

For longer action and easier control

The prolonged action of Beta-Cardone has been well documented. Powerful effects are seen as long as 24 to 48 hours after dosing. Accumulation in the body does not occur. Beta-Cardone therefore gives your patient day and night protection against anginal attack.

Isoprenaline tachycardia inhibition
Beta-Cardone exerts its beta-blocking effects over a long period after administration. The chart above shows that, in comparison with propranolol (the beta-blocking action of which had fallen to below 10%), Beta-Cardone was still 60% effective after 24 hours. "7 and 24 hours after administration, sotalol (Beta-Cardone) had a more potent blocking action than propranolol, which at 24 hours was ineffective."
Eur. J. Pharmac. (1969), 8, 79.

Exercise tachycardia inhibition
The exceptionally long action of Beta-Cardone in exercise tachycardia is clearly illustrated in this chart. As long as 24 hours after a 400 mg dose, there is still an 18.5% reduction in exercise heart rate.

BETA-CARDONE preparations of sotalol hydrochloride are available as TABLETS 40mg (basic NHS cost £2.93 per 100 tablet pack), TABLETS 80 mg (£4.35 per 100), and INJECTION 10 mg in 5 ml (£4.41 per 10 ampoules).

A doctor can gain a lot from 5 years in the Royal Navy.

As a qualified doctor, you can join the Royal Navy for 3 or 5 years on a Short Service Commission.

In that time, you'll spend up to a year practising medicine in a Naval ship.

You could have the chance of working and living overseas for a time.

And you'll be able to do your General Professional Training in one of the clinical and medical scientific disciplines at a Naval hospital or an RN establishment.

At sea.

After a short Officers course at the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, and a basic course in maritime medicine at the Institute of Naval Medicine, Alverstoke, you'll normally go to sea for about 12 months.

You'll be responsible for the medical care of some 250 to 500 men in your ship (and advise the Captain on health and environmental problems).

You won't lose touch with modern medicine, as you can visit local hospitals in ports of call and use the teaching aids provided by your Naval tutor.

Postgraduate training and specialisation.

After your sea-time, career counselling will determine your postgraduate training programme.

There are opportunities for General Professional Training in preparation for a clinical career in general practice, the hospital specialities, or the medical scientific disciplines such as Aviation, Underwater, Submarine and Nuclear Medicine; or in Occupational and Community Medicine.

If you decide to transfer to a 16-year pensionable Commission, or a permanent Commission, you could move on to recognised higher training programmes which include research training and higher training posts in civilian units.

At Alverstoke, the Dean of Naval Medicine co-ordinates postgraduate medical training and research.

Naval hospitals.

The two largest are at Haslar (near Portsmouth) and Plymouth.

They undertake the care of Naval personnel, their families and NHS civilians, providing a broad spectrum of clinical material. Both hospitals are recognised for higher training in the major specialities.

There is a full range of modern, technical equipment, and the nursing and paramedical staff are highly skilled.

There are smaller hospitals in Malta and Gibraltar.

Salary.

If you join us immediately after registration, your salary will be £5,997 as a Surgeon Lieutenant.

You can, however, join at any age up to 39. In that case, your postgraduate experience is taken into account, and you could join as a Surgeon Lieutenant Commander earning £8,015 a year.

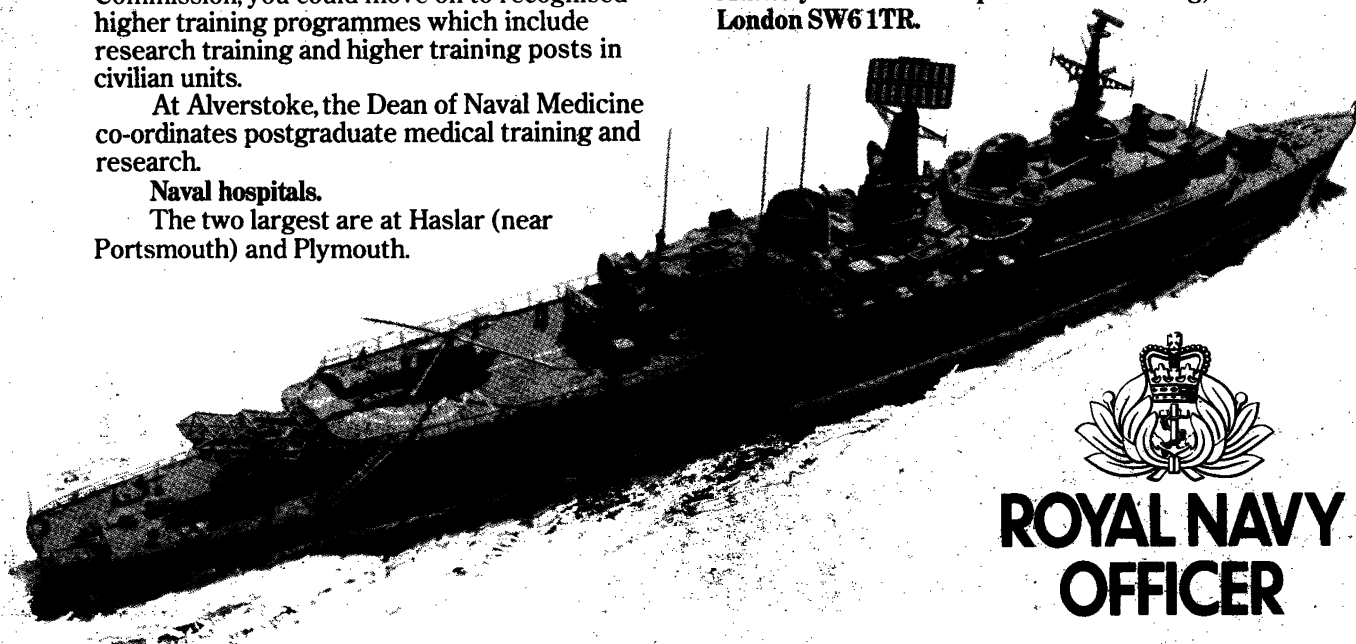

If you leave at the end of your 3 year Commission, you'll receive a tax-free gratuity of £1,500, or, after 5 years, £3,000.

If you decide to stay on, you can apply for a 16-year pensionable Commission or a permanent Commission.

The salary structure is based on an analogue computed from the average earnings of general practitioners in the NHS, with an additional X factor. There is extra pay for recognised postgraduate qualifications and Senior Specialist or Consultant status.

If you're posted overseas, you can, of course, take your family with you. There are, too, generous boarding school allowances for your children, starting at £807 for your first child.

Essential equipment for the professional man.

To carry a Coutts cheque book is to have access to a kind of personal service which you may well have thought extinct.

We see our customers as individuals, not a string of computer digits. So we work on the principle that they all have individual needs and problems. Our service is truly personal because it is tailored to you as a person, not as a statistic.

This is particularly valuable for people in the professions. Their financial affairs are liable to be complex and need close attention, but they themselves tend to be busy. A completely reliable bank statement, in which every debit and credit is fully described in words, is consequently not the least of the benefits of an account with Coutts. Quite apart from the current account services there is a wide range of financial services covering investment management, taxation, insurance and administration of estates.

You may feel you would appreciate our service because you yourself are essentially businesslike; it may appeal to you because you would be glad to have someone methodical to call on at need. In either case you will not be disappointed.

Most of our customers pay no bank charges at all, and few pay more than £15 a year. It all depends on your average balance over the year. We don't stipulate a minimum balance, and the number or type of entries to your account makes no difference.

If you would like to go deeper into the idea of an account at Coutts, write or telephone John Acheson's Management team at Head Office, on 01-836 7701, and ask all the questions you wish.

MIGRAINE

-not
Mrs. Jackson

Mrs. Jackson's migraines, while frequent, do not follow an entirely predictable pattern. She dislikes the side-effects of ergotamine treatments: long-term prophylaxis would involve an unacceptable degree of over-medication. Is there an alternative?

2 PINK MIGRALEVE, taken at the first warning, will often completely abort impending Migraine attacks. Residual symptoms, if any occur, can be controlled with Yellow Migraleve. Like most patients, Mrs. Jackson will find such a regime preferable, because Migraleve offers:

- Less medication than with long-term prophylactic treatments
- Economic dosage, taken only as attacks occur
- Proven effectiveness in 79% of attacks²
- Considerably less vomiting than with ergotamine¹
- Proven patient preference¹

ASPECTS OF SEXUAL MEDICINE

From the British Medical Journal

Freer discussion of sexual matters on television and in the popular press has led to many more patients approaching their doctors for advice on sexual problems. The articles collected together in this book give practical advice on common problems such as impotence and on the help and guidance that may be given to handicapped patients and others with special difficulties. Few doctors received adequate instruction on sexual medicine at their medical schools: Aspects of Sexual Medicine brings them up to date.

APPOINTMENTS

Applicants for medical appointments are advised to check whether the post advertised is included in the Important Notice and to scrutinize carefully the remuneration and terms of service offered. Any member who is in doubt about these terms in relation to B.M.A. agreements should consult the Secretary of the Association.

Advertisers are reminded that the Race Relations Board insists that no descriptive term implying racial, national, or ethnic characteristics may be used in any advertisement. Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or unreasonably on grounds of sex.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state names, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given: Canvassing disqualifies (Statutory Instrument, 1974, No. 361).

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters should be obtained from the Hospital Secretary, or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association.

In particular, they will find full details of facilities provided in most hospitals in the United Kingdom in the current edition of the Hospital Gazetteer. If such details are not included members are advised to consult the Secretary of the B.M.A.

Applicants requiring hospital married accommodation are strongly advised to obtain, prior to interview, clarification in writing from the employing authority as to whether such accommodation will be available on appointment.

No advertisement may stipulate that a non-resident must live less than 10 miles from a hospital. Advertisements for post-registration house officers, senior house officers and registrars should state clearly whether the post is resident, i.e. compulsorily resident.

In all advertisements grade should be clearly indicated. Normally a consultant vacancy must be advertised as (a) part-time with the number of sessions clearly stated, or (b) whole-time with the option of maximum part-time.

In the view of the B.M.A., an advertiser should not insist on possession of English higher qualifications in preference to Scottish or Irish qualifications (or vice versa).

Careers in Community Medicine

NORTHERN CONSORTIUM

of Mersey, Northern, North Western, Trent and Yorkshire Regional Health Authorities and the Department of Health and Social Services, Northern Ireland

A further intake to a two-year programme of in-post training is planned to begin in the Autumn for doctors who wish to prepare for a career in community medicine and the first part of the Membership examination of the Faculty of Community Medicine of the Royal College of Physicians.

The training programme is sponsored by the above authorities in conjunction with the appropriate departments of the Universities of Leeds, Leicester, Liverpool, Manchester, Newcastle, Nottingham and Sheffield and the Queen's University of Belfast.

The two-year appointment will offer a planned programme of experience and training at District, Area and Regional levels in the same locality. This in-service training will be integrated with a modular academic course provided jointly by the participating university departments. The modules will total some 20 weeks spread over the two year period. In addition, trainees will be attached for tutorial purposes to the university department closest to their place of work and between modules will normally spend the equivalent of one day a week in academic studies under the guidance of a tutor covering parts of the syllabus agreed by all the teaching departments.

Some doctors may already have acquired substantial in-service experience allied to community medicine and for these, special arrangements may be possible to enable them to benefit from the academic modules.

Applications are invited from registered medical practitioners with post-registration clinical experience. Training posts are not restricted to the younger members of the profession and the more mature candidate already established in another specialty will receive equal consideration.

The posts established will normally be equivalent to registrar in the clinical specialties (salary £4152-£5109) but special consideration may be given to doctors currently earning higher salaries.

This is a non-resident appointment but some Authorities may be able to help with the provision of accommodation on a voluntary basis for which an appropriate charge would be made.

Application forms and further details may be obtained from Mr K N Holland, Co-ordinator, Room 510, Fulwood House, Old Fulwood Road, Sheffield S10 3TH. Application forms should be returned by 31st July, 1976

SANDWICH, KENT

You can use a diuretic which is almost as fast and controlled as Burinex* K.

But it is significantly more expensive!

You cannot obtain one with the convenience of built-in slow-release potassium with simple o.d. dosage.

Unless of course you prescribe Burinex K.

And by the way—it's a subtle combination where the diuretic effect is virtually complete within 3 hours, yet the potassium is released over 5 hours just to ensure that any potassium loss is carefully replaced.

Burinex K is recommended for the treatment of C.C.F.

... But of course the decision is yours.
