no incompatibility... no incompatibility with other therapies has been reported.

remarkably safe... contains no atropine, devoid of CNS activity; no adverse effects noted in long-term safety studies.<sup>3</sup>

A doctor can gain a lot from 5 years in the Royal Navy.

As a qualified doctor, you can join the Royal Navy for 3 or 5 years on a Short Service Commission.

In that time, you'll spend up to a year practising medicine in a Naval ship.

You could have the chance of working and living overseas for a time.

And you'll be able to do your General Professional Training in one of the clinical and medical scientific disciplines at a Naval hospital or an RN establishment.

At sea.

After a short Officers course at the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, and a basic course in maritime medicine at the Institute of Naval Medicine, Alverstoke, you'll normally go to sea for about 12 months.

You'll be responsible for the medical care of some 250 to 500 men in your ship (and advise the Captain on health and environmental problems).

You won't lose touch with modern medicine, as you can visit local hospitals in ports of call and use the teaching aids provided by your Naval tutor.

Postgraduate training and specialisation.

After your sea-time, career counselling will determine your postgraduate training programme.

There are opportunities for General Professional Training in preparation for a clinical career in general practice, the hospital specialities, or the medical scientific disciplines such as Aviation, Underwater, Submarine and Nuclear Medicine; or in Occupational and Community Medicine.

If you decide to transfer to a 16-year pensionable Commission, or a permanent Commission, you could move on to recognised higher training programmes which include research training and higher training posts in civilian units.

At Alverstoke, the Dean of Naval Medicine co-ordinates postgraduate medical training and research.

Naval hospitals.

The two largest are at Haslar (near Portsmouth) and Plymouth.

They undertake the care of Naval personnel, their families and NHS civilians, providing a broad spectrum of clinical material. Both hospitals are recognised for higher training in the major specialities.

There is a full range of modern, technical equipment, and the nursing and paramedical staff are highly skilled.

There are smaller hospitals in Malta and Gibraltar.

Salary.

If you join us immediately after registration, your salary will be £5,997 as a Surgeon Lieutenant.

You can, however, join at any age up to 39. In that case, your postgraduate experience is taken into account, and you could join as a Surgeon Lieutenant Commander earning £8,015 a year.

If you leave at the end of your 3 year Commission, you'll receive a tax-free gratuity of £1,500, or, after 5 years, £3,000.

If you decide to stay on, you can apply for a 16-year pensionable Commission or a permanent Commission.

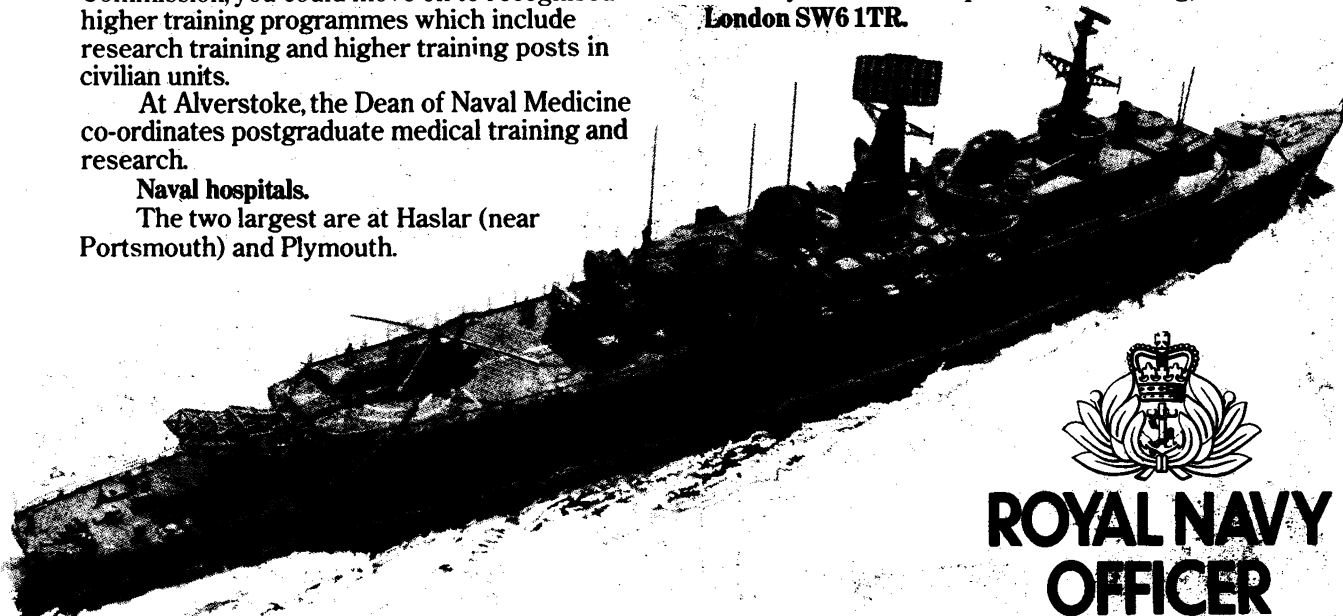

The salary structure is based on an analogue computed from the average earnings of general practitioners in the NHS, with an additional X factor. There is extra pay for recognised postgraduate qualifications and Senior Specialist or Consultant status.

If you're posted overseas, you can, of course, take your family with you. There are, too, generous boarding school allowances for your children, starting at £807 for your first child.

For more information, write to Surgeon Commander H.B. Blackstone, MRCS, LRCP, MRCGP, RN, (724 FM19), Medical Directorate General (Navy), Ministry of Defence Empress State Building, London SW6 1TR.

Physical Examination of the Spine and Extremities

Stanley Hoppenfeld

Here is a model of clinical exposition—a teaching text that orthopaedic surgeons, physical therapists, podiatrists and osteopaths alike can use with profit. Dr Hoppenfeld applies the teaching methods he has used with success at Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York to take the reader through the clinical process of examination, area by area, using 621 illustrations. Some are oversimplified, to impress basic concepts on the reader, while others convey precise anatomic detail. Sketches are drawn from the examiner's viewpoint, so that he can learn, by imitation, the most effective techniques of physical examination.
Just published. 276 pp £12.90

IN SICKNESS AND IN HEALTH

The Politics of Medicine

David Owen

David Owen is only the second doctor ever to have become Minister of State for Health, and this uniquely authoritative viewpoint enables him to make a forceful and critical analysis of the modern health service in his important new book.

He brings to his investigations and arguments a keen awareness of the priorities not only of politicians and administrators but also of the medical professions and of the patients themselves. He writes with balance and compassion on such controversial issues as:

public expenditure
the inequalities of health care research priorities and preventive health bureaucracy and participation children, the aged, the mentally ill and handicapped decentralization and the voluntary organizations

Dr Owen's speeches and legislative work have revealed his concern for a truly social and equitable health service. In Sickness and in Health shows why and how such a service can be built out of the present NHS and its urgent problems.

Calmurid Solution deals with scalp disorders — psoriasis, seborrhoeic eczema, seborrhoea, ichthyosis and atopic eczema. It keeps the scalp clean and free from crusts and scales by loosening and dispersing them. It also retains the natural moisture of the scalp. Note the nozzle on the bottle: it gets to the point — the scalp, not the hair. A sample awaits your request.

True human oestrogen replacement therapy in the menopause

Hormonin®

(Oestriol, Oestradiol, Oestrone)

The physical and mental distress of so many women during the menopause is generally attributed to the steep decline in oestrogen production by the ovaries. Nocturnal sweating, nervousness, insomnia, depression, headaches, and 'hot flushes' can, in most cases, be alleviated by replacing these depleted oestrogen levels with natural oestrogen content of HORMONIN®.

Because HORMONIN® provides a balanced intake of natural oestrogen hormone - not the substitute animal oestrogens or non-hormonal synthetic oestrogens of less sophisticated therapies - patient response is more predictable while side-effects are confined to the minimal.

HORMONIN's® simple dosage scheme - normally one daily tablet - can be adjusted to the patient's individual needs, thus providing relief of symptoms for the majority of patients.

HORMONIN® is a registered trade mark.

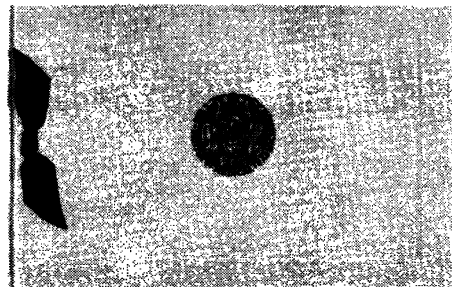

Each pink tablet contains oestriol 0.27mg; oestradiol 0.6mg; oestrone 1.4mg.

"When caffeine is contra indicated"

R<sub>X</sub> HAG

HAG Coffee in all its forms is made from carefully selected beans, blended and meticulously roasted to give it an unsurpassed flavour and aroma. To put a patient "on to Cafe HAG" is indeed no hardship — they will probably prefer it to the brand they already drink.

SAY

* THE HAG DECAFFEINATING PROCESS
Swelling the green beans by steam pressure enlarges the pores and exposes the maximum surface to a volatile W.H.O. approved caffeine solvent which, flushed through the beans, carries the caffeine away. Final steam flushing removes surplus solvent, and the beans are then roasted in the normal way.

Under 35 and intellectually un-s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d?

Does your present job give you:

- ☐ Sufficient challenge, interest and sense of purpose?
- ☐ Encouragement to show initiative, with tangible reward for merit?
- ☐ Good opportunities for specialist training, research and publication?
- ☐ A career ladder that can lead to salaries of £20,000+?
- ☐ Reasonable hours, with enough time to enjoy other interests?

The two positions we are currently handling can offer you all these attractions. They are based at the Smith Kline Research Institute in Welwyn Garden City, Herts, where recent research has led to the discovery and characterisation of a new type of histamine receptor (the H<sub>2</sub>-receptor), and to the development of the first specific H<sub>2</sub>-blockers. In view of the widespread distribution of histamine receptors in different tissues of the body, the potential clinical value of these compounds is far-reaching and has already aroused considerable interest in scientific and medical circles.

One of the two new posts will be fully involved in the detailed investigation of these compounds through the design, management and evaluation of clinical research trials and volunteer studies. The second will be partially concerned in this project, but will have a much wider role involving additional therapeutic categories. Opportunities for rotation — and for occasional short visits to the USA and Europe — are also possible.

Applicants should be within the age range 27-34 and have a sound and logical track record in Medicine, backed by a good British medical degree.

Beyond these requirements, intellectual horizons, personality and potential are more important than specific experience to date, as any necessary training will be given and each new team member will initially work alongside a more experienced physician.

An attractive starting salary will be paid in each case, and a company car and other benefits will also be provided — including generous removal expenses if a move is necessary.

Please write for further information and an application form, or phone if you would like to discuss the appointment further before applying. Please quote reference JF17.

APPOINTMENTS

Applicants for medical appointments are advised to check whether the post advertised is included in the Important Notice and to scrutinize carefully the remuneration and terms of service offered. Any member who is in doubt about these terms in relation to B.M.A. agreements should consult the Secretary of the Association.

Advertisers are reminded that the Race Relations Board insists that no descriptive term implying racial, national, or ethnic characteristics may be used in any advertisement. Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or unreasonably on grounds of sex.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state names, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given: Canvassing disqualifies (Statutory Instrument, 1974, No. 361).

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters should be obtained from the Hospital Secretary, or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association.

In particular, they will find full details of facilities provided in most hospitals in the United Kingdom in the current edition of the Hospital Gazette. If such details are not included members are advised to consult the Secretary of the B.M.A.

Applicants requiring hospital married accommodation are strongly advised to obtain, prior to interview, clarification in writing from the employing authority as to whether such accommodation will be available on appointment.

Advertisements for post-registration house officers, senior house officers and registrars should state clearly whether the post is resident, i.e. compulsorily resident.

In all advertisements grade should be clearly indicated. Normally a consultant vacancy must be advertised as (a) part-time with the number of sessions clearly stated, or (b) whole-time with the option of maximum part-time.

In the view of the B.M.A., an advertiser should not insist on possession of English higher qualifications in preference to Scottish or Irish qualifications (or vice versa).
