

Clarks specialise... in correct fit for growing feet

Clarks Childrens Shoes wear well. They look good, they're very good value for money. But the fame of Clarks Childrens Shoes is in their reputation for correct fit and a wide choice of width fittings to every length size and half size.

This is why Clarks promise freedom from all foot troubles caused by footwear if, from babyhood, none but Clarks footgauge-fitted shoes are worn.

The value of NEMBUTAL. The harassed housewife who needs light sedation during the day; the stress-loaded businessman who cannot get to sleep; the true insomniac . . . all these are candidates for Nembutal therapy. A small dose of Nembutal t.d.s. helps to smooth out life's rough edges, calming the patient and helping them to face life's problems rationally. Where insomnia is due to mild tension, a slightly larger sedative dose is often enough to let the patient drift into a natural sleep. Larger hypnotic doses bring sleep to even the most stubborn case.

The qualities of NEMBUTAL. It is rapid in onset, and has a duration of action of about 4 to 6 hours, which lessens the possibility of hangover. It may be used for any degree of CNS depression, from mild sedation to deep hypnosis, by adjusting the dose.

Nembutal is available in three strengths 30 mg ($\frac{1}{2}$ gr), 50 mg ($\frac{3}{4}$ gr), 100 mg ($1\frac{1}{2}$ gr) also as Elixir containing approx. 20 mg/5 ml. For daytime sedation: One 30 mg capsule t.d.s. (One 50 mg capsule t.d.s. if required). As an aid to natural sleep: One 50 mg capsule nocte. For hypnosis: One (or two) 100 mg capsules nocte (up to four capsules for basal hypnosis).

FOR THE WOMAN WHO IS NOT A B.Sc.

A GREATER DEGREE OF SIMPLICITY IN ORAL CONTRACEPTION

There is virtually only one form of failure in oral contraception: patient failure. The patient, in spite of her checking systems with diaries and calendars, may miss a tablet or miscount the days of the interval. Such errors—when they occur—involve the doctor in unnecessary consultation and explanation. This led us to the development of Gynovlar 21, the first oral contraceptive with 21 tablets instead of the usual 20.

It is the 21st tablet which allows this surprisingly simple dosage scheme: ☐ 3 weeks' treatment ☐ 1 week's interval and so on without variation. The start of each new course is not subject to individual interpretation of the menstrual pattern and thus the risk of miscalculation by the patient is virtually excluded.

THE SIMPLEST VISUAL CHECK: Only the 21st tablet makes the Memo-Pack possible. This is a unique visual dispenser, in which each tablet is marked with the day on which it should be taken. The patient can therefore check at a glance whether she has followed the dosage correctly. The Memo-Pack reveals instantly without recording or pre-setting, whether the day's tablet has been taken. As long as a woman knows what day of the week it is she just can't go wrong. Today's Drugs—"New Oral Contraceptives"

"It is interesting to note that Gynovlar is the only product on C.I.F.C. trial in which patients have not completely missed any tablets. Presumably because of the more regular routine of tablet-taking, patients find it simpler to follow and are less liable to miss them. The cycle length with this 21/7 regimen [3 weeks' treatment, 1 week's interval] of course is always 28 days".

British Medical Journal, 8 August, 1964, p. 357.

The easy way to run an appointments system —in any general practice

The Medical World Handbook, together with the Lloyd-Hamol appointments diary.

In 1959 the Editor of the MEDICAL WORLD set up a committee of experienced family doctors to prepare a handbook on appointments systems in general practice. All the doctors concerned had practical knowledge in this field.

Lloyd-Hamol Ltd. were so impressed by the potential value of the resulting handbook that they offered to provide it, free of charge, to any doctors who wished to read it, together with appointments diaries for running the system, and specimens of appointments cards and announcements to patients.

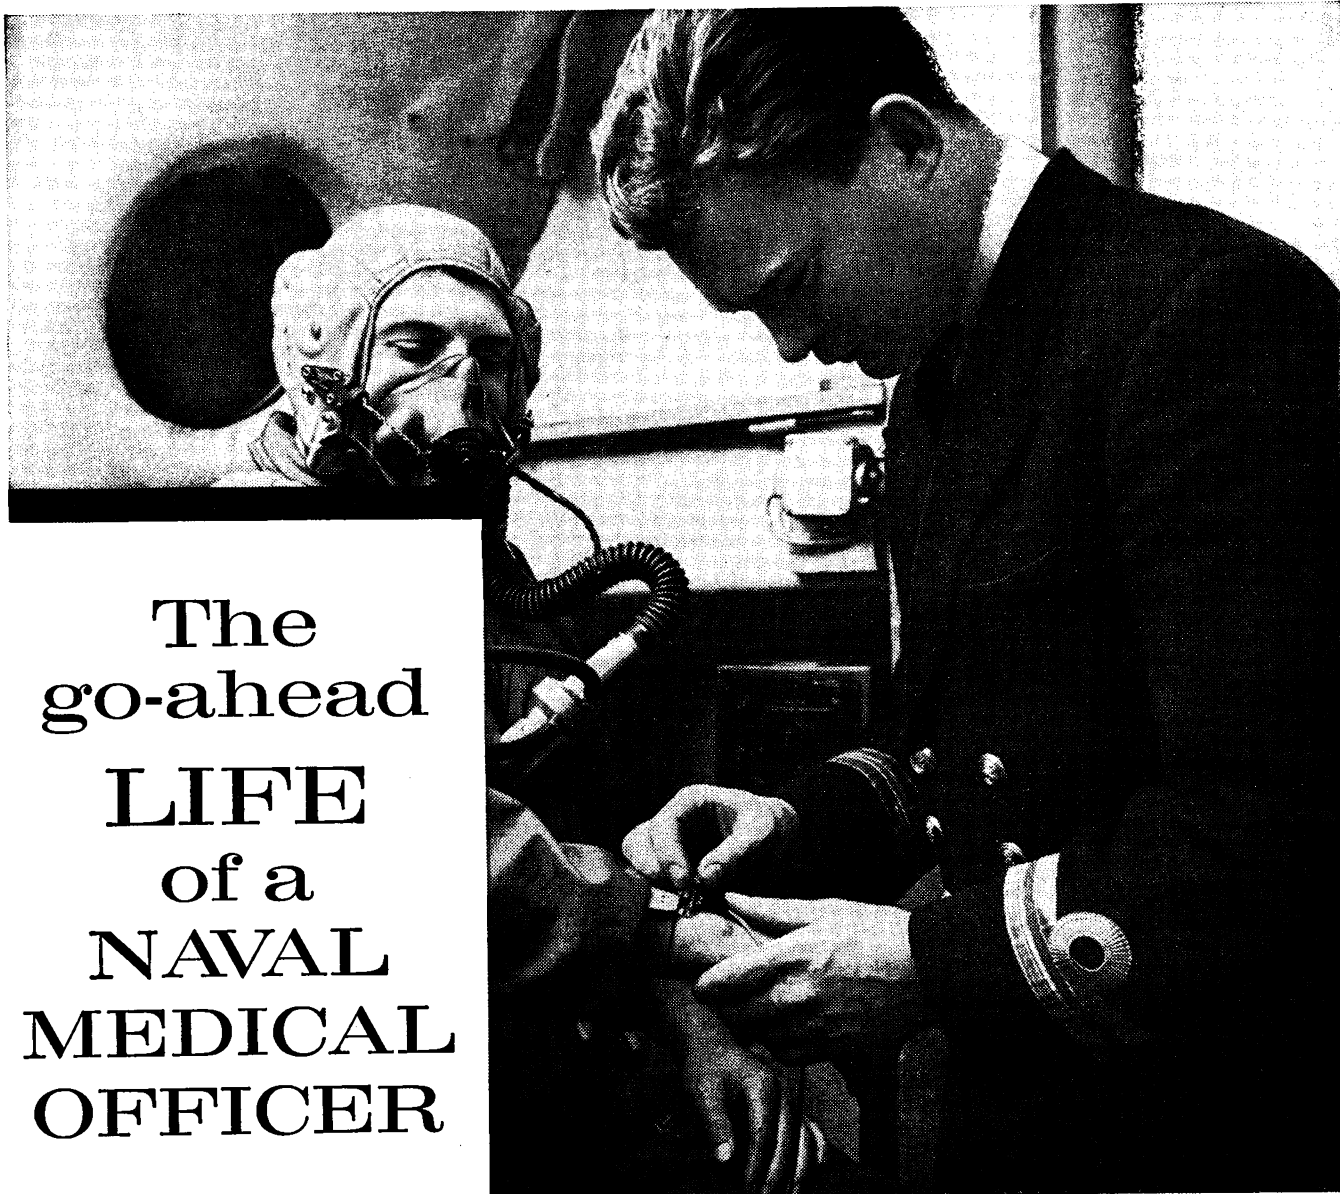

Two hundred doctors started the scheme that year and it has proved so successful that today the figure has risen to well over 2,000 practitioners, all of whom are now running a full appointments system for their patients. They practise in every type of area and in all parts of the United Kingdom, and in almost every case the benefits derived from the system, both for doctor and the patients, have been very great.

So far, Lloyd-Hamol Ltd. have done little to publicize the service offered. We now feel, however, that advantages of a well-tried appointments system are so great that they should be brought to the notice of all doctors who have not to date introduced one.

The Appointments System handbook will be sent to any doctor who wishes to read it, on application to the address below.

The go-ahead LIFE of a NAVAL MEDICAL OFFICER

A pilot being prepared for a simulated high altitude test.

This is a life of unbounded opportunity. Anywhere in the world, you practise medicine with complete medical freedom. Among 100,000 Naval men and women you gain extensive medical experience of the most varied nature. Civilian patients, too, of both sexes and all ages, are treated in Naval hospitals. You have excellent opportunities for specialising in the normal clinical subjects, and in the less usual, such as Nuclear, Underwater, and Aviation medicine. You are actively encouraged and financially assisted to acquire higher degrees. You can gain consultant status.

As a Medical Officer, your pay, allowances, and gratuity—or permanent commission pension—are very good: for example, your initial pay is considerably higher than that of a civilian hospital registrar.

You can enter in one of three ways: as a registered Medical Practitioner—your civilian experience back-dating seniority—or as a qualified doctor doing your pre-registration year, or as a student with a 2nd M.B. For qualified women doctors, there is a special short service commission. For fullest details of your Royal Navy life as a Medical Officer, write, mentioning your own qualifications and age to: The Medical Director-General of the Navy, Medical Dept. (HN66/V), Empress State Building, London, S.W.6.

Today everything's all right—tomorrow you could be describing her as 'of previously good personality'. When she can no longer cope with everyday life you, as her general practitioner with detailed knowledge of her past history, are in the best position to treat her. Such patients developing neurotic depression respond well to Nardil.

chinoform adds to the Betnovate range

Two new preparations now join the wide scope Betnovate range—Betnovate-C Ointment and Betnovate-C Cream. Both contain 3% chinoform (iodochlorhydroxyquinoline) in addition to 0.1% betamethasone as 17-valerate.

Betnovate (betamethasone 17-valerate) has already proved dramatically successful in the treatment of all steroid-responsive dermatoses.

The addition of neomycin—to give Betnovate-N preparations—widened its scope to include conditions where bacterial infection is present or suspected.

Now the addition of chinoform, which has antifungal as well as antibacterial properties, widens its scope still further.

Betnovate-C complements Betnovate-N. It provides for cases where fungal infection is present and answers the occasional need for a preparation containing a chemical anti-infective agent rather than an antibiotic.

Remember the suffixes: N for neomycin, C for chinoform. Add them to Betnovate—for even wider scope in the treatment of all steroid-responsive dermatoses.

Nulacin and only Nulacin provides intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy for the ambulant patient

“In view of the ineffectiveness of most of the tableted antacids, the milk-alkali tablet (Nulacin) would appear to be the antacid of choice for ambulatory therapy.”

Med. Times, N.Y., 1958, 1, 74

Safe, Simple, Effective

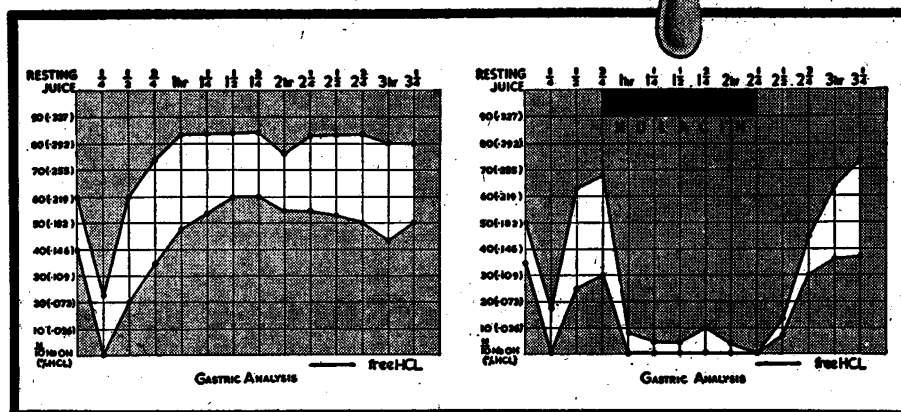

NULACIN TABLETS provide a safe, simple and effective treatment of peptic ulcer.

In treating peptic ulcer a Ryle's tube may be passed through the nose and into the oesophagus and a mixture of milk and antacid allowed to flow continuously over the affected area. This form of therapy can only be employed in those patients who are in bed and for the ambulant patient Nulacin tablets are preferable.¹ Nulacin tablets are prepared from whole milk combined with dextrins and maltose, together with the trisilicate, oxide and carbonate of magnesium and calcium carbonate. Nulacin tablets when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth provide milk-alkali drip therapy. In fact, Nulacin tablets have revolutionized the treatment of peptic ulcer.⁸

eight to ten hours' cough relief from one teaspoonful

Night coughing disturbs not only the cougher but also other members of the household. Each teaspoonful dose of Pholtex is effective for up to ten hours, long enough to ensure that sleep — for everyone — is undisturbed by troublesome cough.

The characteristic smooth and extended action of Pholtex results from ion-exchange release of the constituents — the cough depressant pholcodine and the antihistamine phenyltoloxamine. Because cough relief is prolonged, two or three doses daily are usually adequate and 2 fl. oz. can provide a week's treatment.

Pholtex is ideal for paediatric use. It tastes pleasant and is easy to administer — even to infants.

Dosage: one teaspoonful (4 ml.) two or three times daily. (Children half to full adult dosage, according to age.) Each teaspoonful contains pholcodine 15 mg. and phenyltoloxamine 10 mg. as ion-exchange resin complexes.

Who uses the cupping set today? Once it was used by doctors everywhere, but modern medicine no longer has a place for it; so now its only friend is the curator. That's the way with medicine; the old is constantly being replaced by the new. Consider the treatment of anxiety states, for example. Since the introduction of Librium* earlier forms of therapy have had to take second place. TRADE MARK

An adrenergic beta receptor blocking agent for use in clinical medicine, 'Inderal' antagonizes sympathetically-induced changes in heart rate.

Clinical studies have demonstrated that 'Inderal' will suppress or abolish many forms of cardiac arrhythmia including those associated with digitalis intoxication. 'Inderal' is also recommended in patients with angina pectoris whose condition is not adequately controlled by standard therapy.

Detailed literature on 'Inderal' is now available.

economical

Alcin is a new antacid offering several important advantages. It provides safe and effective treatment of symptoms associated with gastric hyperacidity and peptic ulceration.

Palatability Having an absence of chalkiness and an agreeable flavour, Alcin is non-nauseating.

Buffering Activity Alcin not only rapidly neutralises excess acid, but at the same time its sustained buffering activity maintains the level of acidity of the gastric contents within the desired range.

Safety Alcin is safe for prolonged administration. There is no risk from overdosage as Alcin cannot cause either alkalosis or acid rebound.

No Digestive tract ill-effects Alcin has no known laxative or constipating effects.

Economy Alcin is economical in use. The basic N.H.S. cost of 50 tablets is 1/9½d.

Composition: Each tablet contains 360 mg. anhydrous co-prepared sodium magnesium aluminium silicate and basic magnesium aluminate.

Durabolin and Deca-Durabolin stimulate tissue-building and counteract nitrogen loss in many clinical conditions. The effect in osteoporosis and in advanced breast cancer is often marked, leading to an improvement in the patient's general condition, relief of pain and a regression of specific symptoms. Other conditions in which these preparations are useful include severe debility, post-operative catabolism, severe trauma, slow-healing fractures, burns and renal failure—in all these, the correction of an adverse nitrogen balance helps in the patient's recovery. Durabolin is ideal for initial therapy: it is normally given at weekly intervals. Deca-Durabolin is a longer acting form which is ideal for maintenance therapy: it only needs to be given every three weeks.

In the treatment of eczema the use of a topical corticosteroid alone is often unsatisfactory because it cannot protect the lesion from the ever-present risk of secondary infection.

Remiderm combines a highly effective antibacterial and antifungal agent, halquinol, with the rapidly-acting corticosteroid, triamcinolone acetonide, to provide the most comprehensive treatment of eczematata yet devised. Unlike the antibiotic-corticosteroid combinations, Remiderm cannot induce the development of antibiotic-resistant bacteria.

Why put ascorbic acid in an iron tablet?

The "Sidros Absorption Bridge" is built with Lego

TO HELP YOUR PATIENT

The "Sidros Absorption Bridge" illustrates today's views on iron absorption. Iron is absorbed from the intestine only in its ferrous state. It is oxidized to the ferric salt on entering the mucosa and has to be reduced to ferrous iron before it can cross the barrier between mucosa and blood stream. Ascorbic acid acts as a reducing agent in this process.^{1,2,3}

*Each Sidros tablet contains 300 mg. ferrous gluconate and 30 mg. stabilized ascorbic acid.
Dosage: 1-2 tablets three times daily.*

Stabilized ascorbic acid is present in SIDROS to keep iron in its absorbable ferrous state in the alkaline environment of the bowel and to act as a reducing agent in the mucosa.

And to help you

Fewer complaints . . . The incidence of side effects with ferrous gluconate is one-fifth of that with ferrous sulphate.⁴

FLAT FOOT?

TRADITIONAL METHOD

ANY SHOE with external wedge. Any external wedge to heel disturbs plane of forepart and heel.

OUR METHOD

INNERAZE keeps sole and heel in perfect alignment.

... do you recommend an external wedge on the shoes?

But the wedges soon wear away; and very often the child is made to feel self-conscious because his shoes look different from other children's. As the diagram on the left clearly shows, any external wedge to heel disturbs the plane of forepart and heel. Surely it's more logical to have a wedge built-in between the inner and the outer sole—where it can correctly corset the foot, remain invisible, and completely unaffected by wear or repair of the shoe. That is how Start-rite INNERAZE shoes are made—on remedial lasts specially adapted to accommodate the internal wedge. That is why they are the only practical and thoroughly effective solution to this problem.

Diseases of the Ear, Nose and Throat

Second Edition

Edited by W. G. Scott-Brown, C.V.O., M.D., B.Ch., F.R.C.S., John Ballantyne, F.R.C.S., D.L.O., and John Groves, M.B., B.S., F.R.C.S.

Diseases of the Ear, Nose and Throat was compiled as a comprehensive textbook for advanced students and postgraduates, with sufficient detail for those taking advanced examinations. It is also a very suitable reference for use in general or specialist practice.

For the new edition, the Editor, W. G. Scott-Brown, has been joined by two colleagues, John Ballantyne and John Groves. The sections on physiology have been extended and improved, and the chapters on the ear have been considerably altered and enlarged to include fresh ideas and techniques associated with both infective and non-infective ear conditions. The chapters on endoscopy have been rearranged to make the subject more practical; neoplasms of the larynx and pharynx have been separated and new chapters on voice and speech have been introduced.

The index has also been completely revised and an additional feature is the inclusion of a symptom index, which will be particularly useful to candidates for higher examinations and to general practitioners.

The new edition of Diseases of the Ear, Nose and Throat—authoritative, comprehensive and up-to-date—will be welcomed by everyone with an interest in this field.

"This textbook will hold its leading place for many years. It will serve as a reference work for experts and should be in the hands of those reading for the higher examinations."

A new phase roentgenocardiograph from the USSR

F PK-61 This apparatus permits the examination of the cardiovascular system by roentgenography and angiocardiology of the heart in definite phases of its activity. It is most effective in diagnosis of local heart lesions (myocardial infarction, aneurysm, etc.). It provides for the production not only of single phase roentgenograms but also of double roentgenograms (diplograms). It reduces the number of roentgenographic examinations needed as well as their duration, with a consequent reduction of the irradiation dose.

The phase roentgenocardiograph can be attached to any roentgen apparatus.

Its original construction, convenience and reliability in operation were acknowledged at the Leipzig Spring Fair in 1965 where the phase roentgenocardiograph was awarded the Gold Medal.

His wife is an ex-nurse and they have two young children.

Before you commit yourself to a practice, work 3 or 5 years in the R.A.F.

You'll do some interesting, out-of-the-rut medicine, see a bit of the world, live well, and 'retire' with up to £3,000, tax free.

When is the right time for you to make the big, once-and-for-always decisions about the way it's best for you to work and live your life? Straight away, now, at once? Or when you have had the chance to do a little out-of-hospital doctoring 'on your own', seen some common ailments, and got a bit of capital together? Many people feel that it is only prudent not to be in too much of a hurry. If you are one of them, here is a thought for you:

You don't, now, have to choose either an R.A.F. career or a civilian one. You can have both. And there are good reasons why you should—not only for your own sake and your family's, but in the interests of the profession and the public generally.

After 3 or 5 years you'll know, far better than you can know now, where your particular talents and interests lie, and what sort of a future—personal as well as professional—you want to make for yourself. If you're a round peg, you'll know what a square hole looks like.

A short spell in the R.A.F. is, in fact, a breathing-space. It gives you the chance to make up your mind about all sorts of things.

Your first job in the R.A.F. (which you'll get three months after you join) will probably be Junior M.O. at a Station—rather like being an "Assistant with a view". In a typical case, you'd be one of two doctors, with, between you, 1500 to 2500 people to take care of. These would be the officers and men serving with you on the Station, and their families, plus any civilians who might be working there.

You'd have a much shorter list than you would as a civilian G.P., and to this extent you would live a less strenuous life. To compensate, you would give much more comprehensive care. It is this—and the variety of your work—that makes practice in the R.A.F. so interesting.

In the R.A.F., you combine several functions. You are in medical care not only of people, but of the environment they live in, and of the work they do. In proportion, you do less curative work, and more preventive work than most civilian doctors.

A lot of people hold the view that this is the way all medicine should be practised: with the closest possible intermingling of the doctor and his patients.

This is the choice you face

Think of two doctors, both aged 40. One went to his practice straight from his teaching hospital, and has been there ever since. The other went from hospital into the R.A.F. on a 5-year commission. He lived—and lived well—in the tropics with his family for 2½ years, and visited 7 countries on leave or duty: two European, three Asian, and two Australasian. All this, of course, was some time ago—he's been in civilian practice 10 years now; he's as well established as the other doctor. But which of the two has got more out of life, and has the richer memories to look back upon?

In many ways, the transition from hospital into the R.A.F. seems much more 'natural' than the movement to civilian practice. You move from one form of community life to another—and the two communities have much in common: both are young, cheerful, energetic, rather self-contained—and at the same time very professional, with a marked sense of purpose about what they do.

If you can feel, now, that you are going to miss Medical School when you leave it, think about going into the R.A.F.: Service life would probably be 'right' for you.

The vulgar matter of £ s d . . .

Next year, if you were in the R.A.F. as a married officer aged 25, your pay and allowances would be over £2,000. You would get regular 'rises' and regular promotion. And your cost of living would be low: if you were single, living in the Mess, you would get the equivalent of first-class hotel accommodation for, perhaps, 2/- a day out of your pay; if you were married, and the R.A.F. provided you with a house furnished right down to the last coffee cup, and they probably would—the rent would be £192 p.a.

Leave the Service after 3 years, and you get a gratuity of £1,500, tax-free; stay on for 5, and you get £3,000. With this, you could put down a deposit on a house and furnish it very well indeed, attic to cellar.

Five years from now. You'd probably still be the right side of thirty. What a start to a career!

The time for bold decisions is when you are young and free

Today, because you are young and at the beginning of your career, you can take a short time out from the main stream of civilian practice just by deciding to do it.

Now, you are free to go. In a few years time, you probably won't be. At this stage in life, you have none of the commitments that might make an older man hold back: things like a practice with your 'name on it'; obligations to a community that you have become a part of; the ownership of property . . . and suchlike hostages to fortune.

All these things will, quite properly, come along in due time. When they do, it will be time for you to settle down.

Meanwhile, at the parting of the ways, you have this chance. Now is the time to find out about it. The best thing is to write off straight away. If you can't, tear this page out and put it in your pocket to remind you.

Do not let this chance go by default

The address to write to is: Wing Commander D.G.M. Hills, O.B.E., M.B., B.S., D.P.H., R.A.F., Ministry of Defence (MAI/HN206H), 1-6 Tavistock Square, London, WC1. Please give your age and qualifications.

CIBA Limited, Basle, Switzerland

To support a growing programme of research involving the development and evaluation of potential therapeutic agents, we propose to appoint:

two new medical advisers to our clinical research department.

Applicants should have a strong background in some branch of clinical medicine, internal medicine being particularly appropriate. In addition they should have an interest, and preferably some experience, in clinical research. Since the work will specifically involve clinical-pharmacological studies, knowledge or experience in this area will be a particular recommendation. Close collaboration with our Pharmacology Department will be encouraged.

A good knowledge of either English or German is essential, and both are desirable. French is also an asset.

Initial appointments will be made with seniority appropriate to experience and salaries and other terms of service will be negotiable with the individual appointee. Work will be centred on Basle, but will involve some international travel.

Applications will be treated confidentially and should be made to the Personnel Department of CIBA Limited, Basle (Switzerland), for the attention of the Director of Clinical Research.

LEDERMYCIN[†]

Demethylchlortetracycline Lederle †regd trademark

300 mg tablets
and Eaton Agent
pneumonia

Enter the Mycoplasma pneumoniae
There was a story about a scientist who discovered a cure for which there was no known disease. Though it was only meant for a laugh, this is not wholly incongruous. Something quite similar has actually happened.
When Ledermycin Demethylchlortetracycline was introduced in 1959, we had full confidence it would prove extremely effective in a host of acute and chronic

Here are the principal links in the chain of events.

1942 'Primary atypical pneumonia' officially established by the Surgeon General of the US Army to distinguish nonbacterial pneumonias of unknown etiology.

1944 'Eaton Agent' isolated from pleural secretions of patients with nonbacterial pneumonia.

1957 'Eaton Agent' definitely implicated as the cause of much primary atypical pneumonia.

1961 Ledermycin Demethylchlortetracycline shown highly effective in 'Eaton Agent' pneumonia.

1962 'Eaton Agent' identified as one of the so-called pleuropneumonia-like organisms infections due to a wide range of Gram-positive and Gram-negative organisms. And it did. What we did not anticipate was that it would prove effective in pneumonia due to Mycoplasma pneumoniae.

The reason is simple the disease itself was not invented - rather, it was not clearly defined - for another four years. Not until 1963 was enough known about it that the causative agent could be assigned a taxonomic designation.

(PPLO), already assigned the generic name Mycoplasma.

1963 Mycoplasma pneumoniae proposed as species name for 'Eaton Agent'.

So, enter Mycoplasma pneumoniae. And, as a corollary, exit 'Eaton Agent'? Not necessarily. Familiar names often die hard. Mycoplasma pneumoniae has ceased to be merely a clinical conversation piece. It is estimated that the newly-named organism may be responsible for as many as half of all hospitalized adult cases of pneumonia. It easily qualifies as a public health problem of some importance.

The recommended dosage for Ledermycin in 'Eaton Agent' pneumonia is 900 mg daily given as one 300 mg tablet T.I.D.
