tetracycline phosphate complex

TETREX* is more fully and rapidly absorbed than other forms of tetracycline, giving high serum tetracycline levels without delay. Since sputum levels of tetracycline are generally only between 10 and 30 per cent of the serum concentration—limited by the 'Bronchial Barrier'—adequate absorption is vital if full inhibition of Haemophilus influenzae in the lungs is to be achieved. TETREX is most likely to ensure adequate serum levels even in the poor absorber.

Available as TETREX capsules of tetracycline phosphate complex equivalent to 250 mg. tetracycline.

will check the increased tendency to overgrowth of Candida albicans in certain patients by inclusion of the specific and potent anti-fungal antibiotic, nystatin in its capsule. Clinical experience has shown that the very young and the very old, diabetic, debilitated or geriatric patients, those taking steroids or high or prolonged tetracycline dosage together with patients having a history of Candida infection are particularly susceptible to candidiasis during tetracycline therapy; more recent experience emphasizes that when the tetracycline is TETREX 'F'* the risk of candidiasis is minimal.

Available as TETREX 'F' capsules of tetracycline phosphate complex equivalent to 250 mg. tetracycline with nystatin 250,000 units.

Once monilial vaginitis was a frustrating problem for the doctor and a long-drawn-out misery for the patient.

Now there is CANDEPTIN

Monilia is increasingly recognised as a major cause of vaginitis—and Candepatin is an antibiotic which now makes a major contribution to its treatment. This dramatic new antifungal agent brings quick relief of symptoms<sup>1</sup> and a decisive resolution of the infection<sup>2</sup>.

In the laboratory, Candepatin has been shown<sup>3</sup> to inhibit Candida albicans at 0.05 mcg/ml, even after two days' incubation. Under the same circumstances nystatin had to be used at 5 mcg/ml to achieve inhibition.

In clinical practice<sup>2,4,5</sup> Candepatin gives equally remarkable results. Out of a total of 190 women, both pregnant and non-pregnant, 173 were cured after one course of treatment and a further 14 responded to a second course.

Isolates the noise so only the cardiac signal goes on paper

NEW SANBORN 500 VISO

In systole and diastole, the human heart produces a maximum signal of only a few millivolts between two ECG limb electrodes. Mixed in with this tiny signal may be some unwanted electrical "noise", caused by power lines, nearby X-ray or diathermy machines, or even ordinary office equipment. Until now, eliminating this noise from the record usually meant time-consuming adjustments and rerunning records until the complexes were clear.

The new Sanborn 500 Viso-Cardiette now isolates such noise from the cardiac signal to an extent never before achieved—and simultaneously maintains even greater protection for the patient without the use of fragile patient fuses. The "500", in effect, sees all of the wanted ECG signal and little or no noise, to give you a diagnostically useful tracing with greater ease and speed.

This highly refined new instrument also uses the new Redux® Creme—an improved non-abrasive electrolyte easily applied and removed without rubbing... and has operating features including two chart speeds and three recording sensitivities, simplified control arrangement, color-coded patient cable and pictorial connection diagram on the instrument panel. Housed in a compact, vinyl-clad aluminum case that's easy to carry, or effortlessly rolled on a matching mobile cart. Price: £278. For further information please call or write.

1 Male H.L. Before (4.5 seconds)

Male, 51, (H.L.). First seen after the sudden development of an unsteady gait and sensations of numbness in the right arm and leg and around the mouth. Right facial palsy was present. Some ataxia of right arm and hand. The patient was placed on Cyclospasmol 400 mg q.d.s. At the next neurological examination, six weeks later, he was virtually normal.

2 H.L. After (4.5 seconds)

The angiogram after treatment shows a striking change. Notice the rather heavy concentration of vessels along the midline with a fairly pronounced accumulation of vessels just above the middle cerebral territory. The vessels are of much wider calibre, generally, than those seen in the control film.

Cyclospasmol significantly improved cerebral circulation in a trial using retrograde brachial cerebral angiography. Kuhn, 1966.

For the majority of patients, oral administration of 'Indocid' as capsules is preferred, but 'Indocid' Suppositories are particularly valuable in the relief of night pain and morning stiffness, experienced by so many arthritic patients. ## widens the scope of topical steroid therapy

The evidence from extensive clinical trials—"that a better response is more likely with betamethasone 17-valerate than with any of the other corticosteroids tested"*—has been fully substantiated by the outstanding results obtained with Betnovate (betamethasone 17-valerate) in hospital and general practice. Firmly established as the topical steroid most likely to succeed in psoriasis and eczema, Betnovate has been used increasingly for many other conditions. It has proved to be uniquely effective in resistant diseases difficult to control with other topical steroids—and in relatively responsive conditions it gives a more rapid clearance. Thus a better response is now obtained throughout the whole range of steroid-responsive dermatoses. The majority of such skin disorders can be treated satisfactorily by simply applying a Betnovate preparation once or twice daily.

Galaton and Delexin

These two new Wander products give effective relief in the cough and bronchospasm common to many acute and chronic respiratory disorders.

GALATON combines a time-proved cough suppressant (codeine phosphate) with an effective bronchodilator (phenylpropanolamine). It relieves dry, unproductive cough and wheezing in many respiratory disorders—including acute bronchitis, chronic bronchitis and emphysema, bronchial asthma and pertussis. Galaton is particularly helpful in relieving the distressing night-time cough that disturbs sleep.

DELEXIN combines a powerful expectorant (guaiphenesin)—which liquefies tenacious, viscous sputum—with the bronchodilator and vasoconstrictor effects of phenylpropanolamine. Indications include acute tracheitis, acute bronchitis, chronic bronchitis and emphysema, and the respiratory complications of infectious diseases.

The Symposium on Tissue Typing which was arranged by the International Society of Blood Transfusion, on the occasion of the Xth Congress of the European Society of Haematology in Strasbourg in August 1965, made it possible to discuss this topical problem which will greatly influence the future of transplantation.

Lectures of a general nature were held on the present knowledge of the leucocyte groups and their implications on transplantation in man. The numerous serological aspects concerning these antibodies were dealt with by several authors. Other tests which are likely to help in the selection of the most suitable donor, such as the normal lymphocyte transfer test and the mixed lymphocyte culture test, were also mentioned.

This volume contains the reports and discussions of the International Colloquium on Malignant Tumors of the Thyroid Gland, held in Marseilles in June 1964. Each paper has been brought up to date by the author.

All aspects of the subject were studied by the world's most eminent specialists, each one on his own field of research, considering the subject from the point of view of histology, of diagnosis, and of surgical and radio-logical treatment.

Invitations were sent out to endocrinologists, anatomy pathologists, isotopists, oto-rhino-laryngologists, surgeons, cancerologists and radio-therapists. The principle of the Colloquium was to let each reporter discuss his subject with another speaker of a different opinion, so that each point of view could be dealt with thoroughly.

This Colloquium is therefore a milestone in the study of tumours of the thyroid gland, which is still a controversial subject. The volume is sure of its place in the library of all those interested in this important question.

An Introduction to Medical Automation

L. C. Payne, B.Sc., Ph.D., Private Medical Automation Consultant

The increasing use of the computer has now become an important factor of modern life. L. C. Payne believes that medical automation will, as it develops, exercise as profound and continuing effect on the medical profession as any in its history. This book outlines in non-technical language the basic concepts of automation applied to medical practice and attempts to define the scope and direction of such developments. This is a stimulating introduction to a subject which, although in its infancy, should be understood by all those connected with medical practice.

For rheumatic disorders the solution is Solprin

When prolonged administration of aspirin is indicated, Solprin ensures a high degree of efficacy and safety.

Solprin, which provides aspirin in neutral soluble form, has all the analgesic and anti-inflammatory properties of aspirin but is more rapidly absorbed and better tolerated.

Solprin is especially valuable in the treatment of rheumatic disorders where high dosage over long periods is necessary.

SOLPRIN tablets are stable for long periods and are presented in protective moisture-proof foil.

How commonsense can you get...

Haelan is a new preparation for steroid-responsive skin conditions.

Its advantages are strictly practical:

Haelan contains a proven steroid, flurandrenolone, in a concentration sufficient to treat all but the most severe dermatoses.

It comes in a realistic 60 gramme tube—enough for routine treatment without the need for repeat prescriptions.

Because of the pack size, and because the steroid content has not been needlessly increased, Haelan is far more economical than comparable preparations.

A doctor's life with a difference can be found in the ROYAL ARMY MEDICAL CORPS

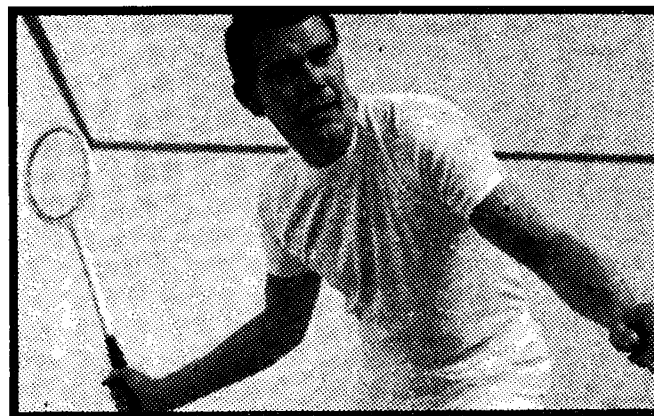

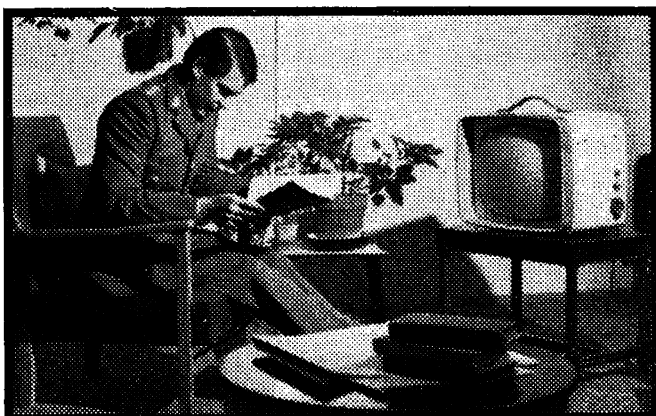

Excellent opportunities are provided for general practice under good conditions of service. The professional opportunities are very wide and varied and include caring for the wives and children of soldiers.

All aspects of medical care—preventive medicine, general and hospital practice are closely integrated. Surgeries are organised by groups and groups are supported by hospitals so that Medical Officers are able to follow up those of their patients admitted to hospital. These modern surgeries have every facility. Good equipment, trained staff, and a locum provided for six weeks' annual leave. Post-graduate training is given.

For the married man it matters greatly how his wife feels about the Service. The community spirit of Army life, especially overseas, embraces an Officer's family as much as himself. Such extra emoluments as Marriage Allowance, Education Allowance, Disturbance Allowance, and Local Overseas Allowance, show the importance attached by the Army to helping the Officer with a family. Most married Medical Officers get a furnished house at low rental.

Pay for a married Captain (the rank on entry) is over £2000. There are increases every two years and on promotion. Promotion to Major can normally be expected after 5 years and to Lieut-Colonel after 13 years (or shorter, where an antedate is given for experience in hospitals and general practice). Commissions granted may be permanent or Short Service. A Short Service commission earns a tax-free gratuity of £3000 for 5 years' service, £1500 for 3 years. Regular commissions are pensionable on the normal basis.

1 ml. Orgaject disposable syringes and
1 ml. ampoules.

Durabolin and Deca-Durabolin stimulate tissue-building and counteract nitrogen loss in many clinical conditions. The effect in osteoporosis and in advanced breast cancer is often marked, leading to an improvement in the patient's general condition, relief of pain and a regression of specific symptoms. Other conditions in which these preparations are useful include severe debility, post-operative catabolism, severe trauma, slow-healing fractures, burns and renal failure—in all these, the correction of an adverse nitrogen balance helps in the patient's recovery. Durabolin is ideal for initial therapy: it is normally given at weekly intervals. Deca-Durabolin is a longer acting form which is ideal for maintenance therapy: it only needs to be given every three weeks.

Fancy

Urtica dioica is better known to the inhabitants of this country as the stinging nettle. Nowadays we regard the stinging nettle as merely an unsightly weed and a painful nuisance. At one time, however, our forebears drank a decoction of nettle flowers to purify the blood and to get rid of nettle rash.

the new (11th) edition of the Merck Manual

now available

Following the tradition of the previous ten editions of this publication, the new Merck Manual of Diagnosis and Therapy has been compiled to include recent advances in medicine, thereby providing a valuable current work of reference on all diagnostic and therapeutic developments.

The Manual has been extensively revised to widen its scope; existing material has been brought up to date and new subjects and illustrations introduced. There are also over 800 prescriptions.

Complete revision has been carried out on the chapters dealing with the chemotherapy of infections, adrenocortical therapy, anomalies in lipid metabolism, drug reactions, heart sounds and murmurs, emphysema, the diagnostic use of radio-isotopes, and a number of other topics.

Entirely new chapters have been written to cover subjects such as pulmonary alveolar proteinism, fevers of undetermined origin, cervical root syndrome, neurological examination, and carcinoid syndrome. The Manual also contains a section on family planning.

Many ready-reference guides and conversion formulae are given, together with a liberally cross-titled index. New tables and illustrations have been incorporated to assist in the understanding of myocardial abnormalities in systemic disorders, primary and secondary aldosteronism, distinguishing characteristics of the anaemias and leukaemias, the blood coagulation process, time-related cardiac physiological phenomena, and the "rule of nine" in burn therapy. Also included are clinical, pre- and post-operative procedures; weights, measures, and dosage calculations; bedside nursing techniques; laboratory tests for the surgery, and the principal methods employed in paediatrics and immunisation.

The Eleventh Edition of the Merck Manual is internationally available and may be ordered in the U.K. and Republic of Ireland through your local Medical Bookseller. Any enquiries may be sent to Merck Sharp & Dohme Limited.

1866 pages, 366 chapters, thumb-indexed. Format 7" x 4½". Blue, gold-stamped Fabrikoid binding. Price 60/-.

The Merck Manual is published by Merck Sharp & Dohme Research Laboratories, a division of Merck & Co., Inc., as part of a programme of service to the medical and allied professions.

The change to Ismelin

Guanethidine Sulphate B.P.

Since the advent of Ismelin, numerous antihypertensive agents and drug combinations have been introduced, some for a while enjoying popularity because of an apparently lower incidence of side effects, reduced postural effect or other seemingly desirable feature. In general the success of these products has been short-lived; all too often disadvantages appear during long-term treatment which are not evident during initial stages. Of great importance in long-term therapy is a consistent and continuing response to the agent. The development of drug-resistance, tolerance and late tolerance have necessitated the eventual replacement of several newer drugs which at first gave promise of good blood pressure control.

Of even greater importance in the selection of an antihypertensive product is the question of toxicity. This should be an overriding consideration in contemplating treatment of many years duration. Here Ismelin has undeniable advantages over most other available compounds. There have been no reports of haemolysis, anaemia, liver dysfunction, jaundice, febrile reactions or Parkinsonism during its use. Regular studies of liver function and the blood picture are not necessary concomitants of therapy.

In view of the now widespread interest in replacement by Ismelin of products with potential risk of causing toxic manifestations, the following notes are offered for general guidance. In the majority of mild or moderately hypertensive patients whose blood pressure is under good control, minor pressure fluctuations during the period of transfer are unlikely to present a significant hazard, but severely hypertensive patients may of course require special supervision and care.

a) When transferring patients to Ismelin from agents with a shorter duration of action, it is advisable to reduce the dosage of the previous drug stepwise, as the full response to Ismelin develops gradually, over a period of several days. Thus a reasonable transfer procedure for patients under treatment with eg; methyldopa, 3 tablets daily, would be to reduce the daily dosage by a third (one tablet) on the first day, whilst initiating treatment with one 10mg tablet of Ismelin. On the second day continue with a similar decrement of methyldopa and increment of Ismelin, and on the third day the transfer will be completed with the patient receiving 3 x 10mg tablets of Ismelin daily. Thereafter adjustment in dosage upwards or downwards may be made as necessary, according to response.

b) Certain monoamine oxidase inhibitors and amphetamine derivatives tend to antagonise the hypotensive actions of Ismelin. Many patients will respond adequately to Ismelin administered concurrently with such drugs; some will require an increased dosage of Ismelin for satisfactory control, and in others complete withdrawal of the other drug will be necessary. Antihypertensive agents in the MAO inhibitor class should be withdrawn before Ismelin is started, and the therapy should proceed cautiously until the response can be ascertained.

c) Ismelin has been used successfully in combination with other antihypertensive agents, and may profitably be added to existing regimes when an increased hypotensive effect is desired.

The thiazide diuretics, reserpine and other rauwolfia derivatives may thus be continued during Ismelin therapy, bearing in mind, however, that the hypotensive effects of reserpine and Ismelin are additive, and that the thiazides potentiate its action. Smaller doses of Ismelin than normal will therefore be required.

When transferring patients from thiazides or reserpine to Ismelin, a low initial dosage of Ismelin, such as 10mg daily, is advisable for the first week, meanwhile gradually withdrawing the previous agent.

Anaphylline

a new theophylline complex for more effective maintenance therapy in mild to moderate cases of

BRONCHITIS-ASTHMA-EMPHYSEMA

Clinical evidence confirms that this new theophylline-niacinamide complex achieves rapid therapeutic blood levels for faster dilation of the bronchioles and substantial improvement in vital capacity in most cases of chronic bronchitis, asthma and emphysema.

Significant Treatment Advantages:

The unique Anaphylline complex is a loose bonding of theophylline and niacinamide which affords a soluble theophylline through all pH ranges. No more ionization of theophylline salts with precipitation of the theophylline in the acid of the stomach. Now direct immediate absorption of the theophylline complex for faster, higher and longer blood levels.

* MORE RAPID ABSORPTION FOR QUICKER PATIENT RESPONSE

Evidence from clinical trials indicates that Anaphylline achieves therapeutic blood levels faster than theophylline salts and within 15 minutes of oral administration.

* MORE PROLONGED BLOOD LEVELS FOR SUSTAINED RELIEF

Rapid, initial blood levels achieved are followed by a steady, sustained rise reaching peak achievement at 60 minutes, with gradual, but uniform decline thereafter.

* SUPERIOR PATIENT TOLERANCE

Achievement of these blood levels is not accompanied by any increase in the side-effects normally associated with theophylline treatment.

INDICATIONS

For use as a bronchodilator to control the symptoms of chronic bronchitis, chronic asthma, emphysema and other pulmonary disorders.

DOSAGE:

Adults 1 to 2 tablets to be taken 3 or 4 times daily, preferably after meals. (Children 6-12 yrs., half to 1 tablet.)

FORMULA

Theophylline-Niacinamide complex containing 100 mg. theophylline and 150 mg. niacinamide in single tablet form.

CLINICAL REFERENCES

The most important thing to remember about this watch is that it isn't a watch.

This is a Bulova Accutron timepiece. And we don't even call it a watch at all. It has no balance wheel. No mainspring. No escapement. In fact anything that can make a watch go slow or fast has been left out. Replaced by a tuning fork that keeps time so precise that the Bulova Accutron comes with the first guarantee of on-the-wrist accuracy ever given. So any resemblance between the Bulova Accutron and a watch is purely superficial. The Bulova Accutron guarantees accuracy to within a minute a month. That's more than a watch can do. Not bad considering that the Bulova Accutron isn't a watch.

Nulacin and only Nulacin provides intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy for the ambulant patient

“In view of the ineffectiveness of most of the tableted antacids, the milk-alkali tablet (Nulacin) would appear to be the antacid of choice for ambulatory therapy.”

Safe, Simple, Effective

NULACIN TABLETS provide a safe, simple and effective treatment of peptic ulcer.

In treating peptic ulcer a Ryle's tube may be passed through the nose and into the oesophagus and a mixture of milk and antacid allowed to flow continuously over the affected area. This form of therapy can only be employed in those patients who are in bed and for the ambulant patient Nulacin tablets are preferable. Nulacin tablets are prepared from whole milk combined with dextrans and maltose, together with the trisilicate, oxide and carbonate of magnesium and calcium carbonate. Nulacin tablets when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth provide milk-alkali drip therapy. In fact, Nulacin tablets have revolutionized the treatment of peptic ulcer.
