

Don't miss readingDISEASES OF MUSCLEby J. N. Walton, T.D., M.D., F.R.C.P., July and August, 1966

This outstanding REVIEW ARTICLE by one of the world's leading authorities on the muscular diseases will undoubtedly be hailed as a most important contribution towards the better understanding of the nature and inter-relationship of these baffling disorders. Taking each type of myopathy in turn, the author reviews its clinical manifestations, its pathological features, and its genetic background in the light of the most recent research. He concludes with a valuable commentary on differential diagnosis and a comprehensive bibliography containing more than 300 references.

The selective abstracting service offered by the journal is already widely known. The institution of the current series of Review Articles has greatly increased its popularity. These articles, like the abstracting service which they are designed to supplement, are directed as much towards the general reader as to the specialist, providing him with authoritative surveys of the growing points of medicine, each complete with an up-to-date bibliography. Other articles that have appeared or are scheduled for early publication are:

If she rejects support stockings because they're too thick—recommend Supp-hose®
(they're sheer)

Only her face will show that she's wearing Supp-hose. Many women reject support stockings because they think that such a stocking is thick and unattractive. Consequently they are prepared to sacrifice their health for the sake of their appearance. But this is where Elbeo Supp-hose stockings have a tremendous advantage; they look scarcely any different from everyone else's nylon stockings. They are made in fashionable colours—seamed or seamfree. They are sheer, unbelievably sheer for the strong support they give. Yet they give as much relief as the thicker type of support stocking and are entirely acceptable from a medical point of view.

Medically beneficial. Made in nylon yarn, specially coiled, twisted and fixed before the stockings are knitted, Supp-hose stockings provide adequate compressive elastic support which is maintained over months of wear and washing. This makes them suitable for venous states of the lower extremities causing oedema and requiring elastic support. Supp-hose stockings will relieve, significantly, the symptoms associated with varicose veins, the post-phlebitic phenomenon or chronic venous insufficiency. Supp-hose can also be recommended to patients suffering from the condition termed 'tired legs', particularly during pregnancy.

Thousands of women are wearing Supp-hose stockings. Each year we receive dozens of enthusiastic testimonials. A report on clinical trials—and information about sizing—will gladly be sent on request. Write to Dept BM4, Elbeo House, Woodborough Road, Nottingham.

FURAMIDE provides the simplest safest and most effective treatment available at the present time for intestinal amoebiasis Practical No injections, special diets or enemas are required. Furamide is suitable for ambulant patients.

Simple Dosage is simple—one tablet three times a day for ten days in patients of average weight.

Effective Cure rates of 75% to 80% in the acute stage and 90% to 100% in the chronic condition may be expected.

Safe Side-effects, apart from occasional flatulence, have not been reported, and the toxicity of Furamide is very low.

Inexpensive Furamide is less expensive than the drugs conventionally used in amoebiasis, and as hospitalisation is not normally necessary (unless the clinical condition of the patients warrants it) treatment with Furamide often shows a substantial saving compared with the older forms of therapy. Methods and Achievements in Experimental Pathology

Editors: E. BAJUSZ, Cambridge, Mass., and G. JASMIN, Montreal

Vol. I An Introduction to Experimental Pathology

x+706 p., 332 fig., 26 tab., 1966. £10 10s.

This volume is the first of a series in which the fundamentals and advances of experimental pathology are brought together for post-graduate teaching purposes. The material included in vol. I is subdivided into five principal sections which cover a wide range of problems involved in experimental pathology, ranging from a historical introduction through the application of modern investigative techniques.

It is one of the tasks of this book to show that the basic pathologic phenomena are not confined to man only, but are also the subject of experimental analysis in laboratory animals. Efforts are not spared to provide introductory knowledge on borderline disciplines, since broad correlation represents the domain where the future of investigative pathology lies.

Standardization in Haematology III

3rd Transactions of the International Committee for Standardization in Haematology of the European Society of Haematology and Proceedings of the Colloquium "Standardization of Blood Cell Counts and of Packed Cell Volume Determination" held at the Xth Congress of the European Society of Haematology, Strasbourg, 22nd and 27th August 1965.

Edited by CH. G. DE BOROVIČZÉNY, Freiburg i. Br.
viii+212 p., 65 fig., 33 tab., 1966 (Bibliotheca Haematologica, Fasc. 24). £4 7s. 6d.

Blood cell count and packed cell volume determination were the topics of our third colloquium on Standardization in Haematology. At the meeting of the Standardizing Committee it was agreed to form Expert Panels on a dozen fundamental topics in haematology.

The present volume contains all papers and discussions together with extensive bibliographies and forms the companion to Fasc. 18 of the Bibl. haemat. "Erythrocytometric Methods and their Standardization" and to Fasc. 21 "Standardization, Documentation and Normal Values in Haematology". The good reception with which these two earlier volumes were met shows the universal and lively interest in our work and encouraged us to continue the assignment.

the turning point for many arthritic patients

INDOCID
Indomethacin REGD

"...the results obtained indicate that indomethacin has provided a most useful additional therapy in the management of osteoarthrosis, gout, and some patients suffering from rheumatoid arthritis."

Brit.med.J., 1966, 1, 80 (8 Jan)

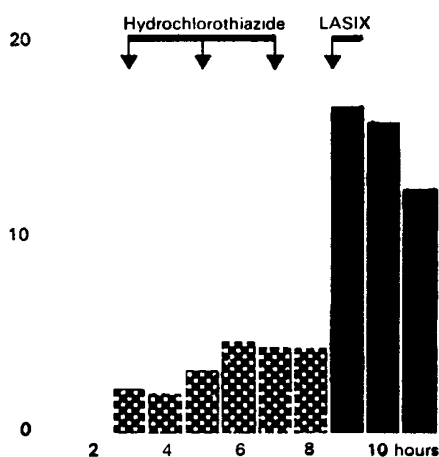

For many patients, 'Indocid' has proved to be the turning point in their course of treatment. 'Indocid' may be dramatically effective in reducing pain and swelling associated with many arthritic conditions. Therapy with 'Indocid' often results in a progressive improvement in mobility, even in severely-disabled patients, and has proved well-suited to long-term uninterrupted use. 'Indocid' is now also available as suppositories which are of value where relief of night pain and morning stiffness is particularly important.

'Indocid' is supplied as 25 mg capsules and 100 mg suppositories. Detailed information is available to physicians on request.

widens the scope of topical steroid therapy

The evidence from extensive clinical trials—"that a better response is more likely with betamethasone 17-valerate than with any of the other corticosteroids tested"*—has been fully substantiated by the outstanding results obtained with Betnovate (betamethasone 17-valerate) in hospital and general practice. Firmly established as the topical steroid most likely to succeed in psoriasis and eczema, Betnovate has been used increasingly for many other conditions. It has proved to be uniquely effective in resistant diseases difficult to control with other topical steroids—and in relatively responsive conditions it gives a more rapid clearance. Thus a better response is now obtained throughout the whole range of steroid-responsive dermatoses. The majority of such skin disorders can be treated satisfactorily by simply applying a Betnovate preparation once or twice daily.

In addition, benefits for operations requiring local anaesthetics performed by general practitioners are increased by 50%. A completely new coverage is provided through the introduction of benefits for prescribed drugs and medicines. The age limit for joining the GP Scheme has now been raised from 55 to 65.

Many patients suffer from insomnia without any apparent medical cause. Their sleeplessness, which may cause malaise, fatigue and irritability, is probably due to an inability to relax and forget the cares and worries of the day. By prescribing two (400 mg.) 19-24 hours relief In many allergic conditions the antihistamine triprolidine, as 'Pro-Actidil', brings rapid yet prolonged relief. 'Pro-Actidil' acts within 10-30 minutes, but due to the special formulation of the tablet this action is maintained for up to 24 hours.

in hay fever and rhinitis, angioneurotic oedema, seborrhoeic eczema, pruritus, allergic asthma and allergic dermatoses the response to 'Pro-Actidil' is exceptional. In view of the excellent results that may be occasionally obtained, 'Pro-Actidil' is also worth a trial in solar dermatoses (Practitioner (1964) 193, 434).

How commonsense can you get...

Haelan is a new preparation for steroid-responsive skin conditions.

Its advantages are strictly practical.

Haelan contains a proven steroid, flurandrenolone, in a concentration sufficient to treat all but the most severe dermatoses.

It comes in a realistic 60 gramme tube—enough for routine treatment without the need for repeat prescriptions.

Because of the pack size, and because the steroid content has not been needlessly increased, Haelan is far more economical than comparable preparations.

BURES (SUFFOLK) (East Anglia)

A small rural practice in an attractive part of East Anglia on the border of Suffolk and Essex is open to application from medical practitioners. The practice is at Bures, eight miles north of Colchester and has a 1,360 most of whom are dispensing patients. Surgery and residential accommodation are on offer to the successful applicant. Situated close to the "Constable country," the practice covers many picturesque rural villages and for expansion the successful applicant could look to a development area five miles to the North-west. It is an opening suitable for the middle-aged doctor who desires to work in a quiet rural area or for the doctor who is willing to expand.

Surgery—contd. on p. xxxiv

Before you commit yourself to a practice, work 3 or 5 years in the R.A.F.

You'll do some interesting, out-of-the-rut medicine, see a bit of the world, live well, and 'retire' with up to £3,000, tax free.

Your first job in the R.A.F. would probably be junior M.O. at a Station: rather like being an 'Assistant with a view'. In a typical case you could be one of two doctors with, between you, 1500 to 2500 people to take care of, and your own 'cottage hospital' with wards, theatre and laboratory, and secretarial as well as nursing staff.

You'd have a shorter list than a civilian G.P., and to this extent you would live a less strenuous life. To compensate, you would give much more comprehensive care. It is this—and the variety of your work—that makes practice in the R.A.F. so interesting.

In the R.A.F. you combine several functions. You are in medical care not only of people, but of the environment they live in, and of the work they do. In proportion you do less curative work and more preventive work than is even possible for most civilian doctors.

A lot of people hold the view that this is the way all medicine should be practised—with the closest possible integration of the doctor and the community.

This is the choice you face

Think of two doctors, both aged 40. One went to his practice straight from his teaching hospital, and has been there ever since. The other went into the R.A.F. on a 5-year commission. He lived —and lived well—in the tropics with his family for 2½ years and, on leave or on duty, visited 7 countries: two European, three Asiatic, and two Australasian. By now he's been in civilian practice for 10 years; he's as well established as the other doctor. But which of the two has got more out of life, and has the richer memories to look back upon?

In many ways, the transition from hospital into the R.A.F. seems more 'natural' than the movement to civilian practice. You go from one community to another—and they have much in common: both are young, cheerful, energetic, rather self-contained—and at the same time very professional, with a marked sense of purpose. If you can feel, now, that you are going to miss Medical School—think about the R.A.F. Service life would probably be 'right' for you.

The time for bold decisions is when you are young and free

Today, because you are at the beginning of your career, you can take a short time out from the main stream of civilian practice just by deciding to do it.

Now, you are free to go. In a few years time, you probably won't be.

You'll have a practice 'with your name on it'; children who want a permanent home to strike root in; and soon. It will be time for you to settle down.

Meanwhile, at the parting of the ways, you have this chance. Now is the time to find out about it.

The address to write to is: Wing Commander D. G. M. Hills, O.B.E., M.B., B.S., D.P.H., R.A.F., Ministry of Defence(M.A.I./724EE6).1-6 Tavistock Square, London, W.C.1. Please give your age and qualifications.

Medical cadetships. Commissions as a cadet are available to students who have passed second M.B. (or equivalent). Initially your basic pay would be £630 p.a. Appropriate R.A.F. allowances, examination and tuition fees are paid in addition. You would continue to live and work as a medical student and when fully registered you would start work in the R.A.F. as a doctor in the rank of Flight Lieutenant on a five year short service commission. Further information may be obtained from the above address.

Pharmacologists/Physiologists

Vacancies exist in the Research Department of the Pharmaceuticals Division of I.C.I. for pharmacologists or physiologists who have some research experience and who feel they could become interested in research to discover new drugs. Preference will be given to those who are inclined towards the cardiovascular field, but this should not deter others from making enquiries.

The laboratories at Alderley Park are amongst the best in Europe for their particular work and are beautifully situated. The research staff is representative of all the sciences pertaining to modern medical research and team work is encouraged. The ultimate aim of the work being done is, of course, the discovery of new drugs but its achievement necessitates much fundamental work and the problems encountered will challenge the best of scientists. Original discoveries in these laboratories include halothane, clofibrate and propranolol.

Enquiries, in confidence, may be addressed informally in the first instance to Dr. D. G. Davey or Dr. A. M. Barrett, P.O. Box 25, Macclesfield, Cheshire, or Alderley Edge 2828.

the antibiotic that works for them...

ERYTHROPED (erythromycin, Abbott) is a logical first choice for the treatment of common bacterial infections of children. Its potency against the cocci is considerably greater than that of the tetracyclines or chloramphenicol. But, this power is gentle power—potency tempered with a remarkable degree of safety.

ERYTHROPED is, in fact, the least toxic and the least allergenic antibiotic currently in common use. ERYTHROPED is effective over a wide clinical spectrum that covers most common bacterial infections of children met with in general practice. Not least important, ERYTHROPED is presented in a form that will be taken. Its pleasant cherry flavour makes it readily acceptable to children—even the very young.

...in the pack that works for you

One 60 ml bottle provides a full five-day course of treatment—twenty-four 100 mg doses. In addition, attention is drawn on the bottle label to the need to complete the full course of treatment, so that the potential of ERYTHROPED may be fully realised.

Nulacin and only Nulacin provides intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy for the ambulant patient

“In view of the ineffectiveness of most of the tableted antacids, the milk-alkali tablet (Nulacin) would appear to be the antacid of choice for ambulatory therapy.”

Safe, Simple, Effective

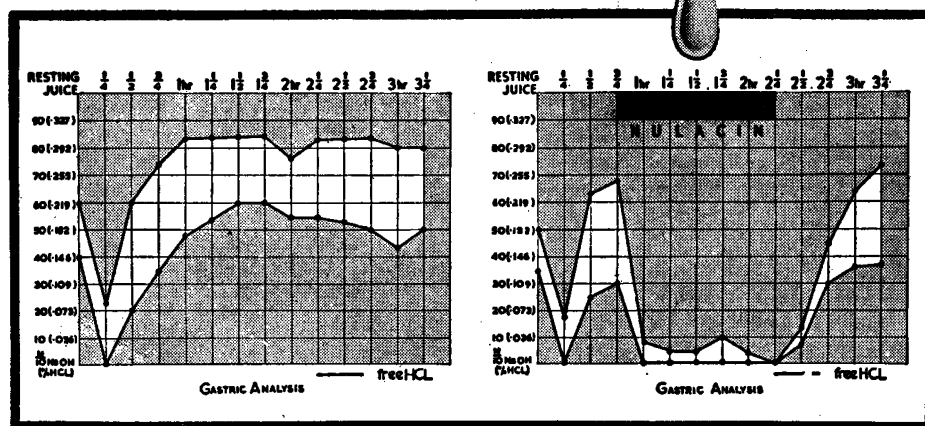

NULACIN TABLETS provide a safe, simple and effective treatment of peptic ulcer.

In treating peptic ulcer a Ryle's tube may be passed through the nose and into the oesophagus and a mixture of milk and antacid allowed to flow continuously over the affected area. This form of therapy can only be employed in those patients who are in bed and for the ambulant patient Nulacin tablets are preferable. Nulacin tablets are prepared from whole milk combined with dextrans and maltose, together with the trisilicate, oxide and carbonate of magnesium and calcium carbonate. Nulacin tablets when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth provide milk-alkali drip therapy. In fact, Nulacin tablets have revolutionized the treatment of peptic ulcer.
