

Spencer "Free Action" Support Brief for men

Spencer's revolutionary new concept of support in non-rubber, spandex elastic for back and abdomen.

Subtle in design to the degree of being mistaken for tailored, body-fitting underwear in the locker room, it actually provides powerful, functional support in elevating the viscera, thus relieving low back strain.

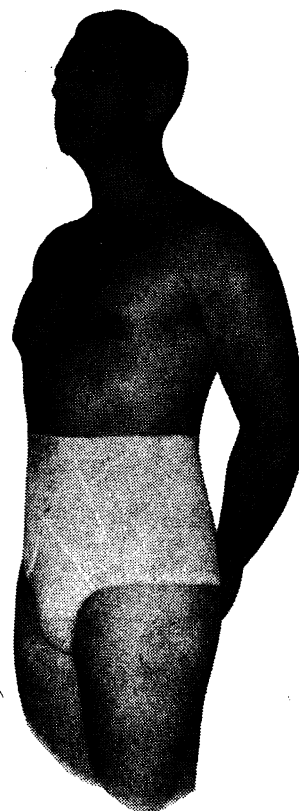

- ★ Front inner panels follow natural musculature.
- ★ Soft expansion areas at top edge and around legs allow motion and minimize bulging.
- ★ Comfortable, accommodating crotch section has easy access opening.

Patients have experienced relief from chronic low back pain while wearing the Support Brief.

We recommend this Brief for minor low back conditions and where it is considered beneficial to raise abdominal contents in aiding respiration, relieving ptosis, minimizing pooling of blood in lower abdomen, etc.

Cures in the Bavarian Spas serve to prevent illness,
to aid Treatment and Convalescence

Reports about the restorative powers of balneo- and climatotherapy are at hand from all epochs of recorded history. — The up-to-date installations in the 32 Bavarian Spas, where the cure may be taken by drinking, bathing or by inhalation, are the result of medical and scientific research work. — The successful application of the natural healing powers of waters and climate require discriminative therapeutic methods. For this reason the cures are under the strict supervision of experienced spa physicians (balneologists.) — Additional and supplementary methods of treatment in use are: Kneipp hydrotherapy, special diets, graduated walking exercises, electrotherapy, breathing exercises, physiotherapy, and massage.

Change of environment, freedom from everyday worries, physical exercise in beautiful surroundings, and constant care inspire a sense of well-being in the patient that contributes to his recovery.

SINGLE-DOSE TREATMENT FOR BOTH THREADWORMS AND ROUNDWORMS

"With its high cure-rate, lack of toxicity, ease of administration, and simplicity of dosage, we regard pripsen as, at present, the remedy of choice for enterobiasis...The doses of piperazine were less than half those hitherto used in seven days' treatment, and there were no toxic effects."

Lancet, 1960, i, 256.

"Pripsen...is a highly effective agent against ascariasis."

"Of the 88 patients completing the trial, 74 (84%) were cured by a single dose and, in the remaining 14, repeated dosage...resulted in a 100% cure-rate...Apart from one patient...there were no undesirable side-effects in this series, which included babies of 4 and 5 months."

RASTINON tolbutamide BP

The diabetic's treatment extends, at the moment, throughout his lifetime. The long-term safety of the preparations used is just as important as their ability to maintain satisfactory blood levels. Rastinon has a record of safety exceeding that of any comparable preparation. Its effectiveness is such that during the last 8 years over three million of the world's diabetics have been stabilized on Rastinon. This is why Rastinon is the first choice in initiating and continuing treatment of diabetes.

Isolates the noise so only the cardiac signal goes on paper

NEW SANBORN 500 VISO

In systole and diastole, the human heart produces a maximum signal of only a few millivolts between two ECG limb electrodes. Mixed in with this tiny signal may be some unwanted electrical "noise", caused by power lines, nearby X-ray or diathermy machines, or even ordinary office equipment. Until now, eliminating this noise from the record usually meant time-consuming adjustments and rerunning records until the complexes were clear.

The new Sanborn 500 Viso-Cardiette now isolates such noise from the cardiac signal to an extent never before achieved—and simultaneously maintains even greater protection for the patient without the use of fragile patient fuses. The "500", in effect, sees all of the wanted ECG signal and little or no noise, to give you a diagnostically useful tracing with greater ease and speed.

This highly refined new instrument also uses the new Redux® Creme—an improved non-abrasive electrolyte easily applied and removed without rubbing... and has operating features including two chart speeds and three recording sensitivities, simplified control arrangement, color-coded patient cable and pictorial connection diagram on the instrument panel. Housed in a compact, vinyl-clad aluminum case that's easy to carry, or effortlessly rolled on a matching mobile cart. Price: £278. For further information please call or write.

DISEASES OF MUSCLE

by J. N. Walton, T.D., M.D., F.R.C.P., July and August, 1966

This outstanding REVIEW ARTICLE by one of the world's leading authorities on the muscular diseases will undoubtedly be hailed as a most important contribution towards the better understanding of the nature and inter-relationship of these baffling disorders. Taking each type of myopathy in turn, the author reviews its clinical manifestations, its pathological features, and its genetic background in the light of the most recent research. He concludes with a valuable commentary on differential diagnosis and a comprehensive bibliography containing more than 300 references.

The selective abstracting service offered by the journal is already widely known. The institution of the current series of Review Articles has greatly increased its popularity. These articles, like the abstracting service which they are designed to supplement, are directed as much towards the general reader as to the specialist, providing him with authoritative surveys of the growing points of medicine, each complete with an up-to-date bibliography. Other articles that have appeared or are scheduled for early publication are:

Five million children under seven all prone to infectious illness

Total number of infants 0 - 6: 5,452,900 (Source: Registrar General 1964)

Some children are obviously more prone than others. Immunisation has largely eliminated the classical infectious diseases. Of course, much still remains to threaten health and happiness – and lengthen your daily visiting-list, such as mumps, tonsillitis, otitis media and colds.

Repeated infections can quickly impair appetite at a time when metabolic demands temporarily arise. And some of your under-sevens – many more than perhaps you realise – are on the borderline of nutritional adequacy, because of excessive consumption of carbohydrate.

Poor nutrition or even mild states of vitamin deficiency may appear to aggravate common infections and certainly prolong recovery. One answer to the problem may be to give adequate vitamin supplements to all during the pre-school and school years – when exposure to infections is greatest.

The B complex factors and vitamin C are vital to metabolic processes; vitamins A and D are essential to growth.

When faced with treatment of repeated infections the prudent practitioner prefers –

Many patients suffer from insomnia without any apparent medical cause. Their sleeplessness, which may cause malaise, fatigue and irritability, is probably due to an inability to relax and forget the cares and worries of the day. By prescribing two (400 mg.) Hypercoagulability and Coronary Heart Disease

Q. Why is it that the ICI literature places just as much emphasis on the favourable effects of 'Atromid'-S on thrombogenic mechanisms as on the correction of elevated serum lipids?

Q. If the thrombogenic factors are more directly related to the major hazard of coronary thrombosis then would it not be better to measure say platelet adhesiveness rather than serum cholesterol?

Q. Can it be assumed therefore that if the serum lipids are reduced the levels of thrombogenic factors are also improving?

Q. But is there any evidence that 'Atromid'-S is influencing the actual pathology of the disease?

A. Because we regard all the abnormalities exhibited by the coronary heart disease patient as merely indicative of an underlying metabolic disorder. Any treatment which is aimed solely at correcting one abnormality is clearly inadequate.

A. The laboratory facilities required to determine the thrombogenic disturbances are specialised and seldom available to clinicians. We know from practical experience that reduction of fibrinogen levels or correction of platelet stickiness usually occurs when there is reduction of the serum lipids.

A. Yes. 'Atromid'-S will, in the great majority of patients, reduce elevated serum lipids (cholesterol and triglycerides) and at the same time exert a favourable effect on abnormal thrombogenic factors.

A. In uncontrolled trials of 'Atromid'-S in patients with a history of myocardial infarction, an average annual mortality rate of 4% over a two year period compares favourably with mortality rates recorded in other published studies. Figures from controlled trials are not yet available but patients with coronary heart disease cannot afford to wait. It seems more than justifiable to use 'Atromid'-S at least selectively at this stage.*

* Prog. in Biochem. Pharmacol. (1966) in press.

'Atromid'-S is presented in red soft-gelatin capsules each containing 250 mg ethyl-2-(p-chlorophenoxy)-2-methylpropionate and issued in packs of 50, 250, 1,000 capsules.

"... in proper dosage it (Chloral) has an excellent safety record. Now that it can be prescribed in tablet form it is likely to come more and more into use, for unlike the new sedatives there are no doubts about its safety ...".

Practitioner, 1964, 192, 393.

Hydratene combines the universally acknowledged safety and value of chloral hydrate as a mild hypnotic, with paracetamol to ease the pain. This palatable compound form is singularly free from side effects or habituation even if administered over long periods. Indeed, in such cases dosage can often be reduced without loss of efficacy. Hydratene is an ideal alternative to barbiturates, particularly where pain is present.

Heinz use far better, fresher ingredients than the average mother

Heinz ingredients are better and fresher than those normally available to the housewife.

Only close supervision and control keep this superiority constant.

For example, before contracting with fruit or vegetable growers, Heinz agronomists study the land and the farming methods practised.

Heinz then specify precisely which seed varieties are to be sown.

In addition, all fertilisers, insecticides, etc. must have Heinz approval—backed by laboratory tests—before being used.

This far-reaching control extends to harvesting. Crops are gathered at the correct moment of maturity, and rushed to the factory for immediate processing.

The fact that Heinz' Kitt Green factory is adjacent to the Ormskirk market garden region—where a great deal of the produce is grown—allows the maximum supervision and speed.

But even when crops are grown abroad, Heinz inspectors still exercise control.

The same high standards apply to meat. Only prime cuts of beef are used; tender veal; best boned legs and shoulders of lamb.

Everything is checked and re-checked from seed to harvest.

Finally, on arrival at Heinz kitchens, all ingredients must pass stringent quality control tests before being accepted for processing.

Thanks men — now Exolan takes over.*

Suddenly the treatment of psoriasis with coal tar could well be out-of-date. It has taken 2,000 years to discover an acceptable alternative to crude coal tar for treating psoriasis. All the subsequent preparations have well-known disadvantages. Cosmetic coal tars exhibit a very slow rate of healing; steroids under polythene cause discomfort to the patient and there is a risk of systemic side effects; dithranol, until now the best overall treatment for psoriasis, requires constant supervision.

Exolan paste is a new preparation which attacks psoriatic lesions with the striking effectiveness of dithranol, but without its unpleasant side-effects of burning and staining. Presented as a paste, it can be safely prescribed for application by the patient, in his own home.

Unlike steroids, there is no rapid relapse on cessation of treatment.

Practically every hospital skin department in Great Britain is now using Exolan Paste. This remarkable new British discovery is ideally suited for G.P. prescription.

DORBANEX
Dorbanex: trade mark
softens the stool
then gently evacuates
the constipated bowel

Pain caused by hard, dry stools can be a distressing aspect of constipation. Discomfort leads to retention and, in turn, overloading of the rectum. But if – as with Dorbanex – treatment is directed at softening the stool and stimulating colonic peristalsis, the cycle of pain-retention-accumulation is broken. Defaecation is comfortable; anxiety is allayed; and the bowel is helped back to normal function.

Because Dorbanex contains the laxative 1 : 8-dihydroxyanthraquinone, plus a new faecal softening agent poloxalkol, it both softens and mobilises the stool. This dual action is invaluable in patients with anal fissures or haemorrhoids, and in obviating straining – an important consideration in elderly or cardiac patients.

Disadvantages of laxative treatment, such as unpredictability, griping, leakage, or interference with gastro-intestinal function do not arise with Dorbanex. Especially appreciated by patients old, young or pregnant are its advantages of small dosage (1 c teaspooonful at bedtime) and palatability.

Each teaspooonful (5 ml.) of Dorbanex contains 25 mg. 1 : 8-dihydroxyanthraquinone and 200 mg. poloxalkol. Bottles of 60 ml. (4/-) and 500 ml. (30/-) P.T. extra.

Medical Superintendent:
James Harper, M.B., F.R.C.P. (Edin.), D.P.M.
This private hospital receives patients, both male and female, suffering from nervous and mental disorders, including alcoholism and senile illnesses. The fees range from eighteen guineas per week. Private rooms with special nurses can be provided, either in the hospital or in one of the villas in the grounds. The hospital is situated in 130 acres of pleasant grounds which provide all recreational facilities. These include a nine-hole golf course, sports ground, tennis courts, etc. A Recreation and Occupation Centre, known as Cloisters House, was opened in 1962, which comprises an occupational therapy department, a swimming pool, a squash court, and a library with an adjoining reading room.

WANTAGE HOUSE

This is a separate reception unit which patients may be admitted to. It is equipped for the complete investigation of nervous and mental disorders by the most modern methods. All forms of treatment are available.

Some two miles from the main hospital is the farm of approximately 600 acres. Occupational therapy is a feature of this branch. For terms and further particulars apply to the Medical Superintendent (Telephone No.: 34354 Northampton), who can be seen in London by appointment.
