Penbritin Territory

Right from the time they're too young to tell you where it hurts, treatment of children poses special problems. During this period, more than ever, the antibiotic you prescribe should ideally be safe—and sure.

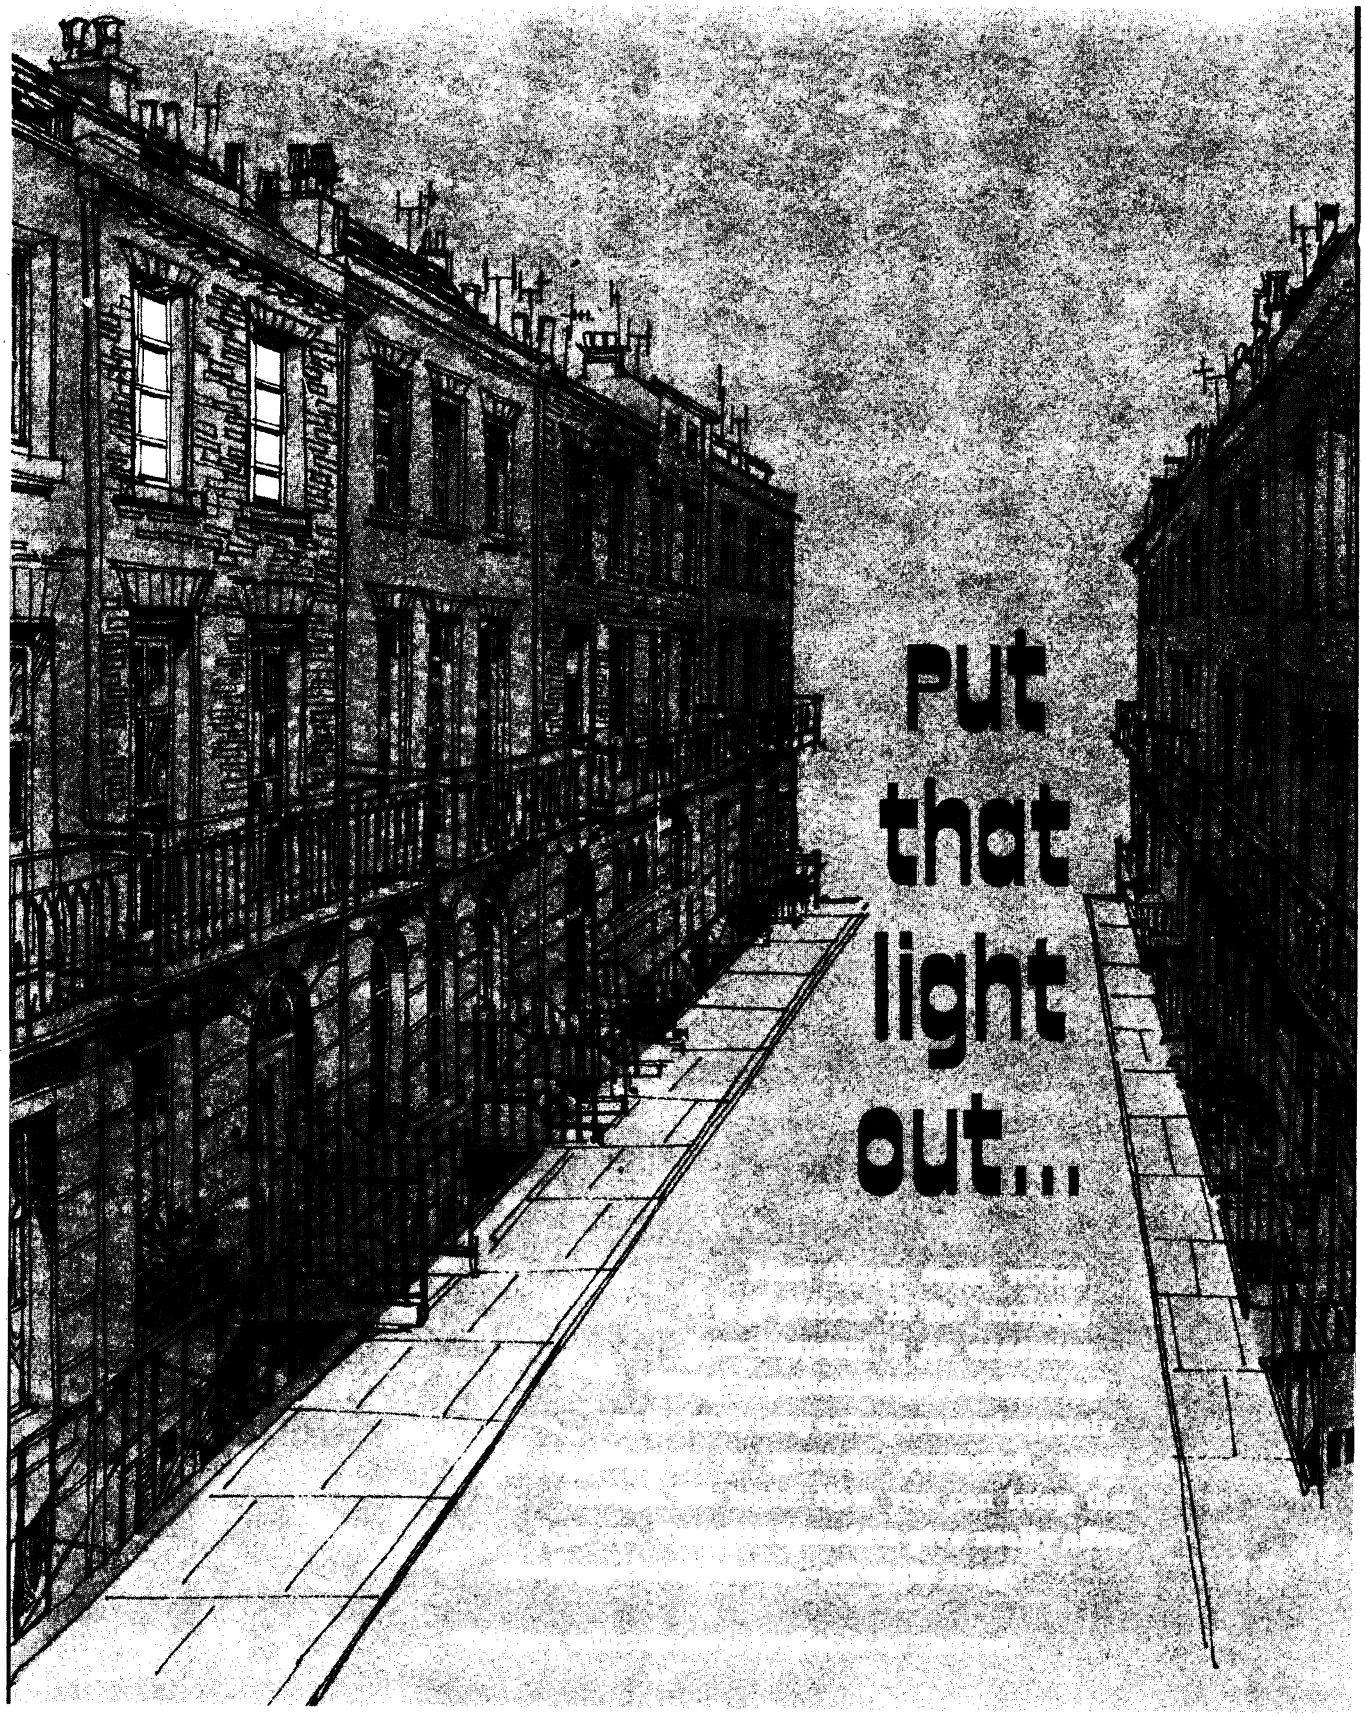

The effectiveness of Penbritin and its safety as a penicillin are well-established. In contrast, tetracyclines are "absolutely contra-indicated for children aged under 8" because of serious effects on tooth development (Brit. med. J. (1970), 4, 509).

For the under two's, acceptability is of great importance. Penbritin paediatric suspension provides it—in an easily administered form. Syrup and paediatric tablets for the older child complete the Penbritin paediatric range.

In Paediatric Territory there's really only one choice.

MODURETIC® DIURETIC

'Moduretic' provides a smooth and highly effective diuresis and, at the same time, helps the body to conserve its natural potassium. These features are of additional benefit when, perhaps unknown to the physician, an oedematous patient is also living on a diet which is low in potassium.

'Moduretic' offers a most acceptable alternative to the numerous and often unpalatable potassium supplements required during prolonged diuretic therapy. Oral potassium should not be given with 'Moduretic'.

By conserving the body's natural potassium, 'Moduretic' helps the patient whose symptoms of weakness and lethargy are not 'just old age', but are in fact caused by potassium depletion.

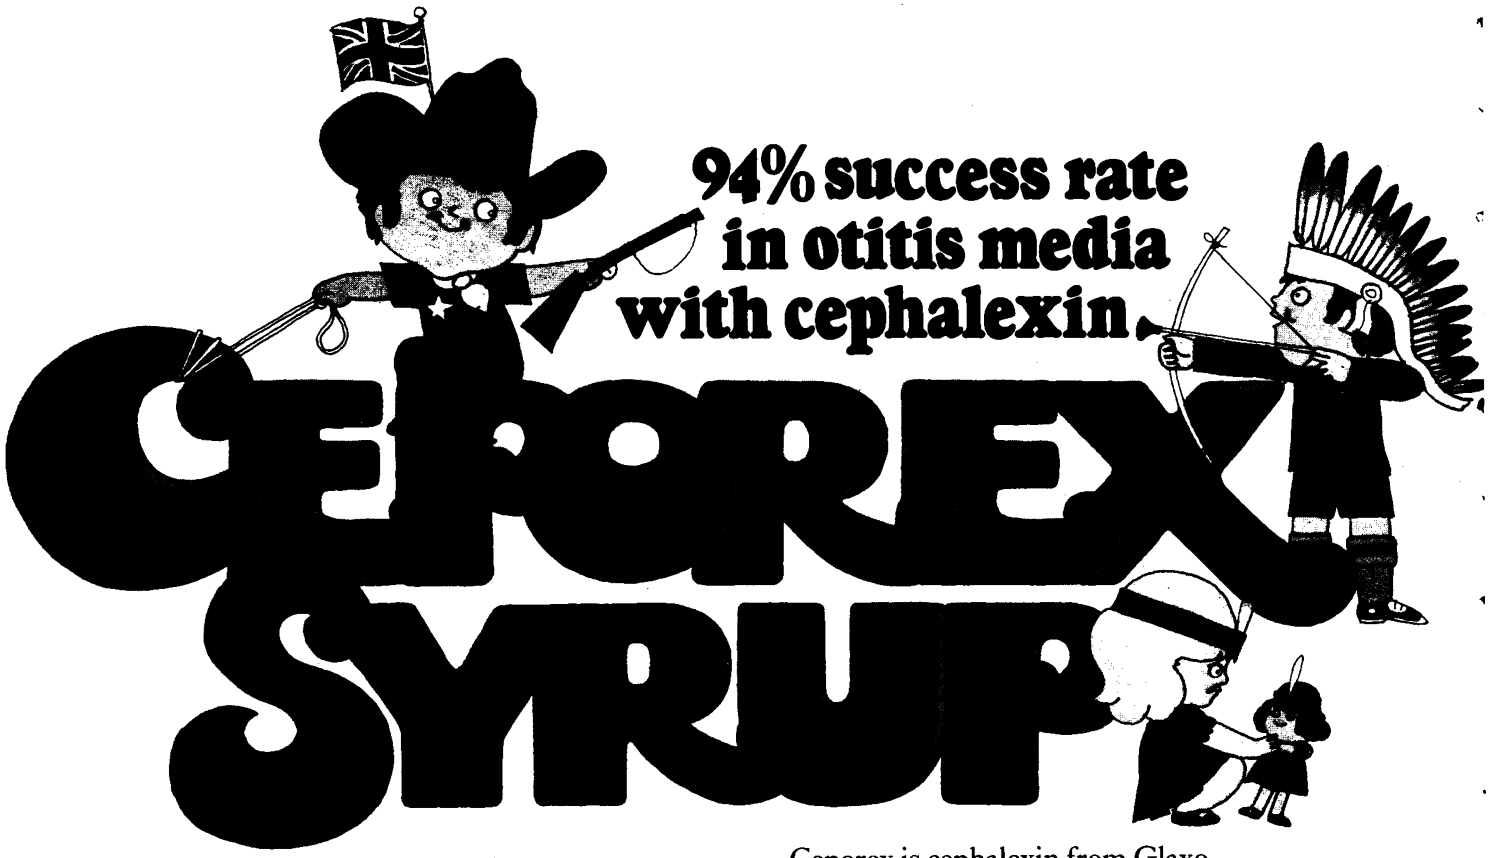

'Moduretic' should always be considered for oedematous patients who also require digitalis. The potassium-conserving effect of 'Moduretic' can play an important part in reducing the risk of digitalis intoxication.

a highly effective diuretic that entirely obviates the need for potassium supplements

'Moduretic' is available as peach-coloured, diamond-shaped tablets containing 5 mg amiloride hydrochloride and 50 mg hydrochlorothiazide. Detailed information is available to physicians on request. ® denotes registered trademark.

Ceporex is cephalexin from Glaxo

When a child has otitis media, you can trust Ceporex (cephalexin) to reduce the risks and improve the results of therapy. Recent reports[1] show that cephalexin has attained a 94% success rate in acute otitis media. These results have been achieved with a remarkably low incidence of side effects, whereas with ampicillin sensitivity rashes and diarrhoea are becoming increasingly common.

Ceporex is ideally suited for the treatment of otitis media. It is as effective as the penicillins against the pathogens responsible for the infection, but produces a lower incidence of side effects. It is also effective against the penicillin-resistant staphylococci and can normally be used safely in patients hypersensitive to the penicillins. And Ceporex achieves a rapid result since it produces high blood levels within an hour of administration, penetrates the tissues quickly and is not metabolised in the body, so it remains fully active to fight infection.

Ceporex Syrup has a pleasant black-currant flavour which encourages children to finish the course. It comes in two strengths for children: 125mg and 250mg.

Children get on well with Ceporex Syrup

Ceporex safety

"Considering its efficacy and the relative freedom from side effects, we conclude that it is as good a drug as penicillin G and certainly is a valuable addition to the therapeutic armamentarium of beta-haemolytic streptococcal infections in children."[1] (89 children wit beta-haemolytic streptococcal infections.)

"The response to therapy was uniformly good, and no significant toxic effects were encountered."[2]

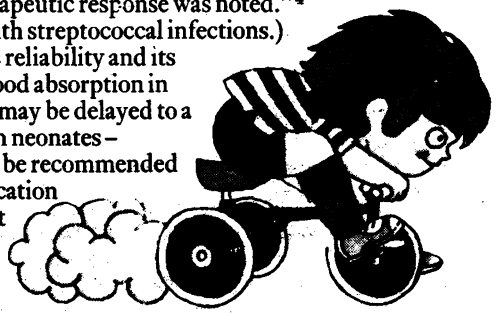

"Cephalexin appears to be a highly effective drug in the treatment of bacterial pneumonias of older infants and children who are able to take oral medication. The drug has the added advantage of low toxicity."[2]
(55 children with bacterial pneumonia.)

Ceporex speed

"The clinical response to cephalexin was prompt. Fever subsided within the first 24 hours after initiating therapy."[3]
(30 children with pneumonia.)

"A rapid therapeutic response was noted."[4]
(185 children with streptococcal infections.)

"... due to its reliability and its exceptionally good absorption in infants – which may be delayed to a certain degree in neonates – cephalexin may be recommended as the oral medication of choice against sensitive organisms in newborns."[5]

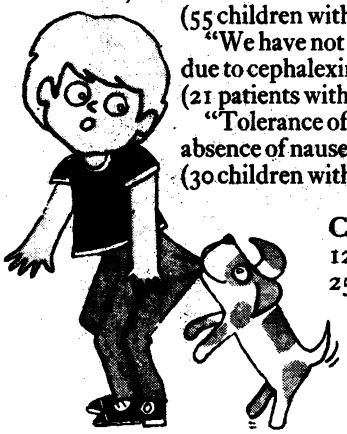

Less side effects with Ceporex

"No side effects from cephalexin were noted. The medication was accepted without difficulty. There was no nausea, vomiting or diarrhoea, and no rashes were observed."[2]
(55 children with bacterial pneumonia.)

"We have not encountered any side effects due to cephalexin."[6] (21 patients with cystic fibrosis.)

"Tolerance of the drug was satisfactory with absence of nausea, vomiting or diarrhoea."[3]
(30 children with pneumonia.)

THE FAT PATIENT

What makes some people fat? Weight stability depends upon a balance between calorie intake and metabolic expenditure. As knowledge has grown it has become necessary to review the problem of the great majority of people whose overweight was ascribed to overeating. It has been shown that they may have basic defects in their peripheral carbohydrate and fat metabolism.

Ponderax (fenfluramine), introduced in 1963, has been shown to be effective in producing weight loss in patients who had not responded or found dietary control of body weight difficult. In recommended dosage it is without signs of central stimulation, addiction or tolerance. Its principal actions are on glucose uptake and lipid turnover. It increases utilisation of carbohydrate.

Depixol

(flupenthixol decanoate)

the first non-phenothiazine long-acting neuroleptic injection for patients suffering from schizophrenia

Lundbeck Limited are pleased to announce the introduction of Depixol. It has

* inherent antidepressant activity
* lower incidence of side effects
* duration of action 2-4 weeks

Depixol is an effective antipsychotic indicated in the management of schizophrenic patients, particularly those who are withdrawn, apathetic or anergic.
The incidence of side effects with Depixol appears to be less than with long-acting phenothiazines.
Dosage and route of administration.
Depixol is administered by deep intramuscular injection. Treatment should be initiated with a test dose of 20 mg (1 ml) followed 7-10 days later by a further dose of 20-40 mg (1-2 ml), depending on the patient's response. Thereafter 20-40 mg (1-2 ml) should be given every 2-4 weeks.
Contra-indications and side effects.
Depixol is not recommended for patients who are overactive or excitable since its activating effect may lead to exaggeration of these characteristics. The commonest unwanted effects are extra-pyramidal symptoms. Occasional depressive reactions have been reported, but they appear to be less frequent than after other depot neuroleptics.
Depixol is a 2% solution of flupenthixol decanoate in thin vegetable oil. It is presented as 20 mg (1 ml) and 40 mg (2 ml) ampoules.
Depixol treatment should be initiated by a psychiatrist, preferably in hospital.

The case for treating chronic urinary tract infection with Hiprex

Hiprex can eliminate urinary infection in eight out of ten patients

Hiprex is effective against the organisms which most commonly cause urinary tract infection. Success rates of more than 80 per cent have been reported in clinical trials.

Hiprex can end the frustration of treatment failure

Unlike other agents, notably antibiotics, sulphonamides and nalidixic acid, Hiprex is unlikely to produce bacterial resistance—a major cause of treatment failure. Hiprex has proved effective even when other treatment has failed.

Hiprex is especially suitable when long-term treatment is indicated

Hiprex does not lose its effect during prolonged use and for this reason is of particular value in persistent and recurrent urinary infections. Minor side-effects have been reported in fewer than four per cent of patients, and no serious adverse reactions have been reported. Treatment costs are kept low—as little as 4p a day.

Hiprex improves the prospects of co-operation in long-term use

Published reports stress that Hiprex can overcome the major difficulty of ensuring uninterrupted therapy. All but refractory cases respond to a simple twice-daily dosage, normally without need for special measures to acidify the urine.

Composition Each tablet contains hexamine hippurate 1 g. Indications The treatment of urinary tract infections, such as pyelitis, cystitis and urethritis, but excluding acute pyelonephritis. The treatment of chronic pyelonephritis, and as maintenance therapy after successful antibiotic treatment of acute pyelonephritis. The treatment of asymptomatic bacteriuria, including that occurring during pregnancy. Prophylaxis before and after urological surgery. Dosage Adults: 1 tablet twice daily. Children: 6-12 years: ½ tablet twice daily. In refractory cases, the dosage may be increased to: 1 tablet three or four times daily in adults. ½ tablet three or four times daily in children aged 6-12 years. Tablets may be halved but should not be crushed. Alkalinuria Some patients may have an alkaline urine as a result of a predominantly vegetarian diet or occasionally due to Proteus or Pseudomonas infection. In these cases, additional acidification may be necessary to lower the urinary pH to the level required to degrade the hexamine moiety. Administration of ascorbic acid 2 g. daily in divided doses (either as powder or as tablets) is recommended in these cases. Side-effects Occasionally, rashes, gastric irritation, or irritation of the bladder may occur. With prolonged administration at high dosage, the latter may lead to haematuria. All side-effects are reversible on withdrawal of the drug. Treatment of side-effects If the symptoms of infection such as painful micturition or bladder irritation do not subside within seven days of starting treatment, or if such symptoms develop on prolonged treatment at high dosage, this probably indicates drug-induced bladder irritation. Prompt relief can be obtained by the consumption of copious quantities of water and 2-3 teaspoonsful of bicarbonate of soda. Contra-indications Hepatic insufficiency, severe dehydration, severe renal failure (serum creatinine level > 5 mg.%) or metabolic acidosis. Hiprex may be used where mild to moderate renal insufficiency is present. Hiprex is also contra-indicated as the principal therapeutic agent in acute parenchymal infections of the kidney. Hiprex should not be administered concurrently with sulphonamides owing to the danger of crystalluris, or with alkaling agents such as mixtures of potassium citrate. Basic N.H.S. price 100 tablets £2.00

In the best tradition of British

an excellent new antibiotic for routine treatment

URTI Chest infections UTI Skin and soft tissue infections

Amoxil is a new antibiotic with distinct advantages in routine treatment.

Amoxil has a broad spectrum of activity against the common bacterial pathogens encountered in practice and its bactericidal action means further confidence in its everyday use.

The most practical advantage of Amoxil is that its oral absorption is outstanding, giving extremely high serum and tissue levels, irrespective of the presence of food. This ensures rapid and decisive activity at all sites of infection, even the more inaccessible.

Extensive British clinical trials have demonstrated its efficacy and penicillin safety in the treatment of Upper Respiratory Tract Infections, Otitis Media, Bronchitis, Urinary Tract Infections, and Skin and Soft Tissue Infections.

Add to this a convenient t.d.s. dosage—ensuring undisturbed sleep—a wide range of highly acceptable presentations, treatment costing as little as 16p per day and it is easy to see why Amoxil is practical antibiotic therapy at its best.

ASTHMA

A lifetime of freedom begins with Intal

Before INTAL, a diagnosis of asthma often meant a life sentence of constantly aborting attacks with bronchodilators, antihistamines or steroids. Patients were constantly at risk from the relentless progress of lung damage and lived in perpetual fear of an asthmatic episode.

The discovery of INTAL (Sodium Cromoglycate BP) represents a turning point in the management of this distressing complaint. Newly diagnosed patients, as well as those of long standing, benefit from this entirely new approach to therapy. INTAL actually prevents the onset of asthmatic attacks, and is notably free from serious side effects.

By preventing asthma attacks the possibility of consequent lung damage may be avoided enabling the patients to lead a fuller, happier life. If they remember their daily INTAL – they can forget their asthma.

In the literature regarding the efficacy of ear wax solvents conclusions have been drawn based wholly on in vitro studies but their validity in clinical practice has been questioned.

A recently published report of in vitro studies of ear wax solvents with a controlled clinical trial, probably the first carefully designed and controlled work on the subject, compared the efficacy of six widely used solvents and again confirmed the importance of in vivo studies.

GYNAECOLOGY IN GENERAL PRACTICE

from the British Medical Journal

As in other branches of medicine, the pattern of gynaecological problems likely to be encountered by the general practitioner will probably change in the future. Moreover, many doctors now in practice were taught little about some of the topics which are important today and are likely to become even more so.

In 1971 the B.M.J. published a series of articles in the "Medical Practice" section discussing the management of various gynaecological disorders in a domiciliary setting. These have now been collected together as a booklet entitled Gynaecology in General Practice and provides a useful and up-to-date account of gynaecology in general practice.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL FOR ESSEX AND ESSEX LOCAL TRAINING SCHEME COMMITTEE

CHELMSFORD
VOCATIONAL TRAINING SCHEME
FOR GENERAL PRACTICE

The Executive Council for Essex, in conjunction with the Essex Local Training Scheme Committee, invites applications for the one year training scheme for general practice based on Chelmsford. Preference will be given to those who have already completed two years in post-registration posts in the hospital service, including an appointment in obstetrics. If the applicant has held recognized posts in the hospital service, participation in this scheme will qualify the applicant for the Vocational Training allowance. This Training Scheme is also approved by the Royal College of General Practitioners under similar conditions for the purpose of entry to its membership examination. A weekly half-day release course will be held at the Chelmsford Medical Academic Unit commencing on 12th September, 1972 and embracing three 12-week terms during the year. This day release course forms part of the Vocational Training Scheme run by St. Bartholomew's Hospital Medical College in conjunction with the Chelmsford Group of Hospitals, in which the Chelmsford General Practice Scheme forms the third year of a three year course.

Applications should be made as soon as possible but later applications may be considered as it will be possible to enter the Scheme during the year.

Salary and allowances will be in accordance with the N.H.S. Trainee Practitioner Scheme.

Applications giving full details of all previous medical experience and including the names of two referees should be sent to the undersigned. They will be considered by the Adviser to the Scheme who will arrange interviews with trainers taking part. S. H. A. Shaw, Clerk of the Council, Carnarvon House, Carnarvon Road, Clacton-on-Sea, Essex CO15 6QD. (H6498) 22

NEWCASTLE

REGIONAL ADMINISTRATIVE
SCIENTIFIC OFFICER
(Salary scale £4,800-£5,808 p.a.)
Applications are invited for the newly established post of Regional Administrative Scientific Officer. The successful applicant will be on the staff of the Senior Administrative Medical Officer and will have the particular responsibility for co-ordinating and developing the scientific services in the Newcastle Region, as recommended in Department of Health circulars and the 'Zuckerman' Report.
Candidates, who should be medically or non-medically qualified scientists, should have a broadly based rather than a specialist background, and should have the ability to plan and organize. Experience of the Hospital Service would be an advantage.
Applications, naming three referees should be made to the Secretary, Newcastle Regional Hospital Board, Benfield Road, Walker Gate, Newcastle upon Tyne NE6 4PY, from whom further particulars can be obtained, by the 10th July, 1972. (34831) 111

SHEFFIELD
REGIONAL HOSPITAL BOARD
Applications are invited from registered medical practitioners for two ASSISTANT SENIOR MEDICAL OFFICER posts, salary scale £4,017 — £5,409.
The Sheffield Region is one of the largest in the country and covers most of Derbyshire, Leicestershire, Rutland, Lincolnshire, Nottinghamshire and South Yorkshire. It is closely associated with major developments for the established medical schools at Nottingham and Sheffield and the new school at Leicester which is scheduled to take its first students in 1975.
The work of the Regional Board is undertaken by a series of multidisciplinary teams whose main duties are organized on an area basis with boundaries broadly aligned with the proposed new area health authorities. The officers to be appointed will assist the Senior Administrative Medical Officer in the planning and administration of the hospital services both by participating in the work of those teams and by undertaking specialty responsibilities appropriate to their previous experience.
Applicants should have a sound clinical background and have some knowledge of health services administration. Previous experience in hospital administration is desirable but not essential since in-service training will be provided, including attendance at appropriate courses.
Application forms (to be returned by 30th June, 1972) and further details from The Secretary, Old Fulwood Road, Sheffield S10 3TH quoting reference "C 32". (34729) 111

GOVERNMENTAL

Department of Health and Social Security

Deputy Chief Medical Officer

£9000 (under review)

The Department's medical work is shared by four Deputy Chief Medical Officers with direct responsibility to the Chief Medical Officer Sir George Godber G.C.B.

The successful candidate for this important post (graded Deputy Secretary) will be medically responsible for a wide range of subjects. Initially it is expected that he will deal, on the one hand, with international health and a number of scientific subjects including communicable disease, the chemical contamination of food and the environment, nutrition and the work of the Medicines Commission, and that he will also play a part in the planning and integration of the Department's research programme; on the other hand, he will take part in the development of community medicine including the medical aspects of the personal social services.

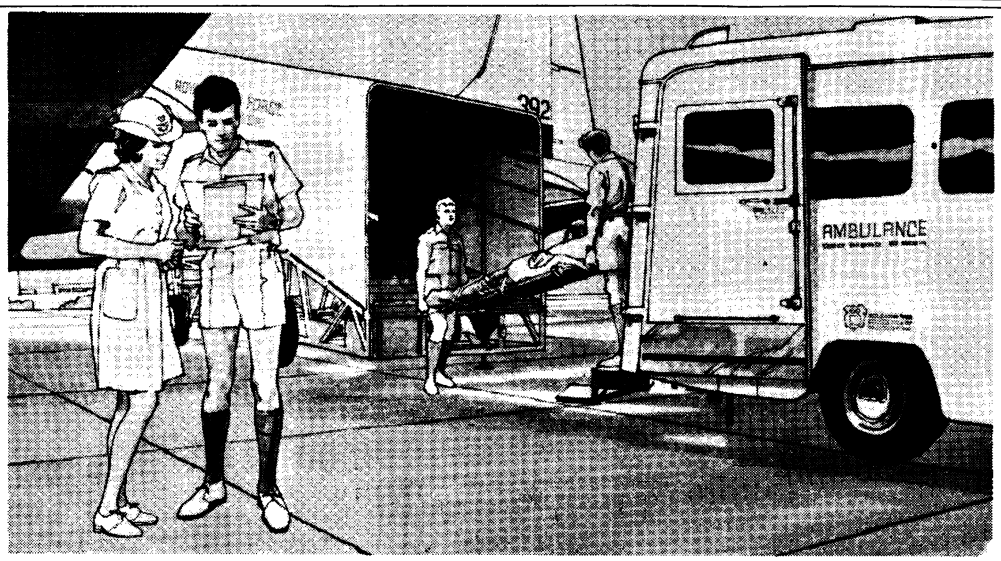

Candidates (men and women) must be of high standing and fully registered medical practitioners in the United Kingdom. They should have considerable administrative experience in senior positions and preferably some experience of professional activities at national level.

There is a non-contributory pension scheme and previous public service superannuation rights can normally be transferred.

Fuller details of this appointment may be obtained by writing to the Civil Service Commission, Alencon Link, Basingstoke, Hants., or by telephoning BASINGSTOKE 29222, ext. 500 or LONDON 01-839 1696 (24-hour "Ansafone" service) quoting reference S/7986/AM/2.
Closing date 3rd July 1972.

SERVICES

Flying. As well as being responsible for the medical care of aircrew, RAF doctors are encouraged to fly and thereby gain first-hand knowledge of the operational environments. Their responsibilities can also include aero-medical evacuation, by the RAF's remarkable long-range airborne ambulance service, using Britannias and VC10s of Air Support Command. In 1970 approximately 2000 patients were flown back to the United Kingdom. Equipment on the aircraft is most elaborate, and can include Radcliffe ventilators, dialysis machines, air-conditioned oxygen cots and a number of items specially designed by RAF consultants. A doctor—say a physician, a surgeon or an anaesthetist—may often be needed as part of the team to 'special' a patient.

Are you in your Pre-Registration Year —or recently fully registered?

Before you commit yourself to your permanent pattern of life, consider what the Royal Air Force has to offer.

The chance to practise total medical care, as a GP

Your first job would probably be a Junior Medical Officer on a large RAF Station. There would be at least one other doctor. Between you, you would have a 'list' of 2000 to 3000 people—servicemen and their families. You would meet all the usual clinical problems of a GP—and get plenty of experience in pediatrics. As well as this, you would be actively involved in the practice of aviation medicine and gain experience in the preventive, occupational and social fields.

Conditions of work are extremely good. You would have a consulting room in a specially built Medical Centre—like a small hospital with its own treatment room, theatre and resuscitation room, and wards for a dozen or so short-stay patients. There is a full secretarial and nursing staff. Your clinical freedom would be absolute.

The chance to specialise, too

Because General Practice is so highly developed in the RAF, this does not mean you have no chance to specialise. The contrary is true. 47% of all RAF doctors are now working in specialist departments. On a 'full career' contract you have every opportunity to reach consultant status in your late or middle thirties—perhaps earlier.

The chance to study for higher qualifications

Any RAF doctor, whether specialist or GP (as long as he is not on the very shortest of contracts) can apply for six months study leave on full salary. On a permanent commission, he may have up to two years' external study leave.

The chance to travel

The RAF operates in many different conditions and climates. Abroad, the RAF doctor looks after RAF personnel and their families and, very often, the local population as well. Your gain in clinical experience would be marked.

The chance of a good social and family life

The RAF is a young community, with a full and active social life. There are facilities for almost every kind of sport and, which is most important, the time to enjoy your family while you are still a young man. Living conditions are excellent. If you are single you live in the Officers' Mess, which has all the amenities of a good hotel. If you are married, you will nearly always have a furnished house that goes with the job; rent for this is very modest; and it can save a large financial outlay at the beginning of your career.

A realistic pay scale

Pay is based on the average earnings of a civilian GP. Immediately after full registration, the present basic salary is £3668; after 5 years it rises to £4424; after 13 years to £5453. There are various other allowances; for instance, with children at boarding school the figures are £330 (net) for one child, £723 (net) for two children, £1194 (net) for three children. There are tax-free gratuities of £1500 after 3 years, or £3000 after 5 years. After service of 16 years or more there is a pension, payable for life, and a generous terminal grant.

For full information please write, giving your age, nationality, and date of full registration, to Group Captain J. G. Donald, OBE, MB, ChB, MRCGP, DTM&H, RAF, Ministry of Defence, 1-6 Tavistock Square (724KB6), London, WC1H 9NL. Or visit your nearest RAF Careers Information Office.

power to stop pain crippling

The effect of PRINALGIN upon joint pain and function ranks with that of phenylbutazone or indomethacin, yet PRINALGIN has caused no serious side effects in any of the 4,500 patients treated in clinical trials.

PRINALGIN does not cause gastric erosions, blood dyscrasias or liver damage and has no hormonal actions.

Description and Presentation
PRINALGIN alclofenac (4-allyloxy -3-chlorophenylacetic acid) is a powerful new analgesic which shows marked anti-inflammatory action in animal experiments. Clinically, it has been compared favourably with phenylbutazone, indomethacin, pentazocine and morphine in well controlled double-blind trials. PRINALGIN tablets, each containing alclofenac 500 mg are available in packs of 100 and 500. (Basic N.H.S. cost of 100: £2.26)

Prescribing Information
Indications: Pain, especially in arthritis and rheumatism.
Dose: One or two tablets every 4–6 hours. In arthritic and rheumatic conditions 2 tablets 3 times daily, reducing this initial dose as symptoms are controlled.
Side Effects: PRINALGIN is very well tolerated and there are no serious side effects. There are occasionally reports of nausea and indigestion but these are rarely sufficient to warrant cessation of treatment. Occasionally cutaneous intolerance occurs but this is reversible on withdrawal of the drug. One case of possible hypersensitivity to PRINALGIN has been reported.

Precautions
There are no special precautions to be taken in the administration of PRINALGIN but, as with any drug, it should be administered with caution in cases of impaired renal or hepatic function and in diabetes. Although animal tests in several mammalian species have revealed no teratogenic effects, as with all new drugs PRINALGIN is not recommended during the first trimester of pregnancy.

“Treatment with Paroven significantly altered the PO_2, oxygen saturation, and the oxygen content of varicose vein blood and the oxygen extraction in tissues of varicose vein legs towards normal values. The improved venous blood oxygenation and the reduced tissue oxygen extraction indicated better tissue perfusion with less blood oxygen having been taken from the increased capillary blood flow.”

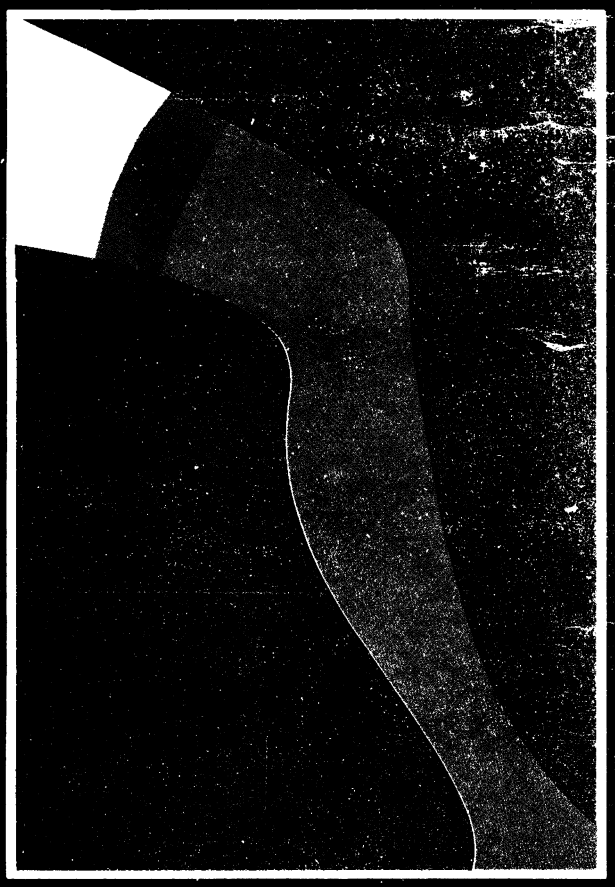

improves capillary flow relieves varicose disorders

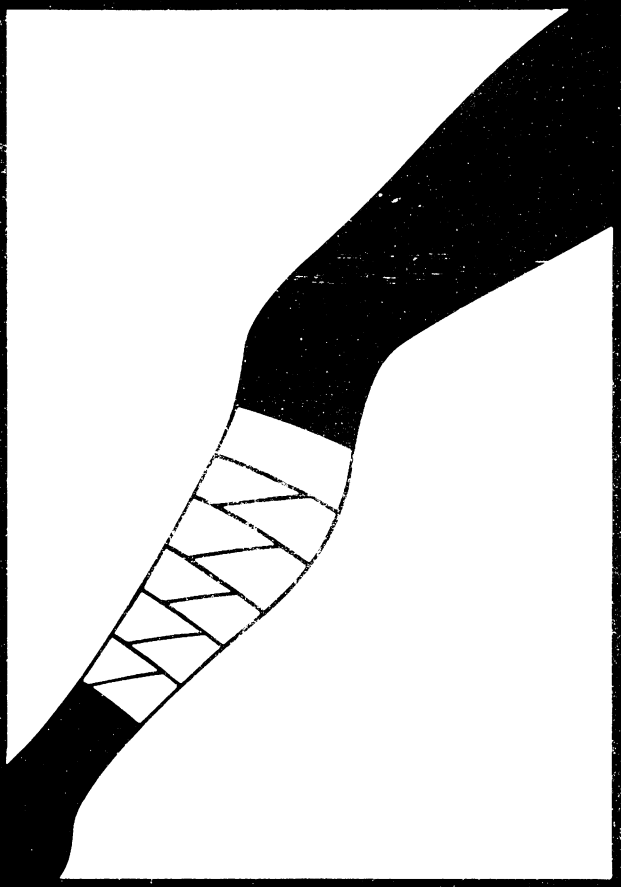

"The most obvious effect of treatment with HR (Paroven) is the very constant relief of night cramps, with an improvement exceeding 90 per cent".

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

"The degree of relief in chronic aching pain in the legs was not so marked (compared with 90% improvement in night cramps and 70% improvement in heaviness of the legs), but still amounted to 54 per cent".

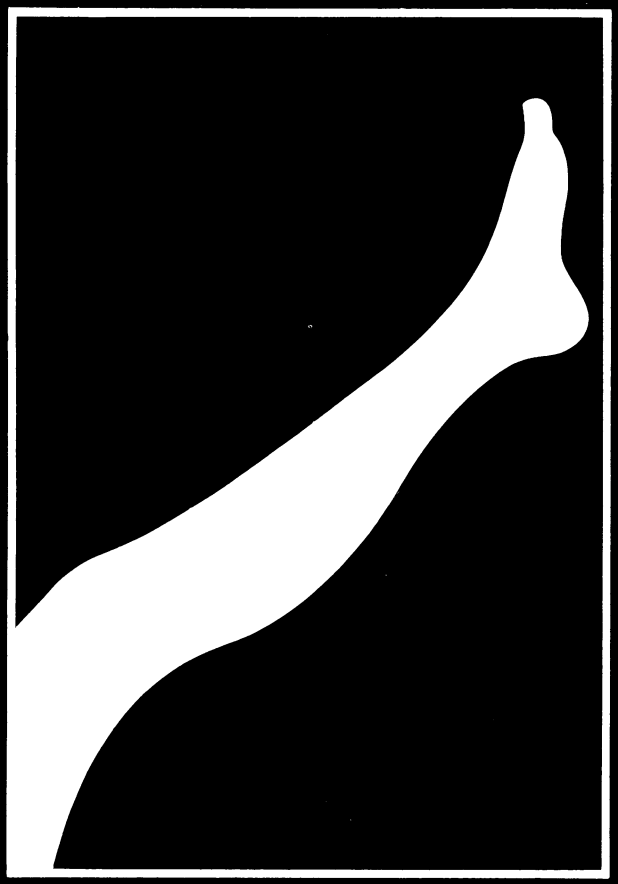

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

"Symptoms of heavy legs are improved in 70 per cent, and it was generally agreed that not only did legs feel lighter but the patients were more agile".

(Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161)

Long term treatment with PAROVEN®

in varicose veins and post phlebitic syndrome

Recent clinical and double blind trials [1,2,3] have confirmed that PAROVEN provides outstanding relief of symptoms due to chronic venous insufficiency or back pressure. Particularly good results were obtained in night cramps, heavy legs and chronic aching pain. Other symptoms which respond to long-term therapy with PAROVEN include: superficial thrombophlebitis, varicose ulcers, varicose eczema, ankle oedema, restless legs, paraesthesia, haemorrhoids.

Dosage. Initial treatment: 4 capsules a day, preferably with meals. In most cases, at least four weeks treatment with PAROVEN is required before significant benefit is felt. At the point where the patient experiences benefit, the dosage may be adjusted to a maintenance level. Maintenance treatment: 1-2 capsules a day.

Side effects and Precautions. In a few patients, slight gastro-intestinal disorders, flushes and headaches have been reported. These are usually overcome by taking the capsules with meals or by slight adjustment of dosage. There are no known contra-indications to PAROVEN; it is virtually non-toxic and has no teratogenic effects. In keeping with current teaching and practice its use during the first trimester should, however, be avoided.

Availability. Capsules, each containing 250 mg of O – (β - hydroxyethyl) – rutosides (not less than 45% troxerutin), in bottles of 20 and 100 capsules.
