

TODAY'S TREATMENT

Faced with a succession of new drugs, doctors need authoritative advice on the selection of the most effective remedies for common disorders; and that is the aim of Today's Treatment. This first volume contains articles published in the BMJ in 1974-75 on disorders of the skin and blood and on psychiatric and neurological diseases. These simple clear accounts of assessment and management provide all the information needed for a rational choice of the best treatment for each individual patient.

Septrin in chest infections

the antibacterial cover that makes sure

The chart above shows in-vitro sensitivities of a variety of chest organisms, in particular Strep. and H. influenzae, to four frequently used antibacterials; 96% were shown to be sensitive to Septrin.¹

Septrin* has a bactericidal action against all likely chest pathogens. Add to this the speed of clinical response and convenient dosage of Septrin and you have an antibacterial you can rely on for both acute and chronic chest infections.

CEDOCARD

ISOSORBIDE DINITRATE
For effective control in angina pectoris and long-term management of coronary insufficiency

Pocket Pack

Each pack of CEDOCARD comes with its own pull-off pocket pack for maximum patient convenience. The pocket pack slips conveniently into pocket or handbag, allowing patients to carry CEDOCARD tablets at all times, for day-long control of angina.

CEDOCARD can be taken either orally or sublingually.

ORALLY For prophylaxis, CEDOCARD tablets may be taken orally, when a more prolonged protection is achieved.

The dosage should be 1 or 2 tablets (5-10mg), 3 to 4 times daily.

Activity commences after 15 to 20 minutes and lasts 4 to 6 hours.

SUBLINGUALLY For the treatment of acute attacks of angina pectoris, or before exercise likely to promote an anginal attack, CEDOCARD should be taken sublingually.

CEDOCARD tablets dissolve within 20 seconds to give immediate relief which lasts for up to 2 hours (unlike nitroglycerin which is only active for 20 to 30 minutes). Together, the advantages of CEDOCARD permit a dramatic reduction in number, duration and severity of anginal attacks.

CEDOCARD, unlike nitroglycerin, is highly stable and does not lose its activity, even over extended periods.

CEDOCARD has a prolonged duration of activity because it is only slowly metabolised by the liver.

CEDOCARD is highly soluble with a correspondingly rapid onset of action which is both consistent and reliable.

In patients with congestive heart failure, there is evidence^{1 2 3} that the vasodilation achieved by CEDOCARD effectively reduces the left ventricular filling pressure (L.V.F.P.), permitting a more effective contraction of the heart in patients who have had an infarct.

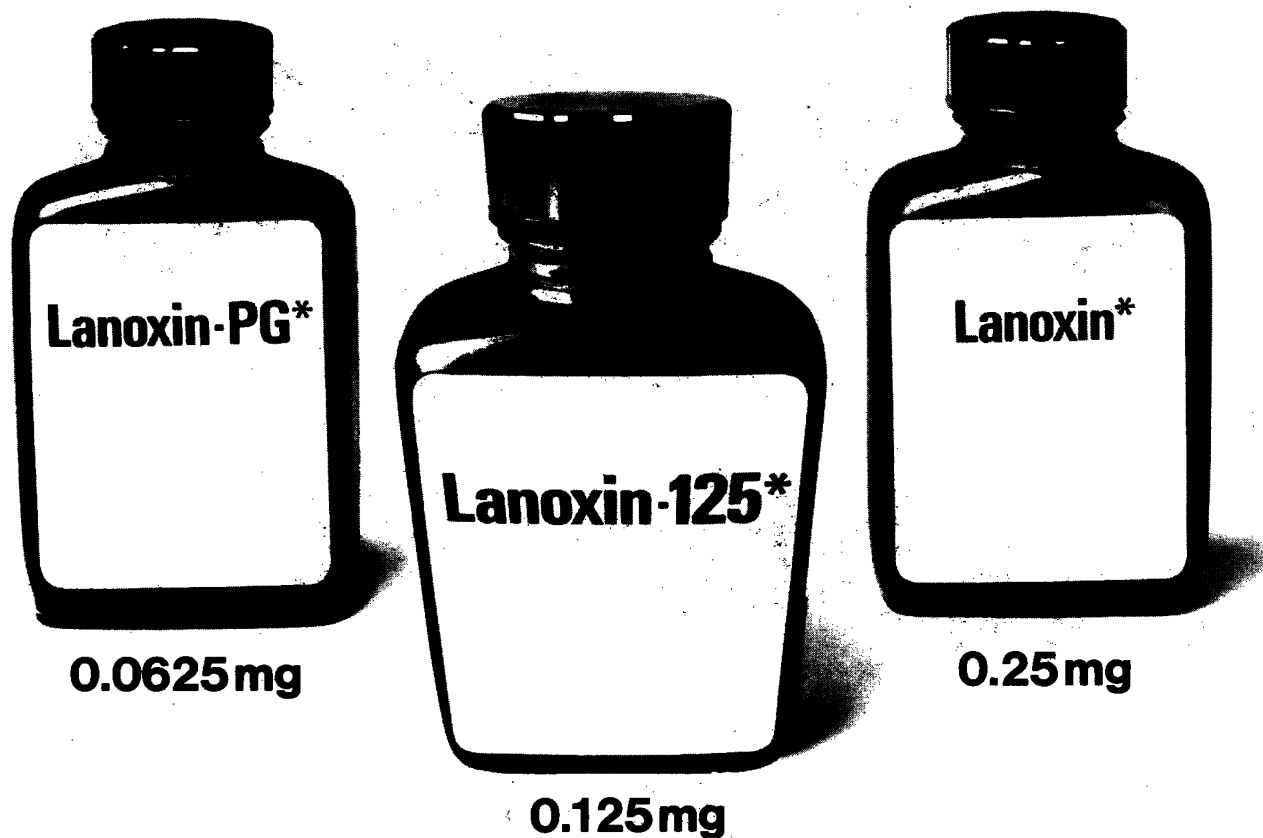

For example, isosorbide dinitrate was given orally, at a dosage of 30mg, to 21 patients with myocardial infarction and with an L.V.F.P. of approximately 20mm Hg. A significant decrease of L.V.F.P. was recorded, lasting for 4 to 5 hours.⁴

The Liquorice Story

Part Four

In part III, we reported the location of an old liquorice field at Pontefract, in which a considerable quantity of liquorice root was found, from which buds were taken. These subsequently developed into strong, healthy plants and are now twenty inches tall, etc. In the past, the use of liquorice as a powerful antispasmodic was severely restricted by the frequent occurrence of side-effects caused by the glycyrrhizinic acid constituent. This problem was overcome by Cedona Pharmaceuticals, in Holland, who developed a unique method of extracting the glycyrrhizinic acid from the liquorice, without affecting its antispasmodic properties.

As a result of studies carried out in France, it was shown that when a combination of phenylbutazone and deglycyrrhizinized liquorice was administered to 150 patients, the usual gastric side-effects of phenylbutazone were reduced to a minimum but without any reduction in its activity.

Subsequent investigations have shown that deglycyrrhizinized liquorice can significantly reduce the side-effects associated with numerous other drugs, including nitrofurantoin. Nitrofurantoin has become firmly established as a drug of major importance in the treatment of acute and chronic urinary tract infection. However, its major disadvantage has always been that it frequently causes unpleasant gastro-intestinal side-effects, including nausea, vomiting and epigastric pain. Often, these can be sufficiently severe to warrant interruption or discontinuation of therapy.

CEDURAN tablets, a unique combination of nitrofurantoin and deglycyrrhizinized liquorice, effectively overcomes these troublesome side-effects, without the need for antacids. Of course, the formulation of Ceduran in no way alters the urinary concentration of nitrofurantoin or its clinical effectiveness. In fact, Ceduran offers all the advantages of nitrofurantoin with none of the disadvantages.

The broad-spectrum, bactericidal activity of Ceduran against the full range of urinary pathogens, ensures a fast symptomatic improvement. Because the action of nitrofurantoin is primarily confined to the urinary tract, where high concentrations are rapidly achieved, Ceduran's full activity is concentrated at the site of infection.

In contrast to the broad-spectrum antibiotics, acquired resistance is not associated with the use of nitrofurantoin. Also important, is the absence of cross-resistance between nitrofurantoin and the antibiotics and sulphonamides.

But the most important advantage of Ceduran is that its formulation of nitrofurantoin and deglycyrrhizinized liquorice, makes it possible for the many patients previously not able to tolerate nitrofurantoin, to derive its benefits without any serious side-effects.

The Ceduran Dip Slide enables you to obtain rapid and accurate diagnosis of urinary tract infection. Results are easily determined, the green side of the slide being used for total viable bacterial count, while the yellow side is impregnated with Ceduran, to test the sensitivity of the causative organism.

CEDURAN DIP SLIDES are ideal for routine ward and clinic use, screening programmes and in general practice.

AN IDEA THAT ENCIRCLED THE WORLD

*In 1905 "Decaffeination" was discovered in Bremen

Aerial view of HAG Bremen plant.

To-day the medical professions of fifty countries no longer forbid coffee when caffeine is contra indicated.

Instead they say "Drink HAG". Producing decaffeinated coffee is a highly scientific process. The HAG plant, which covers 11.6 acres, includes a vast and well equipped laboratory staffed by highly qualified scientists under the control of a panel of eminent doctors of medicine.

A library contains 23,000 copies of literary items on coffee, caffeine and nutritional chemistry. Research in collaboration with renowned medical scientists is continuous. There are two further plants in West Germany and one each in France, Switzerland and Austria.

Nowhere in the world is coffee produced with such expert and meticulous care. All this is behind you when you tell your patients "Drink HAG" whenever caffeine is contra indicated.

Roselius, Ludwig, industrialist, inventor of a process for the manufacture of decaffeinated coffee, born in Bremen 1874, died in Berlin 1943, founder of the company HAG AG, Bremen, patron of manifold cultural projects".

APPOINTMENTS

Applicants for medical appointments are advised to check whether the post advertised is included in the Important Notice and to scrutinize carefully the remuneration and terms of service offered. Any member who is in doubt about these terms in relation to B.M.A. agreements should consult the Secretary of the Association.

Advertisers are reminded that the Race Relations Board insists that no descriptive term implying racial, national, or ethnic characteristics may be used in any advertisement. Further, readers are advised not to apply for any appointment which discriminates between applicants on grounds of creed or unreasonably on grounds of sex.

HOSPITAL APPOINTMENTS

Applicants should state names, address, age, nationality, and qualifications, and enclose (unless otherwise specified) one copy of each of three recent testimonials, with a short statement of experience and appointments held. Applications should be sent at once if no closing date is given: Canvassing disqualifies (Statutory Instrument, 1974, No. 361).

All National Health Service hospital appointments are in accordance with the Terms and Conditions of Service of Hospital Medical Staff.

Further details concerning standards of residential accommodation, telephone charges, removal allowances, study leave and other matters should be obtained from the Hospital Secretary; or by B.M.A. members from the Secretary, British Medical Association.

In particular, they will find full details of facilities provided in most hospitals in the United Kingdom in the current edition of the Hospital Gazetteer. If such details are not included members are advised to consult the Secretary of the B.M.A.

Applicants requiring hospital married accommodation are strongly advised to obtain, prior to interview, clarification in writing from the employing authority as to whether such accommodation will be available on appointment.

Advertisements for post-registration house officers, senior house officers and registrars should state clearly whether the post is resident, i.e. compulsorily resident.

In all advertisements grade should be clearly indicated. Normally a consultant vacancy must be advertised as (a) part-time with the number of sessions clearly stated, or (b) whole-time with the option of maximum part-time.

In the view of the B.M.A., an advertiser should not insist on possession of English higher qualifications in preference to Scottish or Irish qualifications (or vice versa).

HELPING NATIONS HELP THEMSELVES

New appointments to meet dramatic Health Service expansion

Together with most other countries, Zambia has been affected by the recent worldwide recession. Now, partly due to rising copper prices and recent widespread agricultural development, our economy has regained its strength, and Zambia's Health Service is undergoing further expansion as a result.

In fact, Zambia's Health Service has been transformed since independence in '64. Planned, co-ordinated progress has produced a high degree of professional efficiency, with superb modern buildings and the most sophisticated medical equipment. Health centres, clinics, district hospitals, general hospitals, central hospitals and some specialist hospitals are established throughout the country.

Nonetheless, in an area larger than France, Belgium, Switzerland and The Netherlands combined, the eventual aim of bringing full medical aid close at hand to everyone is a mammoth task, so existing momentum will most certainly be maintained for many years. Of those contributing towards this development, a large number have come out from Britain on 3-year contracts (renewable by mutual agreement). Why not join them in one of these capacities...

Daily Tenormin

ONE DAILY FOR HYPERTENSION

The chances are they'll take it.

TENORMIN, a major new antihypertensive, is receiving an exceptionally favourable response from trialists throughout the UK. (writes our Medical Correspondent).

The enthusiasm of trialists is based largely on the product's simple dose without complications. Thus, Tenormin provides a simple, effective programme to encourage long-term compliance in the treatment of hypertension.

One daily

One tablet a day is seen as a singular advance in antihypertensive therapy. The effect of the drug is to lower blood pressure within 48 hours in most patients without producing postural effects.

Well tolerated

Tenormin's side effects, say the trialists, are at a new low level. Or, as one trialist puts it "...atenolol [Tenormin] is almost as well tolerated as placebo. . ."¹ coupled with a single daily dose means that patient acceptance is likely to be high.

Cardioselective

Tenormin is highly cardioselective and thus preserves the asthmatic patients beneficial response to bronchodilators.²

Well-being

Many patients on Tenormin have reported a "...feeling of well being..."³ and, in fact, are happy to continue a normal life-style.

And that, of course, combined with Tenormin's other benefits, means fewer problems for the overworked practitioner.

Nationwide trials confirms TENORMIN'S simple effectiveness.

TENORMIN

Full prescribing information is available on request from Stuart Pharmaceuticals Limited, Carr House, Carrs Road, Cheadle, Cheshire SK8 2EG.

'Tenormin' is a trademark for atenolol.
