Maxolon

Maxolon is an effective anti-emetic against vomiting of central or local origin.

Maxolon may be given orally or by injection.

Maxolon does not have undesirable effects on the Central Nervous System, and gastric and salivary secretions are unaffected.

Indications:

Nausea and vomiting due to:
Gastro-intestinal disorders.

Intolerance to essential drugs.

Malignant disease.

Uraemic conditions.

Post-operative conditions.

Deep X-ray or Cobalt therapy.

N.B. Maxolon is not so effective in vomiting of labyrinthine origin such as travel sickness, vertigo and Ménière's disease.

Formula: Maxolon (approved name metoclopramide) is chemically N-(diethylaminoethyl)-2-methoxy-4-amino-5-chlorobenzamide monohydrochloride. This new compound is in no way similar to existing medicaments in gastro-enterology.

Contra-indications: Although animal tests in several mammalian species have shown no teratogenic effects, Maxolon, like all new drugs, is not recommended during the early weeks of pregnancy.

Adult dosage:

Oral: 1 tablet (10mg.) or two teaspoonfuls (10mg.) of syrup, three times daily.

I.M.: 1-3 ampoules (10-30mg.) daily depending upon the severity of the condition.

I.V.: 1 ampoule (10mg.) when required.

Information on other dosages is available on request from the Company's Medical Department.

Possible side-effects: Constipation may occur in a small percentage of patients. Symptoms of overdose are drowsiness and restlessness of the limbs.

Precaution: As both Maxolon and the phenothiazines may occasionally cause benign transient dystonia, care should be exercised in the event of both drugs being prescribed concurrently.

Availability:

Tablets: containing 10mg. metoclopramide, in canisters of 20.

Syrup: containing 5mg. metoclopramide in 5ml., in bottles of 100ml.

ERYTHROCIN® works. It will deal decisively with the four organisms that cause most common bacterial infections met with in everyday practice—streptococcus, staphylococcus, pneumococcus and H. influenzae. Against the 'cocci' in particular its potency is considerably greater than that of the tetracyclines or chloramphenicol.

ERYTHROCIN POWER PLUS

ERYTHROCIN works safely.

It is the least toxic, the least allergenic antibiotic currently in common use. This telling fusion of power with exceptional safety makes ERYTHROCIN a logical first choice for general use in the treatment of common bacterial infections.

Triptafen-DA

antidepressant and tranquilliser

combined treatment for depression and anxiety

Two British Trials Confirm the Value of Triptafen-DA in the Treatment of Depression

The first of two new published papers (Brit. J. Psychiat., 1967, 113, 195) describes a double-blind controlled trial of Triptafen-DA against placebo in the treatment of 129 patients suffering from depressive illness. This trial was undertaken firstly to establish that Triptafen-DA is an effective treatment for depression and secondly because of the Author's conviction that for the best results an antidepressant should be accompanied by an effective tranquilliser to control the anxiety or agitation that "so often form part of a depressive illness and sometimes cause as much difficulty as the depressed mood itself."

After 3 weeks' treatment 79 per cent of patients treated with Triptafen-DA showed moderate to marked improvement, compared with 30 per cent of patients treated with placebo.

The second paper (Brit. J. Psychiat., 1967, 113, 201) is a retrospective study of depressed patients treated with Triptafen-DA or with amitriptyline alone. The Authors had previously found amitriptyline to be the antidepressant of choice, but since Triptafen-DA became available they had increasingly used it in preference to amitriptyline alone. In order to compare the effectiveness of the two preparations, they had carried out a review of the records of patients treated with amitriptyline alone and those treated with Triptafen-DA. Patients included in the review were all those who had been seen during 1965 on account of depressive illness and treated with one or other of the two preparations. The review confirmed that amitriptyline is a predictable antidepressant in that response usually occurs within the first two weeks of treatment or not at all. There was, however, a highly significant difference in the effectiveness of the two preparations; thus while 45 out of 71 patients treated with amitriptyline alone showed satisfactory improvement, 40 out of 42 treated with Triptafen-DA did so. The response rate for amitriptyline alone, 63.4 per cent, is in agreement with reports from other investigators; the rate for Triptafen-DA, 95.2 per cent, is by any standards exceptionally high.

Indications

Depression Anxiety

Psychoneurosis
Psychosomatic illness

A combined antidepressant-tranquillising action, such as that provided by Triptafen-DA, is established as the treatment of first choice in depressive illness and in psychoneurotic conditions such as anxiety states and menopausal disorders associated with anxiety and depression; also for the relief of the withdrawal syndrome in chronic alcoholism. Most psychoneurotic patients encountered in general practice exhibit symptoms of both depression and anxiety or agitation. The same is usually true of patients suffering from depressive illness regarded as endogenous in origin. In the treatment of such patients it has been stated that "if either the tranquilliser or the antidepressant is used alone, the possibility that the opposite symptom will be exacerbated is a definite risk of treatment." (Curr. ther. Res., 1963, 5, 310).

Contraindications. Glaucoma; urinary retention; severely-impaired liver function; the concurrent administration of other antidepressant drugs, particularly MAO inhibitors.

Precautions. Triptafen-DA should not be used in conjunction with MAO inhibitors and because of the persistent action of the latter at least 7 days should intervene between their withdrawal and the introduction of Triptafen-DA. Although Triptafen-DA has been shown to be free from teratogenic effects in laboratory animals, it should be used in pregnancy only after consideration of the risks involved in giving any drug to the pregnant patient.

Side effects. Side effects with Triptafen-DA are mild and of the type to be expected of the atropine-like action of amitriptyline (e.g. drowsiness, dizziness or blurred vision, tachycardia and insomnia) or characteristic of the safest of the phenothiazine derivatives (e.g. slight fall in blood pressure, mild tremor or in elevated dosage, Parkinsonian symptoms). In most cases these side effects disappear on continued therapy or reduction of the dosage. Idiosyncratic side effects (e.g. pruritus, nausea diarrhoea and indigestion) have also been reported on rare occasions.

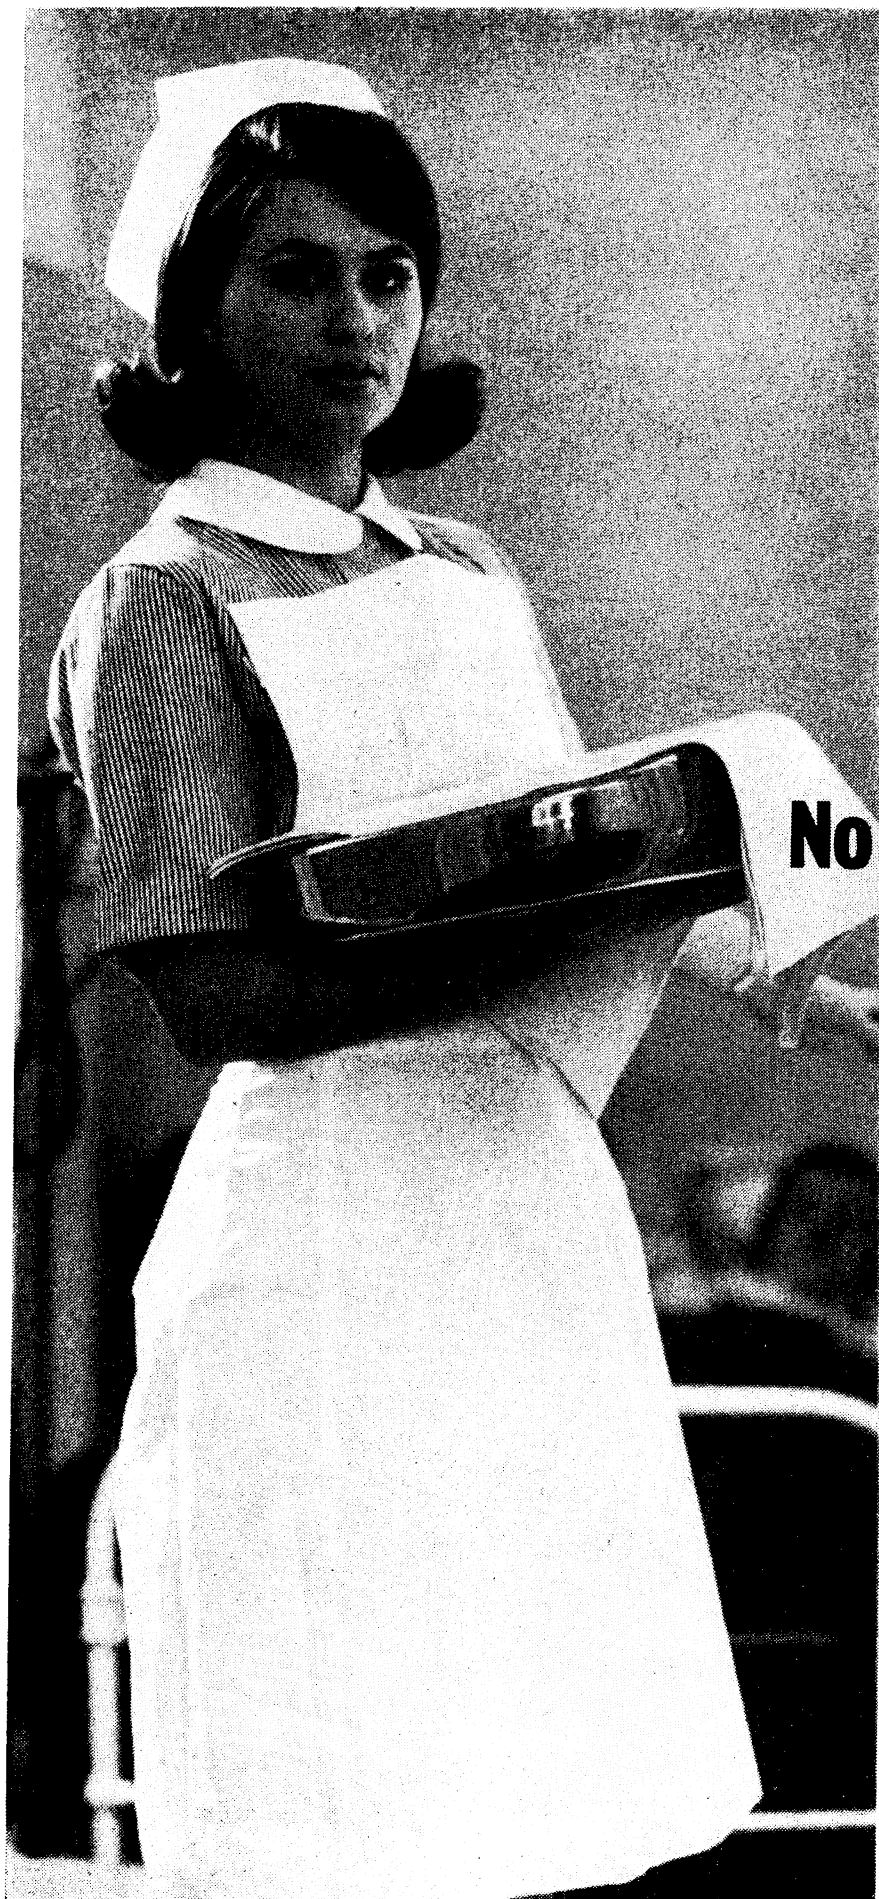

Dosage. In most cases a dose of one Triptafen-DA Tablet or two teaspoonfuls (10 ml) of Triptafen-DA Suspension 3 times a day is recommended. If necessary a fourth similar dose may be prescribed at night.

Presentation. Triptafen-DA Tablets each contain amitriptyline hydrochloride BP 25 mg and perphenazine BP 2 mg; they are available in bottles of 50 and 500. The basic NHS cost of treatment with Triptafen-DA is 4/6d per week. Triptafen-DA Suspension contains 37.5 mg amitriptyline embonate (equivalent to 25 mg amitriptyline hydrochloride BP) and 2 mg perphenazine BP in each 10 ml. It is available in bottles of 142 ml (5 fl oz) and 500 ml. Basic NHS cost for a bottle of 142 ml suspension is 7/6d.

a case for STELAZINE

Conversion hysteria as an adolescent phase

The following case narrative is one of a series prepared by a consultant psychiatrist, based on actual patient records.

This is the case of a highly intelligent and physically attractive eighteen-year-old girl who presented a typical background of emotional deprivation during childhood and early adolescence. Her mother, a conceited, self-centred woman, had never shown the slightest affection for her daughter, and the father, although a kindly man, admitted that he had never been able to understand her or establish any sort of bond between them.

Intellectually somewhat below average, the father had found his son easier to get on with. They went fishing, and watched football, while his daughter had studied 'O' level Greek in the solitude of her room.

Frustrated in her emotional relationships at home, she attached herself from an early age to people outside the family. Consequently, no one was surprised when she fell in love with the Classics master. Indeed, no one at home was interested. Matters became more complicated, however, when he fell in love with her.

As so often happens, it soon became clear that Euripides was all they really had in common. The master tried gently to detach himself from what was increasingly becoming an embarrassing association. Reason and persuasion proving equally unsuccessful, he resorted to sterner measures and refused to see her.

She responded to this move with fainting fits, and hysterical telephone calls. Also abdominal pain.

She lost her appendix, was thoroughly examined by the gynaecologist and cleared for genito-urinary infection by the urologist, before her life story finally revealed itself. Then, sympathetic understanding, plus 'Stelazine', began to show results.

The Classics master has wisely left the district, the psychiatrist is gradually persuading his patient to keep her father-figure emotions more sensibly in hand, and she's stopped complaining about the abdominal pain.

What makes this antibiotic so valuable to the hospital physician?

Spectrum ?

Exceptionally broad. It covers most gram-positive organisms — including the penicillin-resistant staphylococci — and many gram-negative organisms.

Action ?

Intensely bactericidal. It gives a rapid kill of bacteria at or near the minimum inhibitory concentration.

Safety ?

Wide clinical usage has confirmed the laboratory evidence of Ceporin's low toxicity — a particularly valuable attribute in the treatment of the very young or the very old — and it is usually well tolerated by patients allergic to penicillin.

This combination of attributes is invaluable in many situations where other antibiotics — including penicillin — might prove ineffective or dangerous. A recent analysis of results from over 2000 cases has shown high success rates in a wide variety of infections — including urinary and respiratory tract infections, septicaemias and soft tissue infections. Many reports mention the rapid clinical response obtained with Ceporin after other antibiotics had failed.

Presentation

Ceporin is issued in vials containing 250 mg, 500 mg and 1 gram of cephaloridine, packed singly and in boxes of five.

Ethacrynic acid

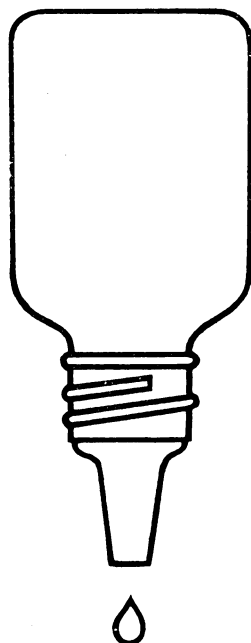

'Edecrin', the latest advance in diuretic therapy, has been used successfully in the management of oedema of various aetiologies, and has proved life-saving in some patients who have failed to respond to other diuretics. On oral administration, 'Edecrin' usually acts within 30 minutes and reaches its peak activity in about 2 hours; action is complete in 6 to 8 hours. As a result, diuresis can generally be timed for maximum patient convenience.

And now Exolan Cream in response to the needs of the ambulant patient in the treatment of psoriasis

New Exolan Cream has been prepared in a cosmetically acceptable vanishing cream base, and is ideal for the treatment of psoriasis of the scalp. In general cases of psoriasis it may also be prescribed for the ambulant patient who prefers to use a cream formulation.

In the treatment of psoriasis, triacetoxanthracene has been shown to exhibit the healing properties of dithranol while displaying none of the side effects of burning or staining the skin. It therefore may be used by the patient in his own home without fear that any harm will result if it accidentally comes into contact with normal skin.

After examining various formulations of triacetoxanthracene the most clinically effective was found to be the one which corresponds to EXOLAN PASTE. This preparation is similar in constitution to the dithranol/Lassars Paste combination which has been recommended by Consultant Dermatologists for many years.

Unfortunately some patients do not like applying pastes, especially during the day time. Also their use is precluded on the scalp and other hairy regions of the body. EXOLAN CREAM has therefore been formulated for use in these cases and contains 1% triacetoxanthracene in a vanishing cream base.

Lyndiol 2.5

is only marginally better than other oral contraceptives...

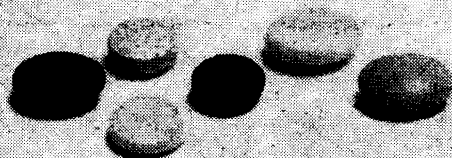

The physician, trained to make rational choices, faces a problem when he comes to The Pill, for he knows that as far as the combined oral contraceptives are concerned all are virtually 100% effective.

He looks then for other significant differences. First of these is the incidence of side-effects. (The latest data from the F.P.A. show that Lyndiol 2.5 is outstandingly free from side-effects).

Price is another factor, especially as the acceptability of the oral contraceptive idea spreads down the socio-economic scale to those families who perhaps need contraception most and can afford it least. (Lyndiol 2.5 offers the most reasonable price-to-patient).

And he considers patient reliability – which dosage scheme will be easiest to follow? (Lyndiol 2.5's 'fixed day' routine means simply that if a patient starts on, say, a Friday, she finishes three weeks later on a Friday and begins her new course on the following Friday).

More to overweight than meets the eye?

How many cases of obesity have emotional stress as a major underlying factor? Many authorities hold that in most cases, overeating is rooted in anxiety, boredom, frustration or similar emotional tensions^{1,2,3}. Merely curbing the appetite in these cases is unlikely to be of more than limited value⁴—treatment of the obese patient must also compensate for the solace formerly obtained from eating. Durophet-M provides this treatment.

Durophet-M contains two constituents—a calmative, methaqualone, to counter underlying tensions, and a highly effective appetite depressant, laevo- and dextro-amphetamine, ratio 1:3. Durophet-M provides better treatment for the compulsive overeater than simple appetite depressants because it both controls the appetite and combats the emotional factors present in nearly all cases of obesity^{1,2}.

Opening ceremony for Remotic convenience hygiene accuracy economy

Each individual dose of Remotic is contained in a disposable sealed capsule to provide a uniquely convenient and hygienic method of application for patients of all ages—especially young children who generally will not stand still long enough to allow accurate administration by the traditional dropper or squeeze-bottle method.

Remotic capsules (0.3ml.) each contain triamcinolone acetonide 0.025% halquinol 0.75% in a castor-oil base.

treatment of inflammatory conditions of
the ear

With Remotic, self-administration by older children or by adults is quickly and easily achieved and one day's treatment—a foil strip of 3 capsules—may conveniently be carried in the pocket or handbag for use while the patient is away from home.

Further advantages include: accurate dosage of medicament; freedom from contamination, and economy of prescribing—basic NHS cost of 15-capsule pack is 7/6d.

IRON with all its advantages and few of its drawbacks

In the treatment of iron-deficiency anaemia by the oral route in adults or children, PLESMET—chelated iron in tablet or syrup form has been suggested as a most effective preparation because of a low incidence of gastro-intestinal symptoms.

The Practitioner, 1960, 184, 792.

The above is one of numerous clinical references to Plesmet, which is rapidly absorbed and utilized to provide an adequate increase in haemoglobin levels and is, moreover, economical in both dosage and cost.

Apisate helps your overweight patients to diet

The dangers of being overweight are well known to the doctor but at the same time so are the problems of persuading patients to reduce. You can overcome these problems however by prescribing APISATE*. Just one APISATE tablet taken before breakfast gradually releases the appetite-suppressant diethylpropion hydrochloride to give day-long freedom from hunger. Your patients are thus helped to maintain the diet which you order, and the controlled weight loss which follows ensures perseverance. APISATE tablets, containing 75 mg. diethylpropion hydrochloride, in bottles of 10 and 100.  John Wyeth & Brother Ltd, Taplow, Berks.

Obstetrics in General Practice

Published July 1966

This book is made up of a series of articles printed in the "Current Practice" section of the BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL. It is designed to give a lucid and practical account of obstetrics as it is carried out in the patient's home or in a maternity unit, with special emphasis on the role of the general practitioner and his relationship to the consultant obstetrician and the hospital. The principal authors are consultant obstetricians, but to ensure that the general practitioner's own view and special experience should be represented the consultant contributors were asked to prepare their articles in collaboration with general practitioners. The book as a whole is a product of such co-operative effort. It will prove a useful guide to this important branch of medical practice.

HEALTH CENTRES & GROUP PRACTICES

Lord Cohen of Birkenhead writes the introduction to a booklet on Health Centres and Group Practices based on recent articles in the B.M.J.

"... a series of excellent articles. . . Any practitioner who is considering how he can improve his service to his patients and his own working conditions will find this a very useful book."

Lancet (1966), 1, 380.

"... a 'must' for any group contemplating new practice premises . . . should be equally valuable to the M.O.H. planning a new health centre."

Brit. med. J. (1966), 1, 221.

"These reports . . . provide an admirable summary of the position today. . . ."

medical advisers

We invite applications from medical practitioners, preferably under the age of 35, to fill two appointments as Medical Advisers to the Company. The expansion of our medical department has become essential due to the growth of the Company and its increasing participation in the international field of therapeutics.

Candidates should have a sound clinical background and practical experience in an experimental respiratory unit would be an advantage. As they will be expected to liaise with senior clinicians in the U.K. and overseas they should be versatile, have initiative and be able to express themselves clearly. Fluency in French or Spanish would also be useful.

The Doctors appointed would be expected to participate fully in all aspects of the responsibilities of the Medical Department. This includes the initiation and co-ordination of clinical trials, advising the Company on medical matters and maintaining an efficient information service on our products to the medical profession. They would also assist in the medical training of representatives and be prepared to participate in national and international medical meetings.

The Company is based in Loughborough, in Leicestershire, a non-industrial area with good educational facilities and pleasant residential areas. It is a member of the Fisons Group of Companies and Group Contributory Pension and other Welfare Schemes operate.

A Company car will be provided and the salary will be negotiated according to experience.

Full personal details should be sent in confidence to:

The Personnel Manager (141),
Fisons Pharmaceuticals Ltd.,
12 Derby Road, Loughborough.

MEDICAL DIRECTOR AUSTRALIA

The Australian Company of the international Upjohn organisation will shortly be appointing a Medical Director. The successful applicant will be required to advise on all medical matters and will be responsible for clinical trial activities and medical information relating to the Company's expanding business in Australia and New Zealand.

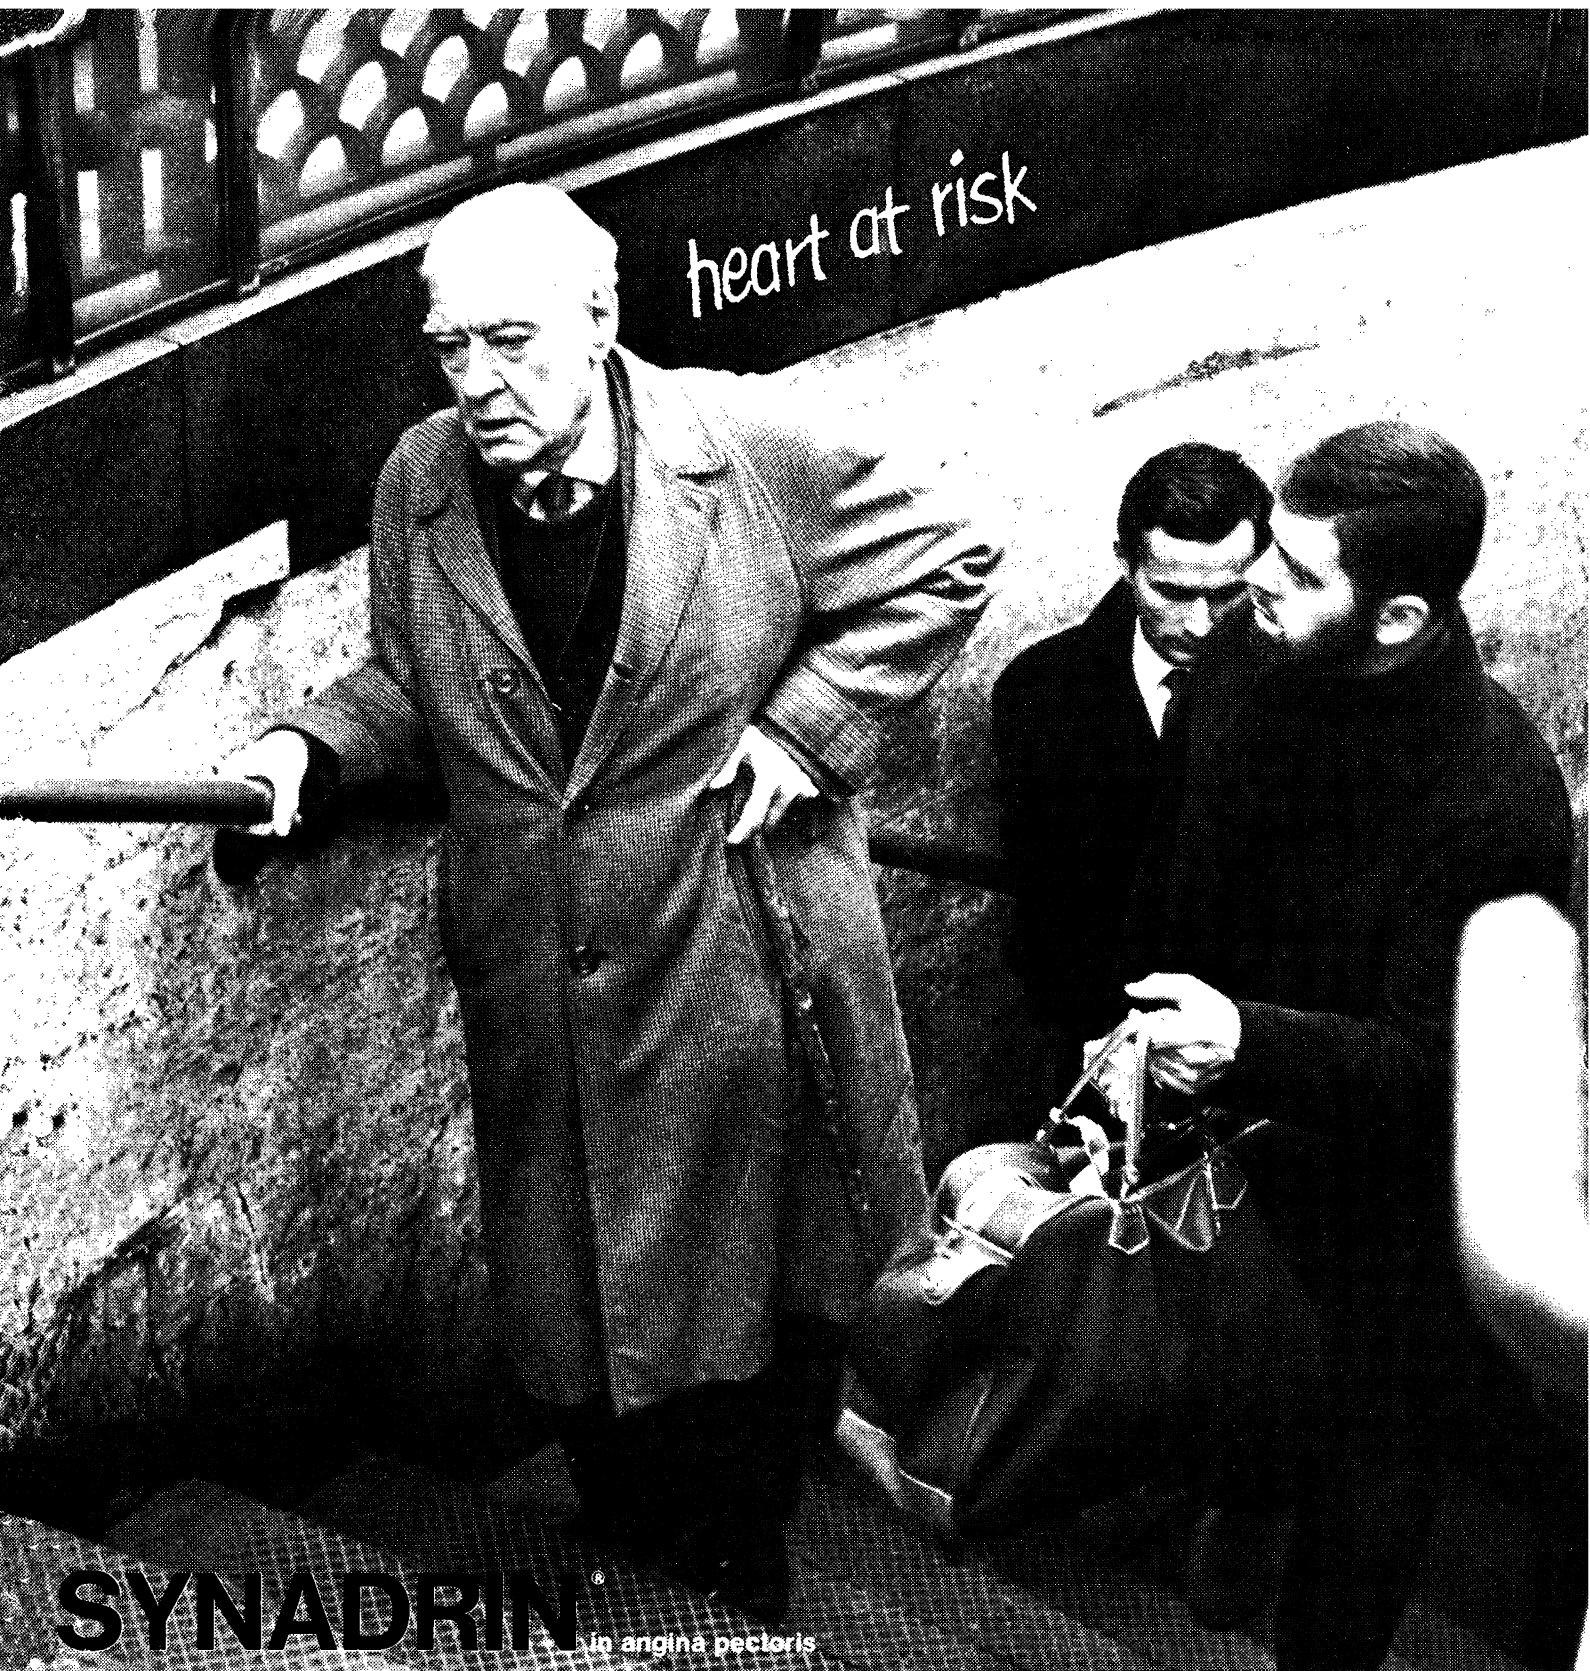

Applicants, preferably aged 30-40, should have a good clinical background, supplemented if possible by some research or teaching experience. Some experience in the pharmaceutical industry, although not essential, would be an advantage.

The post carries an attractive starting salary and prospects for advancement are good. The Company operates a contributory superannuation scheme. A car will be provided.

The Medical Director will be based at the modern Upjohn premises at Rydalmere, a suburb of Sydney. Initial interviews for this position, however, will be held at the premises of Upjohn Limited, Crawley, Sussex. It is anticipated that the Managing Director of Upjohn Pty, Australia, will be interviewing short-listed applicants in early May. Applicants are invited to send full details of their qualifications and experience to the Chief Medical Adviser, Upjohn Limited, Fleming Way, Crawley, Sussex. Applications will of course be regarded as confidential.

BROXIL Regd. would be my choice in routine penicillin therapy

BECAUSE of its Excellent Clinical Results

There are over 400 published references to Broxil in world literature. These confirm its success in infections such as tonsillitis, pharyngitis, otitis media, boils and carbuncles, which in an overwhelming proportion of cases are caused by Gram-positive organisms (staphylococci, streptococci and pneumococci).

BECAUSE of its Specific Activity

Broxil is highly bactericidal to the majority of these organisms, destroying them without disrupting the normal intestinal flora.

BECAUSE of its High Blood Levels

Broxil gives blood levels double those achieved by penicillin V and at least as high as intramuscular injections of penicillin G.

BECAUSE in its syrup form, it is particularly suitable for children

Broxil is readily accepted and tolerated by children, and side effects are minimal.

Availability: 125 and 250 mg. tablets and capsules. 60 ml. syrup (125 mg./5 ml.)

Dosage: Children : 62.5–125 mg. every 4–6 hours. Adults : 125–250 mg. every 4–6 hours.

Prophylactic Dose : Adults : 125 mg. twice daily. Children : 62.5–125 mg. twice daily.

THE ROYAL BRISBANE HOSPITAL QUEENSLAND—AUSTRALIA

DEPARTMENT OF PATHOLOGY DIRECTOR

Applications are invited from suitably qualified medical practitioners for appointment to the position of Director of Pathology, the Royal Brisbane Hospital, rendered vacant by the appointment of the Director to the Chair of Pathology, the University of Queensland.

The Department of Pathology serves the Royal Brisbane Hospital, the Brisbane Women's Hospital, and the Brisbane Children's Hospital, all located in the same area with a total of 1,400 beds. These three hospitals are the major teaching hospitals in the University of Queensland and house the university clinical teaching departments.

Construction of new modern laboratories for the Department of Pathology at the Royal Brisbane Hospital will commence before June 30, 1967. The estimated period of construction is from two to two and a half years.

The department has four major divisions—biochemistry, microbiology, haematology, and morbid anatomy—each with a medical head.

Applicants should have some experience in clinical medicine, hold a higher qualification in pathology, have had some years' experience in some branch of pathology in a teaching hospital, and should have had considerable experience in developmental work in some branch of clinical pathology other than morbid anatomy. Administrative experience would be an advantage.

The successful applicant will be required to co-ordinate the work of the various divisions of the department, to pursue work in his own field, and to be generally responsible for the administration of the department. He will be required to co-operate with the Department of Pathology of the University of Queensland, and may be asked to undertake undergraduate and postgraduate teaching in clinical pathology. Suitably qualified applicants may be offered appropriate academic status in the University of Queensland.

Full details of the position may be obtained from Professor A. W. Pound, Department of Pathology, Royal Brisbane Hospital.

Salary for the position is $A11,780 per annum, and the successful applicant will be required to contribute to the Public Service Superannuation Fund.

Applications, stating full personal particulars, qualifications and experience, with references to published work, and stating the names of three referees who have agreed to give confidential reports, should be lodged with the Acting Manager, the North Brisbane Hospitals Board, Herston Road, Brisbane, by June 10, 1967. AFRICA

Applications are invited from practitioners holding British registration for an immediate appointment in Commonwealth West Africa in the medical service of the United Africa Company Limited (a subsidiary of Unilever Limited).

The scope of the work done by the company's medical services varies from place to place in West Africa, but in general may be said to cover the health supervision of working communities and their dependants. In many cases this involves taking charge of a small hospital. There is also considerable opportunity for the practice of preventive medicine, public health and industrial medicine.

The starting salary with allowances for overseas service will be substantial and in accordance with age, qualifications and experience. The length of tour in West Africa is approximately fifteen months, followed by generous leave on full pay. There is a contributory pension fund, furnished accommodation at moderate rent, holiday passages are arranged and education allowances paid for children under education in the United Kingdom. Free passages to and from West Africa are provided for the doctor, his wife and children under school age.

Those preferring a short-term appointment are also welcome to apply. Enquiries should be addressed to Mr. J. A. Lloyd, the United Africa Company Limited, Blackfriars Road, London S.E.1. (L4685)

In anxiety and agitation
Melleril 25mg.
restores composure

A large proportion of patients presenting with the symptoms of anxiety and agitation need more than mild sedation—but may not be so seriously disturbed as to warrant referral to a psychiatrist. For these 'in-between' patients, Melleril offers these outstanding advantages:

It is effective in a high proportion of cases

It is prompt in action

Its side effects are few

Presentation: tablets of 25 mg.
Thioridazine Hydrochloride B.P.
For details of other presentations please consult comprehensive literature, available on request.
