all other oils—both in its content of polyunsaturated fatty acids, and in its ability to lower plasma cholesterol levels—becomes important. Its value in the latter respect is shown in the fifth column of the table. Two tablespoons of cod liver oil a day are sufficient to produce a marked reduction of plasma cholesterol. But the taste of cod liver oil?—The modern hermetically processed kind is almost tasteless; and in any case, our cod liver oil is also available in a mixable, mint-flavoured form and in capsules. And hypervitaminosis?—The short answer is that no unequivocal case of hypervitaminosis A or D due to cod liver oil has ever been reported.

'ILOSONE' the decisive move

when infection poses problems

'Ilosone', brand Erythromycin Estolate B.P., gives quicker, surer and more effective treatment of common bacterial infections than any other oral form of erythromycin.

'Ilosone' is more stable than either erythromycin base or erythromycin stearate, particularly in the presence of gastric acid. This results in consistently higher and more prolonged serum concentrations, and accounts for the quick response of most respiratory tract and other common bacterial infections, to the decisive control of 'Ilosone'.

Side-effects are rare; very occasionally a reversible jaundice occurs, but no residual toxic effects have been authenticated.

Average Adult Dose

250 mg. every six hours (1 G. daily), increased to 2 G. daily in severe infections.

Regd. Trade Mark

Synadrin is a specific coronary vasodilator, and is chemically unrelated to any known treatment for coronary disease. Its specific activity has been demonstrated in animal experiments<sup>11-17</sup> and it has been tested in over 1,000 patients<sup>1-10</sup>. Results of trials so far reported have been promising and Synadrin has been described as "an effective drug for treating angina pectoris."<sup>1</sup>

Effective and safe

Synadrin has been shown to reduce the frequency of anginal attacks. It is particularly successful in patients with coronary ischaemia with or without previous infarction. It produces prolonged improvement of the coronary blood supply, and consistent treatment over a period of weeks produces the best results. Synadrin is well tolerated and its safety has been shown by use in more than 1,000 patients over the last two years.

Dosage

Treatment may be initiated with 2 tablets, three times daily, reducing after three days to a maintenance dosage of 1 tablet two or three times daily.

Presentation

Synadrin is presented as tablets, each containing 15 mg. of prenylamine lactate in bottles of 30 and 150 at basic NHS prices of 8/8d. and 34/8d. (subject to P.T.). Synadrin is known in some other countries as Segontin.

HYDRATENE

To ease pain and induce sleep Hydratene combines the well-known hypnotic Chloral Hydrate, with the modern analgesic Paracetamol, and has the fundamental merit of being both effective and mild. In this compound form Chloral Hydrate has little odour or taste and shares with the analgesic, Paracetamol, the advantage of being singularly free from side effects and habituation. Hydratene, in the appropriate dosage, is therefore safe for adults and children.

"In domiciliary practice generally, almost half of those people who regularly require hypnotics, but who are not mentally or physically ill, can be satisfactorily sedated by means of a small dose of chloral given in some palatable form." The Practitioner, 1963, 191, 353.

"In a symposium* held lately at Buxton, earlier suggestions that it ('Atromid') would reduce raised serum-lipid levels without significant side-effects were amply substantiated. Now it is clear that 'Atromid' not only influences several lipid fractions but also affects platelet stickiness and fibrinolysis."

Lancet, 1963, i, 1360.

It has been shown that :

- 'ATROMID' LOWERS ELEVATED SERUM LIPIDS
- 'ATROMID' CORRECTS EXCESSIVE PLATELET STICKINESS AND REDUCES PLATELET TURNOVER
- 'ATROMID' INCREASES FIBRINOLYTIC ACTIVITY AND REDUCES SERUM FIBRINOGEN

Psoriasis

All the time fresh evidence is received of Alphosyl's effectiveness in cases of psoriasis, even in those which have defied all other treatment for years.

Excellent clinical trials. In a recent controlled study<sup>1</sup> of 62 cases of psoriatic lesions, 29 were completely cleared after use of Alphosyl and altogether 55 obtained between 75% and 100% clearance. In no case was the condition less than 50% cleared.

Patients observed included those with total scalp-to-toe psoriasis, psoriasis of many years' duration, psoriasis involving tender areas and psoriasis refractory to all previous treatment. These results confirm others obtained under comparable conditions.

Why Alphosyl is so successful. In Alphosyl allantoin and a special refined coal tar extract are presented together for the first time. Allantoin has been found to be particularly effective in loosening psoriatic scales,<sup>2</sup> while the keratoplastic effect of coal tar is well known.<sup>2</sup> Alphosyl is non-greasy and non-staining and vanishes on application.

Freedom from side effects. Alphosyl is notably safe,<sup>2-3</sup> being free from the risks which are found in other forms of treatment such as arsenicals, mercury, corticosteroids, x-ray, etc. It certainly deserves a trial in all cases of psoriasis, for which it is so widely prescribed.

WHAT IT'S LIKE TO BE AN ARMY DOCTOR

Extracts from an article by Major K.N. Murray, RAMC

WHEN SERVING WITH THE BRITISH ARMY OF THE RHINE

If a soldier knows that no matter where he may be posted on duty, his wife and children will soon join him, or indeed travel with him, he is a happy man. The British, however, have an inborn distrust of 'natives,' be they Germans, Indians, Malayans or Chinese, so that it can be a great source of confidence to a travelling family to know that anywhere in the world they will have the backing of typical British services, not least of all doctors, nurses and hospitals.

A TYPICAL DAY

My day began with what has long been termed the sick parade. This is, in fact, not a parade of any kind, but a normal surgery, in this case at 8.30 in the morning with the patients all men. The soldiers sit comfortably in the waiting room, reading magazines, until the sign goes on and it is their turn to see the doctor in the privacy of his consulting room.

Following this, there were usually three or four men to see each day for brief general medical examinations. In this way, the overall health of a regiment is under constant review, and men are given a chance to live the type of Army life for which they are most physically suited. The Army institution of injections still exists; but, after all, the modern soldier may travel anywhere in the world at very short notice, and it is greatly to the benefit of him and his family, that we should be able to give them protection against so many diseases which used to be fearful scourges.

Half an hour on one or two mornings a week are often set aside for this, when the protection of a few men would be brought up to date and so, in this way, the whole regiment is kept as immune as possible to disease. As in all good professions, there was then a suitable break for coffee and biscuits.

The rest of my morning was then normally taken up with calls to visit families in their quarters. All the normal childhood ailments were there in abundance, and with a close-living community there were seasons of spots. While there is nothing like the same proportion of old people, who tend to take up so much of a civilian doctor's time in Britain, families often have older friends or parents staying with them on holiday, who present the doctor with a medical surprise in the way of a complicated or interesting diagnosis.

With the visits finished, I could then have a peaceful hour and a half at home for lunch with my wife and children, though it wasn't unheard of for the phone to go in the middle of it and to be told, 'come quick, Trooper Jones has dropped a tank on his fingers.' But this is a doctor's lot, or privilege, in all walks of life, and I soon became quite an expert at the minor surgery of everyday cuts and bruises.

FAMILY CLINICS

Four afternoons a week I had a family clinic in the Medical Centre from two to four o'clock. For this we had a separate consulting room and waiting room for families only. Assisting at those clinics were a SSAFA sister, who is a combination of sister, midwife and health visitor, and a German qualified sister.

One of those afternoon clinics was usually set aside for babies only, and in this it was rather I who assisted the SSAFA sister, and a vast number of infants were duly weighed and filled up with their triple antigens, polio inoculations and vaccinations, according to age.

This particular clinic always seems to be the greatest attraction abroad, and the mothers find a great moral boost in Sister's encouraging words as the infants go off until next time. One morning each week a gynaecologist visited the Medical Centre from the nearby Military Hospital to hold an ante-natal clinic, where an expert eye was kept on the well-being of all expectant mothers.

The tie-up with the Army Hospital Services is indeed close in all aspects. The hospitals have staffs of physicians and gynaecologists, specialists in skin diseases, eyes and ENT, and even psychiatrists, all RAMC personnel. When I wished to make a specialist appointment for a patient, a letter quickly arranged it, and when the day came around, the journey to hospital was made free by army car or bus.

Drugs, too, are free. Each medical centre contains a completely stocked dispensary—the old joke of the number 9 is dead now; in fact, I've never been quite sure what it was. The doctor has available the drugs of his choice, and presentation of his prescriptions to the dispensary brings them to the patient free of charge.

ARMY LIFE ABROAD

Beyond my medical duties, I have found great attraction in the Army life out here. In any unit or regiment, the doctor is a valued and honoured citizen and attempts are always made to keep him a happy one. Most important is a good house and garden to live in, and I may say that never in civilian life could I hope to live in a house so good and so well equipped as that provided for me by the Army. You may gather I like it, both the work and the play. I like to travel abroad, not just to see a place, but to live there and find out what it is really like.

If you wish to know more about service as an Army Doctor, a booklet, 'A Career for Doctors in the RAMC,' may be obtained from the Director-General, Army Medical Services, The War Office, (HNR/35/B), London S.W.1. Tel: GRO 8040, Ext. 602. Or you may care to come in and discuss your particular case with us personally; if so, please write or telephone for an appointment.

THE PLATE

We forced our way through the crush of children into the garage. It was near mid-day and most of these children had been here since 9 a.m. We had arrived without giving Notice.

Inside the garage everything was spotless. On the table tin plates and dessert spoons beautifully clean.

Now the signal was given. Like wild things they stormed in—shouting gleefully. By now the chunks of meat were in tin plates, the haricot beans and tomato soup added colour. A large hunk of bread alongside.

In one minute flat some plates were empty. Over there the tiny girl of two was giving some of hers to a larger girl. In a few minutes every scrap was gone and hunger still not destroyed. Ah well, breakfast will soon be here again. Nothing to eat till then. With parents dead or unemployed life is not too bad with the milk and soup. The 580 children now troop away and the clearing up starts.

Can you help us provide for the plates. Over 400,000 children are in need in Algeria. Less than 10,000 are in homes where they get reasonable care.

The needs are heavy. We list a few items.

Bunks 20s., blankets 15s., sheets 8s., pillowcases 2s. 6d., knives 1s., forks 1s., tea and dessert spoons 9d., tin plates 9d., towels 1s. 6d., socks 2s., soap 3d. Exercise books, pens, pencils, slates, chalk and crayon without end to feed the minds.

And above all. CASH for food for those plates.

Frank Harcourt-Munning,
Administrator, War on Want.

Will you please respond to the Administrator's plea. Your gift, small or large, will be received with gratitude.

in diuretic therapy and in many antihypertensive regimes

HydroSALURIC-K the diuretic with potassium

Hydrochlorothiazide and potassium chloride

Whenever a thiazide diuretic is indicated, the administration of HydroSALURIC-K will provide

- the short duration of action of hydrochlorothiazide, giving uninterrupted nights
- a reasonable safeguard against the development of thiazide-induced hypokalaemia and its sequelae.

In addition, HydroSALURIC-K is often valuable in antihypertensive therapy. Occasionally effective alone, it is particularly useful by virtue of its potentiating effect on the actions of reserpine, the ganglion and adrenergic blocking agents and methyl dopa (ALDOMET).

HydroSALURIC-K is supplied as pink, sugar-coated tablets containing 25 mg hydrochlorothiazide and 572 mg potassium chloride (equivalent to 300 mg potassium). The potassium chloride is enclosed in a reliable enteric coating to avoid nausea and vomiting.

Detailed information on indications, dosage, administration, precautions and bibliography is available on request. ALDOMET is a registered trademark.
