Why so many?

A range of this breadth comprising meat, fish and cheese dishes, vegetables, fruits and puddings, enables mothers to plan a balanced, healthy diet.

An infant once accustomed to the variety Heinz offers, and the gradation in texture from Strained Foods to chopped or minced Junior Foods, has the best possible chance of making an easy transition to adult diet when the time comes.

The maintenance of such a wide range is just one example of the care that Heinz devote to their baby foods. With the responsibility of feeding the great majority of Britain's babies, Heinz are painstaking and unrelenting in ensuring their contribution to infant nutrition is of the highest standard.

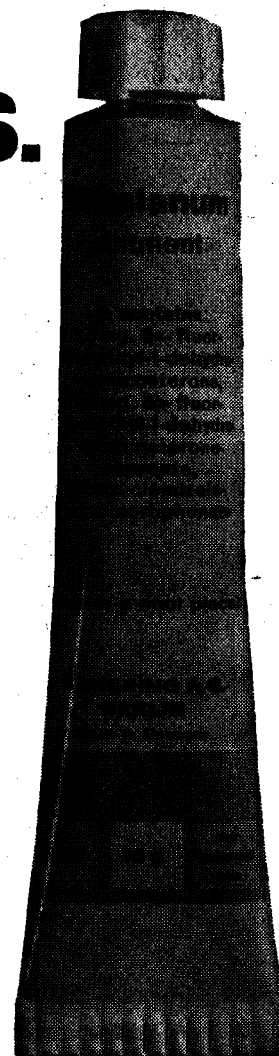

For details of the nutritive value of Heinz Baby Foods, and a specimen copy of the booklet 'From Milk to Mixed Diet', please write to: Food Science Advisory Service, H. J. Heinz Co. Ltd., Hayes Park, Hayes, Middlesex.

BROXIL^{Regd.}

would be my choice in routine penicillin therapy

BECAUSE of its Excellent Clinical Results

There are over 400 published references to Broxil in world literature. These confirm its success in infections such as tonsillitis, pharyngitis, otitis media, boils and carbuncles, which in an overwhelming proportion of cases are caused by Gram-positive organisms (staphylococci, streptococci and pneumococci).

BECAUSE of its Specific Activity

Broxil is highly bactericidal to the majority of these organisms, destroying them without disrupting the normal intestinal flora.

BECAUSE of its High Blood Levels

Broxil gives blood levels double those achieved by penicillin V and at least as high as intramuscular injections of penicillin G.

BECAUSE in its syrup form, it is particularly suitable for children

Broxil is readily accepted and tolerated by children, and side effects are minimal.

Availability: 125 and 250 mg. tablets and capsules. 60 ml. syrup (125 mg./5 ml.)

Dosage: Children : 62.5–125 mg. every 4–6 hours. Adults : 125–250 mg. every 4–6 hours.

Nausea and vomiting are effectively controlled by Maxolon

- ☐ Maxolon rapidly controls vomiting, whether due to local or blood-borne irritants.
- ☐ Maxolon may be given orally or by injection, according to the condition of the patient.
- ☐ Maxolon does not sedate at the recommended dose.
- ☐ Maxolon neither affects gastric secretions nor causes dryness of the mouth.

Indications:

Nausea and vomiting due to:

Gastro-intestinal disorders.
Intolerance to essential drugs.
Malignant disease.
Uraemic conditions.
Post-operative conditions.
Deep X-ray or Cobalt therapy.

N.B. Maxolon is not so effective in vomiting of labyrinthine origin such as travel sickness, vertigo and Ménière's disease.

Contra-indications: Although animal tests in several mammalian species have shown no teratogenic effects, Maxolon, like all new drugs, is not recommended during the early weeks of pregnancy.

Precaution: As both Maxolon and the phenothiazines may occasionally cause benign transient dystonia, care should be exercised in the event of both drugs being prescribed concurrently.

Dosage:

Adult:

Oral: 1 tablet (10mg.) or two teaspoonfuls (10mg.) of syrup, three times daily.

I.M.: 1 ampoule (10mg.) 1-3 times daily depending upon the severity of the condition.

I.V.: 1 ampoule (10mg.) when required.

Children:

5-14 years, $\frac{1}{2}$ -1 teaspoonful of syrup (2.5-5mg.), three times daily.

Information on other dosages is available on request from the Company's Medical Department.

Availability:

a case for 'Stelazine'

Anxiety neurosis with low threshold for stress

The following case narrative is one of a series prepared by a consultant psychiatrist, based on actual patient records.

This is the case of a 39-year-old solicitor who might have pursued a brilliant career at the Bar. Instead, seeking more immediate security for his wife and child, he became a junior partner in an old-established local firm of solicitors.

There, it soon became clear to him that the main burden of the firm's work was being carried by the Senior Clerk. The senior partner's son spent most of his time at the golf course, and the old man himself was nearly senile and past playing an active role in his profession. The other partner tried hard to keep things going but, by nature inefficient, he always seemed to create more problems for his colleagues than he ever managed to solve.

So, as the months passed into years, the junior partner found himself carrying an ever-increasing weight of the firm's legal affairs. And matters at home didn't help to ease his worries. His wife, very conscious of their social position, had insisted on their living in the most select part of the town and the house mortgage, on top of his other financial commitments, was a heavy burden. And he had been persuaded to give in, too, on his wife's choice of the best private school for their daughter.

The situation came to a head with the break in their marital relations when his wife slipped a disc, and insisted on his moving into the spare room.

He began to suffer severe bouts of headache and vomiting which threatened on Friday night, developed on Saturday, and kept him in bed all day Sunday. He thought it was a tumour and became even more acutely worried until his doctor and a consultant neurologist succeeded in convincing him that his fears were without foundation.

The consultations did, however, throw light on the true aetiology of his week-end attacks. It came out that he had suffered similarly when he had changed schools at eleven plus and had missed half a term with undiagnosed sickness, although the pain was abdominal then.

Some years later the attacks had occurred again, this time during his finals.

The doctor explained how constant stress and anxiety can sometimes produce acute and distressing physical symptoms. The solution lay in making his firm realize that he must stop trying to do three men's work, and in persuading his wife that realistic adjustments must be made in their financial expenditure.

'Stelazine' controlled his symptoms and helped him cope with difficult situations both at home and in the office. His wife has responded to treatment, too, and he's now moved back out of the spare room.

If there is a medical villain responsible for harassing the doctor and the patient it is the recurrence of illness or infection before depleted body reserves have been restored.

To ensure speedy recovery in debilitated patients or the elderly, the priority need is to improve protein synthesis; this is the rôle of Deca-Durabolin (Nandrolone decanoate), the most powerful anabolic substance known. A single 25 mg intramuscular injection restores positive nitrogen balance, reduces calcium loss, improves appetite, and increases bodyweight, strength and well-being, safely and surely.

Nulacin and only Nulacin provides intragastric milk-alkali drip therapy for the ambulant patient

“In view of the ineffectiveness of most of the tableted antacids, the milk-alkali tablet (Nulacin) would appear to be the antacid of choice for ambulatory therapy.”

Safe, Simple, Effective

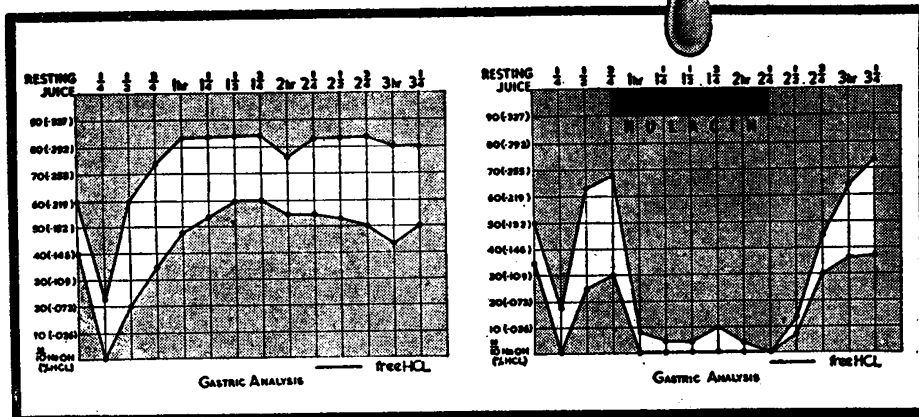

NULACIN TABLETS provide a safe, simple and effective treatment of peptic ulcer.

In treating peptic ulcer a Ryle's tube may be passed through the nose and into the oesophagus and a mixture of milk and antacid allowed to flow continuously over the affected area. This form of therapy can only be employed in those patients who are in bed and for the ambulant patient Nulacin tablets are preferable. Nulacin tablets are prepared from whole milk combined with dextrins and maltose, together with the trisilicate, oxide and carbonate of magnesium and calcium carbonate. Nulacin tablets when allowed to dissolve slowly in the mouth provide milk-alkali drip therapy. In fact, Nulacin tablets have revolutionized the treatment of peptic ulcer.

even Pharaoh had absentees

The illustration above is a register of men working on the Tomb of Rameses 2nd in the 40th year of his reign (c1264 B.C.). Absences include sickness, brewing beer, domestic hindrances and caring for a sick colleague. This register has been copied as one of a series and makes a handsome print which we would be delighted to send to you, at your request. By kind permission of the Trustees of the British Museum.

Liberal quantities of beer and rest days couldn't guarantee the workers' good health in 1264 B.C. In 1967 A.D., is too little attention given to the vitamin needs of the middle aged?

The age of onset of 'middle age' appears to recede with the steady rise in expectation of life. The medical hazards of that age were once faced from the age of 40 onwards. Now 50 seems a more appropriate starting-point. And who, these days, is 'too old at 50'?

Although nutritional soundness in adulthood is primarily dependent on the foundations laid down in the growing years, it is still true that 'what Miss T eats turns into Miss T'. And, at any age, intake of the six basic essentials* must be as adequate and as balanced as they should have been at any stage in infancy and childhood. In the middle age group, particularly in males, unsuspected high consumption of 'naked calories' at expense account lunches or in the privacy of the home may be a covert cause of sub-nutrition, particularly of vitamins of the B complex, which may in turn be further depleted by repeated infections.

Acute and chronic bronchitis and other respiratory tract infections – to say nothing of the other hazards, gastro-intestinal diseases and degenerations of the cardio-vascular system – call for nutritional consideration as well as specific or palliative therapy.

ANNOUNCING THE LATEST REVISION OF A CLASSIC AND WORLD-FAMOUS MEDICINE TEXT . . .

Cecil-Loeb:
TEXTBOOK OF MEDICINE
(New 12th Edition)

Edited by Paul B. Beeson, M.D., Nuffield Professor of Clinical Medicine, Oxford University; and Walsh McDermott, M.D., Livingston Farrand Professor of Public Health, Cornell University Medical College. With the assistance of 170 eminent authorities.

The publication of the new twelfth edition precisely 40 years after the first edition serves to recall how this book has been THE TEXTBOOK for tens of thousands of medical students and doctors, throughout the world. Through the years this book has met the exacting demands of the profession by presenting a contemporary, authoritative and precise picture of virtually every known disease entity.

This new edition brilliantly upholds the highest standards of its predecessors. Approximately 225 articles are newly written and 57 others cover subjects not included in previous editions. Some of the changes are small; for example the addition of a paragraph about some recently recognised disease. In still other instances an entire bodily system has been subjected to a searching analysis and a new approach chosen for its presentation.

The book has enjoyed an even greater demand outside the U.S.A. since the chief editor, Professor Paul Beeson was appointed Nuffield Professor of Medicine at the University of Oxford.

About 1800 pages. About 210 illustrations.

The new (12th) edition is due for publication in the U.S.A. on the 25th May, 1967. Once again it will be issued in a single volume at £7 3s. 6d. and in a two volume set at £8 11s. 6d. For the first time it will also be available in a Deluxe edition at £10 10s. 0d.

Women at risk

'... it is important to discover how many women with acute urinary infections are likely to suffer from serious renal disease in later life ...'

Lancet (1962), ii, 1246

The high incidence of urinary tract infection in women is well known. Inadequately treated with simple symptomatic remedies, apparently mild attacks of cystitis or pyelitis in childhood or early adult life may smoulder subclinically for many years—before reappearing as chronic and intractable pyelonephritis. Eradication of the infecting organisms is therefore essential in the treatment of every urinary tract infection, however mild.

FURADANTIN

cuts the risk in urinary tract infection

Tablets of 100 mg. and 50 mg., and as a palatable Suspension. Literature containing full prescribing information is available on request.

a first-class prescription for a sick Doctor

It is commonly said that good doctors are bad patients. And more than three-quarters of a century's experience with the medical and dental professions has convinced us that the statement is very often true. A sick doctor is nearly always a worried doctor. Not because of the nature of his illness, but because of the loss of income it may entail.

But we have a specific for this kind of thing. By taking a Sickness and Accident Insurance with us, a doctor can be certain of receiving a substantial part of his normal income whenever he is incapacitated by illness or accident. Further, there is absolutely no limit to the number of claims he may make up to the age of 65.

This is just one example of the many policies we have designed specially for doctors and dentists. And since the Society is wholly owned by the policy holders all the profits belong to them and are distributed by bonus declaration every three years.

If you are eligible to join the Society you should be sharing these profits. So why not write to us for further details? There are separate brochures for Sickness and Accident; Educational; Life; Personal Pension; Family Income; Provision for Estate Duty; Car Hire Purchase.

We shall be pleased to send one or more of these at your request. When writing quote ref: No. 001.

Polycrol

(methylpolysiloxane + aluminium hydroxide
+ magnesium hydroxide)

Relieves acid pain
Prevents "bloating"

Dyspeptic patients who cannot belch become acutely uncomfortable, even after acid pain has disappeared.

Polycrol (green-and-white tablets or gel) relieves acid pain and assists eructation of stomach gas and air by destroying gastric foam before it passes into the intestine.

Steroids in asthma ?
Betnesol
the soluble tablets

Glaxo brief

Betnesol Tablets provide the efficacy and safety of betamethasone . . .

When asthma justifies steroid therapy, there is particular advantage in using the steroid Betnesol (betamethasone). Its exceptionally high anti-inflammatory activity ensures swift suppression of symptoms with the minimal risk of side effects. Normally devoid of salt-retaining activity, betamethasone is unlikely to cause oedema or hypertension. It has negligible effect on potassium balance. The superior potency of betamethasone gives therapeutic effectiveness at very low and economical dose levels.

. . . enhanced by the advantages of solubility

Betnesol Tablets contain betamethasone as the soluble disodium phosphate. Dropped into a glass of water, the tablets effervesce and dissolve to form a clear, palatable drink. There is evidence that soluble corticosteroids are often absorbed more efficiently than the relatively insoluble forms when given by mouth.¹ With Betnesol this has been demonstrated both in animals² and clinically³. Because Betnesol is so well absorbed, it has the most constant therapeutic effect. The absence of solid steroid particles ensures better tolerance with less risk of gastric disturbance. This simple means of administration is especially helpful in the treatment of children or the elderly or severely incapacitated asthmatics.

Glaxo brief

At last— successful treatment for athlete's foot Tinaderm

Although Tinaderm (tolnaftate) has been available for only a few months it has quickly found ready acceptance from doctors. This success story is due entirely to the advantages inherent in Tinaderm. Patients appreciate the soothing effect, prompt relief of symptoms (often within 24 to 48 hours) and rapid clearance of lesions. Tolnaftate is not a keratolytic agent; it does not cause desquamation but penetrates the lesion to kill the fungus. Tinaderm may safely be applied directly to raw areas and does not sting, stick or stain. Clearly, therefore, Tinaderm is not 'just another preparation' for athlete's foot. Where others have failed, Tinaderm usually works.

In atopic dermatitis Betnovate value is not only economy

Betnovate applied once or twice daily has often resolved atopic dermatitis that has resisted treatment with other topical steroids. This is why many doctors prescribe Betnovate routinely—to relieve the pruritus and clear the condition more quickly than with any other corticosteroid. Yet the cost of the most effective topical steroid available today* is little if any more than other less active steroids. Of equal value in all other steroid-responsive skin disorders, Betnovate is prescribable in a wide variety of presentations formulated to cover specific therapeutic needs.

Senokot restores natural rhythm to the constipated colon

Senokot, standardized senna, has earned a reputation for effectiveness and safety. Over 150 references in medical journals and text books testify to its value. Senokot is suitable for all ages and is useful in pregnancy and in geriatric cases. It is predictable in its action and, taken in the correct dosage, is free from griping. It acts specifically in the colon; it induces controlled peristaltic action, restores the normal defaecation reflex leading to re-education of the bowel.

BASIC NHS COST: From the dispensing packs, the cost of a teaspoonful of granules or two tablets is about a halfpenny. Granules: 56, 170 and 900 grammes. Tablets: 50, 100, 200, 1000.

Postgraduate Medical Institute

A full-time postgraduate course lasting ten weeks will begin on October 2, 1967. These courses are held three times a year starting in October, January and April. Each course includes instruction in general medicine, paediatrics, preventive medicine, pathology, psychiatry, orthopaedics and general surgery. The programme is planned so that students wishing to specialize in a particular clinical subject are given facilities to do so, while other students are taught in each of the main clinical departments. Unpaid clinical attachments can be arranged at the end of the course for students requiring a longer period of training.

It is sometimes possible to accept general practitioners for one or two weeks of a course, and attendance for this period is recognized under Section 48 of the N.H.S. Act, 1946. These courses are also recognized under the special scheme for the re-training for general practice of doctors who have been out of the health service for at least five years.

UNIVERSITY OF SURREY
Department of Mechanical Engineering
POSTGRADUATE COURSE IN BIOMECHANICS

Applications are invited for a one-year course in biomechanics commencing in October, 1967.

The course, which leads to the degree of M.Sc. by examination, is intended for graduates in engineering or physical sciences on the one hand, and graduates in medicine or biological sciences on the other. In the case of medically qualified applicants there are grants available through the Medical Research Council.

The branch of the course for graduates in engineering or physical sciences aims to fit them for work in the medical field, e.g., the design of prostheses or of hospital equipment, and to introduce them to the physiological problems which can help to solve them. The branch of the course for graduates in medicine or biological sciences aims to introduce them to the mathematical and engineering methods and techniques which are applicable to medical and physiological practice and research.

Clinical application of the studies is provided through close collaboration with hospitals and medical specialists and the department specializes in research problems related to internal and external prostheses and blood flow measurement.

Requests for further particulars and application forms sent to Professor J. M. Zarek, Head of the Mechanical Engineering Department, University of Surrey, Battersea Park Road, London S.W.11. (15704)

When the presence of slough delays healing...

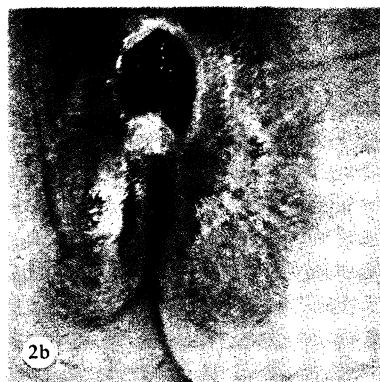

1a. This burn was treated by immediate suture. After twenty-four hours there was partial sphacelus of the flaps and suppuration.

1b. This picture, taken three weeks later, shows the complete healing resulting from treatment with Aserbine. No systemic antibiotics were used.

2a. A sacral ulcer in a paraplegic patient. Grafting and other treatment has failed. Aserbine produced complete desloughing and cleansing within fifteen days.

2b. Three months later. This picture shows almost complete epithelialization. No treatment other than Aserbine was used.

... in burns, pressure sores, varicose ulcers, trophic ulcers, etc.

MONASH UNIVERSITY
Melbourne, AustraliaFOUNDATION CHAIR
OF PSYCHOLOGICAL MEDICINE

Applications are invited from suitably qualified persons to fill the Foundation Chair in a new department of psychological medicine to be established at Prince Henry's Hospital. Plans have been approved for an area of 9,350 square feet (net) including a 17-bed ward, day rooms, offices and interviewing areas to be ready in 1969.

The Professor will be expected to conduct research and to co-ordinate the teaching of psychological medicine (including institutional psychiatry) in the clinical years of the medical course. He will have the co-operation of the staff of hospital departments of psychiatry at Alfred and Prince Henry's Hospitals, which are the two general teaching hospitals of the university, and of Queen Victoria Memorial Hospital where the departments of obstetrics and gynaecology, and paediatrics are located. In addition assistance in teaching is provided by the mental health authority staff at Royal Park and Larundel Hospitals where students spend two weeks in residence during their course. He will be appointed to the hospital staff with the status of In-patient Physician.

Planning is in progress to build the Monash Medical Centre on the campus at Clayton, and it is hoped that the first patients will be admitted in 1973. Further development of psychological medicine, based on approximately 150 beds, is planned at the Medical Centre, and it is anticipated that the Professor would take over the direction of this service. It is hoped the Professor will take up his appointment early in 1968.

Salary: $A12,300. Superannuation will be available on the F.S.S.U. pattern. By agreement with the Council of the University and the Board of Management of Prince Henry's Hospital, consultative work could be permitted.

Medical Service OVERSEAS helps DEVELOPMENT

The developing countries overseas are in urgent need of doctors. A break from normal routine is offered, together with the opportunity to see something of the world and to gain valuable and interesting experience. These appointments carry attractive salaries, normally with an overseas allowance and a gratuity on completion of contract. There are also educational allowances for children and free family passages. Accommodation is provided free, or at a low rental, and income tax is usually low. In most cases superannuation rights can be preserved or maintained. Here are some examples of posts available:

ST. ANDREW'S HOSPITAL NORTHAMPTON

President: The Earl Spencer

Medical Director:

James Harper, M.B., F.R.C.P.(Edin.), D.P.M.

This private hospital receives patients, both male and female, suffering from nervous and mental disorders, including alcoholism and senile illnesses. The fees range from eighteen guineas per week. Private rooms with special nurses can be provided, either in the hospital or in one of the villas in the grounds. The hospital is situated in 130 acres of pleasant grounds which provide all recreational facilities. These include a nine-hole golf course, sports ground, tennis courts, etc. A Recreation and Occupation Centre, known as Gloucester House, has been opened recently which includes an occupational therapy department, a swimming pool, a squash court and a library with an adjoining reading room.

WANTAGE HOUSE

This is a separate reception unit to which patients may be admitted. It is equipped for the complete investigation of nervous and mental disorders by the most modern methods. All forms of treatment are available.

Charges for treatment at St. Andrew's are allowable for benefit to British United Provident Association and Private Patients Plan subscribers.

For terms and further particulars apply to the Medical Director (Telephone No. 34354, Northampton), who can be seen in London by appointment.

More to overweight than meets the eye?

How many cases of obesity have emotional stress as a major underlying factor? Many authorities hold that in most cases, overeating is rooted in anxiety, boredom, frustration or similar emotional tensions^{1,2,3,4}. Merely curbing the appetite in these cases is unlikely to be of more than limited value^{1,2}—treatment of the obese patient must also compensate for the solace formerly obtained from eating. Durophet-M provides this treatment.

Durophet-M contains two constituents—a calmative, methaqualone, to counter underlying tensions, and a highly effective appetite depressant, laevo- and dextro-amphetamine, ratio 1:3. Durophet-M provides better treatment for the compulsive overeater than simple appetite depressants because it both controls the appetite and combats the emotional factors present in nearly all cases of obesity^{1,2}.
