There's more to Ventolin than any other bronchodilator

For aerosol therapy in asthma and chronic bronchitis

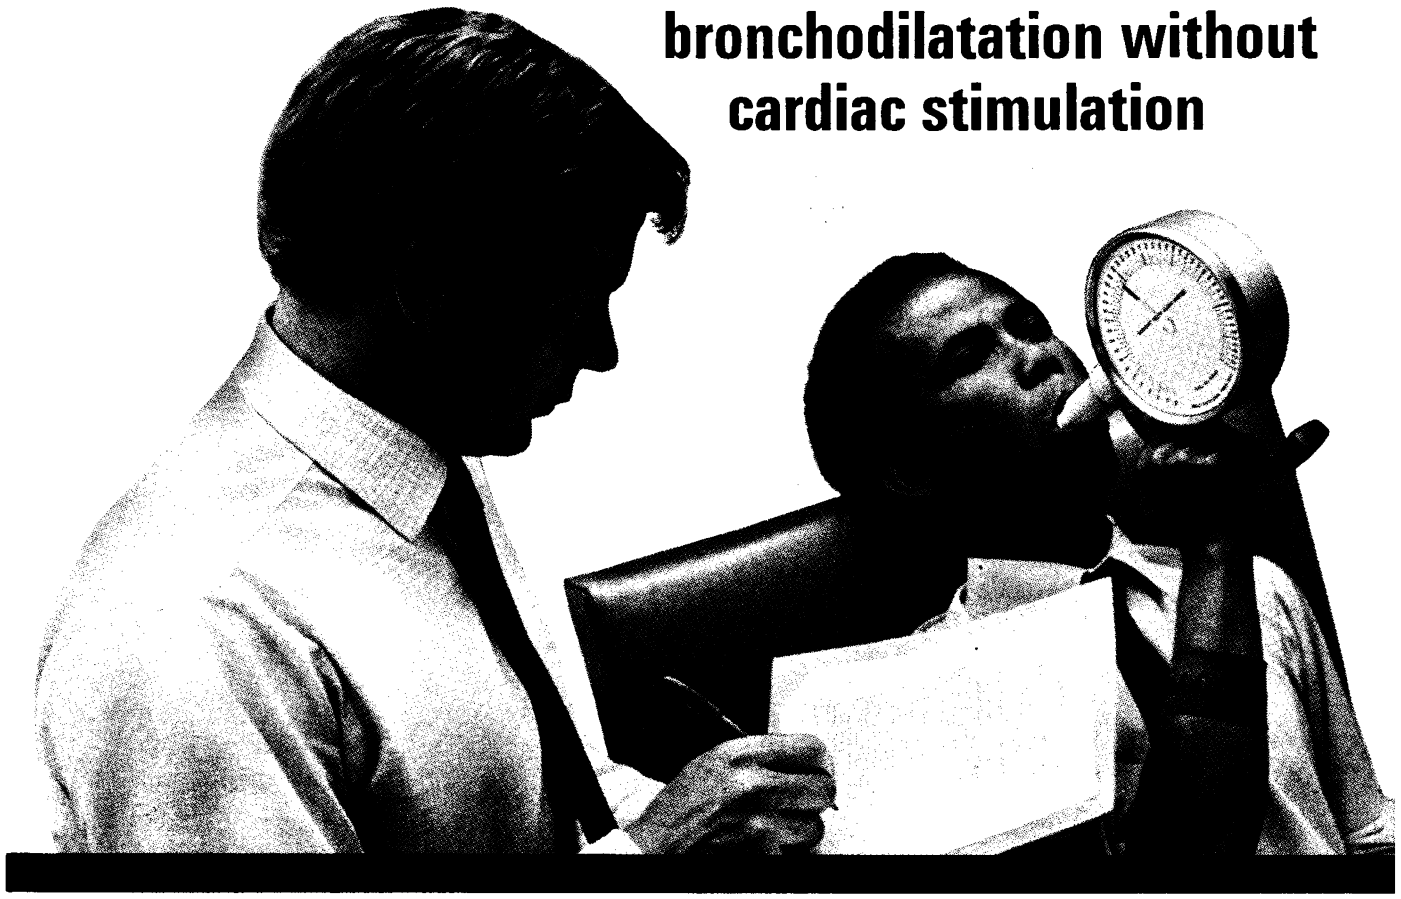

Ventolin Inhaler provides the drug of choice.

"It seems clear, therefore, that because of its effectiveness in producing bronchodilatation, its long duration of action, its lack of cardiovascular stimulant action, and its lack of tendency to produce falls in PaO_2, salbutamol (Ventolin) is the most effective drug at present available by aerosol inhalation for the relief of asthmatic airway obstruction."
(Brit. med. J., 1970, 2, 23)

"It is suggested that salbutamol (Ventolin) is the aerosol of choice."
(Brit. J. Dis. Chest, 1970, 64, 37)

Ventolin Inhaler is a metered aerosol, delivering 100mcg of salbutamol per inhalation, with a specially designed actuator. Each canister provides 200 inhalations.

And for oral therapy in asthma and chronic bronchitis...

Ventolin Tablets and Ventolin Syrup provide the drug of choice

Of the available oral bronchodilators with β-adrenergic stimulant activity, Ventolin "is the drug of choice at the present time".

(Postgrad. med. J., 1971, 47, 181)

"Oral salbutamol (Ventolin) appeared to be as effective a bronchodilator as the aerosol."

(Brit. med. J., 1970, 1, 65)

Ventolin Tablets each contain salbutamol 2mg as sulphate and are supplied in packs of 100 and 500.

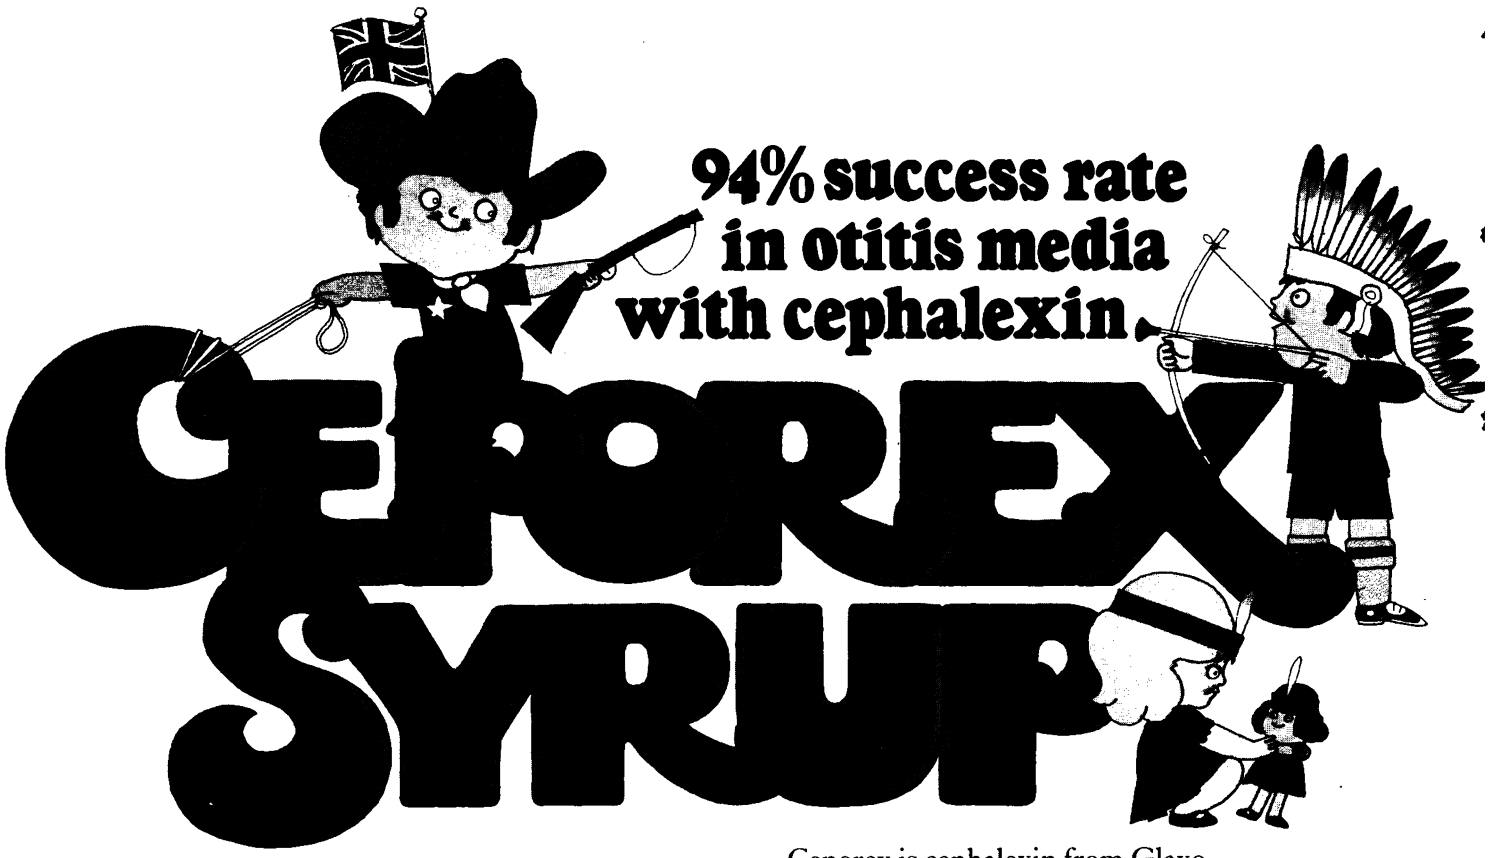

Ventolin Syrup contains salbutamol 2mg as sulphate per 5ml dose and is supplied in bottles of 150ml.

Ceporex is cephalexin from Glaxo

When a child has otitis media, you can trust Ceporex (cephalexin) to reduce the risks and improve the results of therapy. Recent reports' show that cephalexin has attained a 94% success rate in acute otitis media. These results have been achieved with a remarkably low incidence of side effects, whereas with ampicillin sensitivity rashes and diarrhoea are becoming increasingly common.

Ceporex is ideally suited for the treatment of otitis media. It is as effective as the penicillins against the pathogens responsible for the infection, but produces a lower incidence of side effects. It is also effective against the penicillin-resistant staphylococci and can normally be used safely in patients hypersensitive to the penicillins. And Ceporex achieves a rapid result since it produces high blood levels within an hour of administration, penetrates the tissues quickly and is not metabolised in the body, so it remains fully active to fight infection.

Ceporex Syrup has a pleasant black-currant flavour which encourages children to finish the course. It comes in two strengths for children: 125mg and 250mg.

Children get on well with Ceporex Syrup

Ceporex safety

"Considering its efficacy and the relative freedom from side effects, we conclude that it is as good a drug as penicillin G and certainly is a valuable addition to the therapeutic armamentarium of beta-haemolytic streptococcal infections in children."[2] (89 children with beta-haemolytic streptococcal infections.)

"The response to therapy was uniformly good, and no significant toxic effects were encountered."[3]

"Cephalexin appears to be a highly effective drug in the treatment of bacterial pneumonias of older infants and children who are able to take oral medication. The drug has the added advantage of low toxicity."[3]
(55 children with bacterial pneumonia.)

Ceporex speed

"The clinical response to cephalexin was prompt. Fever subsided within the first 24 hours after initiating therapy."[4] (30 children with pneumonia.)

"A rapid therapeutic response was noted."[5]

"... due to its reliability and its exceptionally good absorption in infants – which may be delayed to a certain degree in neonates – cephalexin may be recommended as the oral medication of choice against sensitive organisms in newborns."[6]

Less side effects with Ceporex

"No side effects from cephalexin were noted. The medication was accepted without difficulty. There was no nausea, vomiting or diarrhoea, and no rashes were observed."[3] (55 children with bacterial pneumonia.)

"We have not encountered any side effects due to cephalexin."[7]
(21 patients with cystic fibrosis.)

"Tolerance of the drug was satisfactory with absence of nausea, vomiting or diarrhoea."[4] (30 children with pneumonia.)

the 'inside secret' of treating in-rolling feet

Prescribe an external shoe wedge, and you only do part of the job. The wedge wears away to become largely ineffective—and in any case it disturbs the proper balance of the shoe. On top of that you run the risk of introducing a psychological problem too—what child wants to wear shoes that make him look and feel abnormal?

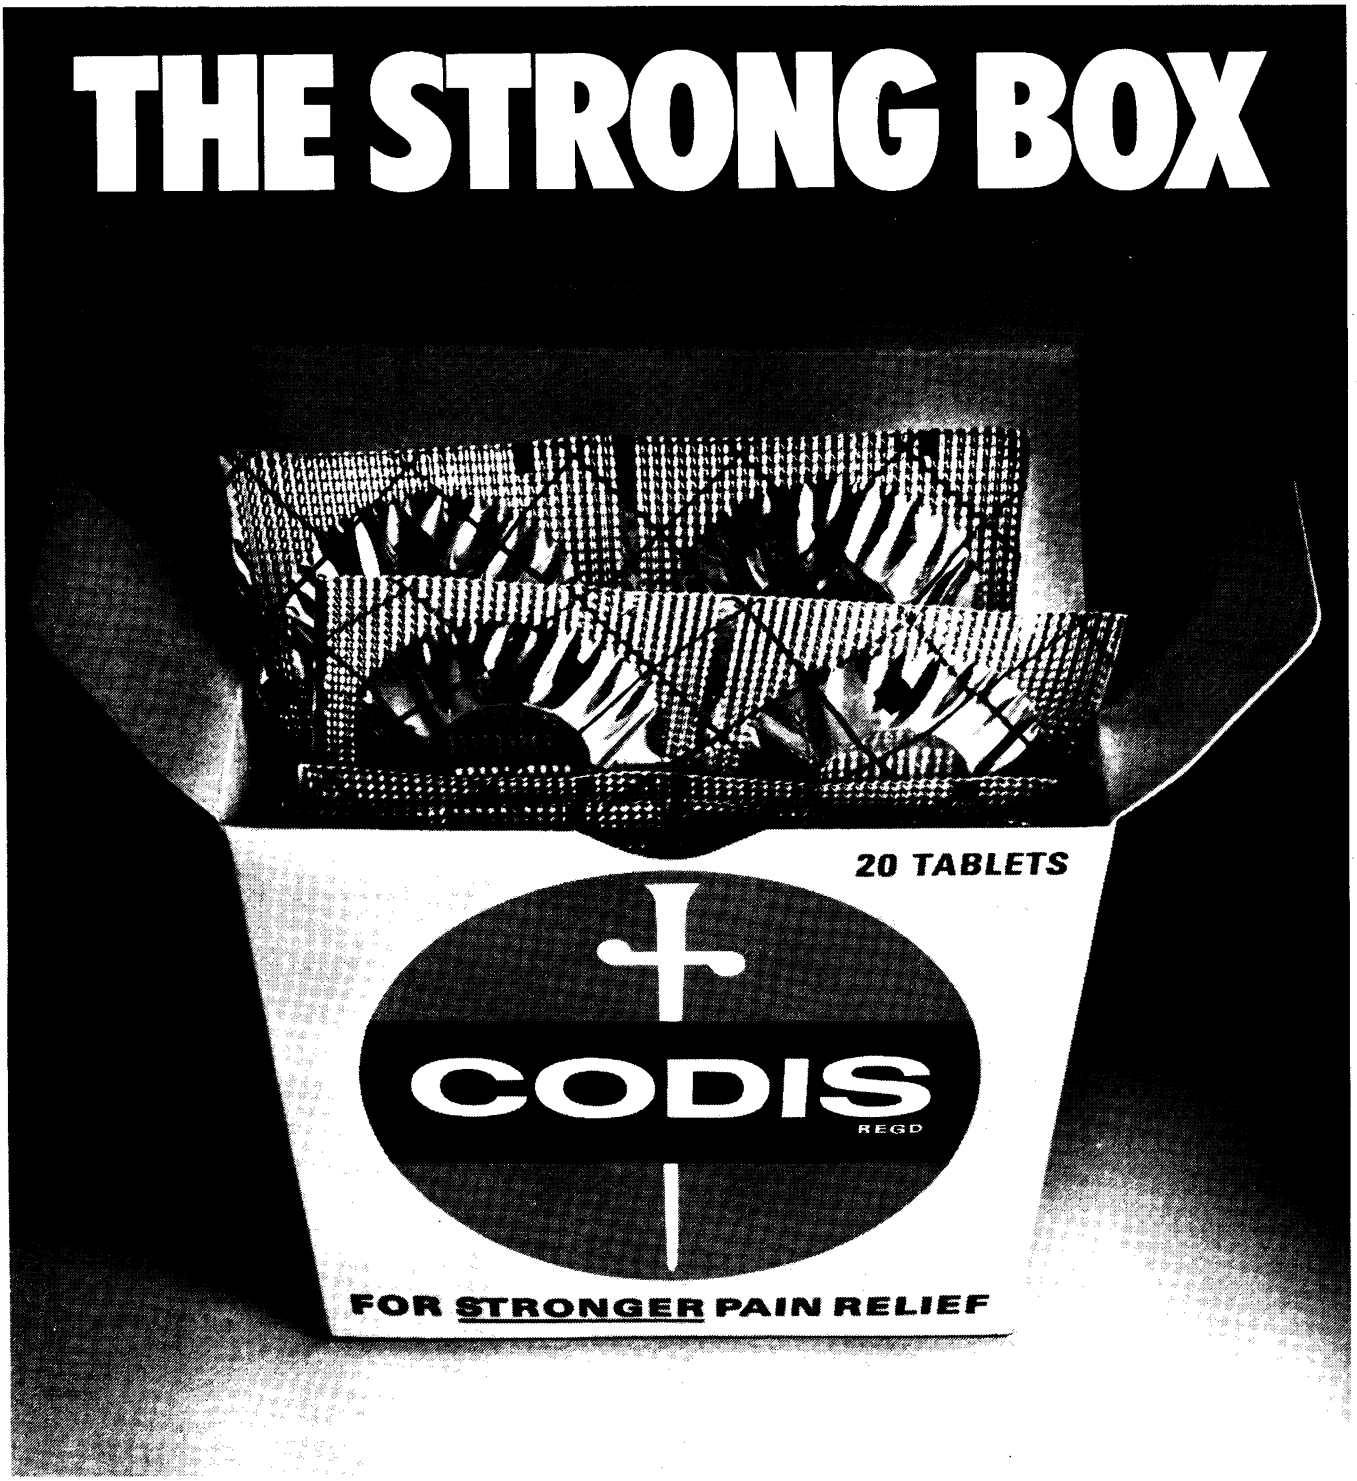

The answer can be found in Start-rite INNERAZE, the shoes that are orthopaedically designed to correct in-rolling with an invisible built-in wedge that can't wear or change shape.

For further information about the shoes with an 'inside secret' or details of the explanatory 12-minute INNERAZE 16mm colour film available on loan, write to: C. James, Fitting Consultant, Start-rite Shoes Ltd., Crome Road, Norwich, NOR 60A.

THE STRONG BOX

Analgesic strength – Codis provides double analgesic action with codeine and soluble aspirin. In a recent hospital trial,* Codis proved superior to pentazocine in the relief of pain.

Anti-inflammatory strength – Aspirin's proven anti-inflammatory effect (not found with paracetamol) provides a valuable source of relief in conditions such as rheumatoid and osteo-arthritis where inflammation and pain occur together.

Strength in solubility – The aspirin and codeine in Codis are completely soluble, resulting in rapid absorption, fast action and relative freedom from gastric irritation.

Each Codis tablet contains Aspirin BP 500 mg, Codeine Phosphate BP 8 mg, Calcium Carbonate BP 150 mg, Anhydrous Citric Acid BP 50 mg, Saccharin BP 6 mg.

How many of your osteo-arthritic patients could benefit from Brufen?

A recent study* of Brufen in the treatment of arthritic disorders included 239 cases of osteo-arthritis. On Brufen, 70% of these patients improved – and improved consistently in the real terms of less pain, greater mobility. Experience shows that at least 7 out of every 10 patients suffering from osteo-arthritis will respond well to Brufen.

CAVED-S

Important Notice re: Duodenal Ulcers

The reason for the failure of chemotherapy in the treatment of duodenal ulcers may well be due to underdosage. The dosage that the condition and recurrent episodes may demand of antacids, anticholinergics, carbenoxolone or sedatives is such that the resultant side effects cannot be tolerated. Whereas the standard dose for gastric ulcers may not always be effective with duodenal ulcers.[1]

It has now been established that Caved-S tablets prescribed in doses related to the condition of duodenal ulcer patients, can result in successful long term, safe and acceptable treatment with patients who have not responded to many other forms of therapy.

A metabolic study[2] and more than twenty hospital trials, and treatment with more than eight million patients in over forty countries has proven Caved-S deglycyrrhizinated liquorice is free from side effects of oedema, hypokalaemia etc.[3,4]

An unpublished hospital trial, the results of which are in our hands, has been carried out with Caved-S tablets at increased dosage on forty severe duodenal ulcer patients (age range 40–65) who had all been referred for surgery has demonstrated recurrent episodes can be prevented. The report stated "Patients with severe duodenal ulcers who had been referred for surgery were divided into two groups and treated with either eight or twelve tablets daily, for eight or sixteen weeks respectively.

The higher dosage was statistically more effective than the lower dosage in preventing relapses . . ." Patients were followed up for a minimum of one year and it was concluded that,

"HIGH DOSES OF DEGLYCYRRHIZINATED LIQUORICE (CAVED-S) SHOULD BE GIVEN TO PATIENTS WITH DUODENAL ULCERS BEFORE SURGERY IS ATTEMPTED".

Cardiac crisis: the blood clot hanging in this heart hangs over the life of every Western man. Heart diseases kill more men than war, accident or any other disease; but most premature deaths need never happen. Inside we tell you what causes heart disease, and how one hospital is using this Morris van to snatch men back from death

Flora margarine can help prevent heart disease.

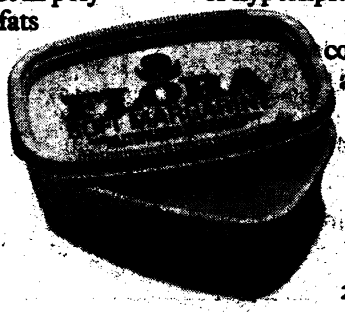

In 1972, one in four deaths will be caused by coronary heart disease. Many victims dying before retiring age.

Some premature deaths might be prevented, however, by substituting Flora margarine, the spread highest in polyunsaturated fats, for animal fats in normal diet.

For 50% of Flora's fat content is natural cis-cis linoleic essential fatty acid.

And it is widely accepted that substituting polyunsaturated fats for saturated fats can lower the risk of coronary heart disease.

Because of its cholesterol-reducing properties, Flora margarine is particularly effective as part of the dietary treatment of hyperlipidaemia.

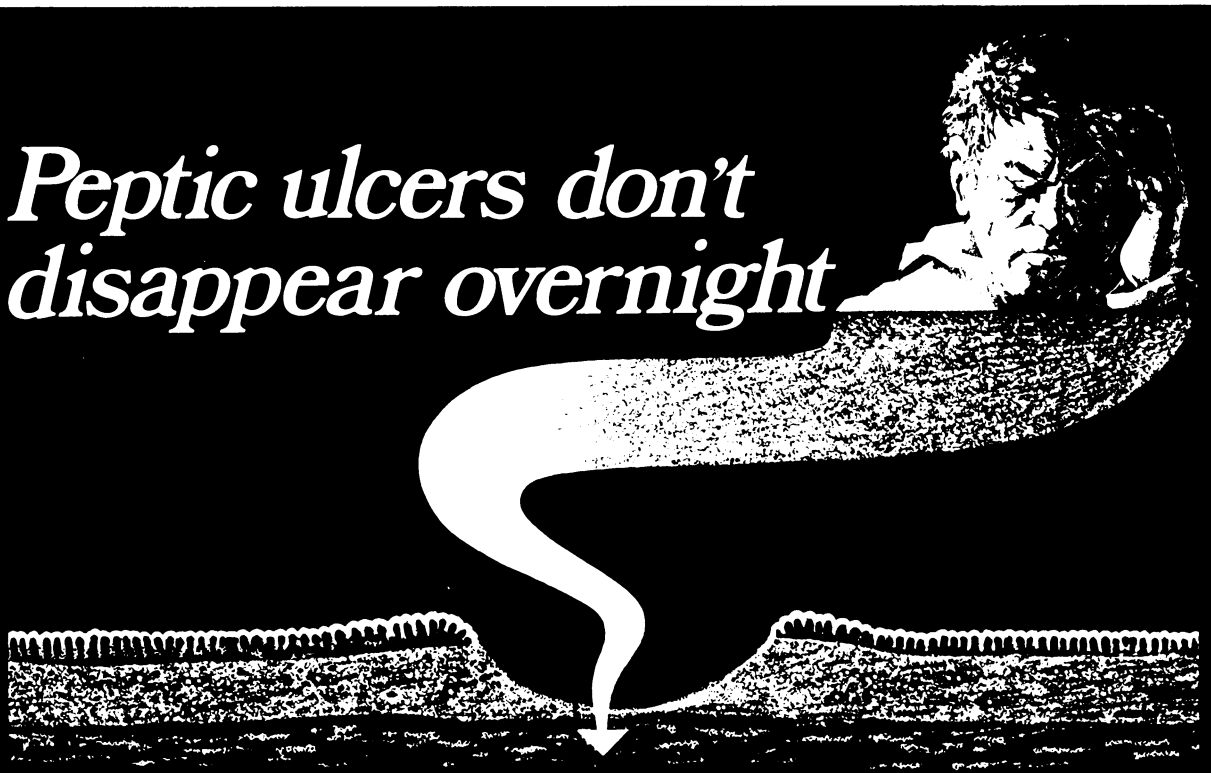

For people at risk from coronary heart disease, indeed for almost anyone, Flora margarine makes very good advice.

The only safe level of blood pressure is normal.

The definition of "normal" will obviously vary from patient to patient at the discretion of the doctor. There is now convincing evidence, however, that blood pressure must be maintained within this defined normal range. Any degree of hypertension—and by inference, incomplete therapeutic control—still carries a high long-term morbidity.

Complete control is usually impracticable with conventional antihypertensive agents because of prohibitive side effects.

This is not so with 'Inderal'.

'Inderal', added to a thiazide diuretic, gives smooth control of blood pressure in 80% of hypertensive patients, by night and by day, with none of the troublesome side effects of other treatments. It is a real step forward in preventive medicine.

A lifetime of freedom begins with Intal

Before INTAL, a diagnosis of asthma often meant a life sentence of constantly aborting attacks with bronchodilators, antihistamines or steroids. Patients were constantly at risk from the relentless progress of lung damage and lived in perpetual fear of an asthmatic episode.

The discovery of INTAL (Sodium Cromoglycate BP) represents a turning point in the management of this distressing complaint. Newly diagnosed patients, as well as those of long standing, benefit from this entirely new approach to therapy. INTAL actually prevents the onset of asthmatic attacks, and is notably free from serious side effects.

By preventing asthma attacks the possibility of consequent lung damage may be avoided enabling the patients to lead a fuller, happier life. If they remember their daily INTAL – they can forget their asthma.

Diseases of the Urinary Tract

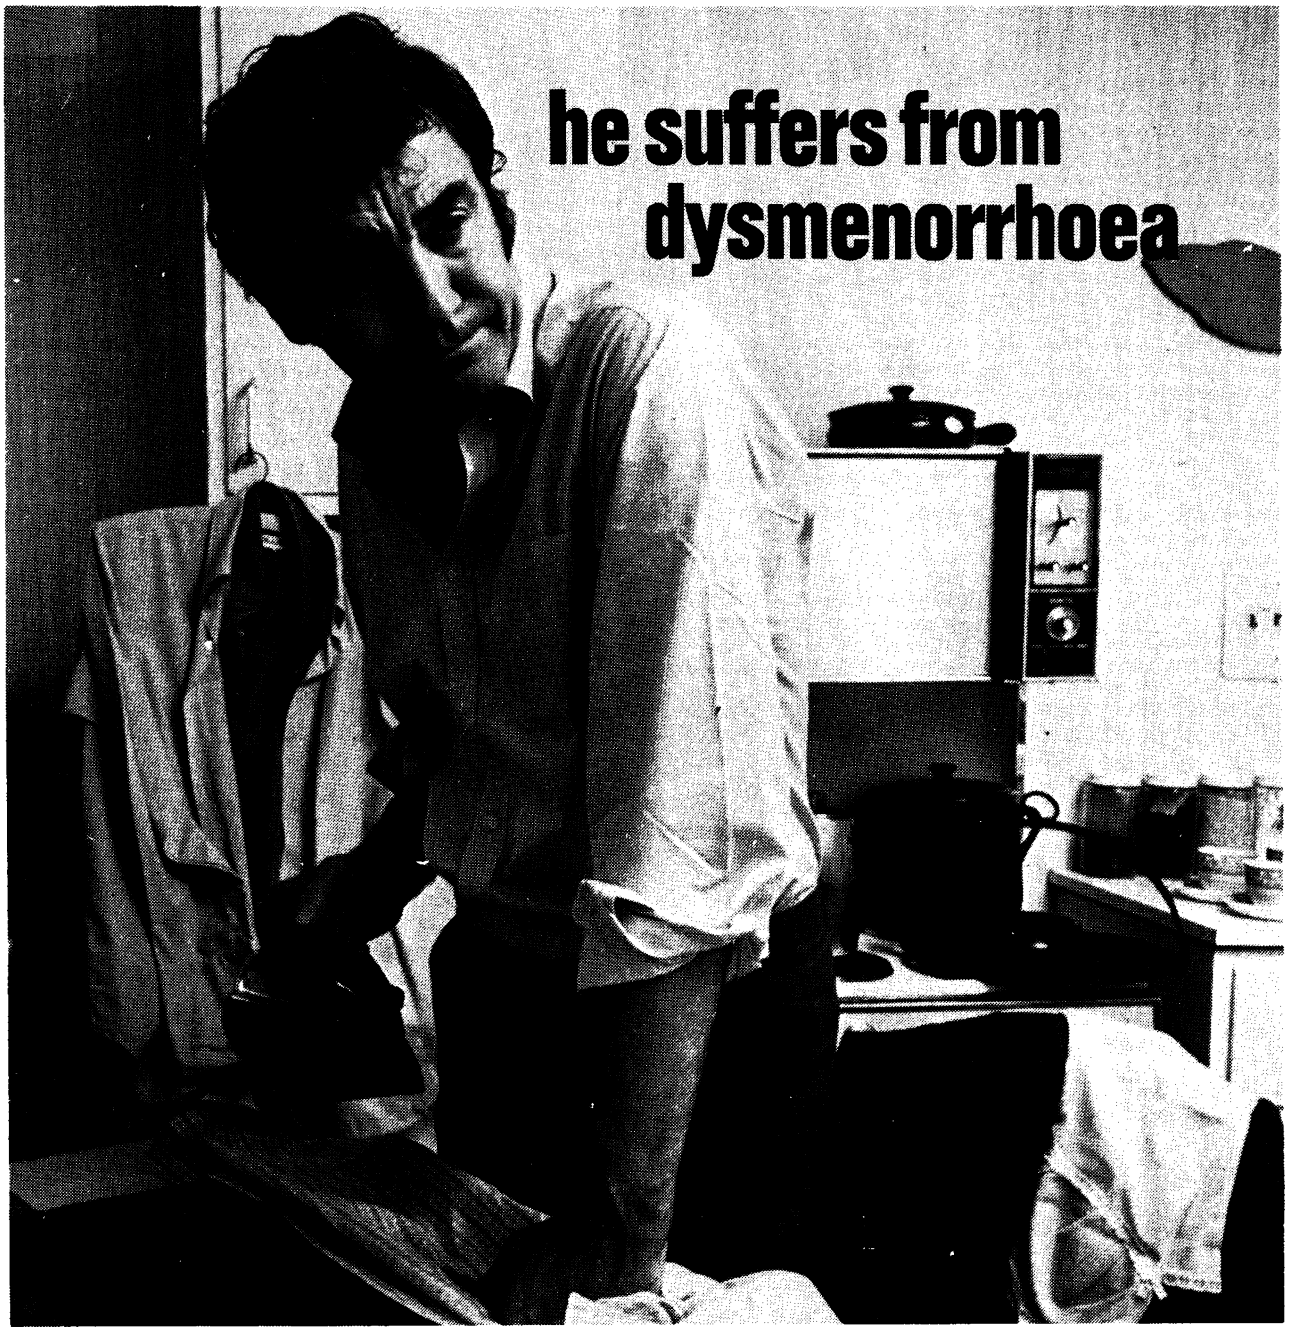

One of the most rapidly growing specialties over the last few years has been that of urology. Many doctors now in practice could not have been taught much of the present-day management of many urinary tract diseases. Last year the B.M.J. published a series of "Current Practice" articles on diseases in the urinary tract, and these have now been collected together in a booklet. Beside articles on the newer aspects of the specialty, the booklet contains articles on established methods of managing renal disorders. Any doctor who wishes to bring himself up to date on modern practice in this field will find this a readable account of the important aspects of the specialty.

Some investments tie up your savings for a fixed period of years, whilst others offer prompt withdrawal facilities.

Some are designed to provide regular income; others offer capital growth. Either may or may not be taxable.

Both may incorporate life assurance and the income tax relief then obtainable can further improve the attractiveness of the investment.

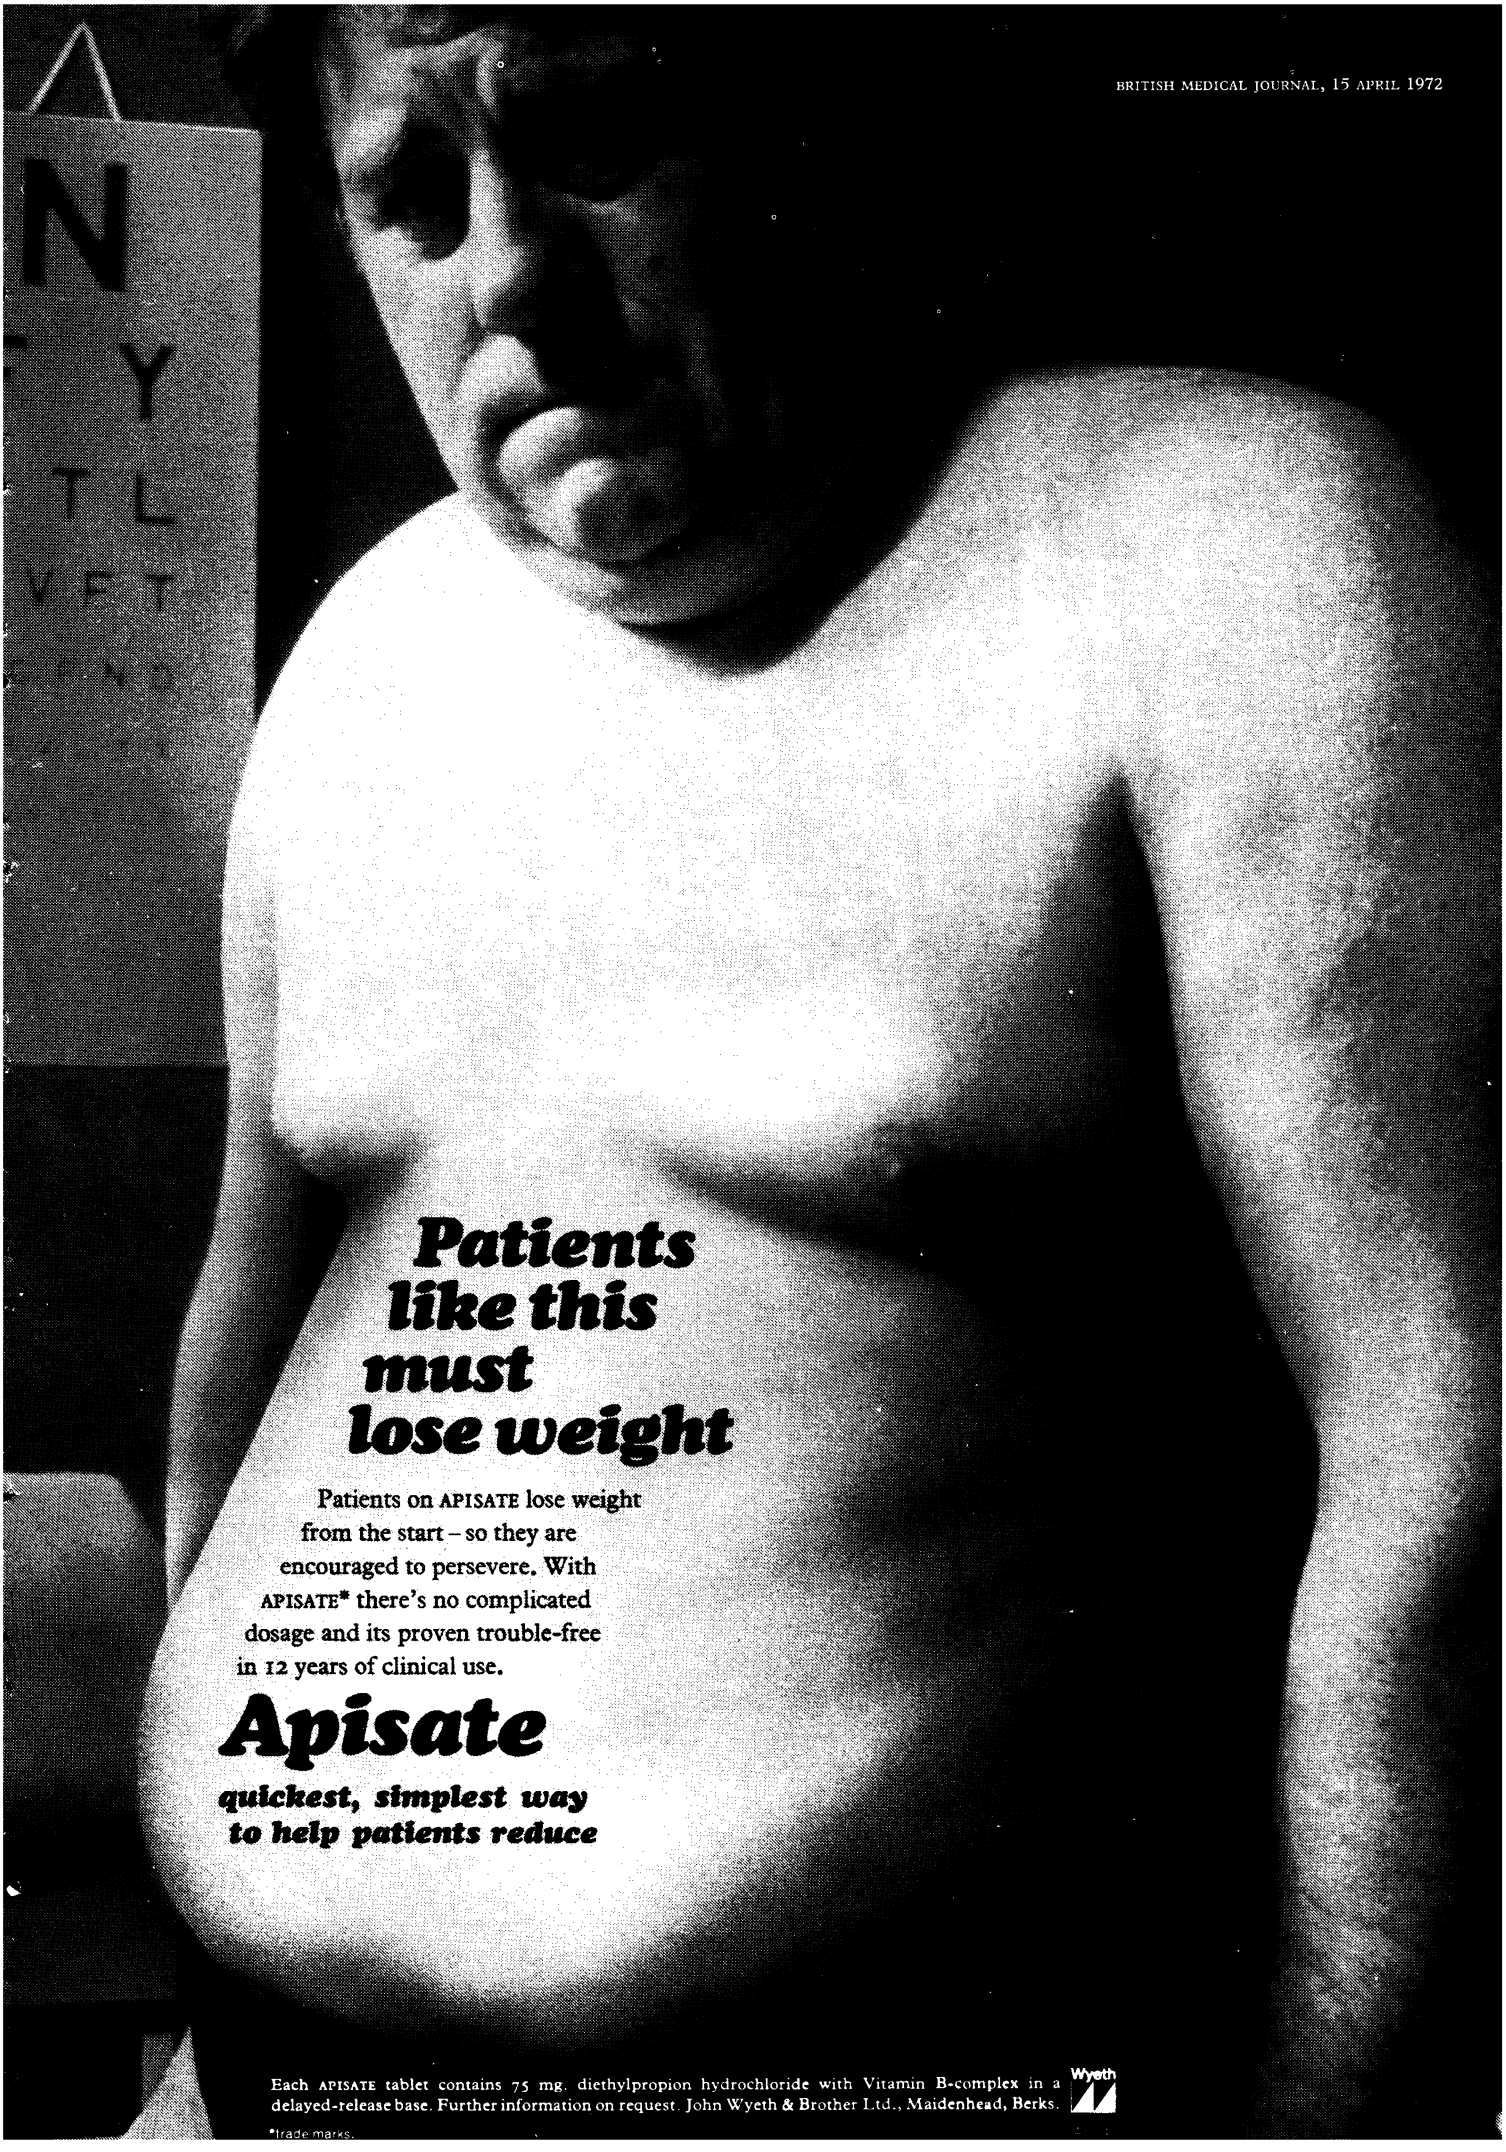

It's all very confusing unless you are a financial expert. How else can you choose a plan to suit your own particular needs and be safe in the knowledge that the Company to which you are to entrust your savings is absolutely secure?

COMMERCIAL APPOINTMENTS

Job Satisfaction occurs when a person's tasks are clearly defined, when he is allowed to rise to the job's intellectual challenge, to get on with his work without interference and without anyone breathing down his neck, when there is a convivial and stimulating atmosphere, when he has opportunity for others to see how good he is (such as by publication), when he is supported by experience and resources and when he is judged on, and rewarded for, his efforts and achievements. If your present position lacks any one of these assets – read on.

The company that already markets a number of drugs including CLOMID (a fascinating product), DEBENDOX, KOLANTYL, MERBENTYL, NETHAPRIN, TENUATE and TACE, and which has others – even more interesting – in the pipeline, has a vacancy in its Medical Department for a

Deputy Medical Director

This position of responsibility and opportunity requires a well trained and experienced Medical Adviser. Alternatively, we are prepared to consider a less experienced doctor as with a view to promotion when (s)he is worth it. In this case, full training and supervision will be given; in either case, the right personality and a willingness to learn are more important than present knowledge.

The company policy on remuneration is to start at a better than fair salary and then to reward effort and achievement. We want a person who rises to this sort of challenge. The work is varied and interesting (refer to the BMJ for 4th December, 1971, pages 586 and 590 to see what we mean). The company is vigorous and dynamic but works to the highest ethical standards. We're a good crowd to work with and all things will be going for you.

Why don't you write to me, telling me all about yourself, what you've done and why, what you hope to do and why. It's in both of our interests that the right person is appointed, so let's be frank throughout. Write to

up to £5,500+car

One of the world's leading ethical pharmaceutical companies, with a strong research base in the UK and a wide range of new and established therapeutic products, is currently expanding its clinical research programme. There are currently opportunities for three registered medical practitioners, who may be at quite different stages of their own personal and career development.

These are key opportunities as the successful candidates will work in close association with research scientists in many other disciplines, and will make a real contribution to the planning and management of specific research projects.

They will have particular responsibility for maintaining close liaison with physicians and research workers outside the company, for initiating, coordinating and conducting clinical trials, and for evaluating and presenting the results. Publication of research findings and attendance at medical meetings is encouraged.

The candidates we seek may currently be:
in hospital work at the registrar level or above or in an academic appointment or in general practice or already within the pharmaceutical industry.

They may be male or female, and, within reasonable limits, of any age. They will, however, be keenly interested in therapeutics and in a career within industry. In addition, each will possess an active and keen mind, a flair for lucid expression, a positive attitude towards responsibility, challenge and hard work, and a successful career record to date. A higher qualification would be particularly advantageous, but is not essential.

In addition to a basic salary of £4,500 to £5,500 (or even more for an exceptional candidate), there are many additional benefits. These include a Company car, bonus, free life assurance, generous pension scheme, a pleasant geographical location in Southern England in a lowish-cost housing area, and extensive financial assistance towards removal and re-establishment costs.

Other progressive opportunities exist within the Group, and enquiries are also welcomed from qualified medical practitioners whose interests lie beyond the scope of the present appointments.

OPHTHALMOLOGY

OPHTHALMIC SERVICES
AT THAMESMEAD

An integrated health service embracing all three branches of the National Health Service is being developed for the new community of Thamesmead where the population is expected to grow to 49,000 within the next 10-20 years. A particular feature of the scheme is the opportunity it offers for inservice teaching of students in many health service professions. A new Lakeside Health Centre opened in February, 1972. It has been designed to provide services for the population of stages I and II with a present population of 4,000-5,000 growing to 10,000 by 1975. This centre includes purpose-designed accommodation for ophthalmic services.
Applications are invited from ophthalmic medical practitioners and from ophthalmic and dispensing opticians (firms or individuals) wishing to provide general ophthalmic services from these premises. It is envisaged that in the first instance there would be sufficient demand to warrant only a limited number of weekly sessions but that the number would be increased as the population grows. The successful applicant(s) will be expected to provide a full range of National Health Service services for both sight-testing and dispensing, and may also undertake private work. No limit will be placed on the sale of private frames. Payment for National Health Service services will be on the basis of the statement of fees and charges for the testing of sight and the supply and repair of glasses issued by the Department of Health and Social Security. An inclusive rental, covering fixed equipment and rates, will be determined in accordance with the time for which the premises are issued. Reasonable guarantees for security of tenure will be given. The practitioner and/or optician appointed may have the opportunity to take part in the wider ophthalmic service and teaching programme which will be developed later.
Further details, including particulars of the premises, may be obtained from the Clerk, South East London and Kent Executive Council, 11 Station Road, Maidstone, Kent. Closing date: 10th May, 1972. (H5681) 37

Are you in your Pre-Registration Year —or recently fully registered?

Before you commit yourself to your permanent pattern of life, consider what the Royal Air Force has to offer.

The chance to practise total medical care, as a GP

Your first job would probably be a Junior Medical Officer on a large RAF Station. There would be at least one other doctor. Between you, you would have a 'list' of 2000 to 3000 people—servicemen and their families. You would meet all the usual clinical problems of a GP—and get plenty of experience in pediatrics. As well as this, you would be actively involved in the practice of aviation medicine and gain experience in the preventive, occupational and social fields.

Conditions of work are extremely good. You would have a consulting room in a specially built Medical Centre—like a small hospital with its own treatment room, theatre and resuscitation room, and wards for a dozen or so short-stay patients. There is a full secretarial and nursing staff. Your clinical freedom would be absolute.

The RAF hospital at Akrotiri, Cyprus. It has 130 beds and can be adapted to accommodate up to 250. Here are a few figures for 1970: admissions, 4041, with an average length of stay of 11 days; X-Rays, 10,857; path lab tests, 53,703; anaesthetics, 2,035. Medical staff is 22 doctors, 31 nurses, 25 nursing auxiliaries. The hospital has specialist departments of surgery, orthopaedic surgery, medicine, gynaecology and obstetrics, pathology, dentistry, neuropsychiatry, radiology, anaesthetics, otorhinolaryngology and ophthalmology; and, in the tamarisk trees by Dreamers' Bay, perhaps the most beautiful location of any hospital.

The chance to specialise, too

Because General Practice is so highly developed in the RAF, this does not mean you have no chance to specialise. The contrary is true. 47% of all RAF doctors are now working in specialist departments. On a 'full career' contract you have every opportunity to reach consultant status in your late or middle thirties—perhaps earlier.

The chance to study for higher qualifications

Any RAF doctor, whether specialist or GP (as long as he is not on the very shortest of contracts) can apply for six months study leave on full salary. On a permanent commission, he may have up to two years external study leave.

The chance to travel

The RAF operates in many different conditions and climates. Abroad, the RAF doctor looks after RAF personnel and their families and, very often, the local population as well. Your gain in clinical experience would be marked.

The chance of a good social and family life

The RAF is a young community, with a full and active social life. There are facilities for almost every kind of sport and, which is most important, the time to enjoy your family while you are still a young man. Living conditions are excellent. If you are single you live in the Officers' Mess, which has all the amenities of a good hotel. If you are married, you will nearly always have a furnished house that goes with the job; rent for this is very modest; and it can save a large financial outlay at the beginning of your career.

A realistic pay scale

Pay is based on the average earnings of a civilian GP. Immediately after full registration, the present basic salary is £3668; after 5 years it rises to £4424; after 13 years to £5453. There are various other allowances; for instance, with children at boarding school the figures are £330 (net) for one child, £723 (net) for two children, £1194 (net) for three children. There are tax-free gratuities of £1500 after 3 years, or £3000 after 5 years. After service of 16 years or more there is a pension, payable for life, and a generous terminal grant.

For full information please write, giving your age, nationality, and date of full registration, to Group Captain J. G. Donald, OBE, MB, ChB, MRCGP, DTM&H, RAF, Ministry of Defence, 1-6 Tavistock Square (724KC5), London, WC1H 9NL. Or visit your nearest RAF Careers Information Office.

SERVICES

AS A NAVAL DOCTOR, YOU'D GET A WHOLE LOT MORE OUT OF LIFE.

(AND SO WOULD YOUR FAMILY)

Right from the start, you'd have a complete change of scene.

Serving either with the Navy at sea or among service personnel and their families at a naval establishment. Very likely in another part of the world.

Either way, you'd never find yourself short of assistance. (Every naval doctor is fully supported by medical staff).

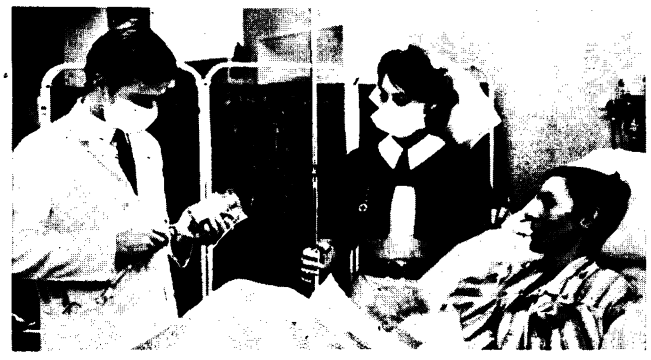

Equally important, you'd never find yourself getting into a rut – for in two years or so you'd receive a new appointment.

In a new place. Doing a different job. Perhaps with the chance to learn something of the special problems of diving, aviation, or tropical medicine for example.

It's a stimulating life. Not only for yourself but for your family too.

For in most cases they'd accompany you. And wherever you go there are usually married quarters – fully furnished houses or flats, equipped with everything you need. And at very reasonable rents.

What's more, a generous education allowance is made for your children if they are at boarding school. £330 p.a. for a first child, £393 p.a. for a second, £471 p.a. for a third. On top of this, removal and other allowances are also provided.

Add this to the salary and you'll see how well a naval doctor's pay compares with a civilian doctor's.

For instance, with five years' post registration experience you would join us as a Surgeon Lieutenant-Commander on £4,424 a year.

And any specialist qualifications/experience you have could increase your salary even more.

There are opportunities, too, to keep up with the latest developments in medicine. For the Navy fully recognises the need for such opportunities both in the interests of naval medicine and a doctor's professional advancement.

That's not all. You can join on a 3-year or 5-year commission (each carrying a tax-free terminal gratuity of £1,500 and £3,000 respectively) and you can transfer to a full 16-year pensionable commission if you wish.

Provided you're resident in the U.K. or Eire, you can find out more by writing to Surgeon Cdr. F. M. Kinsman, O.B.E., R.N. (724AB3), Dept. of the Medical Director-General (Navy), Empress State Building, London S.W.6.

He'll give you all the facts.

Trends in Clinical Pathology

Essays in Honour of Gordon Signy

This book is no pious collection of personal tributes but a survey of the old and the new disciplines in clinical pathology since the second world war – research in atherosclerosis and ischaemic heart disease, progress in medical virology, microbiology and cytology, the impact of antibiotics on medical bacteriology, chemical pathology and also molecular defence, haematology in mid-century, including haemostasis and blood transfusion. The place of fibrin in the story of hyalin is another modern study, so also is that on automation. The outlook on some members of the family Enterobacteriaceae is changing, and the 'old' forensic medicine is indeed new. And those pathologists working in the under-developed countries are not forgotten. The contributors are internationally renowned.

Prothiaden is an anti-depressant which not only treats depression, but also relieves the anxiety so often associated with depressive illness. A recent study* has shown Prothiaden to be superior to amitriptyline in the treatment of depressive disorders, and to be much better tolerated. With Prothiaden, your patients will persevere with treatment – more of them will recover.

A name to conjure with.

'Largactil' has been a name to conjure with in psychiatric medicine for over sixteen years. An influence of such magnitude and long duration can be explained by examining this legendary name.

'Largactil' was so named because of its LARGe variety of ACTIons; apart from being the first major tranquillizer, it acts in two other pharmacologically distinct ways – as a potentiator of central nervous depressants, including analgesics, narcotics and sedatives, and as an anti-emetic.

'Largactil' has achieved success in the fields of psychiatry, general medicine and anaesthetics in an ever-widening range of indications. These include major and minor psychoses; as an adjuvant to E.C.T.; drug withdrawal; senile dementia; the control of terminal pain and nausea and vomiting.

Alone, or as an adjuvant – are you making FULL use of 'Largactil'?

Maxolon for flatulence, dyspepsia, gastritis, and peptic ulcer symptoms

For the first time, treatment of gastro-duodenal disorders can move beyond the simple alleviation of hyperacidity and spasm.

Disturbance of gastro-duodenal motility has become increasingly established as a major factor in the aetiology of gastro-duodenal symptoms. In restoring this disturbed motility to normal, Maxolon represents a unique approach to therapy. And it works—flatulence, dyspepsia, gastritis, hiatus hernia and peptic ulcer symptoms have all shown high symptomatic response to Maxolon. Even difficult post-cholecystectomy dyspepsias have responded well.

Maxolon acts by synchronising antral and duodenal contractions, increasing the competence of the cardiac and pyloric sphincters and promoting normal peristalsis. Reflux, gastric stasis, retention and spasm are all alleviated. Normal motility is restored and gastro-duodenal symptoms resolved.

Further information is available on request.

British evidence confirms value of serc®

betahistine

in Meniere's syndrome

Serc is the first drug to offer comprehensive action against all the manifestations of Meniere's syndrome. A British trial* now confirms its clinical value. Objective tests of hearing and vestibular function in 11 patients before and after treatment with Serc showed a dramatic improvement in many cases. 'There was an overall average gain in hearing over the whole group in both ears.' Studies of nystagmus suggested an improvement in vestibular function. 'Subjectively, 9 out of 11 patients claimed an improvement in the symptom of vertigo and all 11 claimed reduction in tinnitus.'

*Journal of Laryngology, and Otology, 1971, 85:369.

Serc is supplied as tablets each containing 8 mg. betahistine dihydrochloride.

In infected eczema, it's the eczema you worry about.

And no combination of anti-infectives will stop the scratching that starts the infection that results in infected eczema.

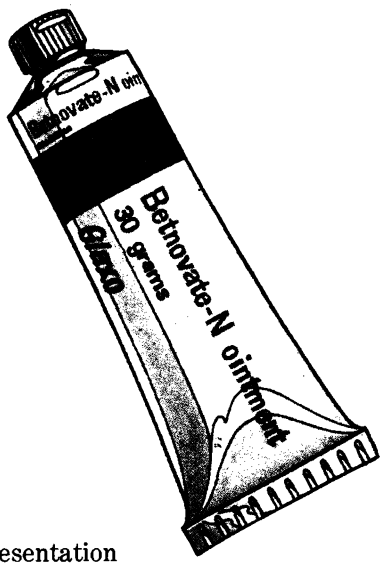

But Betnovate-N will.

And it will do it quicker than other preparations designed to combat infected eczema, because it contains betamethasone as 17-valerate, a more effective steroid.

Betnovate-N also contains neomycin so it stops the infection at the same time.

All at a price others can't match.
