“Doctor,
I feel awful”

Once she might have been diagnosed as “anxiety state”. Today, you know she might be a depressive, but it doesn’t seem as simple as all that. The truth of the matter is that patients don’t always fit neatly into diagnostic categories. They may suffer from such diverse symptoms as depression, agitation, loss of appetite and tension-fatigue at the same time.

The great strength of ‘Aventyl’ is that its beneficial actions range widely over the symptoms which plague these problem patients. ‘Aventyl’ is not merely an anti-depressant, nor is it a combination of drugs. It is a single substance which relieves a constellation of mental and emotional symptoms embracing depression, anxiety and their effects on awareness and mood.

an economical prescription for effective treatment of Coughs and Bronchitis

ECONOMY: The cost of Pavacol at the dispensing pack rate to chemists is only 7d. per fluid ounce.

DUAL ACTIVITY: Pavacol relieves Cough by acting in two ways:—

- 1 The pholcodine content exhibits a cough suppressant effect comparable with that of Heroin but without the latter's disadvantages in being addictive and constipating;
- 2 The Papaverine content relaxes plain muscle by direct action and the resultant bronchodilatation makes it easier for the patient to cough up sputum.

DIABETIC SYRUP ALSO AVAILABLE—Pavacol Diabetic contains the same ingredients as ordinary Pavacol Syrup but carbohydrates are omitted; Indications, dosage and price are identical.

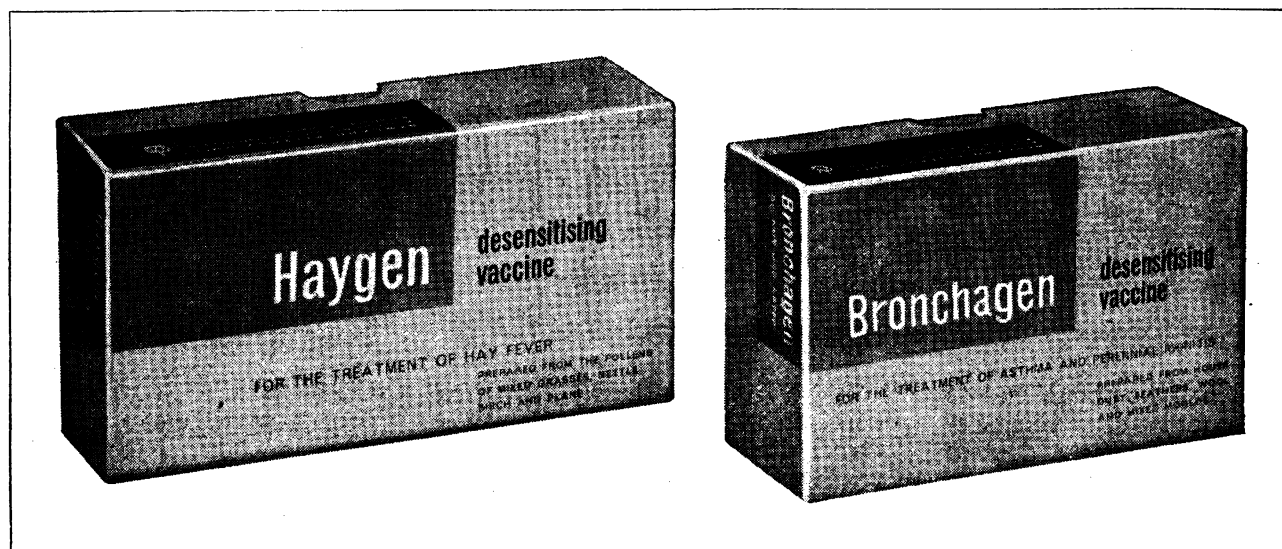

Literature and professional samples available on request.

HAYGEN & BRONCHAGEN

HAYGEN and BRONCHAGEN are the logical outcome of research by the Bencard Allergy Unit in the field of specific desensitising vaccines for the treatment of hay fever on the one hand and allergic asthma and perennial rhinitis on the other.

Clinical observation has indicated that the allergens incorporated in Haygen are responsible for the symptoms of more than 80% of cases of hay fever, while those of Bronchagen are responsible for the symptoms in at least 70% of cases of allergic asthma and perennial rhinitis.

With simplified treatment based on case history alone, patients may expect substantial relief or complete freedom from symptoms following therapy with Haygen or Bronchagen.

Availability and price:

Starts to act where thiazides stop effective where thiazides fail: when thiazides give no further response Lasix gives an immediate increase in diuresis

Precise control of response

diuresis lasts about four hours, can be adjusted to suit patient's convenience—taken at bedtime diuresis is over by bedtime: response is directly proportional to dosage

Clinical findings

“the Na/K ratio for [Lasix] (2.53) was considerably better than that for hydrochlorothiazide (1.64). The same difference was apparent in urinary potassium concentration, which was 34.8 milliequivalents/litre when [Lasix] was given, as opposed to 67.7 milliequivalents/litre during hydrochlorothiazide therapy.”

Lasix “is distinctly superior in diuretic action, fluid output being 200% greater and sodium excretion 167% greater than the levels achieved by hydrochlorothiazide.”

“The danger of hypokalaemia appears to be less during [Lasix] treatment than during treatment with other diuretics at present in use. No other significant side-effects have so far been observed.”

Experimental Investigations and Clinical Trials of Lasix

Dtsch. med. Wschr., 1963, 88, 1695

Some facts about Lasix

Lasix belongs to a new group of compounds with diuretic activity that is valuable whenever the risk of hypokalaemia has to be minimized, and it obviates the concurrent administration of potassium salts. It has a powerful effect on sodium and water excretion, and works even in severe sodium retention when thiazides have failed

Lasix has a superior action to other diuretics and it has an exceptionally high therapeutic reserve in comparison with them, so that it is possible to increase the dosage with safety up to 500 mg. daily until the desired therapeutic effect is obtained. The usual dosage range is 40-120 mg.

Lasix is also one of the very few diuretics that can be administered intravenously. Onset is immediate and lasts for up to two hours. This makes Lasix particularly valuable in emergency treatment.

Lasix acts by inhibiting tubular re-absorption of sodium. It is indicated in cardiac, hepatic and renal oedema. Lasix is very well tolerated: few side-effects have been reported, none serious Lasix is one of the safest and most potent diuretics to be introduced to the medical profession this decade.

Presentation and Price: Lasix is presented as tablets of 40 mg. in containers of 50 at a basic NHS price of 32/6d; and in ampoules containing 20 mg. in 2 ml. in packages of 5 at 17/9d. These prices are subject to P.T.

Three effective dosage schemes can

1 Routine Dosage

Doses of 250mg. q.i.d. of Penbritin will usually suppress H. influenzae, the most important pathogenic organism in Chronic Bronchitis, with consequent relief of exacerbations. In the majority of cases, this method, repeated whenever an exacerbation occurs, is all that is required to keep the patient ambulant.

2 Prophylaxis

When continuous daily treatment is considered desirable, one capsule (250mg.) is recommended every twelve hours.

3 High Dosage Therapy

This technique offers great promise in the treatment of winter-long purulent cases, particularly those which fail to respond to other antibiotic regimens¹ or who have previously required continuous antibiotic cover². Moreover, many of the patients remained free from exacerbations for long periods after treatment was stopped. These high doses have been given without side-effects^{1,2}.

A likely explanation for these clinical results is that a concentration of Penbritin bactericidal to H. influenzae has been attained in the sputum^{1,2,3}, and estimations of sputum level of the antibiotic give support to this probability². A bactericidal concentration of the tetracyclines is unattainable in any practical dosage². One of the authors² commented:

'Such a response to other antibiotics is, in our experience, extremely rare in patients of the type taking part in this trial.'

well tolerated iron compound plus reducing agent to aid absorption

In the treatment of iron-deficiency anaemia many iron salts can produce the desired increase in haemoglobin level. Some also have a tendency to produce side-effects, and there can be a great deal of wastage through non-absorption.

SIDROS is designed to overcome these disadvantages, and provides a reliable treatment for iron-deficiency anaemia.

Ferrous gluconate Each Sidros tablet contains 300 mg of ferrous gluconate which produces a highly satisfactory clinical response and is very well tolerated.

Ascorbic acid Sidros also contains stabilized ascorbic acid (30 mg per tablet) which is known to aid absorption by maintaining iron in the reduced state.

The basic NHS price of 100 Sidros tablets is 2/8 as dispensed from 1000 tablet bottle. Samples of Sidros are available on request.

Alphosyl-today's most widely prescribed product used specifically for the treatment of Psoriasis

In case after case, Alphosyl's effectiveness in controlling psoriasis is repeatedly confirmed. Even in chronic and refractory cases outstanding results have been achieved despite the failure of all previous forms of therapy. Evidence of four recent clinical trials^{1,4,5,6} shows that from a total of 249 patients treated with Alphosyl, 111 were completely cleared, 80 were 75%–99% improved, 44 were 50%–74% improved and only 14 showed less than 50% improvement.

Why Alphosyl is so effective In Alphosyl, allantoin and a specially refined coal-tar extract were combined for the first time. Allantoin has been found to be particularly effective in loosening psoriatic scales,³ while the keratoplastic effect of coal-tar is well known.³ Alphosyl is non-greasy and non-staining and vanishes on application. It is notably safe,^{1,3} being free from the risks which are found in other forms of treatment such as arsenicals, mercury, corticosteroids, x-ray, etc. It certainly deserves a trial in all cases of psoriasis.

New Alphosyl Cream Following the success of Alphosyl Lotion, this coal-tar allantoin combination is now available in Britain as a lubricating cream. The cream base has proved a particularly effective vehicle for Alphosyl as it incorporates a combination of free fatty acids (saturated and unsaturated) naturally occurring triglycerides, sterols and esters to give the lipid phase of the base a significant resemblance to the lipid array of normal human skin.⁶

Alphosyl Lotion formula—special coal-tar extract 5%+allantoin 2% in a smooth, non-greasy lotion base.

Alphosyl Cream formula—allantoin 2%+90% alcoholic extract of coal-tar (5=1) 5% in a vanishing cream base.

Nulacin and only Nulacin provides intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy for the ambulatory patient

"In view of the ineffectiveness of most of the tableted antacids, the milk-alkali tablet (Nulacin) would appear to be the antacid of choice for ambulatory therapy."

NULACIN TABLETS have been developed so that when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth, they give continuous milk-alkali drip therapy and provide a treatment of peptic ulcer and other conditions associated with hyperacidity. Results confirm that Cerumol is the most efficient agent yet introduced for the purpose and that it is exceptionally reliable and safe. In 10-30 minutes the softened or disimpacted wax can usually be wiped out with a probe tipped with cotton wool, or by gentle syringing. Patients can readily be instructed to instil the drops themselves and, in many cases, the loosened wax will run out of its own accord, rendering further attendance at the surgery unnecessary.

ANTIBIOTICS AND THE INTESTINAL FLORA

Treatment with broad spectrum antibiotics suppresses the normal flora, which may be replaced by abnormal resistant organisms causing diarrhoea.

This change can be prevented or reversed by the implantation of Lactobacillus acidophilus which has been rendered antibiotic-resistant, and is thus able to multiply freely under these abnormal conditions. This organism itself forms an antibiotic which may contribute to its rapid preponderance over other species.^{1, 2}

Oral treatment with antibiotic-resistant L. acidophilus in the form of ENPAC has been shown to eliminate Candida from the faeces of infants with antibiotic-induced diarrhoea, with relief of symptoms succeeded by rapid gain in weight^{3, 4} and greatly to reduce the numbers of staphylococci in the faeces of patients treated with tetracyclines.⁵

BRITISH HEART FOUNDATION

A Progress Report

The British Heart Foundation has already made a number of specific grants to doctors and other scientific investigators engaged in a wide range of research. A great deal more money is now required to continue this valuable work.

Grants totalling more than £300,000 have already been promised to Institutions and individuals in over 50 centres. Among interesting projects being supported are:

* A clinical trial to determine whether reduction of elevated serum lipids in healthy men reduces their risk of developing ischaemic heart disease. (Royal Infirmary, Edinburgh) £10,000.

* A study of the haemodynamics of congenital heart disease (Post-graduate Medical School of London) £11,145.

* A Research Fellowship and technical assistance to study techniques for the correction of transposition of the great arteries in infants under one year. (Institute of Child Health, London) £12,500.

* A study of atherosclerosis in wild animals under natural conditions and in captivity. (The Nuffield Institute of Comparative Medicine) £21,000.

* Application of simultaneous biplane cine-angiography to the study of cardiac function. (Royal Infirmary and University of St. Andrews, Dundee). £6,000 for photographic apparatus.

* Dietary trials in healthy school children. (University of Ibadan, Western Nigeria). £5,000 for an automatic amino-acid analyser and an ultraviolet spectrophotometer.

As all doctors will recognise, this work represents only a fraction of the tremendous problem. The Foundation aims at a minimum income of £500,000 a year. There is a long way yet to go and we urgently appeal for support. Help us by not only making a donation or by taking up membership, or by remembering us in your will, but also by bringing this worthy cause to the attention of patients—particularly patients with a personal interest in heart disease. The idea of an "In Memoriam" donation to the fund has also commended itself to many people.

Donations to, and details from, the Director of Appeal (Dept. B.M.9), British Heart Foundation, Tavistock Square, London, W.C.99.

Application forms E.C.16A obtainable from the Clerk, London Executive Council, Insurance House, Insurance Street, W.C.1. Completed applications to be received by the Council, not later than 12 noon, Monday, November 30, 1964. (9854)

LANCASHIRE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL (National Health Service) MEDICAL PRACTICE VACANCY (with Practice Centre available) SKELMERSDALE NEW TOWN

A vacancy exists for the first of a number of doctors who will be required to practise in this new town which is now in course of development and will eventually reach an estimated population of 50,000. The estimated population is expected to be 350 by the end of March, 1965, 700 by the end of June, 1965, and 3,000 by the end of March, 1966.

It is the intention of the Lancashire County Council, subject to the approval of the Minister of Housing and Local Government, to provide six or seven practice centres, each with accommodation for six doctors, adjacent to Local Health Authority clinics. The proximity of the centre and clinic would, it is felt, establish conditions which would give the greatest possible likelihood of a very close co-operation between the doctors and the County Council's health and welfare services.

Initially, the New Town Corporation will make available a house, at an economic rent, as near as possible to each of the clinic practice centre sites which would be used in the first place partly by the first doctor and partly to provide Local Health Authority clinic facilities. By the time the second doctor is required the new clinic building should be ready for occupation by the Local Health Authority services, thus making the vacated accommodation in the house available for him. At this stage the County Council would consult the two doctors on the proposal to provide a group practice centre for that particular area and in the light of the result, would make a decision as to whether to provide the group practice centre facilities. This would give the doctors the opportunity of expressing their views and agreement with the detailed planning and arrangements for the group practice and the terms for the use of the facilities by the doctors. It is felt that this would establish a climate of opinion which would lead to the scheme being acceptable to the remaining doctors when they are appointed.

Within the first few years, the appointed doctors would be given the option of purchasing the building on the basis of outstanding loan debt for which purpose application could be made by the doctors if they so desired, for an interest-free loan, from the Group Practice Loans Fund. If, however, the doctors are not prepared to buy during this initial period the alternative would be for them to take a lease from the County Council at an economic rent based on costs.

Rented residential accommodation will be provided by the Development Corporation, and if he desired the doctor could, at a later date, build or purchase a house in the New Town for himself.

An Initial Practice Allowance will be paid to the appointed applicant subject to conformity to the standard terms and conditions prescribed by the Minister of Health. Forms of application may be obtained from the undersigned to whom completed application forms should be sent not later than December 5, 1964.—The Clerk, Lancashire Executive Council, 42 West Cliff, Preston. IRON on an empty stomach

To prescribe iron before breakfast would be asking for trouble with ordinary ferrous sulphate tablets. Even taken after meals and in divided doses, such tablets cause irritation and unpleasant side effects in many patients, often leading to the abandonment of therapy.

But "One FERRO-GRADUMET® tablet before breakfast" is right. This once-daily haematinic is made to be taken on an empty stomach, for the Ferro-Gradumet is a unique approach to the treatment of iron-deficiency anaemia. Just one tablet daily, before breakfast, gives steady, trouble-free assimilation of ample amounts of iron. Instead of releasing a corrosively large dose of ferrous sulphate in the stomach, the Gradumet slowly leaches out its contents over a period of hours throughout the gastro-intestinal tract until, finally, the empty matrix is excreted.

The secret of the Gradumet lies in this inert sponge-like matrix, the pores of which are permeated with ferrous sulphate and a soluble "channelling agent". The predetermined release pattern, which is independent of body chemistry, retains the greater part of the ferrous sulphate until the tablet has passed out of the stomach into the small intestine, where it is better absorbed with less irritation.

Each Ferro-Gradumet tablet contains the exsiccated equivalent of 525 mg ferrous sulphate, providing 105 mg elemental iron—a sufficient daily dose in all cases of iron-deficiency anaemia.

PRESENTATION Each red Filmtab® (film-coated tablet, Abbott) contains 525 mg ferrous sulphate (in exsiccated form), equivalent to 105 mg elemental iron.

IS THIS YOUR PRE-REGISTRATION YEAR?

Before you commit yourself to a practice work 3 or 5 years in the R.A.F.

When is the right time for you to make the big, once-and-for-always decisions about the way it's best for you to work and live your life? Straight away, now, at once? Or when you have had the chance to do a little out-of-hospital doctoring 'on your own', seen some common ailments and got a bit of capital together? Many people feel that it is only prudent not to be in too much of a hurry. If you are one of them, here is a thought for you:

You don't, now, have to choose either an R.A.F. career or a civilian one. You can have both. And there are good reasons why you should—not only for your own sake and your family's, but in the interests of the profession and the public generally.

Interesting, out-of-the-rut medicine

Your first job in the R.A.F. (which you'll get three months after you join) will probably be Junior M.O. at a Station—rather like being an "Assistant with a view". In a typical case, you'd be one of two doctors, with, between you, 1500 to 2500 people to take care of. These would be the officers and men serving with you on the Station, and their families, plus any civilians who might be working there.

You'd have a much shorter list than you would as a civilian G.P., and to this extent you would live a less strenuous life. To compensate, you would give much more comprehensive care. It is this—and the variety of your work—that makes practice in the R.A.F. so interesting.

In the R.A.F., you combine several functions. You are in medical care not only of people, but of the environment they live in, and of the work they do. In proportion, you do less curative work, and more preventive work than most civilian doctors.

A lot of people hold the view that this is the way all medicine should be practised: with the closest possible intermingling of the doctor and his patients.

You see a bit of the world

Think of two doctors, both aged 40. One went to his practice straight from his teaching hospital, and has been there ever since. The other went from hospital into the R.A.F. on a 5-year commission. He lived—and lived well—in the tropics with his family for 2½ years, and visited 7 countries on leave or duty, two European, three Asian, and two Australasian. All this, of course, was some time ago—he's been in civilian practice 10 years now; he's as well established as the other doctor. But which of the two has got more out of life, and has the richer memories to look back upon?

In many ways, the transition from hospital into the R.A.F. seems much more 'natural' than the movement to civilian practice. The two communities have much more in common: both are young, cheerful, energetic, rather self-contained—and at the same time very professional, with a marked sense of purpose about what they do. If you can feel, now, that you are going to miss Medical School when you leave it, think about going into the R.A.F.: Service life would probably be 'right' for you.

'Retire' with up to £3,000, tax-free

Next year, if you were in the R.A.F. as a married officer, your pay and allowances could be over £2,000. You would get regular 'rises' and regular promotion. In hard cash terms you would be literally hundreds of pounds better off than your civilian opposite-numbers. Besides which, your cost-of-living would be lower: if you were single, living in the Mess, you would get the equivalent of first-class hotel accommodation for, perhaps, 2/- a day out of your pay; if you were married, and the R.A.F. provided you with a house furnished right down to the last coffee cup, and they probably would—the rent would be £192 p.a.

Leave the Service after 3 years, and you get a gratuity of £1,500, tax-free; stay on for 5, and you get £3,000. With this, you could put down a deposit on a house and furnish it very well indeed, attic to cellar.

Five years from now. You'd probably still be the right side of thirty. What a start to a career!

In all your life, when will you have a chance like this again?

Today, because you are young and at the beginning of your career, you can take a short time out from the main stream of civilian practice just by deciding to do it.

Now, you are free to go. In a few years time, you probably won't be.

At this stage in life, you have none of the commitments that might make an older man hold back; things like a practice that has your name on it; obligations to a community that you have become a part of; the ownership of property . . . and suchlike hostages to fortune.

All these things will, quite properly, come along in due time.

Meanwhile, you have this chance and now is the time to find out about it. If you can't write off straight away, tear this advertisement out and put it in your pocket to remind you.

Do not let this chance go by default

For full information, please write giving your age and qualifications to Wing Commander D. G. M. HILLS, M.B., B.S., D.P.H., R.A.F., Ministry of Defence (MAI/HN 171D), 1-6 Tavistock Square, London WC1.

...twice!

8-10 hours' cough relief—longer than with any other cough preparation—is provided by each teaspoonful of Pholtex. Because of its prolonged action, two doses daily are usually adequate and 2 fl. oz. can provide treatment for one week for as little as 4/9 (basic NHS cost).

Pholtex contains pholcodine and phenyltoloxamine as ion-exchange resin complexes to give smooth and prolonged cough relief—up to ten hours in many cases—from each teaspoonful dose.

Pholtex is ideal for paediatric use. It is pleasantly flavoured and simple to administer—even to infants.

Dosage: one teaspoonful (4ml.) two or three times daily.

For children: half to full adult dosage, according to age.

Each teaspoonful (4ml.) contains pholcodine 15 mg. and phenyltoloxamine 10 mg. as resin complexes.

Bottles of 2 fl. oz. and 20 fl. oz. (basic NHS prices 5/- and 47/4)
