

New power to stop pain crippling

No previous agent has combined
such power to control arthritic pain and improve joint function with such freedom from serious side effects

Description and Presentation

PRINALGIN alclofenac (4-allyloxy-3-chlorophenylacetic acid) is a powerful new analgesic which shows marked anti-inflammatory action in animal experiments. Clinically, it has been compared favourably with phenylbutazone, indomethacin, pentazocine and morphine in well controlled double-blind trials. PRINALGIN tablets, each containing alclofenac 500 mg are available in packs of 100 and 500. (Basic N.H.S. cost of 100: £2.26)

Prescribing Information

Indications: Pain, especially in arthritis and rheumatism.

Dose: One or two tablets every 4-6 hours.

In arthritic and rheumatic conditions 2 tablets 3 times daily, reducing this initial dose as symptoms are controlled.

Side Effects: PRINALGIN is very well tolerated and there are no serious side effects. There are occasional reports of nausea and indigestion but these are rarely sufficient to warrant cessation of treatment. Occasionally cutaneous intolerance occurs but this is reversible on withdrawal of the drug. One case of possible hypersensitivity to PRINALGIN has been reported.

Precautions

There are no special precautions to be taken in the administration of PRINALGIN but, as with any drug, it should be administered with caution in cases of impaired renal or hepatic function and in diabetes. Although animal tests in several mammalian species have revealed no teratogenic effects, as with all new drugs PRINALGIN is not recommended during the first trimester of pregnancy.

The effect of PRINALGIN
upon joint pain and function ranks with that of phenylbutazone or indomethacin, yet PRINALGIN has caused no serious side effects in any of the 4,500 patients treated in clinical trials.

PRINALGIN does not cause gastric erosions, blood dyscrasias or liver damage and has no hormonal actions.

Clinical experience with chemotherapeutic agents*

Studies of 6,500 cases treated with cephalixin

A further 5,000 patients had been treated with cephalixin and reported in the world literature since a review of more than 1,500 cases was presented to the Sixth International Congress on Chemotherapy.

The infections reported were of the urinary tract (2,238); lower respiratory tract (1,235); ear, nose and throat (892); skin and soft tissue (610); genitals (959); septicaemia (28); endocarditis (4); osteo-articular infections (87); biliary tract infections (13); peritonitis (11); and intestinal infections (45). Satisfactory responses included (a) clinical and bacteriological cure and, (b) clinical cure or marked clinical improvement without full bacteriological clearance. A summary of the results obtained in urinary tract infections is given in the table.

Urinary tract infections treated with cephalixin

Infection	Number	Per cent satisfactory response
Cystitis, acute or simple	216	92
Cystitis, chronic or complicated	105	57
Pyelonephritis, acute or simple	222	88
Pyelonephritis, chronic or complicated	440	77
Unspecified	1,255	87

*Proceedings of the VIIth International Congress of Chemotherapy, Prague, August 1971 (In Press)

In most of the acute infections treated, cephalixin had given excellent results. In certain chronic infections, particularly of the lung and bone, the response was not so rapid, but when treatment had been prolonged, clinical results had been very good. The adoption of higher doses, 4 G to 6 G or more daily, had widened the scope of cephalixin in the field of severe infections such as septicaemia and endocarditis. The results so far obtained with such infections had been encouraging although the number of cases treated was relatively small.

Even when cephalixin had been used in high dosage or for long periods, the tolerance had been good. Only rarely had treatment been discontinued because of side effects. When side effects had occurred they usually had been mild, many disappearing during treatment. Changes in haematological and biological parameters had been infrequent. There had been no evidence of nephrotoxicity. Cephalixin had been used success-

In acute cystitis 92% success rate with cephalixin

Recent reports* show that some 2,238 urinary tract infections have been treated with cephalixin, achieving 92% success rate in acute or simple cystitis and 88% success rate in acute or simple pyelonephritis.

Other clinical studies from the same publication state that "A significantly better result was obtained with cephalixin in the treatment of sulphonamide-resistant chronic urinary tract infection than with tetracycline or ampicillin."

fully and safely in patients with impaired renal function, although accumulation of the antibiotic might occur in such patients unless dosage were decreased according to the creatinine clearance.

'Good results' in urinary tract cases

A significantly better result was obtained with cephalixin in the treatment of sulphonamide-resistant chronic urinary tract infection than with tetracycline or ampicillin. Reporting these findings, investigators from the University of Turku, Finland, stated that they had treated with a regimen of 1G or 2G cephalixin for 14 days, 40 hospital patients of an average age of 73.9 years.

All of these patients had previously received various chemotherapeutic agents. Twenty-two of the patients were female and 18 male; seven had abnormal renal function.

The criterion for infection was a count of 10^5 organisms per ml of urine; and for cure, sterile urine three days after the end of treatment.

Of the 21 patients who were given 250mg of cephalixin four times a day, 13 were cured; and of the 19 patients who received 500mg four times daily, 10 were cured. Side effects were minimal. Candida was isolated from the urine of one male, and one female developed Candida vaginitis.

In the second part of the trial two groups of 20 patients (of average age 70 years) who also had sulphonamide-resistant urinary tract infection received either tetracycline or ampicillin. A 40 per cent cure rate was obtained in each group – compared with 60 per cent among the patients treated with cephalixin.

Contra-indication

Ceporex is contra-indicated in persons who have shown hypersensitivity to cephalosporins.

Precautions

In patients treated with Ceporex, a false-positive reaction for glucose in the urine may occur with Benedict's or Fehling's solutions, or with 'Clinitest' tablets, but not with enzyme-based tests such as 'Clinistix'.

Ceporex is usually tolerated well by patients allergic to penicillin, but cross-reaction can occur occasionally.

As with other antibiotics, Ceporex should be administered with caution in patients with a history of allergy, especially to drugs. When renal function is markedly reduced, Ceporex will accumulate in the serum and tissues unless dosage is suitably reduced.

Laboratory experiments with animals and clinical experience show no evidence of teratogenicity, but as with all drugs, caution is needed during pregnancy.

Adverse reactions

A small proportion of patients receiving Ceporex may experience gastrointestinal disturbances such as nausea, vomiting, diarrhoea, anorexia and general abdominal discomfort. As with all broad-spectrum antibiotics, superinfection (sometimes monilial) can occur, and may present as vulvo-vaginitis.

Reversible neutropenia has occurred in a few patients, but is very rare.

Generalised drug rashes – urticarial or maculopapular – are uncommon.

Administration and dosage

Ceporex is administered orally. Treatment should continue for at least two days after the temperature has returned to normal and symptoms have subsided. However, in chronic, recurrent or complicated upper urinary tract infections a course of at least two weeks' duration may be necessary.

When renal function is considerably impaired, the dosage should be reduced. If the creatinine clearance is 20 to 50ml/minute, the adult dosage of Ceporex should not exceed 3 grams/day; if between 5 and 20ml/minute, not more than 1.5 grams daily; if the clearance is below 5ml/minute, dosage should not exceed 500mg/day.

Patients receiving intermittent dialysis should be given an additional 500mg of Ceporex after each dialysis, i.e., a total dosage of up to 1 gram on that day.

Ceporex stands for clinical success and low incidence of side effects

Recent clinical results with cephalixin confirm the extremely low incidence of side effects accompanying the high clinical success rate.

"Even when cephalixin had been used in high dosage for long periods, the tolerance had been good. Only rarely had treatment been discontinued because of side effects. When side effects had occurred they usually had been mild, many disappearing during treatment."*

"No cross sensitivity was seen with cephalixin in the eight patients with a history of penicillin hypersensitivity."*

It all adds up to the simple fact that in acute cystitis and pyelonephritis, you can trust Ceporex to reduce the risks and improve the results.

INVESTING . . .

Growth and Income

FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT

Investment for great-grandfather was a simple matter. He just bought Consols and lived on the interest. But taxation, death duties, and inflation have done away with all that. Investment nowadays calls for something very much more sophisticated and personalized.

Investors today are all too often men—or women—who are short on capital but long on income. They are consequently not concerned to invest inherited monies for immediate yield; they aim to maximise the appreciation in the value of their capital during their working lives. And then hope to turn to an income oriented policy when they retire.

If that is your situation read on. If not and all you need is a high return on your money with reasonable liquidity should you need to dip into the capital, there are some juicy yields around on industrial loan stocks and on long dated gilt-edged. For example two-figure coupons are attached to the loan stocks of leading companies such as Court Line, Industrial and Commercial Finance Corporation and Imperial Tobacco Co with yields that exceed 9%. And among the long dated British Government stocks 8.7 per cent is the going rate on Treasury 9% Stock 1992/96 which is currently priced around 103½. Or there are the now popular Property and Guaranteed Income Bonds where 6 or 7 per cent net of tax can be drawn off each year. Abbey Property Bond is the biggest of these with assets exceeding £90m. City of Westminster Property Bond is the oldest of them and it has appreciated 63 per cent since it was issued in August 1966.

But to revert to the capital builders. Look first to see what the Chancellor has done for you, not only this year but last. You can now borrow money and get tax relief on the interest you pay. This means that if you pay the standard rate tax, money borrowed at 2% above bank rate, costs around 4¼% net in interest, after the first £35 a year which does not qualify for relief.

This tax concession is clearly designed to benefit the middle income groups. By exempting the first £35 from tax relief and excluding hire purchase interest it does little for the very small borrower. But on the other hand neither does it open the door to the short dated gilt-edged bonanza which previously was so attractive to the high surtax payer. It does however mean that it is now a viable proposition to borrow money for life assurance or endowment policies. And the leading offices can be expected to produce schemes under which say 75 per cent of the premium costs can be borrowed, with tax relief and this will have the affect of gearing up sharply the return on the actual funds employed. For example it would mean that where you have £100 available, an endowment policy costing say £400 a year could be taken out using loan facilities for the balance of the £300. And "borrow-all" policies are not unknown.

Also the ability to borrow money for investment in specified securities is again being offered by certain brokers and life offices. The one time popular London & Manchester scheme based on loans for investment trusts of your own choice again become an attractive proposition.

These new Budget changes follow upon, and make even more attractive the enhanced provision that the self-employed were allowed to make under new provisions of last year's Finance Act. Anybody who is self-employed can now apply in a pensions policy and get tax relief on 15% of their net relevant income; or on £1,500 whichever is the smaller. Before last year the maxima were 10 per cent or £750 respectively. This means that a man who is approaching the age of 40 who is prepared to save £100 a year can get a guaranteed basic pension of £435.90 at the age of 65 or with bonuses at say £4 a year an estimated pension of £889 a year. This will continue to rise at £13.08 a year after the pension has commenced so that five years later it will be £954.64. It is Investing for retirement?

Tyndall have exactly the right answer

Many people over 50 want to invest money for use in retirement, quite apart from whatever pension they may have. The Tyndall 3-way Fund meets that need admirably.

This Fund is invested three ways—in property, in gilt-edged securities and in stocks and shares. So it should produce a steadier rate of growth with greater security than any single kind of investment could provide. Yet the growth should be high enough to protect you from inflation. At today's rate of inflation no fixed interest investment, such as a building society or a deposit at the bank, can give you this protection.

The investment is in an assurance fund which gives the investor certain tax advantages. But there are no age limits, and no extra charges or medical requirements for older people. You can also draw out the money at any time without penalty.

6% tax-free income

If you need a cash income, you can choose the optional withdrawal plan, to give 6% a year of the value of your holding, free of income tax and capital gains tax. The payments are made half yearly. You can start a withdrawal plan when you first invest or change to one later.

The minimum lump sum investment is £1,500. You can also invest by regular payments from £10 a month with tax relief. The Tyndall 3-way Fund opened in March 1971 with units priced at 100p. At the 15th March 1972 Valuation Day, the value of the units was 127p.

There is also a Tyndall Personal Pension Plan through which you can invest with full tax exemption.

Post off the coupon now to bring you a booklet giving full details of the Fund and how to invest in it.

guaranteed for five years certain. In the event of death before pension age all the contributions are refundable plus interest at the rate of 3 per cent compound and the 1971 Act also entitles the policy holder to commute part of the pension for a lump sum. This lump sum can be almost as much as the net aggregate cost of the premiums and still leave a pension equal to about two-thirds of the original sum. And most of the big offices have something similar to offer.

For the more venturesome—the do-it-yourself investor—the stock market still provides the biggest opportunities. Notwithstanding a 60 per cent increase in Ordinary share prices over the past year (as measured by the Financial Times Share Index) there could still be plenty to go for in terms of appreciation, as and when the Government's reflationary programme gives company profits the boost that it should do. Industrial profits are expected to rise this year by a further 15 per cent after last year's improvement at around that rate. So even to match the peak investment rating which the equity market saw at the top of the 1966/68 bull market when the average price-earnings multiple topped 23—against 19.5 now—there could be a further 20% rise in prices that would lift the FT Ordinary Index to over 600 by the end of this year.

But again capital gearing is important and if the investor doesn't want to borrow money himself to lever up the impact of price rises on the result of his investment, he should look at those companies which are themselves highly geared. And in this respect few come close to matching what are known as the "Dual Capital Trusts." The principle of the DCT's is that the issued capital is divided into two classes. Both are equities, as opposed to the old style Preference and Ordinary share split. One class the Income share takes all, or virtually all the income the other class Capital Shares takes no income but gets all the appreciation that develops in the portfolio represented by the company's two class capital.

Understandably the dual capital trusts have outpaced the traditional investment trusts in performance. Against an average appreciation of around 34 per cent by 200 representative traditionals last year, the Capital shares of the Leda Investment Trust, which is one of the dynamic dual funds rose by 78½ per cent and New Throgmorton by 106½ per cent. Capital gearing which does a lot for performance in a bull market however, operates the other way when the market turns to the growth portfolio operator needs to switch his investments to accord with changes in the market climate.

Interest rates offered to big investors and small savers alike are many and varied, but each investment has its own particular set of terms and conditions.

Some investments tie up your savings for a fixed period of years, whilst others offer prompt withdrawal facilities.

Some are designed to provide regular income; others offer capital growth. Either may or may not be taxable.

Both may incorporate life assurance and the income tax relief then obtainable can further improve the attractiveness of the investment.

It's all very confusing unless you are a financial expert. How else can you choose a plan to suit your own particular needs and be safe in the knowledge that the Company to which you are to entrust your savings is absolutely secure?

Whether you are interested in saving a monthly sum out of salary, or making a single investment, you would be wise to consult the experts at the M.I.A. They are there to help you, as they have helped thousands of your colleagues their advice is free and entirely without obligation.

New Save and Prosper Balanced Investment Bonds

Each investment sector has its own particular characteristics. But there are many people who have long wanted a way to combine the characteristics of each of the major investment media in one single package. It is for these people that Save and Prosper Balanced Investment Bonds were created, to offer them a highly diversified portfolio consisting of equities, property and fixed-interest securities – all in one single investment aiming for long-term growth.

Equities. Part of the Fund is currently invested in the ordinary shares of carefully selected leading British companies through the medium of the Save and Prosper Equity Bond Fund.

Property. Part of the Fund is currently invested in first-class commercial and industrial properties through the medium of the Save and Prosper Property Fund.

Fixed-Interest. The remaining part of the Fund is currently invested in Government securities and on short-term deposit to provide liquidity and a secure income. An important use of this part of the Fund will be for the short-term placing of new money should the managers want to delay investment in equities or property until a more favourable time.

The Fund's managers will invest new money received by the Fund in each of the three media in the proportions they consider will provide the best balance for long-term investors, and the Fund's performance will reflect the price movements of the underlying investments in accordance with their proportion of the Fund. The managers have complete freedom in the future to invest in all kinds of property, equity and fixed-interest securities.

An opportunity for growth

The Bond Fund is divided into units, an appropriate number of which are allocated to your Bond. Units can increase in value both from the re-investment of all income arising from the Fund net of income tax, and from increases in the capital value of the Fund net of a deduction for tax on capital gains.

Of course, there can be no guarantee of future performance as property values and share prices (on both of which your Bond's performance largely depends) can go down as well as up, particularly in the short-term. But we believe that over the long-term, property and share values should continue their upward trend and Bonds are essentially an investment for the long-term.

The table below shows how an outlay of £1,000 in a Balanced Investment Bond could build up over the years, at assumed annual growth rates of 5%, 7½% and 10% respectively.

Over:	£1,000 can grow to:
	at 5%	at 7½%	at 10%
10 years	£ 1,540	£ 1,950	£ 2,460
15 years	1,970	2,810	3,960
20 years	2,520	4,030	6,390

A special Income Facility

If you invest £1,000 or more in a Balanced Investment Bond you can, either at the outset or later, take a half-yearly Income Facility payment, paid to you with no personal income tax liability. You may choose a rate of 4%, 5%, 6%, 7% or 8% per year. (But see Tax advantages – Surtax.)

These payments are provided by realising, at the current bid price, an appropriate number of the units allocated to your Bond. We intend to realise sufficient units to ensure that no payment is less than the previous one, and these payments will rise if the value of your Bond rises.

You should remember that the price of Balanced Investment Bond units will fluctuate, and that if their price goes down more units will be cashed to maintain your payment level. The growth in value of units over the years should mean that it is unlikely that at lower rates of payment there would be any loss in the original value of your Bond over the long-term. But there could be some risk of this at higher rates.

The table below shows the effect of a payment level of 6% per year on a £1,000 outlay, at an assumed annual growth rate of 7½%. This is a payment level that we believe will provide a suitable balance between immediate return and future capital value.

Year	Bid value of £1,000 outlay at end of year	Payment at 6% level
1	960	61
2	970	62
3	980	63
4	991	63
5	1,000	64

Income Facility payments are made every 31st March and 30th September. Bonds acquired during the six weeks preceding either of these dates qualify for payment on the next-but-one payment date.

Automatic life insurance cover

Should you die while your Bond is in force your dependants would receive the bid value of the units credited to your Bond or the guaranteed life cover as shown below, whichever is the greater.

Age next birthday when you start	Your guaranteed life cover as a percentage of your outlay
up to 30	200
31-40	170
41-45	140
46-55	110
56-80	100
81 and over	95

The life insurance cover may be reduced for those in poor health, but the amount invested is not affected.

If you take advantage of the Income Facility, the life insurance cover would be reduced in proportion to the number of units surrendered.

Tax advantages

Income Tax and Capital Gains Tax: You have no personal income tax or capital gains tax liability connected with the Bond while it is in force. Nor will you incur any personal liability to these taxes when you come to cash in your Bond, either wholly or in part through the Income Facility (but see Surtax). The Fund's liability to tax on its capital gains and on income is allowed for in the quoted prices of Balanced Investment Bond units.

Surtax: All net income arising from the Balanced Investment Bond Fund is automatically re-invested to increase the value of your units and no personal liability to surtax is incurred on this re-invested income.

However, when you surrender your policy (whether wholly or in part through the Income Facility) or in the event of your earlier death, there could be a surtax assessment on the increase in value of the surrendered Bond units depending on your overall tax position at that time.

1905 An important year for coffee lovers

It was the year Dr. Ludwig Roselius discovered how to remove caffeine from coffee without altering its flavour.

Since then, thanks to him and his Kaffee H.A.G., no one need say "No" to coffee! Today, in nearly every country in the world, the Medical Profession is recommending it increasingly in cases where caffeine is contra indicated.

BACKACHE? SCIATICA?

"If exercises do not work,
try a corset"

(The Practitioner, Vol. 208, "The Management of Low Back Pain and Sciatica").

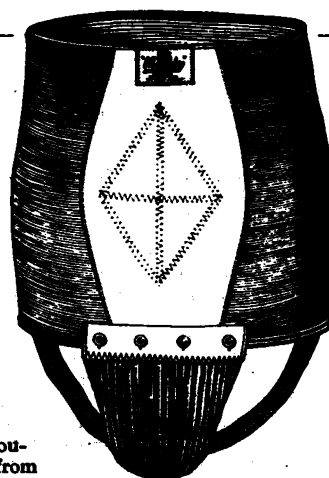

Relief from lumbar pain can be obtained by exercises or wearing a corset.

However, many sufferers need not go to these extremes. This is where the "MANLY" belt has proved so helpful.

The "Manly" is the modern approach. Comfortable, convenient . . . no bones, laces or buckles . . . and invisible when worn.

Over two decades, thousands of male sufferers from various forms of backache have gained relief by wearing the "Manly." (Also imparts invaluable abdominal support).

Medicine in a Tropical Environment

Medicine in a Tropical Environment is intended for medical students and doctors working in tropical and developing countries. The essays bring together specific problems of the tropical environment which have been the subject of recent investigation, and the authors write on them from personal experience. Little of the material on which the essays are based was available more than five years ago. The book should stimulate the interest of students, doctors, and non-medical scientists in trying to solve some of the problems raised in almost every chapter. To doctors in temperate climates preparing themselves for medical work in developing parts of the world Medicine in a Tropical Environment is essential reading.

Diseases of the Urinary Tract

One of the most rapidly growing specialties over the last few years has been that of urology. Many doctors now in practice could not have been taught much of the present-day management of many urinary tract diseases. Last year the B.M.J. published a series of "Current Practice" articles on diseases in the urinary tract, and these have now been collected together in a booklet. Beside articles on the newer aspects of the specialty, the booklet contains articles on established methods of managing renal disorders. Any doctor who wishes to bring himself up to date on modern practice in this field will find this a readable account of the important aspects of the specialty.

Lundbeck in Britain

Lundbeck Limited is backed by all the experience and scientific resources of H.Lundbeck & Co. of Copenhagen and Aktiebolaget Leo of Helsingborg, Sweden. We are thus a research-based pharmaceutical house with firmly established laboratories employing more than 300 staff on research and development alone.

Our manufacturing experience, too, goes back many years, during which we have developed a devotion to quality control that is one of our most cherished traditions.

From our laboratories have come advances in the fields of antibiotics, hormones, sulphonamides, and psychotropic drugs, which are recognised, in terms of prescription, by the doctors of over 40 countries.

One of these countries is Britain, where already many of our contributions are well known and widely used.

Current research projects are concentrating on cancer, mental illness, and inflammatory diseases. New products of Lundbeck research will become available here during 1972 and we will provide full details through our medical information services.

A doctor without insurance must have nerves of steel.

Just think about the number of times you've seen patients struck down by a serious illness.

Just think about the tragic consequences when they haven't got adequate insurance cover. It's a rather unhappy story.

And as a doctor you're in a better position than most to realise that the chances of this happening are greater than the majority of people think.

So if you haven't adequate insurance yourself, that's something you should be feeling rather nervous about.

Luckily there's a simple answer. A policy with the Medical Sickness Society. The mutual society founded to take care of the insurance needs of doctors and dentists.

The Medical Sickness Society
understands the problems of your profession.

It can advise on the type of insurance a doctor needs.

Be it life cover, a pension plan, sickness and accident insurance, an equity-linked savings plan or just plain advice about your insurance problems.

But contact us now.

You could feel a lot better for it.

"... a well-grown boy of six years swallowed 16 tablets (80mg) of nitrazepam [Mogadon]. He was admitted to hospital for observation and slept soundly through the night. He awoke next morning and promptly demanded his breakfast."¹

Now you can sleep easy

Against a background of increasing concern about the danger of barbiturate poisoning (as few as 20 or 30 tablets may prove fatal), the advent of Mogadon must be of considerable importance. Indeed, Mogadon "... appears to be as nearly as safe as a drug can be."² Even as many as 80 tablets have produced no untoward effects. Moreover, a recent trial in the B.M.J. showed Mogadon comparable in effect to butobarbitone.³ When such a drug exists, should you risk using anything else?

Penbritin Territory

Penbritin destroys the bacteria which commonly cause upper respiratory infections and otitis media. Its spectrum of activity includes streptococci—now less sensitive to tetracyclines than they were—and Haemophilus influenzae. This pathogen often causes otitis media in the young and is insensitive to oral penicillins V and G.

Penbritin's decisive bacteria-destroying action, so important in treating infections in children, contrasts with the tetracyclines and erythromycins which merely inhibit bacterial growth.

As a penicillin Penbritin has a well-documented record of safety. In contrast it has been suggested that tetracyclines are "absolutely contra-indicated for children aged under 8" because of serious effects on tooth development. (Brit. med. J. (1970), 4, 509).

Acceptability is important in choosing an antibiotic for children. Penbritin syrup, paediatric tablets and the new paediatric suspension are extremely acceptable to the young. And at the normal children's dosage, Penbritin syrup's N.H.S. cost is just 8½p a day.

Usual children's dosage: 125mg. q.i.d. ½–1 hr a.c.

Contra-indication: Penicillin hypersensitivity.

Side effects: As with other penicillins.

How many of your arthritic patients could benefit from Brufen?

A recent study* in nearly 1000 patients has shown very clearly the extent to which Brufen is effective in the treatment of arthritis. On Brufen, 70% of these arthritic patients improved – and improved consistently in the real terms of less pain, greater mobility. Experience shows that 7 out of every 10 arthritic patients respond well to Brufen.

Brufen is ibuprofen in tablets of 200 mg; also as a suspension. Full information is available from Medical Marketing, The Boots Company Ltd., Nottingham.

Just think!

In the literature regarding the efficacy of ear wax solvents conclusions have been drawn based wholly on in vitro studies but their validity in clinical practice has been questioned.

A recently published report of in vitro studies of ear wax solvents with a controlled clinical trial, probably the first carefully designed and controlled work on the subject, compared the efficacy of six widely used solvents and again confirmed the importance of in vivo studies.

Cerumol was found to be the only product significantly more effective than the control.

The first Queen's Award to the Beecham Group came in 1966. For 'technological innovation', in developing our range of penicillins. And for 'export achievement'.

The importance of the Beecham penicillins has been further recognised by awards for export achievement in 1970, 1971 and now again in 1972. Their value is confirmed by the large and continuing volume of clinical papers from the medical profession itself. Penbritin* alone has now a total of over 2,500 references.

The case for treating chronic urinary tract infection with new Hiprex

Hiprex can eliminate urinary infection in eight out of ten patients

Hiprex is effective against the organisms which most commonly cause urinary tract infection. Success rates of more than 80 per cent have been reported in clinical trials.

Hiprex can end the frustration of treatment failure

Unlike other agents, notably antibiotics, sulphonamides and nalidixic acid, Hiprex is unlikely to produce bacterial resistance – a major cause of treatment failure. Hiprex has proved effective even when other treatment has failed.

Hiprex is especially suitable when long-term treatment is indicated

Hiprex does not lose its effect during prolonged use and for this reason is of particular value in persistent and recurrent urinary infections. Minor side-effects have been reported in fewer than four per cent of patients, and no serious adverse reactions have been reported. Treatment costs are kept low – as little as 4p a day.

Hiprex improves the prospects of co-operation in long-term use

Published reports stress that Hiprex can overcome the major difficulty of ensuring uninterrupted therapy. All but refractory cases respond to a simple twice-daily dosage, normally without need for special measures to acidify the urine.

Composition Each tablet contains hexamine hippurate 1 g. Indications The treatment of urinary tract infections, such as pyelitis, cystitis and urethritis, but excluding acute pyelonephritis. The treatment of chronic pyelonephritis, and as maintenance therapy after successful antibiotic treatment of acute pyelonephritis. The treatment of asymptomatic bacteriuria, including that occurring during pregnancy. Prophylaxis before and after urological surgery. Dosage Adults: 1 tablet twice daily. Children: 6-12 years: $\frac{1}{2}$ tablet twice daily. In refractory cases, the dosage may be increased to: 1 tablet three or four times daily in adults. $\frac{1}{2}$ tablet three or four times daily in children aged 6-12 years. Doses in excess of those recommended may cause severe bladder irritation, haematuria, albuminuria or painful micturition. Alkalinuria Some patients may have an alkaline urine as a result of a predominantly vegetarian diet or occasionally due to Proteus or Pseudomonas infection. In these cases, additional acidification may be necessary to lower the urinary pH to the level required to degrade the hexamine moiety. Administration of ascorbic acid 1 g. four times daily is recommended in these cases. Side-effects Occasionally, rashes, gastric irritation, or irritation of the bladder may occur. With prolonged administration at high dosage, the latter may lead to haematuria. All side-effects are reversible on withdrawal of the drug. Treatment of side-effects Patients experiencing painful micturition or bladder irritation should be instructed to discontinue the medication. Prompt relief of these symptoms can be obtained by the consumption of copious quantities of water and 2-3 teaspoonfuls of bicarbonate of soda. Contraindications Renal insufficiency, hepatic insufficiency or severe dehydration. Hiprex is also contra-indicated as the principal therapeutic agent in acute parenchymal infections of the kidney. Basic N.H.S. prices 100 tablets £2.00. Hiprex: registered trade mark. Without
SYNACTHEN[®]
DEPOT
he wouldn't even try.

For the asthmatic child, blowing up a balloon may be an impossible task. Synacthen Depot relieves bronchospasm and improves respiration; lets him join in the fun again.

Synacthen Depot is as effective as oral steroids, but it doesn't have the same well known side effects — adrenal suppression, difficulty of withdrawal, and growth retardation in children.

Synacthen Depot also has many advantages over animal ACTH — easier injection, longer action and constant composition.

"Yes, I feel better than I've felt for weeks, doctor"

our anti-nauseant

Vertigo. Migraine. Gastric disturbance. Whatever the cause of nausea and vomiting, 'Stemetil' can be relied upon to bring welcome relief – quickly, effectively and with a tolerance one would expect of a preparation boasting more than 13 years' successful clinical use.

does that little bit more

In addition to its anti-nauseant action, 'Stemetil' exerts a mild tranquillizing effect which helps the patient cope with both physical and mental discomfort. In fact, 'Stemetil' frequently makes patients feel not just better, but better than they've felt for some time. Moreover, because it combines two effects in the one prescription item, 'Stemetil' makes economic, as well as therapeutic sense.

There are two ways of using Hygroton® in hypertension

Hygroton® alone

effectively reduces raised blood-pressure and for early treatment provides day-long control without disturbing autonomic or CNS side-effects

Hygroton® combined with other antihypertensive drugs enhances their effect, prevents fluid retention and helps to avoid unacceptable side-effects by allowing the use of a lower dose of these agents

Availability

Hygroton® is available as white, scored compressed tablets containing 100 mg and as pale yellow, scored, compressed tablets containing 50 mg.
