ANTIBIOTICS AND THE INTESTINAL FLORA

Treatment with broad spectrum antibiotics suppresses the normal flora, which may be replaced by abnormal resistant organisms causing diarrhoea.

This change can be prevented or reversed by the implantation of Lactobacillus acidophilus which has been rendered antibiotic-resistant, and is thus able to multiply freely under these abnormal conditions. The products of growth of the organism are inimical to that of many other bacteria^{1,2} and thus contribute to its rapid preponderance over other species.

Oral treatment with antibiotic-resistant L. acidophilus in the form of ENPAC has been shown to eliminate Candida from the faeces of infants with antibiotic-induced diarrhoea, with relief of symptoms succeeded by rapid gain in weight³ and greatly to reduce the numbers of staphylococci in the faeces of patients treated with tetracyclines.⁴

No need, obviously, to acquaint you with the facts of Multiple Sclerosis, or that over 40,000 people in Gt. Britain suffer from the disease.

You'll doubtless know, too, about the work done by The Multiple Sclerosis Society of Gt. Britain and Northern Ireland, not the least part of which is to encourage a greater awareness on the part of the general public to the nature of the disease. In this respect, the co-operation of the medical profession is urgently needed. If you have a patient who is suffering from M.S., and you decide that it is in his best interests to acquaint him of this fact, the Society would be grateful if you would let him know of the work it is doing, and how, through its welfare services, it can help him, too.

'Sequens', the first of the "second-generation" oral contraceptives to achieve world-wide acceptance, inhibits ovulation without appreciable alteration of the normal menstrual pattern. Mestranol, an oestrogen, is introduced early in the cycle, followed later by a combination of mestranol with the progestogen chlormadinone acetate.

The more physiological approach with 'Sequens' explains why there are fewer side-effects than with earlier agents which combine oestrogen and progestogen throughout the cycle.

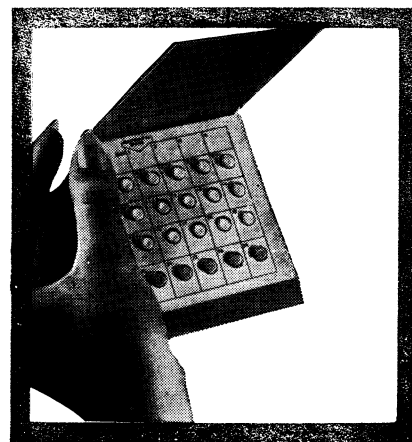

- * weight gain is not a problem
- * low incidence of breakthrough bleeding
- * nausea only rarely encountered
- * patient-tested package and directions provide easy understanding

Sequential folder containing fifteen 80 mcg. tablets of mestranol plus five tablets each combining 80 mcg. mestranol with 2 mg. chlormadinone acetate.

When symptoms of anxiety and depression co-exist, both facets of the patient's condition can usually be relieved by treatment with 'Tryptizol', which possesses both antidepressant and tranquillising properties. With 'Tryptizol', there is generally rapid relief of anxiety and insomnia.

When the presence of slough delays healing...

A CASE FOR ASERBINE

Crush injury of right foot sustained in a road accident. There was a severe compound dislocation of the mid-tarsal joint. The wound was treated by primary suture but broke down revealing thick, tough yellow and green sloughs and one large black necrotic area.

The first picture shows the result of one month's treatment with Eusol and Lotion

Rubra. They produced little change. The second picture shows the result of five days' treatment with Aserbine. The desloughing effect is dramatic. Aserbine Solution was used on packs which were re-soaked every four hours. Subsequent healing was rapid and skin-grafting took place only two weeks after starting treatment with Aserbine.

... in varicose ulcers, pressure sores, burns, trophic ulcers, etc.

... experience has shown that ASERBINE is a true desloughing agent which does not affect living tissue.

Presentation

Aserbine is available as a cream (100 G. jars) and as a solution (500 ml. bottles).

Method of Application

Aserbine Cream should be applied once or twice daily.

Aserbine Solution should be applied as a wet dressing and it is important to keep the dressing moist.

Its advantages are strictly practical.

Haelan contains a proven steroid, flurandrenolone, in a concentration sufficient to treat all but the most severe dermatoses.

It comes in a realistic 60 gramme tube—enough for routine treatment without the need for repeat prescriptions.

Because of the pack size, and because the steroid content has not been needlessly increased, Haelan is far more economical than comparable preparations.

'In addition, and most important, he felt well. He did not feel like the weak, washed-out patient that I have come to expect after intensive diuretic therapy.'

The Use of Aldosterone Antagonists in Cardiological Practice.
Paper presented before the Cardiac Society of Australia and New Zealand, October 1960.

Conventional diuretics act on the proximal renal tubule. They allow reabsorption of sodium and water and loss of potassium to continue at the distal tubule. But Aldactone-A (brand of spironolactone), added to the regimen, acts at the distal tubule, and prevents excessive sodium reabsorption and potassium loss.

Aldactone-A thus...

- ☐ Enhances sodium excretion
- ☐ Conserves potassium
- ☐ Overcomes diuretic resistance
- ☐ Improves diuresis

The high anti-inflammatory activity of betamethasone can ensure swift suppression of the most distressing allergic symptoms. So when conventional control of asthma is interrupted by an acute attack a short course of Betnesol Tablets can quickly re-establish control. The tablets can be taken in solution, as a drink, thus ensuring good gastric tolerance, maximum efficiency of absorption and a consistent therapeutic effect.

Glaxo brief

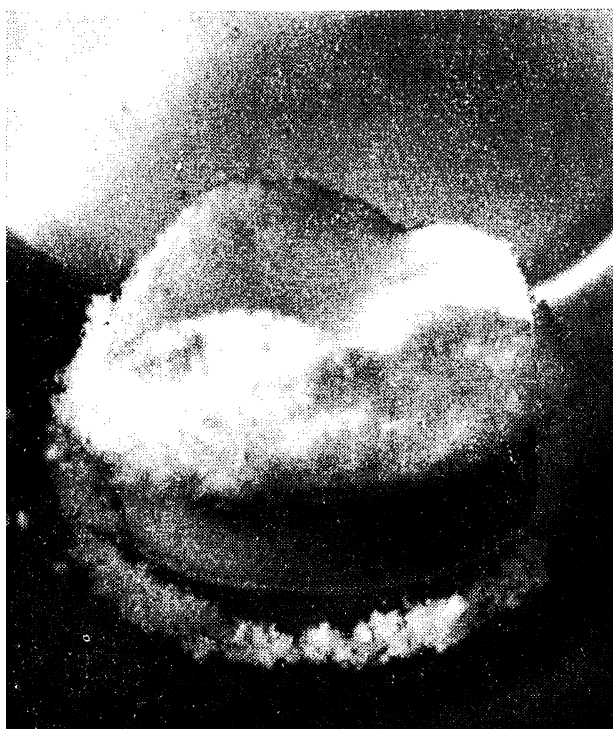

Mild hypertension is now much easier to manage

The two-tier tablet of Neo-NaClex-K is extremely well designed for trouble-free long-term management of mild hypertension. The white tier of the tablet provides bendrofluazide for smooth, sustained reduction of blood pressure. The pink tier provides potassium—normally sufficient to prevent potassium depletion—together with an equivalent amount of chloride ion. The tablet is designed for slow release (not delayed release) of potassium so that there is minimum risk of causing gastric irritation or small bowel ulceration.

The smooth antihypertensive action of Neo-NaClex-K is particularly suitable for the elderly hypertensive. Even the distinctive appearance of the small, easily swallowed tablet helps here—reducing the risk of confusion when several different types of tablet have to be taken each day.

For those patients who also require sedation Tricloryl (triclofos) is the ideal adjunct to Neo-NaClex-K. It is a non-barbiturate sedative which reproduces the safety and effectiveness of chloral hydrate without its adverse effects. Like Neo-NaClex-K, Tricloryl is particularly suitable for the elderly—because of its

Measles—2nd day of rash. 4-year-old English girl

One of the many safety tests of Mevilin-L

At last! reliable immunity to measles from a single injection of a safe vaccine

In the four years during which the Schwarz strain vaccine has been studied, the serological response and protective capacity have compared well with naturally acquired immunity. In the U.S.A. alone it has been used to vaccinate more than two million children — as a single injection, and without serious adverse reaction.

Recent trials conducted by the M.R.C. compared a single-injection schedule of Mevilin-L (a Schwarz strain vaccine) with a schedule in which killed vaccine was given four weeks previously. Both procedures were found to be acceptable.

Mevilin-L has therefore proved both safe and effective. But it is above all a convenient form of vaccination — eliminating the need for gamma-globulin and repeated injections.

Where topical antifungals cannot penetrate

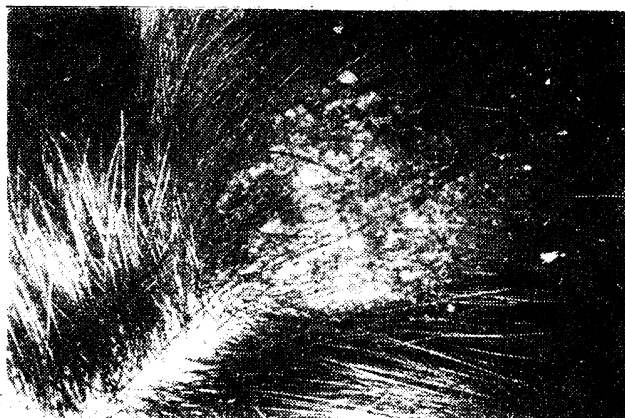

Grisovin-FP attacks, acts, cures from within

Griseofulvin taken by mouth acts from within, specifically attacking the dermatophytes that cause superficial fungal infection. Readily absorbed, it speedily attacks and disrupts the growth of fungal hyphae in the deeper layers of the skin, accumulating to form a resistant barrier to reinfection. Even the most stubborn tinea capitis infections have yielded to its systemic approach. Clinical tests have shown rapid improvement within days—clinical cure within three to nine weeks.

In addition to its healing properties, Grisovin-FP offers other advantages. Treatment is neither messy nor embarrassing. Side effects are rare, usually transient, and seldom severe enough to warrant discontinuation of treatment. Tolerance is excellent.

Presented in fine particle form as Grisovin-FP Tablets, griseofulvin is effective in comparatively low dosage. Grisovin-FP Tablets therefore present a convenient, economical—and very often more successful—alternative to topical treatment for superficial fungal infections.

Psoriasis... rapid response to Alphosyl

... even in previously intractable cases. A patient of 48 who had a generalised psoriasis for 20 years was essentially clear in six weeks.² A girl of 10 with a strong familial history of psoriasis, cleared almost completely after three weeks' application of Alphosyl Cream.² These are just two typical cases from the extensive clinical records underlining Alphosyl's outstanding effectiveness in bringing psoriasis under control.

New Alphosyl lubricating cream. A new water-in-oil dosage form, Alphosyl Lubricating Cream is particularly significant in the treatment of the dry, extremely scaly psoriatic lesion confined to the small site and the intertriginous area. Alphosyl cream is especially helpful in clearing psoriatic plaques exposed to constant friction. By enhancing lubrication of the skin folds, it serves to lessen irritation and facilitate healing. Clearing is prompt, even in previously resistant cases. The effectiveness of Alphosyl in this form is attributable in large measure to its unique cream base. This consists of a combination of saturated and unsaturated free fatty acids, naturally occurring triglycerides and esters that resemble the lipid constituents of normal healthy skin. The vehicle also contains hydrophylic-lipophilic bipolar substances which enhance the moisture uptake and retention of the amphoteric proteins of the stratum corneum. Significantly, it has been shown that squalane, one of the components of the base, is most effective in dissolving a cement substance in psoriatic scales.

Formula: Allantoin 2%+90% alcoholic extract of coal-tar (5-1) 5% in a vanishing type cream base or a smooth, non-greasy lotion base.

DISEASES OF MUSCLE

by J. N. Walton, T.D., M.D., F.R.C.P., July and August, 1966

This outstanding REVIEW ARTICLE by one of the world's leading authorities on the muscular diseases will undoubtedly be hailed as a most important contribution towards the better understanding of the nature and inter-relationship of these baffling disorders. Taking each type of myopathy in turn, the author reviews its clinical manifestations, its pathological features, and its genetic background in the light of the most recent research. He concludes with a valuable commentary on differential diagnosis and a comprehensive bibliography containing more than 300 references.

The selective abstracting service offered by the journal is already widely known. The institution of the current series of Review Articles has greatly increased its popularity. These articles, like the abstracting service which they are designed to supplement, are directed as much towards the general reader as to the specialist, providing him with authoritative surveys of the growing points of medicine, each complete with an up-to-date bibliography. Surgery—contd. on p. xxxii

Before you commit yourself to a practice, work 3 or 5 years in the R.A.F.

You'll do some interesting, out-of-the-rut medicine, see a bit of the world, live well, and 'retire' with up to £3,000, tax free.

Your first job in the R.A.F. would probably be junior M.O. at a Station: rather like being an 'Assistant with a view'. In a typical case you could be one of two doctors with, between you, 1500 to 2500 people to take care of, and your own 'cottage hospital' with wards, theatre and laboratory, and secretarial as well as nursing staff.

You'd have a shorter list than a civilian G.P., and to this extent you would live a less strenuous life. To compensate, you would give much more comprehensive care. It is this—and the variety of your work—that makes practice in the R.A.F. so interesting.

In the R.A.F. you combine several functions. You are in medical care not only of people, but of the environment they live in, and of the work they do. In proportion you do less curative work and more preventive work than is even possible for most civilian doctors.

A lot of people hold the view that this is the way all medicine should be practised—with the closest possible integration of the doctor and the community.

This is the choice you face

Think of two doctors, both aged 40. One went to his practice straight from his teaching hospital, and has been there ever since. The other went into the R.A.F. on a 5-year commission. He lived —and lived well—in the tropics with his family for 2½ years and, on leave or on duty, visited 7 countries: two European, three Asiatic, and two Australasian. By now he's been in civilian practice for 10 years; he's as well established as the other doctor. But which of the two has got more out of life, and has the richer memories to look back upon?

In many ways, the transition from hospital into the R.A.F. seems more 'natural' than the movement to civilian practice. You go from one community to another—and they have much in common: both are young, cheerful, energetic, rather self-contained—and at the same time very professional, with a marked sense of purpose. If you can feel, now, that you are going to miss Medical School—think about the R.A.F. Service life would probably be 'right' for you.

The time for bold decisions is when you are young and free

Today, because you are at the beginning of your career, you can take a short time out from the main stream of civilian practice just by deciding to do it.

Now, you are free to go. In a few years time, you probably won't be.

You'll have a practice 'with your name on it'; children who want a permanent home to strike root in; and soon. It will be time for you to settle down.

Meanwhile, at the parting of the ways, you have this chance. Now is the time to find out about it.

The address to write to is: Wing Commander D. G. M. Hills, O.B.E., M.B., B.S., D.P.H., R.A.F., Ministry of Defence (M.A.T./724EE7), I-6 Tavistock Square, London, W.C.1. Please give your age and qualifications.

Medical cadetships. Commissions as a cadet are available to students who have passed second M.B. (or equivalent). Initially your basic pay would be £630 p.a. Appropriate R.A.F. allowances, examination and tuition fees are paid in addition. You would continue to live and work as a medical student and when fully registered you would start work in the R.A.F. as a doctor in the rank of Flight Lieutenant on a five year short service commission. Further information may be obtained from the above address.

TWO OF A KIND...

...Rauwiloid and the paper clip

Efficient, dependable, both have stood the test of time—the paper clip for many years, Rauwiloid since 1953. Gradual reduction of blood pressure to normal levels and steady maintenance at those levels, very simple dosage, low cost and freedom from tolerance—these characteristics of Rauwiloid still make it the ideal first choice for mild to moderate essential hypertension. Even in more severe cases, Rauwiloid can be of considerable value in combination with more potent agents.
