“Doctor,
I feel awful”

Once she might have been diagnosed as “anxiety state”. Today, you know she might be a depressive, but it doesn't seem as simple as all that. The truth of the matter is that patients don't always fit neatly into diagnostic categories. They may suffer from such diverse symptoms as depression, agitation, loss of appetite and tension-fatigue at the same time.

The great strength of 'Aventyl' is that its beneficial actions range widely over the symptoms which plague these problem patients. 'Aventyl' is not merely an anti-depressant, nor is it a combination of drugs. It is a single substance which relieves a constellation of mental and emotional symptoms embracing depression, anxiety and their effects on awareness and mood.

'Aventyl' is not a monoamine oxidase inhibitor, and no serious side-effects have been reported at the recommended dosage.

Povidone-Iodine

A NEW SKIN ANTISEPTIC

- kills bacteria on contact
- provides prolonged microbicidal activity
- does not cause iodine sensitivity
- retains the unique antiseptic properties of iodine without the side effects.

CLINICAL EVALUATION OF THIS NEW IODOPHOR SUGGESTS THAT IT IS THE ANTISEPTIC OF CHOICE FOR PRE-OPERATIVE SKIN STERILISATION

- non-irritating
 - non-staining
 - film forming
 - water soluble
- The brown coloration on the skin indicates continued microbicidal activity and delineates treated areas. The colour vanishes when the antiseptic properties cease.

5 drops for the removal of EAR WAX

Results confirm that Cerumol is the most efficient agent yet introduced for the purpose and that it is exceptionally reliable and safe. In 10-30 minutes the softened or disimpacted wax can usually be wiped out with a probe tipped with cotton wool, or by gentle syringing. Patients can readily be instructed to instil the drops themselves and, in many cases, the loosened wax will run out of its own accord, rendering further attendance at the surgery unnecessary.

ANTIBIOTICS AND THE INTESTINAL FLORA

Treatment with broad spectrum antibiotics suppresses the normal flora, which may be replaced by abnormal resistant organisms causing diarrhoea.

This change can be prevented or reversed by the implantation of Lactobacillus acidophilus which has been rendered antibiotic-resistant, and is thus able to multiply freely under these abnormal conditions. This organism itself forms an antibiotic which may contribute to its rapid preponderance over other species.^{1, 2}

Oral treatment with antibiotic-resistant L. acidophilus in the form of ENPAC has been shown to eliminate Candida from the faeces of infants with antibiotic-induced diarrhoea, with relief of symptoms succeeded by rapid gain in weight^{3, 4} and greatly to reduce the numbers of staphylococci in the faeces of patients treated with tetracyclines.⁵

INTERESTING READING

It has been said of a certain famous daily newspaper that its front page is not news. This can possibly be said of many journals! It may even be said of the B.M.J.'s final pages.

These, of course, are devoted to a miscellany of small announcements. Many deal with appointments in practice and hospitals (at home and overseas) and educational programmes.

However, there is always a nicely balanced variety of doctors' Personal Notices, Hotels, Consulting Rooms, Commercial advertisements of all types, Cruises and Tours and sometimes an item to tickle the palate under Bon Appetit or one to appeal to the outdoor enthusiast under Sailing.

As a reader you will find these classified advertisement pages a source of real interest or, as an advertiser, something to be used to advantage.

SIDROS—FOR THE PATIENT DEFICIENT IN IRON

well tolerated iron compound plus reducing agent to aid absorption

In the treatment of iron-deficiency anaemia many iron salts can produce the desired increase in haemoglobin level. Some also have a tendency to produce side-effects, and there can be a great deal of wastage through non-absorption.

SIDROS is designed to overcome these disadvantages, and provides a reliable treatment for iron-deficiency anaemia.

Ferrous gluconate Each Sidros tablet contains 300 mg of ferrous gluconate which produces a highly satisfactory clinical response and is very well tolerated.

Ascorbic acid Sidros also contains ascorbic acid (30 mg per tablet) which is known to aid absorption by maintaining iron in the reduced state.

The basic NHS price of 100 Sidros tablets is 2/8 as dispensed from 1000 tablet bottle. Samples of Sidros are available on request.

SIDROS is effective, well absorbed, well tolerated and economical

SKIN CLOSURES

Surgery Without Stitches

Obvious advantages for Theatre and General Practitioner Work

* PRE-PACKED STERILE * EXCELLENT POST-OPERATIVE COSMETIC RESULT * LESS CHANCE OF INFECTION * STITCH REMOVAL ELIMINATED

"Steri-Strip" Skin Closures eliminate skin stitches in the closure of lacerations and major surgical incisions. They are sterile and pre-packed in dry, peel-open plastic packs—of obvious advantage to General Practitioners. The backing is porous and the adhesive is chemically inert. It will adhere to the skin for extended periods virtually without irritation or maceration. Cosmetic results are excellent.

LACERATIONS No stitch removal! "Steri-Strip" Skin Closures eliminate pain of stitching—and lacerations are closed without trauma—very important with children. There is reduced need for local anesthesia and the chances of introducing infection with each needle puncture are eliminated.

Too much IRON?

Too much iron delivered in any one place at any one time is difficult to deal with, to say the least. In the stomach, excessive ferrous sulphate causes irritation and unpleasant side effects, often leading to the patient's abandoning therapy.

The FERRO-GRADUMET® is a unique approach to the treatment of iron-deficiency anaemia; for just one tablet daily gives steady, trouble-free assimilation of ample amounts of iron. Instead of releasing a corrosively large dose of ferrous sulphate in the stomach, the Gradumet slowly leaches out its contents over a period of hours throughout the gastro-intestinal tract until, finally, the empty matrix is excreted.

This once-daily haematinic is made to be taken on an empty stomach. The predetermined release pattern, which is independent of body chemistry, retains the greater part of the ferrous sulphate until the tablet has passed into the small intestine, where it is better absorbed with less irritation.

The secret of the Gradumet lies in an inert spongelike matrix, the pores of which are permeated with ferrous sulphate and a soluble 'channelling agent'. Each Ferro-GRADUMET tablet contains 525 mg ferrous sulphate, equivalent to 105 mg elemental iron—a sufficient daily dose in all but the most severe cases of iron-deficiency anaemia.

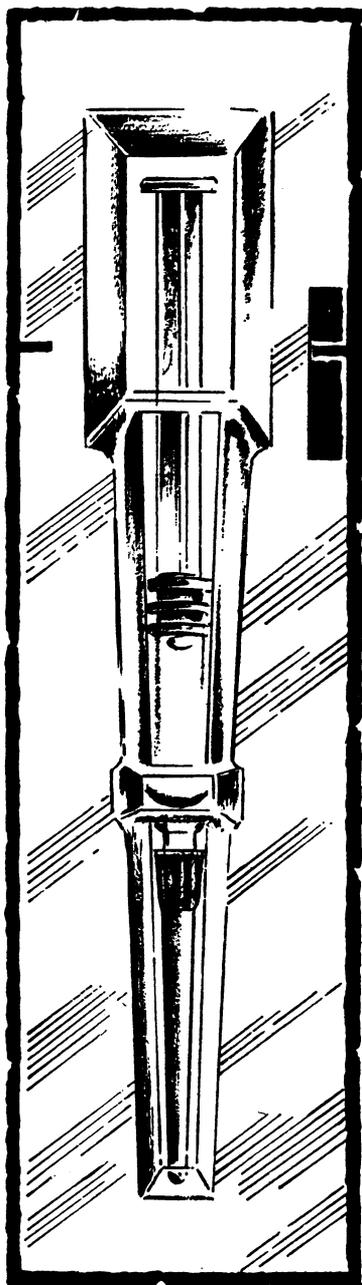

In pregnancy and other conditions where gastro-intestinal side effects are particularly to be avoided, a course of Ferro-GRADUMET tablets makes an ideal oral iron treatment—so sure that it may often obviate the need for parenteral administration, and more acceptable than the needle.

PRESENTATION Each red Filmtab® (film-coated tablet, Abbott) contains 525 mg ferrous sulphate (in exciccated form), equivalent to 105 mg elemental iron. A complete month's treatment (30 Ferro-Gradumet tablets) has a basic NHS cost of 5/5 from largest pack.

OUR METHOD
INNERAZE keeps sole and heel in perfect alignment.

...do you recommend an external wedge on the shoes?

But the wedges soon wear away; and very often the child is made to feel self-conscious because his shoes look different from other children's. As the diagram on the left clearly shows, any external wedge to heel disturbs the plane of forepart and heel. Surely it's more logical to have a wedge built-in between the inner and the outer sole—where it can correctly corset the foot, remain invisible, and completely unaffected by wear or repair of the shoe. That is how Start-rite INNERAZE shoes are made—on remedial lasts specially adapted to accommodate the internal wedge. That is why they are the only practical and thoroughly effective solution to this problem.

This should be in every doctor's car

When resuscitation equipment is needed it is needed at once. It must be light and portable enough to be kept permanently at hand. And it must be utterly reliable and safe and the simpler the better.

The Ambu resuscitator developed by Dr. Henning Ruben of the Finsen Institute at Copenhagen is all these things. A clear indication of its pre-eminence in the field is that it has been chosen as the standard resuscitator for Nato forces. Yet it is not expensive.

It is light, compact and extremely simple and robust. Supplementary oxygen from a cylinder can be mixed with the air pumped into the lungs—a great advantage when dealing with poisoning from noxious gases. It is inherently safe if, for one reason or another, its operation has to be left to an inexperienced person. The specially designed thin latex bag has a foam rubber lining which provides excellent "feel" and makes it impossible to apply dangerously high pressure to the lungs. This is an inexpensive piece of equipment—but without price in an emergency.

CHELTENHAM GENERAL HOSPITAL

YOUR OWN 'COTTAGE HOSPITAL'

Squadron Leader Martin Constant is Senior M.O. of a V-Bomber Station in Northamptonshire—"a typical Service doctor". His 'cottage hospital' is also typical: it has two consulting rooms, two waiting rooms, its own fully equipped Theatre, treatment room and dispensary, and four wards containing 20 beds. There is a staff of 12 (secretarial as well as nursing), three ambulances and a car. He and his assistant M.O. are in complete medical care of the Station: they act as G.P.'s to some 3,000 men, women and children, as M.O.H.'s and as medical advisers (for instance on Health Physics: Martin Constant is a Command lecturer on this). "My professional freedom," he says, "is absolute."

Is this your pre-registration year?

BEFORE YOU COMMIT YOURSELF TO A PRACTICE WORK 3 OR 5 YEARS IN THE R.A.F.

When is the right time for you to make the big, once-and-for-always decisions about the way it's best for you to work and live your life? Straight away, now, at once? Or when you have had the chance to do a little out-of-hospital doctoring 'on your own', seen some common ailments and got a bit of capital together? Many people feel that it is only prudent not to be in too much of a hurry. If you are one of them, here is a thought for you:

You don't, now, have to choose either an R.A.F. career or a civilian one. You can have both. And there are good reasons why you should—not only for your own sake and your family's, but in the interests of the profession and the public generally.

Interesting, out-of-the-rut medicine

Your first job in the R.A.F. (which you'll get three months after you join) will probably be Junior M.O. at a Station—rather like being an "Assistant with a view". In a typical case, you'd be one of two doctors, with, between you, 1500 to 2500 people to take care of. These would be the officers and men serving with you on the Station, and their families, plus any civilians who might be working there.

You'd have a much shorter list than you would as a civilian G.P., and to this extent you would live a less strenuous life. To compensate, you would give much more comprehensive care. It is this—and the variety of your work—that makes practice in the R.A.F. so interesting.

In the R.A.F., you combine several functions. You are in medical care not only of people, but of the environment they live in, and of the work they do. In proportion, you do less curative work, and more preventive work than most civilian doctors.

A lot of people hold the view that this is the way all medicine should be practised: with the closest possible intermingling of the doctor and his patients.

You see a bit of the world

Think of two doctors, both aged 40. One went to his practice straight from his teaching hospital, and has been there ever since. The other went from hospital into the R.A.F. on a 5-year commission. He lived—and lived well—in the tropics with his family for 2½ years, and visited 7 countries on leave or duty, two European, three Asian, and two Australasian. All this, of course, was some time ago—he's been in civilian practice 10 years now; he's as well established as the other doctor. But which of the two has got more out of life, and has the richer memories to look back upon?

In many ways, the transition from hospital into the R.A.F. seems much more 'natural' than the movement to civilian practice. The two communities have much more in common: both are young, cheerful, energetic, rather self-contained—and at the same time very professional, with a marked sense of purpose about what they do. If you can feel, now, that you are going to miss Medical School when you leave it, think about going into the R.A.F.: Service life would probably be 'right' for you.

'Retire' with up to £3,000, tax-free

Next year, if you were in the R.A.F. as a married officer, your pay and allowances could be over £2,000. You would get regular 'rises' and regular promotion. In hard cash terms you would be literally hundreds of pounds better off than your civilian opposite-numbers. Besides which, your cost-of-living would be lower: if you were single, living in the Mess, you would get the equivalent of first-class hotel accommodation for, perhaps, 2/- a day out of your pay; if you were married, and the R.A.F. provided you with a house furnished right down to the last coffee cup, and they probably would—the rent would be £192 p.a.

Leave the Service after 3 years, and you get a gratuity of £1,500, tax-free; stay on for 5, and you get £3,000. With this, you could put down a deposit on a house and furnish it very well indeed, attic to cellar.

Five years from now. You'd probably still be the right side of thirty. What a start to a career!

In all your life, when will you have a chance like this again?

Today, because you are young and at the beginning of your career, you can take a short time out from the main stream of civilian practice just by deciding to do it.

Now, you are free to go. In a few years time, you probably won't be. At this stage in life, you have none of the commitments that might make an older man hold back; things like a practice that has your name on it; obligations to a community that you have become a part of; the ownership of property . . . and suchlike hostages to fortune.

All these things will, quite properly, come along in due time.

Meanwhile, you have this chance and now is the time to find out about it. If you can't write off straight away, tear this advertisement out and put it in your pocket to remind you.

Do not let this chance go by default

For full information, please write giving your age and qualifications to Wing Commander D. G. M. HILLS, M.B., B.S., D.P.H., R.A.F., Ministry of Defence (MAI/HN143B), 1-6 Tavistock Square, London WC1.

CLINICAL INVESTIGATIONA vacancy exists for a qualified

of wide clinical experience to assist the Director of the Clinical Investigations Department of this large and progressive pharmaceutical company.

A medical graduate having a keen interest in clinical investigational work, general experience in most medical fields, and probably previous experience in the pharmaceutical industry, is the man we are seeking.

He must be mature in judgment and have the ability to organize and follow-up clinical trials on his own initiative on new products and in those already established.

There will be a considerable amount of travelling involved in this post, and the ability to meet and consult with clinicians is essential. Aptitude for liaison with members of the sales organization, the ability to lecture on the medical aspects of the company's products, and assist in representative training would be additional advantages.

This is a senior position of considerable responsibility with excellent potential for advancement based at the Company's Laboratories near Southampton. It carries a highly attractive salary, non-contributory pension scheme, and a Company car.

In the first instance please write details of curriculum vitae to:

"Now is the winter of her discontent made glorious summer . . ."

—King Richard III (adapted)

"The ability of Melleril to relieve or attenuate the causal anxiety was reflected in the control of agitation and a marked alteration from confusion to a sense of well-being and in many instances, alertness."

Amier. J. Psychiat. (1961) 118, 543.
