DALMANE

a new and powerful treatment for insomnia

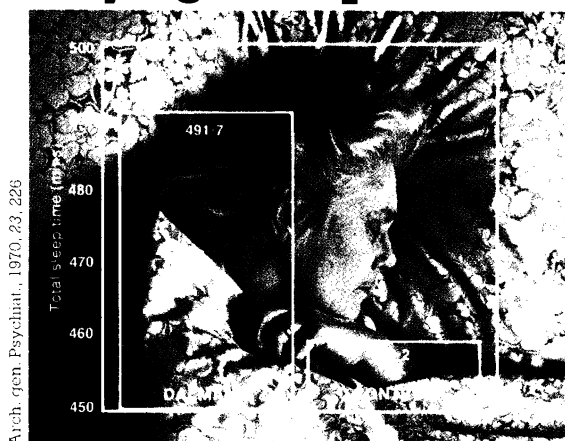

Getting to sleep

Patients asleep in less than half the time

Clinical trials¹⁻³ have shown that Dalmane cuts sleep latency – the time taken to get to sleep – by half. In one study³ Dalmane reduced the average sleep latency in a group of insomniacs from 36.2 minutes to 13.9 minutes.

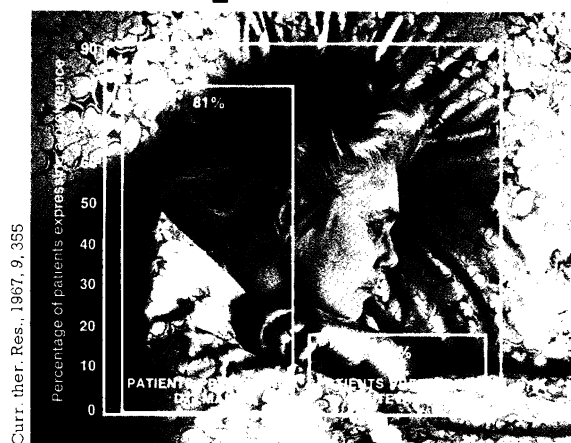

Staying asleep

Average sleep of more than 8 hours

Dalmane increased the duration of sleep to – in one published study³ – an average of 8 hours 11.7 minutes in patients who had previously suffered from insomnia. Dalmane also reduces the number of nocturnal awakenings^{1,4} and the actual length of time spent awake during the night – from an average of 52.8 minutes to 24.3 minutes in one trial⁴.

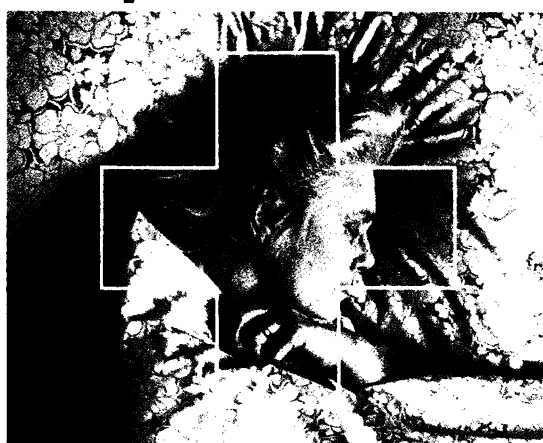

Patient preference

Preferred by a greater number of patients⁵ – low incidence of side-effects

In one trial in which Dalmane was compared with glutethimide, of those patients who expressed a preference 81 per cent did so in favour of Dalmane, whilst only 19 per cent preferred glutethimide. This high level of patient preference is due to the ability of Dalmane to produce sound sleep with a low incidence of side-effects. Dalmane has been shown to produce less hangover than glutethimide in another trial⁶, than a barbiturate⁷, and, in one trial, even a placebo – 9 cases with Dalmane, 25 with placebo⁸.

Safety

A non-barbiturate treatment for insomnia with a wide margin of safety

Dalmane has an extremely high mean lethal dose in mice and rats⁹, thus suggesting that overdosage would be unlikely to present undue problems of management or threat to life. Human toxicity studies¹⁰ in which healthy men were given large doses of Dalmane for some time confirmed that it is well tolerated and produces no unwanted systemic effects.

Are your asthmatics under too much pressure?

Older patients may be particularly susceptible to tissue damage from asthmatic attacks. And aerosol therapy, used when the attack is under way, may not be of much help.

Bronchodilators do not always work. They may not get through to the affected areas and consequently succeed only in hyperventilating unaffected parts. The patient may panic, overdose, and there is now danger of cardiac stimulation.

With steroids there is always the risk of untoward effects and they should probably be reserved for those patients for whom there is no alternative.

Only Intal prevents asthmatic attacks and eliminates these problems.

With Intal there is no danger of side effects, no risk of misuse and no diminution of therapeutic effect.

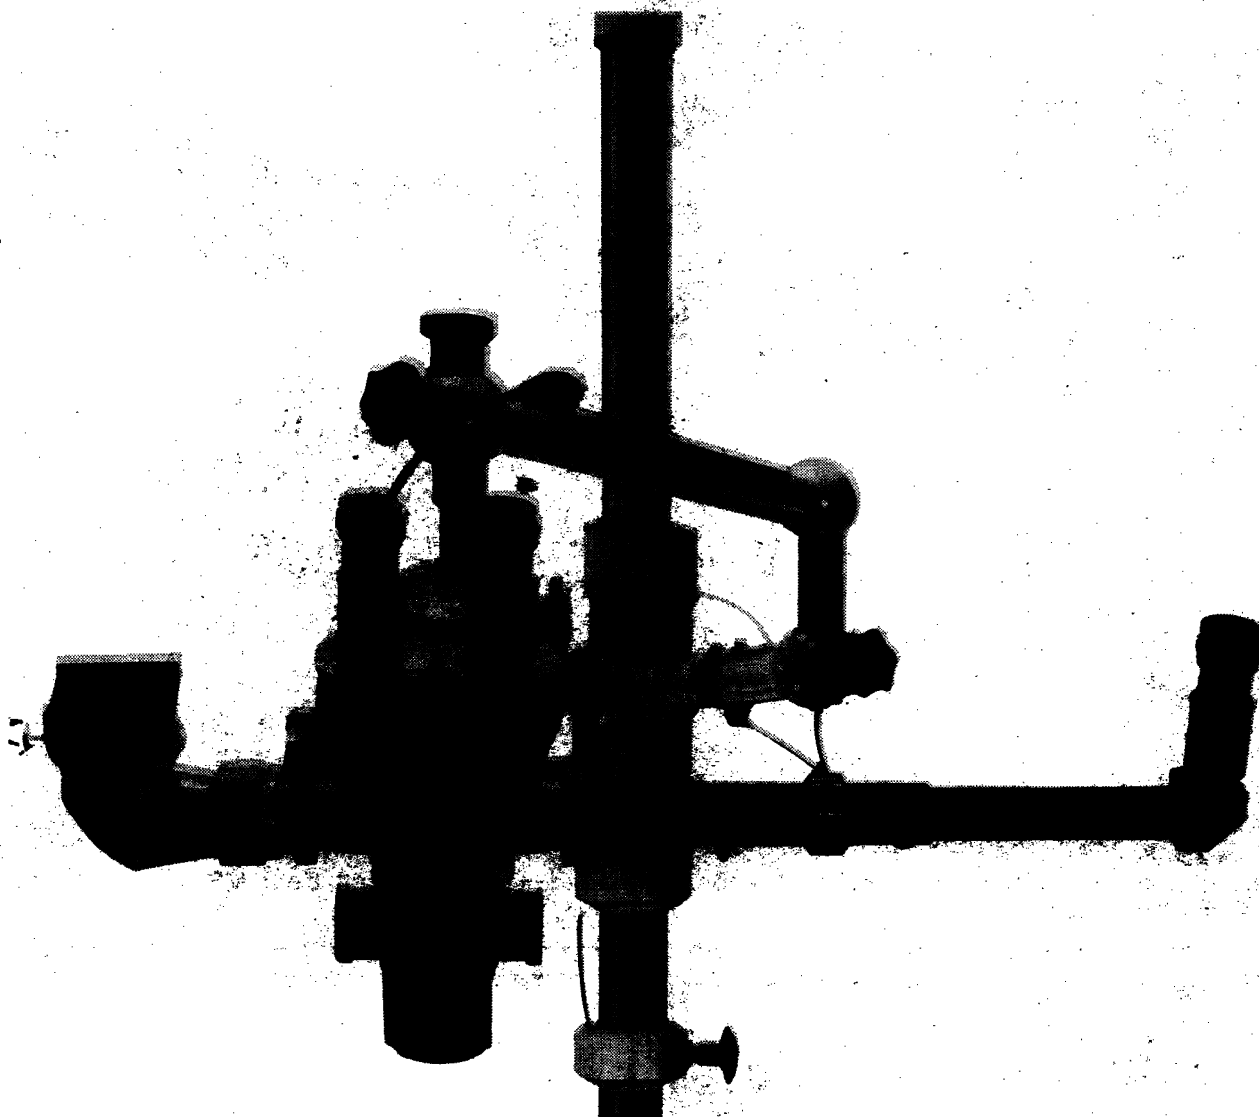

Put them on Intal.
Give them a fighting chance.

This is what we call practising medicine.

A career in Naval medicine can be a rewarding experience. Opportunities to specialise abound. And perhaps above all else, there is an immense satisfaction to be gained from the wide variety of work you will be involved in.

At sea, for instance, you could be anywhere from the Mediterranean to the Pacific Ocean. Looking after the health and well being of the company of a modern warship.

And though you could spend as long as the first eighteen months of your five year Short Service Commission on board different ships, you need have no fear of losing contact with mainstream medicine. For no matter where you are, you will be kept informed of current medical opinion.

After this, the choice is yours. Post graduate medical training and a career in the clinical disciplines at one of our naval district general hospitals. Haslar or Plymouth, for instance, with their wide spectrum of clinical material drawn from naval personnel, their dependants and the local civilian population as well. There are also naval hospitals in Malta, Gibraltar and Mauritius, with opportunities for exchange appointments elsewhere.

Or you might prefer occupational medicine in our research orientated naval dockyards. Aviation medicine with its accent on rotary wing support of the Fleet. And for those with an administrative turn of mind, community medicine.

Royal Naval expertise in maritime medicine is recognised world wide and research into underwater medicine, nuclear medicine and the closed submarine environment is centred at the Institute of Naval Medicine at Alverstoke.

Naval general practice in well staffed and equipped medical centres extend as far afield as Hong Kong and Singapore. And new training schemes are now under way in the United Kingdom.

Should you be moved or sent abroad at any time, all expenses will be paid by us. We will help you with accommodation (at very reasonable rents) and provide allowances for the education of your children, if you have a family.

If you enter the Royal Navy immediately after registration you will be given the rank of Surgeon Lieutenant and a salary of £4,099, rising to £4,249 after four years.

On the other hand, if you are older (up to the age of forty) and more experienced, we can offer you a number of opportunities in general practice and the specialities. And, depending on your post-registration experience, you could enter as a Surgeon Lieutenant Commander at a salary of £5,161, rising to £5,658.

Then, at the end of your five year Short Service Commission you could leave with a tax free gratuity of £3,000.

But if it is mutually agreeable, you could apply for a Full Career Commission or a 16 year pensionable commission. The choice is yours.

In the meantime if you would like further information, write giving details of your age and qualifications to Surgeon Commander L.C. Banks, R.N., (724BU7) Department of the Medical Director General (Naval), Empress State Building, Fulham, London SW6.

Floxapen. The 97% answer to boils and abscesses

This patient has a boil. Not a serious infection, but it's painful and embarrassing. She'd like you to get rid of it for her—quickly. Floxapen can help you do just that. Following an oral dose, high blood levels are rapidly achieved ensuring effective concentrations at the site of infection. And, once there, Floxapen will destroy virtually all staphylococci as well as all streptococci.

In a recent G.P. clinical trial, Floxapen was successful in 97% of the soft tissue infections treated. (Practitioner, 1970, 205, 801.)

Oral dosage. Adult: 250 mg q.i.d. a.c. Children under 10: ½ adult dose. Side-effects: as with other penicillins. Contra-indications: penicillin hypersensitivity, ocular administration. Further information is available on request.

Fybogel

the new therapeutic solution for the treatment of pressure diseases of the large bowel

DIVERTICULAR DISEASE IRRITABLE/SPASTIC COLON HAEMORRHOIDS ANAL FISSURE

These are the pressure diseases of the large bowel — a wide range of conditions with a common aetiological factor: low level of fibre in the diet.

The pressure problem

Raised intra-colonic pressure due to excessive segmentation. This leads to the formation of diverticula when pressure builds up in an occluded segment.

Raised intra-abdominal pressure due to straining to evacuate the resulting concentrated stools. This may lead to the formation of haemorrhoids when pressure on the pelvic diaphragm occludes the venous return from the haemorrhoidal plexus.

Fybogel — the natural solution

By providing a natural fibre regimen Fybogel treats the main cause of pressure diseases — a low level of dietary fibre. Fybogel is a controlled regimen, presented as granules in single dose sachets. The granules disperse in water to make a palatable drink.

Full information is available on request from:
Reckitt & Colman Pharmaceutical Division
Hull HU8 7DS.
Each sachet contains 3.5g Ispaghula Husk BPC in an effervescent base.

Tetrabid-Organon
so much better for bronchitis.

HO-CO-CH=CH-CO-OH is the formula of Fumaric Acid, one of the constituents of Tetrabid-Organon, the twice-daily tetracycline. By creating an acid environment at the point of release, Fumaric Acid encourages more complete absorption of Tetracycline from the intestine.

Tetrabid-Organon capsules are specially formulated to allow gradual release of both Tetracycline Hydrochloride and Fumaric Acid. Sustained release and enhanced absorption give Tetrabid-Organon outstanding advantages over conventional q.i.d. tetracycline.

Twice-daily dosage.
Sustained therapeutic blood levels.
Reduced side-effects.

Before one bad thing leads to another

Bacterial throat infections in a child can be a cause for anxiety to everyone concerned.

And you'll want to make sure that the treatment you prescribe will prevent the condition turning into something worse . . . such as otitis media, with a possible legacy of impaired hearing; or a chest infection.

Ceporex is the ideal antibiotic in such cases, because it is rapidly bactericidal. This means that fever quickly subsides; so do irritation, discomfort and pain.

Ceporex, with recorded success rates of 97% in tonsillitis/pharyngitis, 94% in acute otitis media and 92% in unspecified ENT infections,* has minimal side effects and an excellent record of safety.

Prevention of mumps is now possible with only one subcutaneous injection of 'Mumpsvax'. And if the pattern of antibody response to 'Mumpsvax' seen over the last six years persists, this will provide a basis for expectation that immunity will be permanent.

Side effects are uncommon, and soreness is unlikely at the injection site.

Surgical hosiery provides venous support, but PAROVEN is a kind of 'physiological elastic stocking' for the capillaries.

"The most obvious effect of treatment with HR (Paroven) is the very constant relief of night cramps, with an improvement exceeding 90 per cent."

Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161

"The degree of relief in chronic aching pain in the legs was not so marked (compared with 90% improvement in night cramps and 70% improvement in heaviness of the legs), but still amounted to 54 per cent."

Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161

"Symptoms of heavy legs are improved in 70 per cent, and it was generally agreed that not only did legs feel lighter but the patients were more agile."

Brit J Clin Pract (1970) 23, 161

"The improved venous blood oxygenation and the reduced tissue oxygen extraction indicated better tissue perfusion with less blood oxygen having been taken from the increased capillary blood flow."

COMMERCIAL APPOINTMENTS

Medical Instrumentation Adviser

Ideal age 28-35

c. £6000 - £7500 + car

This is a new and unusual appointment: it offers considerable scope to a physician with particular interests in the field of medical equipment and instrumentation.

Our client is a major international organisation with extensive involvement in the fields of hospital and laboratory equipment, biomedical instrumentation, diagnostic agents and ethical pharmaceuticals. The successful candidate will work at the Group's modern headquarters, located in a pleasant part of the Home Counties.

He (or she) will act as Medical Adviser for a wide range of the Group's non-pharmaceutical products, with the major emphasis upon the biomedical instrumentation field.

The work will involve the maintenance of close liaison with development and marketing teams – providing them with medical advice and ensuring that no unjustified medical claims are made in relation to the Company's products. It will also entail the organisation of evaluative trials in hospitals and other centres, to investigate the safety, reliability and performance characteristics of products under development.

During the first three months the Medical Adviser will get to know the Company and its products, visit its major units in the UK, and learn about the theory and practice of clinical trials design.

The ideal candidate would be a registered medical practitioner who is within the age range 28-35 and whose work experience or hobbies have embraced mechanical, electrical or electronic equipment. Experience in anaesthetics, intensive care or other equipment-oriented hospital disciplines would be particularly advantageous.

The starting salary will be within the range £6000 to £7500 according to age, experience and personal qualities. Other benefits include a Company car, good pension and life assurance schemes, and generous assistance with location.

Please write in complete confidence for an application form, or 'phone if you would like to discuss the position further:

Talentmark Limited, King House, 5/11 Westbourne Grove,
London W2 4UA. Tel: 01-229 2266.

European Medical Adviser

New Ventures

from £10,000

This is an unusually wide-ranging and responsible position for a young internationally-minded physician who has already gained some experience in the pharmaceutical industry and is now seeking to advance his or her career.

Our client is the fourth largest Dutch pharmaceutical manufacturer and the successful candidate will be based at the group's headquarters in the middle of the country near Amsterdam. The company has shown substantial sales growth over the past ten years and plans for further expansion are currently being realized.

The successful candidate's primary role will be to act as a roving medical and scientific assessor of potential product opportunities available to the Company under licence. To help him, he may call upon the Company's own research facilities, seek to develop cooperative research ventures with third parties, or commission research under contract. He should be prepared to travel up to 10% of his time – usually within Europe, but possibly also to the USA, Japan or other countries.

He will liaise with commercial staff in assessing market opportunities for prospective new products, and in developing an appropriate marketing strategy; he will act as a medical counsel in the negotiation of licensing agreements; and he will be responsible for all medical matters pertaining to new products throughout the clinical development and marketing phases. He will also help to guide the Company's own basic research programme.

Prospects for growth and personal advancement are obviously excellent, based very much on the success of his own efforts.

Applicants should be aged approximately 28-40 and have at least 2 years' therapeutics research experience within the pharmaceutical industry. Personal attributes should include a keen interest in setting up and developing new ventures, sound medical and commercial judgment, and a good capacity for self-organisation. Knowledge of Dutch is not required, but would be advantageous.

The salary and benefits package will depend upon the expertise and potential the successful candidate can bring to this appointment. As a guide, initial remuneration will not be less than about £10,000, and could certainly be more for a physician of outstanding suitability.

Please write in complete confidence for an application form, or 'phone if you would like to discuss the position further:

One of them

...maintained on new Bextasol inhaler.

Results with Bextasol inhaler in a double-blind, cross-over clinical trial involving children who "... all had fairly severe asthma interfering with their daily lives ... indicate a good clinical response in terms of daily assessment of symptoms, improvement in lung function, and reduction in additional drug usage in all 20 children in the trial."*

Archives of Disease in Childhood, 1973, 48, 862*

Bextasol can establish effective prophylactic control of frequently recurring extrinsic and intrinsic asthma in patients of all ages.

Moreover, many of your patients will enjoy greater, better-sustained breathing capacity than on previous therapy. And it is often the only maintenance therapy they will require.

Bextasol inhaler delivers metered micro-doses of betamethasone valerate, a corticosteroid known for its high topical and relatively low systemic activity, direct to the airways. Systemic steroid side effects are thus avoided.

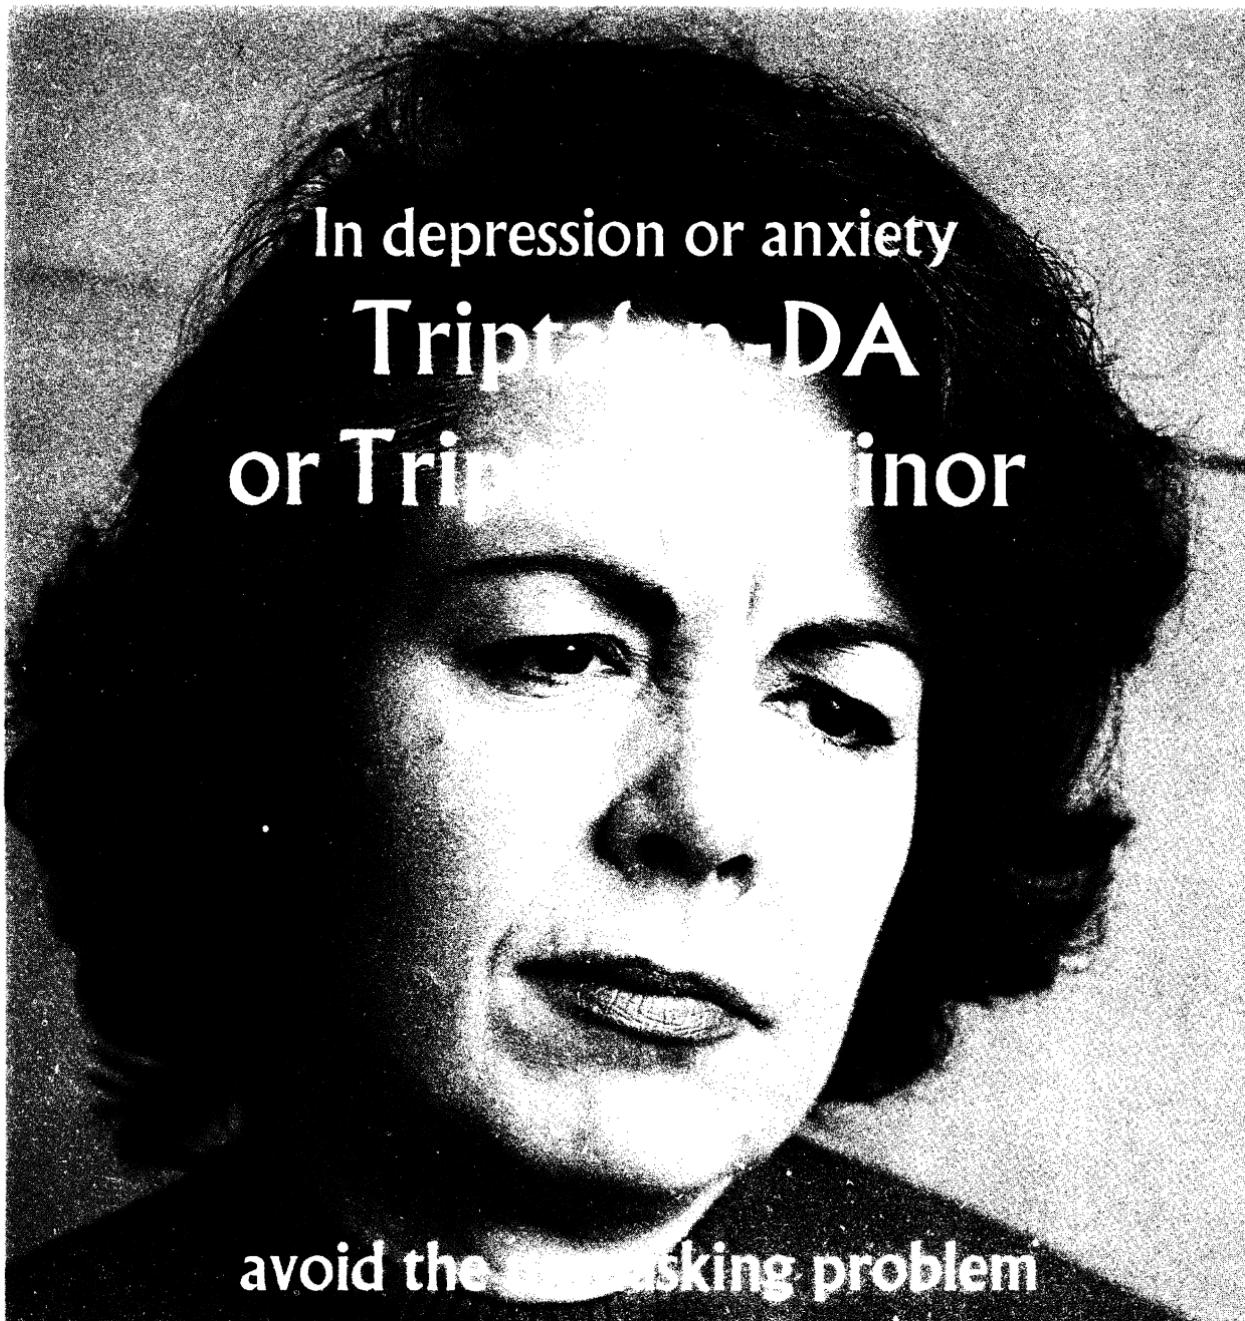

Consequently, Bextasol inhaler offers the unique benefits of corticosteroid control to a much wider range of asthma sufferers.

Presentation

Bextasol inhaler is a pressurised aerosol containing a suspension of micronised Betamethasone Valerate BP with propellants. The container supplies 200 metered inhalations, each providing 100 micrograms of betamethasone valerate.
